

CHRISTMAS TRADE HERE AT FIVE-YEAR PEAK; 10 TO 60 PCT. GAINS SHOWN OVER 1933 TOTALS

NATIVE DEFENDERS QUICKLY CORRAL RUSSIAN INVADERS

Moscow Meanwhile Seeks To Avert Bloodshed, Asks Manchuria To Permit Soldiers To Withdraw With Their Arms.

SECRECY SHROUDS TROOP ACTIVITIES

Communications Cut Off by Manchukuan in Effort To Check Further Military Movements

TOKYO, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Rengo (Japanese) news agency dispatches from Harbin tonight said soviet authorities were seeking to avert bloodshed after soviet infantry troops invaded Manchukuo from Siberia.

The troops, asserted to have crossed the border near Tungling, 50 miles south of Suifenho, were surrounded by Manchukuan troops and their communications cut "in an effort to check their further military activities," the Rengo report said.

The dispatches said soviet authorities had asked Manchukuo to allow the Russian soldiers to retire with their arms, and proposed an amicable settlement of the affair. This the Manchukuan government was reported considering.

While the foreign office in Tokyo had no official report of the affair and indicated it did not credit the report, it was admitted soviet troops recently entered Manchukuo-Tungling vicinity.

The Rengo advice said the soldiers, after advancing into Manchukuan territory, began setting up military equipment. What this equipment was the dispatches did not specify, nor was the number of troops indicated.

PREVIOUS INCIDENTS.

A number of incidents along the border between Asiatic Russia and the new Japanese-sponsored kingdom in Manchuria have served to keep tension in the far east high during the last year.

As recently as October 1, the Japanese military command in Manchuria reported to the Tokyo government it planned to protest to the soviet an exchange of rifle fire between soviet and Japanese troops several of miles along the eastern border of Manchukuo.

That border has long been in dispute.

Two Motorists Perish In Montana Blizzard

DENVER, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Ice-laden Montana highways in a region swept by a blinding blizzard, today claimed a death toll of two.

In both cases the victims were trapped in wrecked cars which skidded.

The dead:

Jack Williams, 40, of Chinook, a ranch hand.

John B. Thomas, 47, of Wheeler, Mont., a newspaperman.

Continued in Page 11, Column 4.

Man Munches Torpedo, Loses Portion of Jaw

R. W. Wade, 28, of Fairburn, was completing his Christmas shopping Saturday night. As he went from store to store he was carrying in a pocket of his coat. Frequently, he would stop on the sidewalk and throw down a torpedo. He also carried the torpedoes in a pocket of his coat. A torpedo became mixed with gumdrops.

Wade was admitted to Grady hospital, his jaws torn and bruised. His condition was not considered to be serious.

M'ARTHUR URGES FAST TANKS, CARS, PLANES FOR ARMY

Chief of Staff Declares Future Defense Must Be Highly Mechanized for Speed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(UP)—General Douglas MacArthur, making his final report as chief of staff of the United States army, indicated tonight that the successful army of the future must be highly mechanized, supplied with fast tanks, armored cars and airplanes and able to shift fronts with devastating speed.

This army, he said, must have highly effective rapid-fire weapons capable of furious attack.

MacArthur's report was almost a paraphrase of the old adage: "The man who fights and runs away will live to fight another day."

The day of trench warfare along practically static fronts, as experienced in the World War, has ended so far as the United States is concerned, he said.

"Future warfare will witness a maximum utilization of relatively fast machines for transportation, with consequent rapid changes in strategic positions," his report said, "increased unit fire power through employment of weapons of greater efficiency, with a resultant wider dispersion in tactical formation; increasing efforts by all commanders to utilize the strategic and tactical mobility of machines so as to attack by surprise, particularly from the flank."

Avoid Frontal Assaults.

Commanders, he said, will avoid "so far as possible frontal assaults against strongly held positions, even where the attack is supported by superior numbers and other types of modern weapons; and growing utilization of air forces for information and for bombardment of sensitive points."

Continued in Page 11, Column 1.

100 Christmas Pardons Issued by Mayor Key

Mayor James L. Key Saturday issued about 100 Christmas pardons to stockade inmates on recommendation of Judge J. W. Callaway and John L. Cone, of the recorder's court.

Among the group were 20 white persons, the remainder being negroes. Perhaps all do a little better next year and there'll be less necessity for sending men to the stockade," Key asserted as he signed the pardons. "I hope so."

COMPROMISE PLAN ON BONUS STUDIED BY ROOSEVELT

Approval of Proposal Would Result in Payment of $1,200,000,000 in Cash to War Veterans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A new soldiers' bonus proposal which would result in the payment of $1,200,000,000 in cash to veterans took a high place tonight on the list of compromise plans submitted to the administration.

Informed sources, who declined to be quoted by name, said the scheme had been given careful study by officials familiar with the troublesome issue who hope to avert a strong move for immediate cash payment of the certificates.

The latest plan—should it be accepted—is dependent upon its initiators to settle the question and to save the treasury a billion dollars besides.

The proposition calls for the certificates to be paid in 1935 and the law would be amended so they would date from Armistice Day, 1918, instead of 1925, as at present. The certificates under existing legislation would mature in 1945, but the bonus group wants immediate payment.

On this basis the certificates would be paid on a maturity of 17 years, instead of 20, as proposed in the Patman bill.

Advocates of the plan argue that if the date of the certificates were moved back to the end of the World War, veterans would receive all but three years of interest on the certificates if they were paid in 1935.

One of those who is supporting the proposal outlined the situation facing the average certificate holder. He estimated that 80 per cent of the veterans already have borrowed 50 per cent of the total value. Under the new proposal a veteran who had borrowed $500 on a $1,000 certificate would receive about $300 in cash.

"It is roughly figured that this would save the government $1,000,000,000," he said.

Figures on the actual cost, however, are being compiled by the veterans' bureau at the request of certain conservative administration followers on Capitol Hill, who say that some sort of bonus legislation is certain to pass this year.

The proposal already has been discussed in general terms with Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, the revolutionary war hero. His bill, calling for full payment of the certificates—amounting to $2,200,000,000—next year.

Fuhrman has said that the time to discuss compromises is in the event of a presidential veto.

Thus far, the administration has taken no such measures as the Patman bill. However, the report has been widely circulated that the president would not oppose a bill to pay needy veterans.

MRS. L. GHOLSTIN PASSES SUDDENLY

Member of Prominent Family Was Active in Church, Civic Affairs.

Mrs. Louis Gholstin, widely-known Atlanta woman, died unexpectedly Saturday morning at her residence at 2801 Peachtree road. She was stricken with a heart attack.

Mrs. Gholstin was a member of a prominent Georgia family and was the double first cousin of the late Archie Butt, noted newspaperman, author and aide to two presidents, who lost his life on the Titanic.

Born in Augusta, Mrs. Gholstin was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Butt, and was the granddaughter of General Boggs, the Revolutionary war hero. Her family has been active in state affairs in Georgia for many years.

She came to Atlanta more than 45 years ago and throughout her residence here she took an active part in the city's social, civic and church affairs. She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal church.

Mrs. Gholstin is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson, whose husband is a Fulton county commissioner-elect; a grandson, Louis Gholstin Johnson, of Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. Robert F. Meyer, of Birmingham, Ala., and a brother, F. M. Butt, of Dallas, Texas.

Funeral rites are to be conducted by Dr. W. W. Memminger at the residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon and interment will be private in West View cemetery. The family asks that flowers be omitted. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. Gholstin, 2801 Peachtree road. The family asks that flowers be omitted. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. Gholstin, 2801 Peachtree road. The family asks that flowers be omitted. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

Family No. 11 Adopted, 2 Others Plead for Aid

Employees of Southern Railway Freight Office Again Assure Comfort for Opportunity. Nos. 12 and 13 Facing Bleak Year.

By RALPH T. JONES.

RAYERS of anxiety—wrecked hopes and a hungry little child—are being heard. Atlanta, grand old city, is experiencing a new awakening of her old spirit. The appeal of the Opportunity family is being answered.

Saturday security and a chance for rehabilitation during 1935 was assured the eleventh family on this year's list, when employees of the general freight office of the Southern railway, in Atlanta, took over a family for the year.

The family which will be sponsored by this group is Number Nine on the list. Previously, as announced Saturday morning, this family had been provided for from the general fund, but the action of the Southern railway employees on Saturday releases this amount, which is therefore applied to another family, Number Eleven, the story of whose need was told in Saturday's Constitution.

This is the third year that the Southern Railway group has "adopted" an Opportunity family. In August last they had the supreme joy of seeing "their family" complete the struggle back to self-support. The rehabilitation was complete, a happy little home had been lifted back to independent security and there was no need for further help. So the group simply diverted their monthly contribution to another needy home.

And now, as 1935 nears, they are continuing the splendid work by taking Family Number Nine in this year's list, determined to achieve the same joyous result they did for their previous wards.

This morning are published the

Continued in Page 4, Column 1.

Opportunity No. 12

Two years ago when Mr. R. was killed in an accident, leaving a young widow. It is merely a matter of $15 each month. Financially, the easiest of all the Opportunity families has been presented this year in these columns. But nonetheless a vital matter to Mrs. W., the woman involved.

There is one other member of the family, a girl of nine, but she is provided for. She has been placed temporarily in the home of a splendid couple and she is in good health and happy.

Mrs. W., her mother, however, is a victim of tuberculosis. Arrangements have been made for her to

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

Opportunity No. 13

Opportunity Number Thirteen means life or death for a woman, a young widow. It is merely a matter of $15 each month. Financially, the easiest of all the Opportunity families has been presented this year in these columns. But nonetheless a vital matter to Mrs. W., the woman involved.

There is one other member of the family, a girl of nine, but she is provided for. She has been placed temporarily in the home of a splendid couple and she is in good health and happy.

Mrs. W., her mother, however, is a victim of tuberculosis. Arrangements have been made for her to

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

WHITLEY DROPS PLANS FOR SUIT

No Contest Will Be Made Against Highway Board, Says Attorney.

John E. Whitley's plans for litigation against the state highway board in an effort to force that body to award him federal-aid road contracts despite his refusal to pay the NRA wage scale were called off Saturday after the contractor conferred with his attorney, Hugh Howell.

Whitley's firm, the Whitley Construction company, took stock of the $7,000 lower on one project, and $4,000 lower on a second project at a letting of the road board Friday but other contractors had agreed to pay the wage scale of the NRA and Whitley agreed only to pay the scale of wages prevalent in the community.

Attorney Howell made known the decision of his client and himself following a conference Saturday at his office.

"We are not going to seek an injunction against the highway board or anyone else on these contracts," he said. "We personally think the taxpayers dollar ought to be spent in such a way as to buy as much road as possible and that the low bidders ought to get the contracts but if the state highway board and

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

CONGRESS' WORK FAST TAKING FORM

Many Suggested Cures for Nation's Economic Ills Already Pouring In.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The vanguard of a congress destined to deal with a projected depression panacea today had piled up the capital an array of suggestions for soothing the nation's economic ailments.

With the opening of the 74th congress a week and a half away, Republicans took stock of pre-session proposals. They found not only a dozen or more different ideas for paying the soldiers' bonus and insuring against crop losses, but also a host of complete agendas for the session from every political faction, each running into the billions of new appropriations.

The administration has indicated a policy of retrenchment wherever possible, however, and leaders count on the huge democratic majorities to halt any moves for runaway inflation to help pay the cost of relief or other recovery methods not approved by the White House.

Republicans, too, are ready to demand smaller outlays for this and that project, although some of their members are among those demanding large expenditures.

President Roosevelt has about com-

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

THIRD ATLANTAN SHOT BY BANDIT

W. M. Banta Wounded in Left Chest; 2 Others Slightly Improved.

Atlanta bandits Saturday night sent their third victim of the week to an Atlanta hospital as the city's holiday season crime wave continued unabated.

W. M. Banta, of 1538 North Morgan drive, N. E., manager of the "Inside Drive" restaurant, 333 Butler street, was shot in the left chest early Saturday night by a negro bandit who rifled the cash register of the store with his wife and 7-year-old son Jack, hearing the shot, ran out of his office and the negro turned the smoking pistol on him. One of the bullets struck Banta in the chest near the heart, was deflected by a rib and traveled around his chest and lodged in his back. His condition was not considered by Grady attendants to be serious.

The condition of the other two bandit victims, shot in holdup attempts Thursday and Friday, were reported somewhat improved in Atlanta hospitals.

Though still unconscious Saturday night, David A. Lord, wounded by bandits in a Center Hill filling station holdup Thursday morning, was believed to have a fighting chance for recovery at Grady hospital, where he remained in unconsciousness Friday after attempting to reveal to his brother the name of the man who shot him.

J. A. Nolan, 65, of 1411 Dunn street, remained in a serious condition at Georgia Baptist hospital Saturday night from the bullet wound inflicted Friday night by a young negro bandit who shot Mr. Nolan when the latter, thinking the negro was joking, did not obey commands to hold up his hands.

Nolan was taken to a dinner to his son who is employed at a nearby filling station when the negro bandit accosted him. The bandit fled after firing the shot.

Fulton county police were confident

Continued in Page 11, Column 4.

FEDERAL TAXATION OF CROPS TALKED AFTER FARM VOTE

Change From Voluntary to Compulsory Control of Production Looms as Imminent Probability.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Federal taxation to compel farmers to hold their production down usable limits loomed as an even more imminent probability today in the farm administration.

Result of the Kerr-Smith tobacco act referendum, showing overwhelming support of producers of that crop, coming swift on the heels of the 9-to-1 endorsement of the Bankhead compulsory act on cotton convinced AAA officials that the change from voluntary to compulsory control of production had advanced by a long stride.

Economists in the administration have become more skeptical in recent months of any material restoration of foreign markets during the coming five years as they watched the failure of the international wheat agreement, the first attempt at international control in the field of commodities, the slow progress in drawing reciprocal trade agreements; new moves toward self-sufficiency among European nations; development of substitutes for American farm products and bilateral trade agreements between foreign nations cutting into American markets abroad.

These factors spell enforced self-sufficiency for the United States, many of them believe, and almost inevitably, compulsory control of farm production to prevent accumulation of new surpluses by those farmers who would expand production.

Many officials, including Secretary Wallace, have fought the trend toward compulsion on the grounds of principle, indicating a distinct distaste for such radical measures. They indicated today, however, that they would accept the will of farmers not only in controlling the output of cotton and tobacco but also for wheat, corn, hogs and other crops.

"If the producers demand it and agree to accept the inevitable penalties of that drastic method,"

Such a demand must be loud and insistent, he was added, before the administration will take a chance. Officials want the full responsibility for the decision to rest with the farmers and the critics of the trend toward compulsion are attempting to enforce a dictatorial land-use scheme.

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

LEGAL LIQUOR ON SALE IN MAINE'S STATE STORES

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Legal liquor made its debut in Maine today ending a two-quarter century of prohibition.

Prices as low as 40 cents for half a pint of new whisky were in effect as state stores opened for business.

Stillman E. Woodman, chairman of the liquor commission, said, the state would endeavor to keep prices low in an effort to drive bootleggers out of business.

Sale of liquor in Maine was approved in the September election and establishment of state stores was voted at a special session of the legislature a month later.

Only package liquor will be sold, with purchasers required to sign slips for each bottle.

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

HAPPY ATLANTANS BUY FINER GIFTS IN LARGER VOLUME

Georgia's Capital Joins Parade of Nation's Cities in Recording Bigger Sales Than in Any Year Since Depression Started

The largest Christmas trade in years and the best general business year since 1929 were reported Saturday by Atlanta merchants as Georgia's capital joined a parade of the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

Business has increased anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent in Atlanta over last year, say businessmen, and the figures recorded here compare well with national reports.

As shops closed Saturday night, Atlanta's merchants looked back on one of the best days' trading in years (some said since 1929), when the nation's cities in recording greater sales volumes than at any time since "Old Man Depression" became a member of practically every American family.

F. D. R. ADVISERS IN DISAGREEMENT ON WORKS BUDGET

Six Billion-Dollar Difference in Opinion Exists Over Amount To Be Spent Next Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A six-billion-dollar difference in opinion over the amount that should be spent for public works next year was reported today to exist among presidential advisers.

The amounts of projected spending pressed upon the president varied from three billion dollars, or even less, to nine billion dollars.

There was fairly general agreement, in the absence of more than a broad outline of the subject, that this was one of the subjects that so far had been left blank in his message to congress and that the sum would be filled in within the next ten days.

Figures Vary.

Figures on the subject varied according to the individual. All those in high quarters refused to discuss the matter for publication.

Speaking "off the record," however, one authority expressed the opinion that a good guess probably would be four or five billion dollars.

From another "not-for-quotation" source came a prediction that the amount would be extremely low. This opinion was based on the official statement that the president would hold public works expenditures as low as possible in the hope that a business upturn early next summer.

If such a plan were followed, he said, the way would be left open for expansion when the works program should there be no pickup in private industry. By so doing, he added, the president would be leaving an open door through which industry might

Continued in Page 11, Column 1.

THIRD ATLANTAN SHOT BY BANDIT

W. M. Banta Wounded in Left Chest; 2 Others Slightly Improved.

Atlanta bandits Saturday night sent their third victim of the week to an Atlanta hospital as the city's holiday season crime wave continued unabated.

W. M. Banta, of 1538 North Morgan drive, N. E., manager of the "Inside Drive" restaurant, 333 Butler street, was shot in the left chest early Saturday night by a negro bandit who rifled the cash register of the store with his wife and 7-year-old son Jack, hearing the shot, ran out of his office and the negro turned the smoking pistol on him. One of the bullets struck Banta in the chest near the heart, was deflected by a rib and traveled around his chest and lodged in his back. His condition was not considered by Grady attendants to be serious.

The condition of the other two bandit victims, shot in holdup attempts Thursday and Friday, were reported somewhat improved in Atlanta hospitals.

Though still unconscious Saturday night, David A. Lord, wounded by bandits in a Center Hill filling station holdup Thursday morning, was believed to have a fighting chance for recovery at Grady hospital, where he remained in unconsciousness Friday after attempting to reveal to his brother the name of the man who shot him.

J. A. Nolan, 65, of 1411 Dunn street, remained in a serious condition at Georgia Baptist hospital Saturday night from the bullet wound inflicted Friday night by a young negro bandit who shot Mr. Nolan when the latter, thinking the negro was joking, did not obey commands to hold up his hands.

Nolan was taken to a dinner to his son who is employed at a nearby filling station when the negro bandit accosted him. The bandit fled after firing the shot.

Fulton county police were confident

Continued

HOPES STILL LIVE FOR NAVAL PACT

Saito, Meanwhile, Given Orders To Notify U. S. of Denunciation.

By the Associated Press.
Washington still was hopeful Saturday that something might be saved out of the scrapping of the Washington naval treaty as Hiroshi Saito, Japan's ambassador, got his orders to notify the United States that Japan had denounced the treaty.
France, meanwhile, was playing with the idea of joining Japan in denunciation.
Washington — An authoritative source said the United States, still hopeful unrestricted building will be averted, will keep the door open to suggestions for another treaty to replace the abrogated pact.
Tokyo — Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, after telegraphing Saito instructions formally to announce the treaty's end, gave Ambassador Tameo Matsudaira in London an outline for the bi-lateral discussions Japan will continue with the British after American delegates leave.
Paris — A foreign office statement said France did not intend to denounce the treaty, but the chamber of deputies insisted the pact, previously termed "intolerable" for France, must be either formally or "morally" denounced, the latter by public notification that France considers it terminated after 1936, when Japan's denunciation becomes effective.
New York — While refusing comment on the naval conversations, United States Ambassador Robert W. Bingham, arriving from London, said "we have great hopes that ultimately some method of reducing armaments, including airplanes, of course, will be established."

FRANCE TO ANNOUNCE FUTURE NAVAL PLANS
PARIS, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A note announcing France's future naval policies will be sent the other four signatories of the Washington naval treaty after Japan's formal denunciation of that agreement, well-informed circles said tonight.
As the foreign office and the chamber of deputies differed sharply over the question whether the government should or should not join Japan in formal denunciation, Foreign Minister Pierre Laval discussed the naval situation, together with other phases of the European outlook, with Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary.
French officials would not disclose the nature of their next naval move, confining themselves to an indication it would take the form of an assertion of France's minimum naval requirements on which she would be willing to negotiate a new agreement.
The foreign office repeated its denial of yesterday that France contemplated going along with Japan in abrogating the treaty, but deputies insisted the government plans either outright denunciation or public notification of its understanding that the agreement expires after 1936.
This, one member of the lower chamber said, would be tantamount to "moral denunciation."
A communique issued after the naval and foreign affairs committees of the chamber met yesterday to hear Laval and Minister of the Navy Francois Piétri announced "certain steps" would be taken, but did not specify what they would be.
Piétri told the deputies the treaty was "intolerable for France."

Shelbyville Quiet, Troops To Evacuate
SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Shelbyville passed a quiet day and, with danger of further mob disorder apparently past, the 550 national guardsmen prepared to evacuate the town.

Twins, 81, Will Take Part In 60th Wedding Observance

Three-score years of the partnership of marriage will be observed at the home of Dr. Paul McDonald, in Bolton, Christmas, when his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McDonald, spend the day at his home. Mr. McDonald's twin brother, right, and Mr. McDonald will celebrate their 81st birthdays.
Christmas Eve in the McDonald household on their Fulton county plantation 60 years ago was more than just Christmas Eve. Excitement was not confined to the impending visit of Santa Claus, who was counted on to dispel some of the sadness which had lurked for the past decade in the hearts of residents of the community, laid bare and torn by the ravages of war. A greater event, the marriage of one of the twin sons of the household, was to take place.
That Christmas Eve will be recalled in many conversations over the Christmas dinner table Tuesday in the home of Dr. Paul McDonald, at Bolton, for sitting side by side at the table will be his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McDonald, who will be celebrating their 80th anniversary.
Uncle A. P. McDonald also will be there, sitting beside his twin brother, for the McDonald brothers will be celebrating their 81st birthday anniversary.

Warmer Weather Will Follow Drop to Freezing This Morning

Although the temperature may drop below freezing early this morning, fair weather and bright, clear sunshine will send it climbing back to around 55 before nightfall, said George W. Mindling, government meteorologist, Saturday. Although declining to forecast conditions for Christmas, he indicated the possibility of unsettled and cooler weather for Monday.
Friday's high was 54, dropping to 46, the warmest Saturday. Although the thermometer registered only 42 Saturday morning, it will probably drop to 30 early this morning.
A light rain occurred from the lower Ohio valley to the central parts of Georgia and Alabama and to the South Carolina coast Friday night, being recorded in Atlanta as one hundredth of an inch.
A storm center in central Canada will probably provide a nippy Christmas week-end for the northern part of the country, already covered with snow from coast to coast, although no extreme weather is anticipated. In Sault Ste. Marie the thermometer stood at nearly 10 early Saturday morning, while 15 was reported for St. Paul, 24 for Albany, and 25 in Milwaukee.
Further south temperatures showed a tendency toward declining as Little Rock reported 39 and Memphis 37. Other readings were: Louisville, 38; Nashville, 40; Knoxville and Augusta, 42; Birmingham, 43; Chattanooga, 46; Montgomery, 48; Savannah, 50; New Orleans, 52; Jacksonville, 53, and Miami, 59. The mercury stood at 29 in Chicago and 30 in Indianapolis. Newark and Washington each reported 31.

DAVIS QUESTIONS NEW DEAL LAWS

Ex-Presidential Candidate Finds No Constitutional Basis.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president in 1924 and former ambassador to Great Britain, declared in an address tonight that many phases of the "New Deal" are unconstitutional.
"I do not know of any shelter whatever in the fundamental law of the land, written or unwritten, expressed or implied, for many of the activities in which the federal government is now engaged, however laudable the motives behind such things may be," he said.
The federal government, Davis asserted, "is not and was never intended to be an eleemosynary institution or a foundation for miscellaneous charities. It was not designed as a universal parent or an earthly providence."
Asserting that court tests of many phases of the "New Deal" are near at hand, Davis said it was surprising that there have been so few suits. He attributed this to the "charismatic spirit" of the American people.
"In the presence of a national danger or a common misfortune we have reserves of patience, fortitude and hopefulness that have carried us over many a hard place in the past, and if they are not abused, will do as much for us in the future," he said.
"I have never taken the slightest stock in the idea that the American people in 1933, or at any other time in these hard years, were ripe for revolution. There will be no revolution in this country unless demagogues incite it."
"That we were ready and willing in 1933 to try experiments there is no doubt; and ready and willing also to give experiments a chance before condemning them."
In court tests of the New Deal, Davis said, "the rights of men" must be defined and the "hazy language" of the acts interpreted.
"Some of them," he said, referring to examples of new legislation, "sorely need interpretation."

ENGLISH AVE. CHURCH REPORTS GREAT YEAR

English Avenue Methodist church reported a great year at the North Georgia conference which was held here a few weeks ago. Ninety-three new members were added to the REV. J. J. BLANKS, church and all the assessments paid in 1934. Rev. J. J. Blanks, pastor, has been returned to this charge for another year. The pastor and stewards have already planned a great program for this year.

The stewards are J. W. Wilson, J. C. Cole, R. B. Cochran, Glen M. Morrow, J. F. Pittman, O. L. Buchanan, H. S. Buchanan, H. G. Cunningham, W. L. Garvin, W. F. Pittman, Claude Eskew, R. P. Kown, J. A. Plunkett, F. H. Pass, W. W. Wise, L. P. Wood, W. H. Huff, J. C. Brogdon and A. T. Wagons.
English Avenue church is one of the oldest churches in Atlanta, and is located at English Avenue and Kennedy street.

DIVIDEND DECLARED BY LOAN ASSOCIATION
The board of directors of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association has declared a 2 1/2 per cent dividend payable to stockholders of record December 31. It was announced by George W. West, president, Saturday. The dividend will cover the period from June 30 to December 31. "This means that approximately $15,000 will be distributed to stockholders as earnings," Mr. West said. "Our earnings in the past six months have been sufficiently good to pay a very satisfactory rate of return on a federally guaranteed investment."

Santa Claus Visits Rich's, Gives $21,975 to Employees

Santa Claus was extremely popular Saturday night when in Rich's team room he distributed, with the assistance of Walter Rich, president, with whom he is shaking hands, stockings containing a total of $21,975 to the 800 employees of Rich's, Inc. Staff photo.

Santa Claus came to see 800 employees of Rich's, Inc., Saturday night, carrying a whole sack full of loaded stockings containing $21,975 in cash, the store's Christmas bonus to its department heads and workers.
Jubilant prevailed among the employees as Walter Rich, head of the firm, announced that Rich's was completing a banner year and that as usual the owners were sharing the good fortune with those who had helped to increase the earnings.
The spirit of our employees is what makes our store successful and we are going to reward our faithful workers once more," Mr. Rich said as the 800 workers cheered. "You have done your duty to your city, your state, your nation and your customers well throughout the year. As in other appearance."

Santa Claus Visits Base Hospital, Gives Presents to Vets at Party

Santa Claus paid an early visit to the patients at United States Veterans' Base Hospital No. 48 this year, presenting each veteran with many gifts.
The Christmas party, sponsored by city, state and church organizations, at the veterans' hospital was attended by many prominent Georgians. Delacy Allen, state commander of the American Legion, and Mrs. J. T. Fulghum, state president of the War Mothers' Service Star League, were the speakers.
The recreation hall was elaborately decorated with Christmas wreaths, tinsel and trees, by a committee in charge of Mrs. D. M. Robinson.
After the party, which was attended by the veterans who were able to be up, gifts were taken by the various groups to the patients in bed.
A special Christmas message of good cheer was given each one of the gifts were presented. Each veteran attending the party was escorted in the grand march by some member of one of the organizations sponsoring the party.
Music and entertainment for the party were furnished by Mrs. Reynolds Clark's orchestra, composed of 20 girls from Girls' High school in Atlanta, and from Decatur High school. The Georgia Ramblers, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Fowler and son, and Sims Bry Jr., of the University of Georgia at Athens, also had part on the musical program.
The grounds of the veterans' hospital are brilliantly decorated with Christmas lights arranged in various artistic symbols and the officials of the hospital want all Atlantans to out and see them.

Run Down on Highway, Farmer, 63, Is Killed

Knocked down on the highway between Covington and Conyers early Saturday night, Willie C. McDonald, 63, a farmer living on Route 3, Conyers, died shortly after he had been admitted to Emory University hospital.
McDonald, who was struck by a hit-and-run driver as he walked along the highway near his home, never regained consciousness after he reached the hospital.
At the hospital it was reported that he had received a fractured skull, crushed chest and broken right arm.
His daughter, Miss Mildred McDonald, accompanied her father to the hospital in the ambulance of Harwell & Company, of Covington.

ATLANTAN, 73, INJURED IN CRASH NEAR ATHENS

George Bates, 73, of 1002 Peoples street, was admitted to the Emory University hospital Saturday with a badly sprained back and other injuries after his automobile had sideswiped a wagon on the highway near Athens. Mrs. Bates, who was with him at the time of the accident, suffered a fractured ankle. She was treated at the hospital and dismissed.

New Pastor Here
The Rev. A. Lee Hale, new pastor of the Peachtree Road Methodist church, who with his family has moved to the parsonage at 35 East Shadowlawn avenue. Mr. Hale was transferred here from Commerce, Ga., at the last Methodist conference. He will preach today at 11:30 o'clock at his church.

NEW 'CITY BUILDER' CARRIES GREETINGS FROM BUSINESSMEN

Crammed with the Christmas cards of hundreds of Atlanta firms wishing a merry Christmas to all, the current December issue of the City Builder has just come from the press.
Members of the Chamber of Commerce, by which the City Builder is published, have included their good wishes to the public in general in these cards, which contain greetings of every kind from city, county and state officials and prominent businessmen. Slater Marshall is managing editor of the magazine.

RUN OVER BY TRUCK, BOY, 4, BADLY HURT

Charlie Weed, four-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Weed, of 216 Fair street, S. E., was admitted to Grady hospital Saturday night with a possible fracture of the skull, received when he was knocked down by a truck as he was attempting to cross the street in front of his home.
The negro driver of the truck picked the child up and took him to Grady hospital, where he said he would make a report to the police. He has not reported the accident late Saturday night, according to police.

Yule Hopes Are Fading For Tot Dying of Cancer

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 22.—(UP)—Hopes that five-year-old Donna Davis Shaw might live through the ravages of cancer to revel in the childish joys of Christmas Day were lessened today with the announcement that she was suffering hemorrhages.
Doctors have said that Donna may not live until December 25, but persons in many states have eagerly watched for reports of her condition, hopeful that she may stave off death to experience the yearly visit of Santa Claus.
Approximately 80 letters a day, offering sympathy and help, have come to the Shaw home from all parts of the nation. Some are from physicians offering medical aid.
Several days ago the little sufferer had a pre-Christmas thrill when she rode, with the help of her father, in a long-desired toy automobile, presented her as a gift.
Dolls and other playthings of many varieties have been sent to the child from hundreds of well-wishers.

Cold Germs Live Hours in the Air

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 22.—(AP) Evidence, produced by experiments, that infective germs expelled by a person's coughing and sneezing may stay alive in the air for many hours was made public today by Harvard scientists.
This discovery, which promises to revolutionize present day thinking on the possibility that certain respiratory infections are air-borne, was made by William F. Wells, instructor in sanitation, Harvard school of public health, with the assistance of Wyman R. Stone, graduate student in the Harvard school of engineering.
The two scientists claim they have produced evidence that minute droplets expelled by a person in coughing, sneezing or talking, do not fall to the floor immediately but evaporate and may leave behind infective germs which drift about for hours.

RANTIN OR CHILDS MAY GET PARKPOST

Two Councilmen Are Being Strongly Urged for Chairmanship.

Councilmen Horace M. Rantin and C. W. Childs, both of whom are members of the parks committee of council, were being considered seriously Saturday by Mayor James L. Key as possible successors to Alderman G. Everett Milten, committee chairman, who will not be a member of the 1935 council.
Although the mayor made no definite statement, it was learned that both men are being brought forcibly to the mayor's attention. It is known that he is considering elevating a member of the committee to the chairmanship.
M. C. (Mac) Bolen, who will succeed Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth ward, resigned, probably will be placed on the finance committee from the tenth ward; Councilman Alvin L. Richards, of the thirteenth ward, probably will succeed Councilman Aubrey Milam on the police committee to fill the only change the mayor contemplates on that committee.
Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward, may be "recognized" by Key in the 1935 appointments and it is conceivable that he will be named head of the charter revision committee in 1935.
Virtually all committees will remain intact except for the necessary changes which must be made.
Alderman Ed A. Gilliam is slated for appointment as chairman of council's school committee, which carries with it a membership on the board of education. Gilliam will be vice chairman of the 1935 finance committee, and is scheduled to be elected mayor two years of council, to succeed Alderman Frank H. Reynolds. Milam will head the 1935 finance committee.

Each Gift in a Muse Box

Muse's Gifts for HIM

- Muse's ties $1 up
- Muse's socks 35c up
- A Schick Dry Shaver $15
- Manhattan shirts $1.95 up
- Luxurious Muse robes $10 up
- Dobbs hats $7.50 up
- Muse's gloves $3.50 up
- Fitted toilet cases $7.50 up
- Sweaters
- Collar cases
- Tie cases
- Muse's warm wool socks 50c up
- Muse's comfortable pajamas $1.95 up
- Tuxedo sets $2.50 up
- Umbrellas
- Walking canes
- Tuxedo vests $6.50 up
- Muse's fine handkerchiefs 25c up
- Garters 35c up
- Suspenders $1
- A famous Rolls razor $10

These are only a few of many gifts for men which you will find at Muse's. Even during the last shopping day before Christmas you will find Muse's stocks clean and fresh with plenty of articles in each size for you to select from.

Geo. Muse Clothing Co.
The Style Center of the South—Peachtree-Walton-Broad

... Parents watch their Children's clothes but what about their TEETH?

Probably the most important factor required in keeping children healthy and normal is the proper attention to their teeth. While the average American diet is adequate in calories, it usually appears to be deficient in certain elements that are necessary for general health. This dietary deficiency may be the ultimate cause of the dental decays with which many are afflicted in later life.

It is so easy, by getting facts from your doctor and dentist, to start the children on the right track. Your doctor can help you in the proper selection of foods and the judicious use of them in various diets. The majority of the public take little interest in preserving their teeth, which causes a vast amount of human suffering and is responsible for the vast amount of human ugliness. It should not be necessary for people to be so neglectful that they go to the dentist only when driven by a vicious tooth ache.

LANE DRUG STORES

FOR HEALTH...VISIT YOUR DENTIST REGULARLY

Christmas Dinner

Full Course Turkey Dinner $1.00

Dance to Tommy Rosen's Orchestra

Celebrate Christmas Eve
Music 7:30 to 12:30
Reservations are also being taken now for do luxe New Year's Eve Party. Sevens only to those making reservations. Avoid disappointment by phoning now.
JA. 8664 JA. 9270

WISTERIA GARDEN
772 1/2 PEACHTREE ST. JA. 8664
NEXT TO WINECOFF HOTEL

DAVISON'S Makes a Christmas List Of 11th HOUR GIFTS

Always, these have been the eleventh-hour gifts most often sought and bought. You'll find them ready and waiting for you at Davison's! Shop early Monday. Store closes at 5:30 P. M.

STREET FLOOR

Women's Kerchiefs _____
10c to $3

Women's Scarfs _____
59c to 3.98

Women's Gloves _____
79c to 3.98

Hair-Bow Ribbons _____
15c to 45c yd.

Women's Hose _____
79c to 2.25

Fine Perfume _____
1.10 to $48

Dresser Sets _____
1.98 to $25

Writing Papers _____
49c to 3.50

Fountain Pens _____
$1 to 7.50

Children's Books _____
69c to 2.50

Current Fiction _____
$2 to $3

Clocks _____
1.98 to 7.95

Silver-Plated
Holloware _____
3.98 to 5.95

Men's Shirts _____
1.29 to 4.95

Men's Ties _____
$1 to $4

Men's Sox _____
25c to 2.50 pair

We're staging our Great Annual After-Christmas.

SALE of TOYS

the day before Christmas!

Tremendous reductions on odd lots, late shipments, floor samples, slightly soiled toys, etc.! Here are only a few of the outstanding buys:

Set of 4 Boxing Gloves... 1.98
Locomotive Kiddy Car... 98c
27-in. Baby Doll... 1.98
Uncle Remus Game... 69c
Valve Footballs... 69c
Mickey Mouse Toy Chest... 98c
Big Dream Baby... 2.98

DAVISON'S FOR TOYS, SECOND FLOOR

FOURTH FLOOR

Famous Make Radios
24.50, to $259

Sofa and Boudoir
Pillows _____
59c to 3.98

Glass Cocktail Shaker and 6 Glasses _____
98c

21-pc. After-Dinner
Coffee Sets _____
3.98

Italian Pottery Hors
D'Oeuvres Dishes _____
98c

Candlestick Lamps _____
$1

Florentine Tray Sets _____
1.99

Solid Brass Andirons
3.99 pair

6-cup Universal Electric Percolators _____
4.95

Chromium-Plated
Coffee Urn Sets _____
9.95

Carrom Card Tables _____
1.79

Alcohol-Proof Trays _____
1.69

FIFTH FLOOR

Duncan Phyfe Coffee Tables _____
8.95

Cedar Chests _____
24.75

3 x 5 Sarouk Rugs _____
49.75

SECOND FLOOR

Embroidered Linen
Finger Towels _____
10c

Embroidered Linen
Guest Towels (2 in box) _____
69c

Gingham
Finger Towels (3 in box) _____
39c

Embroidered Linen
Cocktail Napkins _____
6 for $1

Filet and Cutwork
Tea Napkins _____
6 for 1.79

for holiday dashing from dance to dance

FROSTED WHITE CREPE
winking with a thousand starry rhinestones. The tunic business is straight in front but slit up like a swallow tail coat in the back. From the Budget Shop.
14.95

BLACK VELVET WRAP from you to you will insure a merry Christmas. This one is soft and deeply luxurious with shirred collar and sleeves blown big below the elbow. 16.75

Davison's For Evening Gals,
THIRD FLOOR

Bed-Jackets
1.98

Here's a last-minute gift that will win just as warm a welcome as if you'd bought it weeks ago. As dainty as a baby's sacque in shell-stitched crochet drawn up at the neck with satin ribbon. Pink and white, blue and white.
DAVISON'S FOR BED-JACKETS, THIRD FLOOR

Organdy
Apron Sets
1.79

Usually would be 1.98

Crisp organdy apron, cap, collar and cuffs will please your maid mightily and will add a holiday touch to the turkey dinner. Finished with spic and span bias fold trimming.

DAVISON'S FOR MAIDS'
OUTFITS, THIRD FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA—affiliated with MACY'S, New York

To MEN---weighed down with Christmas lists . . . .

Timid souls who shudder at the thought of elbowing their way through Christmas crowds take refuge with IRIS LEE.
Miss Lee and her corps of assistants will be glad to take you in hand, shop with you or for you and wrap your gifts attractively. If you haven't time to come in, a 'phone call to IRIS LEE at WA. 7612 will serve the same purpose.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

RICHBERG WARNS OF JOHNSON LIBEL

FLORIDA
N. W. Phone WA. 8181.
FLORIDA RAILWAY

A friendly, convenient, courteous place to get better values in your paint and wall paper.

"We Serve—You Save"

DIXIE PAINT & SUPPLY CO., Inc.

Paint—Wall Paper—Glass

71-73 Ivy Street, N. E. MAIN 3148-9

EIGHT NEW ATTORNEYS ADMITTED TO PRACTICE

Group Addressed by Judge
Virlyn Moore and Ex-Gov.
Clifford Walker.

Eight new attorneys were admitted to practice law in Georgia Saturday by Judge Virlyn M. Moore, of Fulton superior court.

Judge Moore addressed the new attorneys briefly, commenting upon the recent move by the bar association which brought about thorough investigation of the character and reputation of aspirants to the legal profession, and congratulated the new members of the bar on the fact that the investigating committee had found them worthy in all respects. He urged them to do all in their power to keep the profession on a high basis and commented upon the value of thorough investigation before admission in weeding out undesirable persons.

Former Governor Clifford M. Walker, whose son, Harold W. Walker, was among the eight who were successful in passing the examination, also spoke briefly, pointing out that as a matter of history and tradition, Georgia attorneys have been men of high character and integrity.

Emmett L. Quinn, chief deputy sheriff of Fulton county, another successful applicant, was presented with a police whistle and a china bulldog by his co-workers and received congratulations from Sheriff J. I. Lowry and many other friends in the courtroom.

E. T. Halstead, one of the new members of the bar, has been a practicing attorney in California for a number of years, but took the examination as Georgia and California do not operate on county arrangement.

Others who received their certificates are R. M. Stripling, J. T. Edmondson, A. Friedman, L. Cowart Jr. and S. P. Fleming.

WEALTHY CONVICT CARVES NEW FAME WITHIN PEN WALLS

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Severed from the world and his million-dollar fortune by a 25-year prison term, Emanuel Duke H. Ledbetter is carving a new fame for himself in wood—behind prison walls.

Rearred in England in wealth and refinement, Ledbetter was a world traveler. He inherited estates valued at more than $1,000,000 in England, Florida and California. He had four homes in Hollywood.

Five years ago he was convicted on a sex charge. He contended it was a "trumped-up case."

Adjusting himself, Ledbetter developed his wood-carving hobby, using mostly material salvaged from prison discard.

His first work, given to the late Governor James Rolph Jr., was heralded as a masterpiece. It depicts a tiger poised with muscles taut and jaws set in fury before it leaps on its prey.

Ledbetter has six gold medals from the California State fair, as well as other exhibition awards. He also excels in sculpturing, painting and music. He speaks conversationally in 23 languages.

TWO NEGROES DOOMED FOR FLORIDA HOLDUP

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Two negro youths were sentenced here today to death in the electric chair for the holdup murder of Earl Schuman, 25-year-old former University of Florida football star.

Circuit Judge De Witt T. Gray fixed the death sentence against Fred Young and Thomas Jefferson, convicted recently of having killed Schuman when he resisted their attempt to rob his drink stand on Florida avenue.

MOFFETT SEES DEATH FOR U. S. LOAN SHARKS

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Activity of the federal housing administration eventually will sound the death knell for "loan sharks," James A. Moffett, chief of the administration, declared here today.

Moffett, who is here with his family for a vacation aboard the yacht Bidon, said he based his statement on the belief that character loans from bankers would be the rule, rather than the exception, in the future.

House Packed at Opening Night Of Last Opera Season for Gatti

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Giulio Gatti-Casazza opened his last season at the Metropolitan tonight.

The opera was Verdi's perennial favorite, "Aida."

This was a sentimental touch. For Gatti opened with "Aida" when he came to the Metropolitan from La Scala in Milan in 1908.

Fortune smiled for Gatti tonight. The house was sold out. All the available standing room was taken on after the doors opened.

The sale for the opening week was the best since the October crash in Wall Street.

2-Cent Bank Check Tax To Be Dropped January 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—It appeared today that Mark H. Shank, under sentence of death for one of four poison murders with which he was charged, might escape electrocution December 28 through the latest legal maneuver of his attorneys.

Prepared to go into federal court for a writ of habeas corpus if this new move to obtain a sanity hearing for the Akron (Ohio) attorney failed, W. T. Pate and Robert J. Brown, attorneys, assisted by attorney Blake Cook, of Kent, Ohio, had prepared a petition today to be filed in Jefferson circuit court seeking for the second time a writ of mandamus to compel prison authorities to grant the condemned man a sanity hearing.

2-Cent Bank Check Tax To Be Dropped January 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A happy New Year, in at least one sense, awaits the nation's bankers and writers of some 2,250,000 checks annually for on January 1 the two-cent bank check tax automatically dies.

Probably only the treasury will regret to see it go. It will lose around $45,000,000 a year in revenue.

Follow Vicks Plan for better CONTROL of Colds

(Full Details in each Vicks Package)

Benton, Other Officers of Southeastern Fair Are Re-elected for New Terms by Directors

Three of the officers of the Southeastern fair who were re-elected for 1935. Mike Benton, president (center); John Armour, vice president (left), and W. J. Davis Jr., treasurer.

In appreciation of laudable civic endeavor of the past several years and success of the 1933 and 1934 Southeastern Fairs, M. M. "Mike" Benton has been named as president of the 1935 exposition to serve his third year in office.

He and all other officers of 1934 have been re-elected for 1935 and approval has been given of the action of the fair board by the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring body of the south's outstanding fair.

Benton, president of the General Elevator Company, and chairman of the Atlanta district of the national re-employment service, carries on in line of prominent Atlanta businessmen who have been president since 1915.

Officers re-elected were Benton, president; John Armour, vice president; W. J. Davis Jr., treasurer; Virgil Meigs, secretary, and Colonel Frederic J. Paxon retaining his commanding position as chairman of the executive committee, board of directors and the ways and means committee.

So successful have been the past two fairs at Lakewood that it was deemed wisdom that the youthful element injected in 1933 should be undisturbed, but the guiding influence of several veterans in the fair organizations such as Colonel Paxon continued. Colonel Paxon continues as chairman of the executive committee, the board of directors and the ways and means committee.

Committees and Directors. Ways and means committee, Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, Mike Benton, Ivan Allen, John Armour, Walter C. Hendrix.

Executive committee, Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, chairman; Ivan Allen, Lee Ashcraft, A. L. Belle Isle, Tap Bennett, G. W. Cunningham, John P. Franch, Walter C. Hendrix, Clifford Hendrix, Baxter Maddox, Ray L. Moore, Alfred C. Newell, I. M. Shelton.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Following the organization of the Association of Agricultural and Industrial Fairs of the Southeast at Macon, where Benton was named president, the association met here during the Southeastern Fair and will have the annual meeting at Winter Haven, Fla., January 24-25 during the Orange festival, at which time Benton will preside and will later visit the Florida Fair at Tampa.

Among improvements and innovations during the past two years at Lakewood and Southeastern Fair are beautification of grounds and improvement of race track to conform to A. A. A. recommendations, revival of livestock and horse racing at the fair, inclusion of Indian exposition in 1935, rearrangement of dates, introduction of A. A. A. auto racing and augmenting of grandstand and night show attractions.

"Following two years in which the fair was a financial success and attendance was most encouraging, the fair association is naturally looking forward optimistically to 1935," says Benton.

The fair association will continue to improve the plant and grounds, which will be a bigger and better fair next fall and trust that the same measure of co-operation received from the A. A. A. in 1934 will be continued in 1935.

The walls of the hallways and promenades no longer are of dirty yellow. They are a subdued bluish-green now.

For the first time in years, you could sit back comfortably in your seat and, without straining your eyes, read the names of the immortals on the processional arch—Beethoven, Gluck, Mozart, Wagner, Verdi.

Not even the little cherubs that cavort on the ceilings were forgotten. They're embellished in new gold.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Tonight the Rhodames was the veteran tenor of the "Met," Giovanni Martinelli. Elizabeth Reiberg sang the title role; Lawrence Tibbett was Amos and Max Oleszewski was the Viennese contralto, was Amneris.

The first week will bring, next Wednesday, the debut of the new soprano, Joyce Konecni, in Wagner's "Die Walkure."

Other operas the opening week are "Lucia," with Lily Pons; "Gloconda," with Rosa and Carmela Ponselle; "Manon," with Lillian Walden; and "Richard Crooks." The second week brings the revival of Richard Strauss' "Rosenkavalier."

The first time in years, you could sit back comfortably in your seat and, without straining your eyes, read the names of the immortals on the processional arch—Beethoven, Gluck, Mozart, Wagner, Verdi.

Not even the little cherubs that cavort on the ceilings were forgotten. They're embellished in new gold.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Tonight the Rhodames was the veteran tenor of the "Met," Giovanni Martinelli. Elizabeth Reiberg sang the title role; Lawrence Tibbett was Amos and Max Oleszewski was the Viennese contralto, was Amneris.

The first week will bring, next Wednesday, the debut of the new soprano, Joyce Konecni, in Wagner's "Die Walkure."

Large Crowds Force New Chain To Employ Extra Clerks for Trade.

National Brands Food Stores, Inc., opened Friday and Saturday with such crowds of customers that additional clerks will be employed in virtually all stores Monday, the last day of the opening sale, it was announced Saturday by Charles C. Muse, originator of the plan.

"Mr. Muse completed Saturday a check-up on all the stores, located at convenient centers throughout the Greater Atlanta area, to speed up delivery from the warehouse to stores which sold out of several of the advertised specials, announced in special sections published in all the Atlanta dailies Friday.

"The opening days were a successful test of the National Brands Food Stores plan for supplying members under all conditions and the rapidity of service enabled the stores to fill virtually every retail order, even on items which were in greatest demand," Mr. Muse said.

"The popularity of the new type of grocery service and the attractiveness of the prices made possible by our co-operative buying arrangement was shown by the volume of trade at each store," he stated.

The National Brands Food Stores, Inc., is composed entirely of established independent retailers who own and operate their own stores and also operate the systems organized for mass buying and co-operative advertising. Each store includes complete department stores, groceries and green groceries and for nationally advertised brand goods.

Savings to members and to their customers are effected through quantity buying of nationally known, standard merchandise and through the system's own plan of distribution. The system's own plan of distribution is effected through the warehousing and trucking facilities of established jobbers.

Arrangements are being completed to extend the organization into every state in the Union, Mr. Muse said.

Collier came to Atlanta the opening day of the Indian Exposition to dedicate the Indian Exposition, along with government officials from North Carolina, Arizona, New Mexico and Florida.

Fairs and expositions visited during the year include Century of Progress, Chicago; Canadian International Exhibition, Toronto; Alabama State Fair, Birmingham; East Tennessee Fair, Knoxville; Cabarrus Fair, Concord, N. C.; Cherokee Indian Fair, Cherokee, N. C.; Spartanburg Fair, Spartanburg, S. C.; and Georgia State Exposition, Macon.

Following the organization of the Association of Agricultural and Industrial Fairs of the Southeast at Macon, where Benton was named president, the association met here during the Southeastern Fair and will have the annual meeting at Winter Haven, Fla., January 24-25 during the Orange festival, at which time Benton will preside and will later visit the Florida Fair at Tampa.

Among improvements and innovations during the past two years at Lakewood and Southeastern Fair are beautification of grounds and improvement of race track to conform to A. A. A. recommendations, revival of livestock and horse racing at the fair, inclusion of Indian exposition in 1935, rearrangement of dates, introduction of A. A. A. auto racing and augmenting of grandstand and night show attractions.

"Following two years in which the fair was a financial success and attendance was most encouraging, the fair association is naturally looking forward optimistically to 1935," says Benton.

The fair association will continue to improve the plant and grounds, which will be a bigger and better fair next fall and trust that the same measure of co-operation received from the A. A. A. in 1934 will be continued in 1935.

The walls of the hallways and promenades no longer are of dirty yellow. They are a subdued bluish-green now.

For the first time in years, you could sit back comfortably in your seat and, without straining your eyes, read the names of the immortals on the processional arch—Beethoven, Gluck, Mozart, Wagner, Verdi.

Not even the little cherubs that cavort on the ceilings were forgotten. They're embellished in new gold.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Tonight the Rhodames was the veteran tenor of the "Met," Giovanni Martinelli. Elizabeth Reiberg sang the title role; Lawrence Tibbett was Amos and Max Oleszewski was the Viennese contralto, was Amneris.

The first week will bring, next Wednesday, the debut of the new soprano, Joyce Konecni, in Wagner's "Die Walkure."

Other operas the opening week are "Lucia," with Lily Pons; "Gloconda," with Rosa and Carmela Ponselle; "Manon," with Lillian Walden; and "Richard Crooks." The second week brings the revival of Richard Strauss' "Rosenkavalier."

The first time in years, you could sit back comfortably in your seat and, without straining your eyes, read the names of the immortals on the processional arch—Beethoven, Gluck, Mozart, Wagner, Verdi.

Not even the little cherubs that cavort on the ceilings were forgotten. They're embellished in new gold.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Tonight the Rhodames was the veteran tenor of the "Met," Giovanni Martinelli. Elizabeth Reiberg sang the title role; Lawrence Tibbett was Amos and Max Oleszewski was the Viennese contralto, was Amneris.

The first week will bring, next Wednesday, the debut of the new soprano, Joyce Konecni, in Wagner's "Die Walkure."

Other operas the opening week are "Lucia," with Lily Pons; "Gloconda," with Rosa and Carmela Ponselle; "Manon," with Lillian Walden; and "Richard Crooks." The second week brings the revival of Richard Strauss' "Rosenkavalier."

The first time in years, you could sit back comfortably in your seat and, without straining your eyes, read the names of the immortals on the processional arch—Beethoven, Gluck, Mozart, Wagner, Verdi.

Not even the little cherubs that cavort on the ceilings were forgotten. They're embellished in new gold.

On that November morning, the fair was a scene of activity. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time. The fair board, which had been in session since the morning of the 21st, was now in session for the final time.

Tonight the Rhodames was the veteran tenor of the "Met," Giovanni Martinelli. Elizabeth Reiberg sang the title role; Lawrence Tibbett was Amos and Max Oleszewski was the Viennese contralto, was Amneris.

The first week will bring, next Wednesday, the debut of the new soprano, Joyce Konecni, in Wagner's "Die Walkure."

Other operas the opening week are "Lucia," with Lily Pons; "Gloconda," with Rosa and Carmela Ponselle; "Manon," with Lillian Walden; and "Richard Crooks." The second week brings the revival of Richard Strauss' "Rosenkavalier."

New and Old Scouters Club Heads BUSY ON OPENING DAY

Arrangements have been completed for the Christmas newboys' dinner which is sponsored each year by the merchants and professional men of Atlanta under the leadership of Phil C. McDuffie in co-operation with the circulation managers of the three daily papers.

The banquet will be held on Christmas Eve at 7:30 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel. Jim Brandon, manager of the hotel, has informed the committee on arrangements that he has purchased 25 big fat turkeys and that, in addition thereto, there will be abundant quantities of cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, fruit, nuts and candy; the latter being contributed by the following Atlanta merchants: Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Rogers' Stores, Noris, Inc., Jacobs Pharmacy and Woolworth Company.

Starting at 5 o'clock, preceding the newboys' dinner, a representative group of "old time" newspapermen will meet at the hotel to exchange Christmas greetings and relate experiences of 25 or more years ago.

An elaborate program of entertainment has been provided for the newboys, by Park Hall, of the Atlanta Journal, and Charles Coleman, of the Atlanta Georgian. In addition to various professional acts the newboys themselves will add to the evening's entertainment with songs, dances and other interesting features.

In addition to the firms mentioned above, the following individuals will contribute a total of $150 to defray the expenses of the dinner: J. C. Grabbe, Dr. Floyd McRae, R. B. Bradley, Dr. Frank Boland, Clarence Haverly, J. Prince Webster, Fred Patterson, J. P. Allen, F. J. Paxon, Walter A. Sims, P. S. Arkwright, H. G. Hastings, Charles J. Currie, John A. Sibley, S. P. Boykin, Charles F. Stone, Julian V. Bohm, Alvin B. Cates, Robert F. Maddox, John E. Smith, Albert Howell Jr., Jackson P. Dick, C. A. Rauschenberg, William D. Ellis III, H. D. Oliver, Frank Hawkins, C. T. Danna, Arthur J. Harris, Fred S. Gould, Walter H. Rich, Robert L. Cooney, John W. Grant, R. G. Clay, W. F. Dykes, Ben S. Head, Lee Ashcraft, Ivan Allen, Lindsey Hopkins, Gene Harrington, S. S. Dobbs Jr., Edwin Haas Jr., L. C. Hopkins, S. M. Carson, J. M. Harrison, Charles W. Walker, R. W. Counts, Dr. Dunbar Roy, J. Glen Dodson, J. A. Whitely, Arthur S. Bird, DeSales Harrison, William Satterthwait, P. C. McDuffie, M. N. Rolleston, T. K. Glenn and Walter C. Hill.

The newboys Christmas dinner has become a unique and historic event of Atlanta. It was first inaugurated in 1915 and has since that time, with the exception of three years, it has been an annual event, giving pleasure to approximately 250 new boys.

Many men prominent in the industrial and financial world have been guest speakers at these dinners in the past and have joined with the newboys, young and old, in their celebration.

Last year tuberculosis associations and committees throughout the state gave medical care and attention to 3,161 tuberculosis patients and 5,860 undernourished children. Nurses of these private groups visited 35,723 homes and 1,428 clinics were conducted. In addition 91,052 pieces of tuberculosis literature were distributed to all parts of Georgia.

There are now two state-wide, state-employed agencies engaged in tuberculosis work. One is the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Alto, and the other is the state tuberculosis X-ray clinic conducted by the state board of health. In Atlanta the city maintains Battle Hill for the treatment of tuberculosis patients while the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association operates a free clinic where any resident may be examined for tuberculosis symptoms.

Macon maintains a 24-bed institution in Bibb county where sufferers are treated for a slight charge to defray the cost of the institution. Mr. and Mrs. Clark county have a sanatorium which accommodates 36 patients. Savannah and Chatham county have tuberculosis wards in the general hospital. Wares are treated in separate buildings in all of these institutions which benefit materially from the work of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association.

Admitted to the annual sale of Christmas seals.

While Georgians were feverishly winding up their Christmas shopping Saturday, thousands of war tuberculosis patients and undernourished children at home and in state hospitals wondered anxiously whether generous-hearted citizens of this commonwealth would insure for them another year of expert medical care by using an abundance of Christmas seals on gifts and greeting cards.

More than 11,000,000 of the seals have been distributed in every county throughout the state, and while many of the localities have sent in encouraging reports, other communities, Atlanta included, are slightly behind last year's record. Ninety-five per cent of the entire proceeds from the Christmas seal sale are used for work among tuberculosis sufferers of this state, and the need, officials explained, is far greater this year because of the extensive program that has been planned for 1935.

A call to arms against the "white plague" in Georgia was sounded Saturday by Governor Talmadge, who was among the first to respond with his annual purchase of Christmas seals. "The Christmas seal sale is one in which every Georgian ought to take part," the governor said. "The state contributes generously to the fight against tuberculosis and every year at Christmas time the public is given an opportunity to do its part."

The quota assigned to each Georgian is not much—three cents. Governor Talmadge continued, "It ought to be a dollar's worth, for there is not a chance in this state to spend the money to better advantage. I would like to see as many Georgians as possible buy at least a dollar's worth of the seals. I hope to live to see the day when tuberculosis will be as absent from the state as yellow fever, and it can be made so. You and I and everyone else can speed this day along by buying Christmas seals."

With each group of Christmas seals mailed out there was a letter inclosed urging the recipient to use the seals and send in his check—a penny for each seal—to his city or county tuberculosis association. Atlantans who did not receive any seals still have the opportunity of buying a seal from a special Christmas seal booth that has been established in the old Postoffice building or from the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association at 258 Forrest avenue.

"Tuberculosis still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease," said J. P. Faulkner, executive director of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association, "and Christmas seals are the ammunition that will eradicate this infection. This year the seals are more attractive than ever before. Use them to decorate your packages and letters so that the wonderful work being done here may be continued."

Last year tuberculosis associations and committees throughout the state gave medical care and attention to 3,161 tuberculosis patients and 5,860 undernourished children. Nurses of these private groups visited 35,723 homes and 1,428 clinics were conducted. In addition 91,052 pieces of tuberculosis literature were distributed to all parts of Georgia.

There are now two state-wide, state-employed agencies engaged in tuberculosis work. One is the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Alto, and the other is the state tuberculosis X-ray clinic conducted by the state board of health. In Atlanta the city maintains Battle Hill for the treatment of tuberculosis patients while the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association operates a free clinic where any resident may be examined for tuberculosis symptoms.

Macon maintains a 24-bed institution in Bibb county where sufferers are treated for a slight charge to defray the cost of the institution. Mr. and Mrs. Clark county have a sanatorium which accommodates 36 patients. Savannah and Chatham county have tuberculosis wards in the general hospital. Wares are treated in separate buildings in all of these institutions which benefit materially from the work of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association.

Admitted to the annual sale of Christmas seals.

While Georgians were feverishly winding up their Christmas shopping Saturday, thousands of war tuberculosis patients and undernourished children at home and in state hospitals wondered anxiously whether generous-hearted citizens of this commonwealth would insure for them another year of expert medical care by using an abundance of Christmas seals on gifts and greeting cards.

More than 11,000,000 of the seals have been distributed in every county throughout the state, and while many of the localities have sent in encouraging reports, other communities, Atlanta included, are slightly behind last year's record. Ninety-five per cent of the entire proceeds from the Christmas seal sale are used for work among tuberculosis sufferers of this state, and the need, officials explained, is far greater this year because of the extensive program that has been planned for 1935.

A call to arms against the "white plague" in Georgia was sounded Saturday by Governor Talmadge, who was among the first to respond with his annual purchase of Christmas seals. "The Christmas seal sale is one in which every Georgian ought to take part," the governor said. "The state contributes generously to the fight against tuberculosis and every year at Christmas time the public is given an opportunity to do its part."

The quota assigned to each Georgian is not much—three cents. Governor Talmadge continued, "It ought to be a dollar's worth, for there is not a chance in this state to spend the money to better advantage. I would like to see as many Georgians as possible buy at least a dollar's worth of the seals. I hope to live to see the day when tuberculosis will be as absent from the state as yellow fever, and it can be made so. You and I and everyone else can speed this day along by buying Christmas seals."

With each group of Christmas seals mailed out there was a letter inclosed urging the recipient to use the seals and send in his check—a penny for each seal—to his city or county tuberculosis association. Atlantans who did not receive any seals still have the opportunity of buying a seal from a special Christmas seal booth that has been established in the old Postoffice building or from the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association at 258 Forrest avenue.

"Tuberculosis still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease," said J. P. Faulkner, executive director of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association, "and Christmas seals are the ammunition that will eradicate this infection. This year the seals are more attractive than ever before. Use them to decorate your packages and letters so that the wonderful work being done here may be continued."

Last year tuberculosis associations and committees throughout the state gave medical care and attention to 3,161 tuberculosis patients and 5,860 undernourished children. Nurses of these private groups visited 35,723 homes and 1,428 clinics were conducted. In addition 91,052 pieces of tuberculosis literature were distributed to all parts of Georgia.

There are now two state-wide, state-employed agencies engaged in tuberculosis work. One is the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Alto, and the other is the state tuberculosis X-ray clinic conducted by the state board of health. In Atlanta the city maintains Battle Hill for the treatment of tuberculosis patients while the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association operates a free clinic where any resident may be examined for tuberculosis symptoms.

Macon maintains a 24-bed institution in Bibb county where sufferers are treated for a slight charge to defray the cost of the institution. Mr. and Mrs. Clark county have a sanatorium which accommodates 36 patients. Savannah and Chatham county have tuberculosis wards in the general hospital. Wares are treated in separate buildings in all of these institutions which benefit materially from the work of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association.

Admitted to the annual sale of Christmas seals.

While Georgians were feverishly winding up their Christmas shopping Saturday, thousands of war tuberculosis patients and undernourished children at home and in state hospitals wondered anxiously whether generous-hearted citizens of this commonwealth would insure for them another year of expert medical care by using an abundance of Christmas seals on gifts and greeting cards.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS REPORTED LAGGING

Fulton Is Among Counties of State Falling Behind
Its 1933 Mark.

While Georgians were feverishly winding up their Christmas shopping Saturday, thousands of war tuberculosis patients and undernourished children at home and in state hospitals wondered anxiously whether generous-hearted citizens of this commonwealth would insure for them another year of expert medical care by using an abundance of Christmas seals on gifts and greeting cards.

More than 11,000,000 of the seals have been distributed in every county throughout the state, and while many of the localities have sent in encouraging reports, other communities, Atlanta included, are slightly behind last year's record. Ninety-five per cent of the entire proceeds from the Christmas seal sale are used for work among tuberculosis sufferers of this state, and the need, officials explained, is far greater this year because of the extensive program that has been planned for 1935.

A call to arms against the "white plague" in Georgia was sounded Saturday by Governor Talmadge, who was among the first to respond with his annual purchase of Christmas seals. "The Christmas seal sale is one in which every Georgian ought to take part," the governor said. "The state contributes generously to the fight against tuberculosis and every year at Christmas time the public is given an opportunity to do its part."

The quota assigned to each Georgian is not much—three cents. Governor Talmadge continued, "It ought to be a dollar's worth, for there is not a chance in this state to spend the money to better advantage. I would like to see as many Georgians as possible buy at least a dollar's worth of the seals. I hope to live to see the day when tuberculosis will be as absent from the state as yellow fever, and it can be made so. You and I and everyone else can speed this day along by buying Christmas seals."

With each group of Christmas seals mailed out there was a letter inclosed urging the recipient to use the seals and send in his check—a penny for each seal—to his city or county tuberculosis association. Atlantans who did not receive any seals still have the opportunity of buying a seal from a special Christmas seal booth that has been established in the old Postoffice building or from the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association at 258 Forrest avenue.

"Tuberculosis still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease," said J. P. Faulkner, executive director of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association, "and Christmas seals are the ammunition that will eradicate this infection. This year the seals are more attractive than ever before. Use them to decorate your packages and letters so that the wonderful work being done here may be continued."

Last year tuberculosis associations and committees throughout the state gave medical care and attention to 3,161 tuberculosis patients and 5,860 undernourished children. Nurses of these private groups visited 35,723 homes and

Vinson, Brown Join in Fight To Rid State of Screw Worm

Dr. White of Veterinary Office Urges Strict Effort To Keep Losses to Minimum.

Fully aware of the necessity of Georgia receiving adequate assistance from the federal government in its war on the screw-worm menace, the state's congressional delegation is lining up in a solid block to secure ample funds through legislation at the next session of congress.

Congressman-elect Frank Whelchel, of Gainesville, Saturday pledged his full support to the program and he declared he would have no stone unturned in helping to get federal funds with which to help eradicate the screw-worm from Georgia.

"Though there have been no infestations in my district, I hope the worm will be eliminated before it reaches the northern part of the state," he asserted.

Representatives Carl Vinson and Paul Brown, out of the state last week, have notified The Constitution since returning home that they will co-operate in every way to obtain federal funds to aid state officials and live stock men in the fight.

In a letter to The Constitution, Dr. William E. White, chief of the Georgia veterinary advisory board, agrees with all authorities on the screw-worm menace in the belief that the screw-worm fly cannot be eradicated completely, but he declares that by strict vigilance and prompt treatment of animals attacked the menace may be brought under control.

He urges the construction of chutes and hospital pens this winter for the prompt treatment of animals when crabs trouble will begin next spring, and again calls attention to the fact that commercial breeders and pine tar oil are the best remedies known.

After years of experiments, emphasizing that these articles are very low in cost, while some other concoctions that are being marketed are high in price and do not bear the endorsement of federal and state experts.

Letter From Doctor White.
Editor Constitution: "In reading the many articles published in The Constitution on the screw-worm menace, I agree with most of what has been said."

"In July or August, 1933, I was called upon by T. M. Linder, executive secretary to the governor and now commissioner of agriculture-elect, and notified that they had received a request from the Hon. Morten Turner, Quitman, Ga., and the county agent of Thomas county for assistance. I was directed by Mr. Linder and Mr. Adams, commissioner of agriculture, to look into this and render any assistance possible. Immediately I conferred with Mr. W. E. Dove, United States department of entomology, Savannah, Ga., and Dr. H. B. Raffensperger, United States department of zoology, Mobile, Ala. We decided the best plan was to hold meetings in the infected counties, of which there were about 35. Through the help and co-operation of these two gentlemen, the assistance of local veterinarians and county agents to arrange for the meetings, we held these public meetings in nearly every county that was then infested and instructed the live stock owners in the methods of control.

"I believe that it is impossible to eradicate this menace, but it can be held to a minimum by sanitary methods and simple treatment of the infected animals. I do not think that it is anything to be alarmed about, for the livestock man who actually looks after his stock as he should. In order to handle the cattle on the ranges of this state it will be necessary to build holding pens and chutes similar to the ones used in the tick eradication campaign so that the cattle may be rounded up and inspected for scratches, tick bites and injuries of any kind, and to hold the infected animals while they are being treated. Same to be continued until the wound is sufficiently healed to prevent reinfestation.

"I agree with Mr. Yeomans, state entomologist, that congress has appropriated funds for pests no more serious than this one, and I believe that the coming congress will see fit to make an appropriation for this work. Now is the time to build the holding pens and chutes, and with a small expenditure of money and aid from the CCC camp and relief rolls we could be ready for the advent of the fly which will probably be May 1 in the southern part of the state.

"It will also be advisable that the livestock owners improve their herds so that the animals would be of such grade that it will be profitable to look after them properly, as it will take as much time to treat scrub animals as it does the better grade. They will have to pay attention to the time of marking, branding, castrating and other injuries and confine this to the period between November 15 and May 1.

"The treatment that has proven most successful in the experiments of the United States department of agriculture at considerable expense is the use of commercial benzol placed into the wound to kill the maggot and the application of pine tar oil, with the specific gravity of 1.065, within and around the wound to repel the flies and assist in healing. The use of confections and other home remedies, most of which are put up to deceive the public, should be discouraged, as the benzol and the oil of pine tar have proven most effective and cheapest, and since this campaign has started it is readily available at any place in the infected area.

"This department has been and is co-operating with other states and federal agencies in the control of this pest."

Letter From A. D. Smith.
Editor Constitution: "The movement to get the federal government to help state officials and farmers destroy or control the screw worm is the proper step. We have had little experience with them, as it was about the first of September when the pest first appeared here, but they gave us plenty of trouble until cold weather set in."

"We have lost no stock so far, but we had to keep constant watch on our stock and use benzol and pine tar oil to treat infestations, and prevent wounds from being infested. Have heard of quite a large number of fatalities among the livestock of other

81 Arkansas Convicts To Get Yule 'Holidays'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Gates of Arkansas' Tucker prison farm will swing open this Christmas for 51 convicts rewarded for good behavior with brief Yuletide furloughs.

Governor J. Marion Futrell today announced his Christmas clemency list which will send 51 of the prison's 1,678 inmates home for from 2 to 10 days on furloughs. The state executive said would not be extended.

ers nearby, such as hogs, calves and colts.

The pest works next year from the beginning of warm weather until late fall, like they worked last summer, we have a very serious problem confronting us. If the federal government will come to our aid it is none to soon to begin action."

CARNESVILLE FUTURE

FARMERS FIGHT SREW WORM

CARNESVILLE, Ga., Dec. 22.—The Future Farmers are putting on a drive against the screw worm which is so serious in other parts of the state, especially south Georgia. They are advising farmers what treatment is best. The screw worm has not been so serious in this section but when it strikes it spread very rapidly and for this reason the Future Farmers have learned to care for stricken animals and have advised farmers that cleanliness is the most important factor in the fight against this pest.

WIFE, TWO CHILDREN

GET MAN'S JOB BACK

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(UP)—Mrs. Frank Fimano, who led her two children—18 months and 3 years—in a one-woman picket of the Broadway subway, tonight had won her fight.

Her husband, employed for 14 years and discharged, she said, because of union activities, was reinstated, together with two others, Peter Gallo-way and Sol Glickman.

She's Most Alluring

"Most alluring co-ed" is the title bestowed upon pretty Joan Ida Mae Jenkowsky by the students of the University of Kansas at Lawrence. A freshman student, Joan hails from Tulsa, Okla.

Head of Economic Security Council Is Known as True 'Friend to Man'

By WADE LUCAS,
Central Press Correspondent.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 22.—"Let me build my house by the side of the road and there be a friend to man."

Many North Carolinians are sure that line fits Dr. Frank Porter Graham, new chairman of the United States advisory council on economic security, as snugly as any well-tailored suit of clothes ever worn by the popular president of the University of North Carolina.

For years the frail-appearing Dr. Graham has had a state-wide reputation of being "a friend to man," and time and again he has demonstrated in his quiet, unostentatious fashion that he really has at heart the welfare of the people of the state in which he was born just 48 years ago.

Social Worker.
Named by President Roosevelt as head of the advisory board to assist the committee on economic security in formulating recommendations for a national plan of social insurance, Dr. Graham brings to the post a wealth of knowledge gained by active work and study over a long period of years in the field of social service.

His efforts to improve the lot of the so-called "forgotten man" have served to endear him to thousands of North Carolinians and he has lived up to the title conferred upon him by his classmates in 1900 when he was referred to in the college annual at the University of North Carolina as "every man's friend, confidant and playfellow."

Frank P. Graham had been an obscure history professor at the University of North Carolina for some three years when he sought, in the summer of 1918, to enlist in the United States marine corps. Rejected because of his weight and size, he ate great quantities of fattening foods until he gained enough pounds to be accepted in the ranks of the "Devil Dogs." When he retired from the service, he was a first lieutenant.

President Since 1930.
After 16 years as a member of the faculty of his alma mater, he literally was drafted in 1930 into the presidency when Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, now chancellor of New York University, resigned to accept the presidency of the University of Illinois.

"I trust you will believe me when I say that I want to remain a teacher," he told trustees when he was ushered before them in a dramatic scene following his election. "I want Mr. Connor (the R. D. W. Connor, who is now United States archivist) to be president and leave me free to go back to the classroom."

Respectfully the trustees listened but they were adamant. "I don't know of any process by which that can be done—your election was unanimous," the then Governor O. Max Gardner told him.

Four honorary degrees were conferred upon Dr. Graham the first

Second Annual Big Brothers Charity Ball Brilliant Event

Knighthood Is Seen For George Arliss

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—George Arliss tonight seemed assured of elevation to knighthood.

The veteran actor's name was understood to be on the "honours" list for the year already approved by King George.

Sunday newspapers carried front page photographs of Arliss and his wife under the heading "To be knighted" but, as usual, no official confirmation was forthcoming.

ACTION IS DELAYED

ON CIGARET CODE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The NRA indicated today no action would be taken on the proposed code for the cigarette industry until after the Christmas holidays.

The administrative board, which now is handling the issue, was said to have considered the proposed code but in the absence of three members did not take any action.

SOUTHERN SOCIETY

OBSERVES YULETIDE

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The New York Southern Society celebrated Christmas with a tea-dance today at a Park avenue hotel.

Members of the women's committee for the dance included Mrs. Alexander W. Weddell, of Richmond, Va., wife of the American ambassador to Argentina; Mrs. John W. Davis, Mrs. George Gordon Battle and Mrs. George Bolling Lee.

2 N. Y. BUSINESSMEN

JAILED AS STOWAWAYS

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Two New York businessmen, Frederick William Maguire, 32-year-old advertiser and publisher, and Milton Charles Hill, 33, a motion picture salesman, were sentenced to seven days in jail today for stowing away on the liner Majestic which sailed for New York December 14.

STORM WRECK FATAL

TO MONTANA EDITOR

DENVER, Dec. 22.—(AP)—One death was recorded today as a blizzard swept northern Montana and lesser snowfall drifted over other parts of that state, Colorado and Wyoming. John E. Blum, editor of a weekly newspaper from Wheeler, Mont., was killed as his car slid off the highway during the storm.

Insull Calls Self Too Old To Make Plans for Future

By BRUCE GRANT,
Central Press Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

"My future?" he asks. "Why, don't you realize I am an old man?"

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

"My future?" he asks. "Why, don't you realize I am an old man?"

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

War Veteran Confesses Slaying Rich Widow

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 22.—(UP)—Cracking under incessant questioning, Joseph Lewandowski, 33-year-old war veteran, confessed today he killed Mrs. George H. Parker, wealthy Bath widow, because he was jealous.

Simultaneously District Attorney George H. Pratt sought to link the veterans' home inmate with the slaying of Mrs. Winnie Bulgrame, wealthy Canisteo widow, found dead in her home under mysterious circumstances 10 days before Mrs. Parker was killed.

Lewandowski, according to Pratt, said he could not stand Mrs. Parker's attentions to "Arthur Vosteen, of Buffalo."

Some of the prominent persons who attended the Big Brothers' charity ball Thursday night at the Shrine mosque, when the Christmas fund of the second annual Big Brother campaign of The Constitution and the Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, was further swelled. In the top picture, left to right, are Lieutenant W. L. Van Dyke, Colonel Franklin S. Chalmers, Mrs. Chalmers, Brigadier General Robert O. Van Horn, Miss Molina Michael and J. Walter LeCraw. In the lower photo, left to right, are Major E. S. Herlihy, Mrs. Herlihy and Major General George Van Horn Moseley. All took active parts in the Big Brother charity drive. Staff photos.

Insull Calls Self Too Old To Make Plans for Future

By BRUCE GRANT,
Central Press Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

"My future?" he asks. "Why, don't you realize I am an old man?"

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

By BRUCE GRANT, Central Press Correspondent. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Samuel Insull is not thinking of his "future." The former czar of the Midwest utilities empire, recently acquitted of the government's charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and yet faced by two more court ordeals, answers the question about his future plans with a twinkle in his eyes.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVII, No. 194.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 23, 1934.

Sterchi's Open 7:30 a. m. Till Midnight Christmas Eve!

Yes Mam!
We Guarantee Delivery Before Midnight
Christmas Eve

Extra Trucks And Extra Man Power Assure
 Sterchi Gifts "Getting Thru!"

HEAR
 MARY GRIFFETH DOBBS, HARP SOLOIST, on the Sterchi Broadcast 9 p. m. tonight, WGST.

Last Chance! Fully Guaranteed Display Model

★ Another Shipment Just Arrived for Late Shoppers!

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

GREATLY REDUCED!

Spice and span—perfect in every detail! Norges, Leonards, Crocleys and a few Gas Electrolux. 1934 Models. Your choice delivered Monday on a very small first payment.

American Orientals
$39.50

Jewel-like color harmony that rivals the splendor of famous Oriental originals! 9x12 sizes; edges fringed, patterns through to the back. Every rug perfect.

LAMPS

Grouped to Go!

VALUES UP TO $15.95

$7.95

VALUES UP TO $25.50

$13.95

1 Lot 3-Candle Floor Lamps

$3.25

Out Goes the LUGGAGE!

$3.95 Lined Overnight Cases; out they go at... $1.95
 18 Round Hat Boxes, reduced for Monday to $1.95
 Men's $9 Leather Hand Bags, now $6.95
 15 Hand Wardrobe Trunks, values to $23.50, choice at $16.85
 Several Trunks of assorted sizes also substantially reduced.

Again the Unusual Sterchi's Announces Pre-Inventory Reductions Before Christmas! Save 25% to 50%

Spotted throughout this page... and spotted more abundantly on our floors... are many items substantially reduced for immediate removal! First choice MONDAY!

3 Outstanding --- Better Quality --- Suite Values ....

$98.50 Each

MOHAIR FRIEZE 2-PC.
 Was $129.50

MODERNE BEDROOM
 Was $129.50

MAHOGANY DINING SUITE
 Was $129.50

OTHER SUITES FROM $49.50

35-Pc. Rogers SILVER
 $24.85 Chest Now $19.95

A smart service for six in a handsome, tarnish-proof chest.

Foot Stool Free
 With any Sterchi Lounge Chair. Complete selections Monday!

$14.95

62-Pc. China $10.95

Several patterns from which to choose! A complete service for 8. Other sets from $2.95.

ALL STEM WARE—HALF PRICE

Faultless Washer

DISPLAY MODELS $2.50 DOWN

Do Luxe models with electric iron attachments and washers without ironers. Some as low as $29.50

Ranges Reduced!

Detroit Jewels, Magic Chef and Florence display models substantially reduced! Small payment delivers.

ONLY $1.00

To Deliver Any

Few More Lanes!

Lovely Cedar Chests with walnut veneered exteriors!

$19.95

18x24" Pictures 98c

Give a Genuine SIMMONS Mattress!

Radio-Trade-In

3 Atwater Kent Table Model super-heterodynes, choice $8.95
 One R. C. A. Superheterodyne—Table Model, only $11.95
 $79.50 Majestic Table Model, 6-Tube performer $19.50
 Handsome Crosley Table Model, was $49.50, reduced to $19.50
 $27 Crosley, Distance-getting 8-tube set, now $24.50
 8-Tube Philco Console; originally sold for $174 $29.50
 $175 Majestic Console. Has 8 super-heterodyne tubes $29.50
 Brand-new $79.50 Lyric Console. Exactly half price $39.75

Dishes—Rug Free!

Yes, Mam! 32-pc. Dinner set and 6x9 Felt Base Rug with any Hoosier Cabinet Monday! $1 delivers for Mother!

BEAUTYREST

The Gift of Health and Beauty. 5c a day for first 30 days. $39.50

DEEP SLEEP

Choose from beautiful pastel ticks—a genuine Simmons! $29.50

SLUMBER KING

The best mattress at the price we know of! Years of service! $24.50

$1.00 Delivers A CROSLEY at Sterchi's

38 "Fivers" For Monday Selling At

$19.99 Cash Price

Five tubes, mind you! ONE more than you'll find in other sets in this price range! AND one more tube performance, too—What a difference that makes! Receives police calls and standard broadcasts from all over the good old U. S. A. If you'd like to purchase on terms—only $24.50.

World-Wide Reception Guaranteed At:

$39.95 Cash Price

The powerful 61 A.F. . . . Radio's greatest investment in a set that is guaranteed to reach out to the four corners of the earth and bring you entertainment from EVERYWHERE!

Handsome matched walnut cabinet; air-plane illuminated dial, automatic volume and tone control—AND THE ONLY 6-TUBE AMERICAN-FOREIGN RECEIVER YOU'LL FIND AT $39.95. On terms, the price is only $49.50.

Magnificent New 4-Band Console!

$69.50 Complete Installed

Across land and sea you go, distance no barrier to the glamour of far-away places. . . . Japan, Australia, South Africa, Buenos Aires, Madrid—All are yours with this true 4-band Crosley Long and Short-Wave Console. Semi-moderne walnut cabinet; air-plane dial and all Crosley improvements.

Stocks Are Still Complete at the Store Which Has Always Been Atlanta's Radio Headquarters

The Home of Ten Thousand Gifts For The Home!

STERCHI'S

116-120 Whitehall Street
 Atlanta, Georgia

Over Seas

By CHARLES E. HARNER,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Out of the wreck of the tri-power conversations at London, ended last week, has arisen definite indication of the possibility of a bi-lateral naval understanding between the United States and Great Britain.

Japan took all but the final step to denounce the Washington naval treaty. Since that treaty has limited the battle fleets of Great Britain, the United States, Japan, France and Italy. By Japan's action, those limitations will be ended at midnight December 31, 1936.

Japan never did like the treaty. It placed her on the short end of the famous 5-5-3 ratio which gave America and Great Britain equality with each other. She accepted it when it was drawn up because she couldn't do anything else. Now, however, she can. She had denounce the agreement and she did.

For two months past, diplomats and naval experts of Great Britain and the United States have met in London, with a delegation from Tokyo, arguing with the Japanese that the world would be much better off if it continued to operate its navies under that Washington treaty. Japan, however, demanded equality in maritime fighting power. It remained obdurate through many weeks of argument.

Then the expected blow fell: Japan denounced the treaty; several commentators freely predicted a naval building race would result.

Their logic was simple and, devoid of the various adjectives and polysyllabic words employed, was as follows:

Major premise: A naval construction race is prevented only by the Washington treaty.

Minor premise: The Washington treaty will be abandoned.

Conclusion: Therefore, a naval construction race will begin.

Certainly the premises are correct, but the conclusion is not mandatory. In fact, a development immediately after the termination of the London conversations indicated it was all wrong.

For a spokesman for the American delegation in London said that no matter what any other nation did, he felt it likely that the United States and Great Britain would be able to get together between themselves with a naval pact of their own.

Owing to the fact that the United States and Great Britain together have more and bigger fighting ships than all the rest of the world combined, that statement means a great deal.

This eventually long has been foreseen. This column on November 4 contained the statement: "It has been suggested unofficially that, were the British and Americans to combine, they could halt the argument (over the Japanese demand for equality) in a moment. If the United States and Great Britain agreed to combine their navies, under a military pact, it is obvious that any country trying to outbuild them would be ruined."

"Such a procedure, however, could scarcely be considered diplomatic. It would be quick, but so is the action of any blunt instrument. Neither fits in the classification of 'head-ache remedy.'"

The idea of an Anglo-American front against war has developed considerably in many quarters in the last two decades. The entrance of the United States into the World War was to a marked degree an expression of this idea. The British concurred with President Wilson in saying: "Make the world safe for democracy!"

Much of the desire for an Anglo-American front is engendered in England which through the centuries has labored and fought by land and sea to develop the greatest empire in history. Much of that time Great Britain has fought alone. Now one of her rebel children, the United States, has grown as powerful as she herself. Naturally Great Britain, virtually ringed by alien nations, hopes for the support of the other English-speaking nation in time of need.

This is one of the reasons the British were delighted when the government at Washington let it be known it was studying the question or possibly abandoning the traditional policy of "freedom of the seas." That policy always has been a bitter pill to the British, for Great Britain, as an island power, always has "contended that her only safeguard in time of war was her ability to sweep all enemies from the seas. The United States, on the other hand, always has contended that American ships could do what they pleased as long as the United States was a neutral."

The two countries battled it out in 1812 and have cogitated the matter for the subsequent 122 years. Ever since the World War, League of Nations' officials have opined "silly that, so long as the United States slung to her policy of freedom of the seas, league embargoes against belligerent nations wouldn't mean a thing."

So now the League, to be pleased. Of course, the suggested new American policy can work both ways: It might also mean that the United States is prepared to ignore any other nation's declaration that the seas are free.

And that, again, would place the United States and Great Britain looking at the sea through the same port-hole.

Zinovieff, Kameneff Arrests Are Officially Disclosed

Two Former Communist Leaders and Five Others Expected To Face Exile—Warsaw Hints of Death for Them.

MOSCOW, Dec. 23.—(Sunday.) (AP)—The commissariat for home affairs announced today that Gregory Zinovieff and Leo Kameneff, one-time prominent communist leaders, were among 15 members of Zinovieff's former anti-soviet group arrested in connection with the assassination of Sergei Kiroff.

A special council under the auspices of the commissariat of home affairs will consider the fate of the group. Zinovieff, Kameneff and five others of the group concerning whom not enough data was available for their immediate trial, it was announced.

Earlier the foreign office had refused to confirm or deny reports that the two were in custody. Soviet newspapers bitterly assailed them as the instigators of Kiroff's assassination.

(A dispatch from Warsaw to the London Express said the two would be tried by five judges, among them Josef Stalin, whom Zinovieff had opposed, and that the death penalty "appears to be a foregone conclusion.")

The military collegium of the supreme court prepared to give Leonid Nikolai, identified as Kiroff's slayer, and 13 others speedy trials. The newspaper Pravda charged Zinovieff and Kameneff, long leaders in the fight against the five-year plan and socialization of Russia, with plotting the crime.

The assassination of Kiroff, powerful in communist party ranks, at Leningrad December 1 "was not accidental," Pravda said editorially. "That shot sounded from the revolt of one of the Zinovieff opposition."

A preliminary police report previously had linked the two old-time Bolsheviks, both staunch followers of Lenin, with the crime.

Then the expected blow fell: Japan denounced the treaty; several commentators freely predicted a naval building race would result.

Their logic was simple and, devoid of the various adjectives and polysyllabic words employed, was as follows:

Major premise: A naval construction race is prevented only by the Washington treaty.

Minor premise: The Washington treaty will be abandoned.

Conclusion: Therefore, a naval construction race will begin.

Certainly the premises are correct, but the conclusion is not mandatory. In fact, a development immediately after the termination of the London conversations indicated it was all wrong.

For a spokesman for the American delegation in London said that no matter what any other nation did, he felt it likely that the United States and Great Britain would be able to get together between themselves with a naval pact of their own.

Owing to the fact that the United States and Great Britain together have more and bigger fighting ships than all the rest of the world combined, that statement means a great deal.

This eventually long has been foreseen. This column on November 4 contained the statement: "It has been suggested unofficially that, were the British and Americans to combine, they could halt the argument (over the Japanese demand for equality) in a moment. If the United States and Great Britain agreed to combine their navies, under a military pact, it is obvious that any country trying to outbuild them would be ruined."

"Such a procedure, however, could scarcely be considered diplomatic. It would be quick, but so is the action of any blunt instrument. Neither fits in the classification of 'head-ache remedy.'"

The idea of an Anglo-American front against war has developed considerably in many quarters in the last two decades. The entrance of the United States into the World War was to a marked degree an expression of this idea. The British concurred with President Wilson in saying: "Make the world safe for democracy!"

Much of the desire for an Anglo-American front is engendered in England which through the centuries has labored and fought by land and sea to develop the greatest empire in history. Much of that time Great Britain has fought alone. Now one of her rebel children, the United States, has grown as powerful as she herself. Naturally Great Britain, virtually ringed by alien nations, hopes for the support of the other English-speaking nation in time of need.

This is one of the reasons the British were delighted when the government at Washington let it be known it was studying the question or possibly abandoning the traditional policy of "freedom of the seas." That policy always has been a bitter pill to the British, for Great Britain, as an island power, always has "contended that her only safeguard in time of war was her ability to sweep all enemies from the seas. The United States, on the other hand, always has contended that American ships could do what they pleased as long as the United States was a neutral."

The two countries battled it out in 1812 and have cogitated the matter for the subsequent 122 years. Ever since the World War, League of Nations' officials have opined "silly that, so long as the United States slung to her policy of freedom of the seas, league embargoes against belligerent nations wouldn't mean a thing."

So now the League, to be pleased. Of course, the suggested new American policy can work both ways: It might also mean that the United States is prepared to ignore any other nation's declaration that the seas are free.

And that, again, would place the United States and Great Britain looking at the sea through the same port-hole.

The two countries battled it out in 1812 and have cogitated the matter for the subsequent 122 years. Ever since the World War, League of Nations' officials have opined "silly that, so long as the United States slung to her policy of freedom of the seas, league embargoes against belligerent nations wouldn't mean a thing."

So now the League, to be pleased. Of course, the suggested new American policy can work both ways: It might also mean that the United States is prepared to ignore any other nation's declaration that the seas are free.

And that, again, would place the United States and Great Britain looking at the sea through the same port-hole.

The two countries battled it out in 1812 and have cogitated the matter for the subsequent 122 years. Ever since the World War, League of Nations' officials have opined "silly that, so long as the United States slung to her policy of freedom of the seas, league embargoes against belligerent nations wouldn't mean a thing."

So now the League, to be pleased. Of course, the suggested new American policy can work both ways: It might also mean that the United States is prepared to ignore any other nation's declaration that the seas are free.

And that, again, would place the United States and Great Britain looking at the sea through the same port-hole.

BRITISH AGAN FRENCH APPROVE

Dirigible May Be Built for Use on London-to-Melbourne Line.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(UP)—Britain may again begin to build airships to aid her in the battle for world supremacy of the commercial skies.

The London to Melbourne air race has shown the need for faster, safer and larger machines.

Proponents of a renewal of Britain's airship policy point to the success of Germany's Graf Zeppelin on her fortnightly run to South America.

It was the disaster of the R-101 in 1930 that decided Britain to abandon an airship policy. That wreck was the culmination of years of few successes, and many disasters. It was the only thing which made the government wash its hands of airships with a sigh of relief.

As far back as 1902 Britain had an airship policy. Lack of money, however, prevented development, and two great envelops were the only evidences of it. Britain's first airship was built in 1907, the "Nulli Secundus." She flew from Farnborough to London at 18 miles an hour, and sailed around Buckingham palace and St. Paul's cathedral.

First Rigid Airship. By 1910 there was another small ship, the "Beta," but it was not until 1911 that Britain had her first rigid airship, known as His Majesty's Airship No. 1. She broke her maiden voyage on the 21st of June, 1911, when she was wrecked on the coast of Ireland.

There are two main objections to rigid airships for commercial use. They fly too slowly and they cannot stand rough weather. Since 1930 the accumulating safety record of the Graf Zeppelin has slowly proved that rigid airships are safe.

The airship has the airplane beaten for range. It can carry fuel for 6,000 miles, and it can fly for 21 days. It is expected the benefit will be the equivalent of six cents each for workers and employers and 12 cents by the government. For workers over 21 it is expected the benefit will be about $3 weekly with an extra $50 cents for wife and child.

This proposed extension of the dole system to land workers will require parliamentary approval to make it effective.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Wide extension of the British dole system is contemplated, it was revealed today.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand landworkers who hitherto have been excluded from unemployment insurance are expected shortly to be brought within its scope.

The statutory committee which investigated the whole question has recommended inclusion of persons employed on the land, whether in straight farm or horticulture.

Weekly contributions probably will be the equivalent of six cents each for workers and employers and 12 cents by the government. For workers over 21 it is expected the benefit will be about $3 weekly with an extra $50 cents for wife and child.

This proposed extension of the dole system to land workers will require parliamentary approval to make it effective.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin today urged his free wheat market legislation to speed adoption in the senate.

He insisted that the senate scrap its subsidy measure and consider only the government's bill, which provides the government may purchase the 1933 and 1934 crop surplus, estimated at 80,000,000 bushels, at the six-month average price on the proposed free market.

The bill passed the chamber December 13.

The senate today assured Flandin of continuation of dictatorial powers over tariffs given his predecessor, Gaston Doumergue, quickly adopting a bill previously voted by the chamber which enables the government to alter duties by decree.

SCANDAL REVEALED DELAYED BY MEXICAN

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—(UP)—A threatened exposure of a national scandal involving high public officials provided a sensation here today. Only the lack of a quorum prevented Deputy Attorney General Victor Cruz from making promised allegations of graft.

Altamir, who recently attacked former President Abelardo Rodriguez in the chamber, had announced he would reply to charges that he had been dismissed from a government post for grafting by naming men in federal positions who enriched themselves.

He said he would ask appointment of a commission to investigate the graft of public officials and demand confiscation of property allegedly acquired illegally.

HITLER REWARDS CREW OF RESCUE STEAMER

CUXHAVEN, Germany, Dec. 22.—(UP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today honored the crew of the German liner New York, which rescued the crew of the sinking freighter Sisto in stormy seas on the Atlantic.

Hitler awarded medals and 300 marks (about $120) to each member of the crew.

BRAZIL'S HEAD GIVEN NEW BUDGET POWERS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 22.—(UP)—The chamber of deputies today voted, 120 to 16, to empower President Getulio Vargas to create credits up to 300,000,000 (about $24,000,000), in order to balance the budget, issuing promissory notes subject to rediscunt at the Bank of Brazil.

Italian Baby Princess Christened Amid Cheers

NAPLES, Dec. 22.—(UP)—While cheering thousands stood before the royal palace, Alessio Cardinal Ascalesi, archbishop of Naples, today christened the baby of the Italian royal couple.

The baby, a girl, was christened Maria Pia of Savoy.

A lady-in-waiting held the good-humored infant, first-born of Crown Prince Umberto and Princess Marie Jose, on a crimson silken cushion for the baptismal ceremony before 1,400 royal and aristocratic guests.

But for the girls in the Brides' school there is no worrying. They know that they will be sought by more go-betweens than they could possibly count.

At first glance, the American "co-ed" heart would sink at sight of the Brides' school. Pampered by stately American co-eds, the Brides' school is a wooden structure which is the Brides' school with the feeling that she had been misled regard-

League International Army Assumes Command in Saar

Four-Day Political Truce Called by League Begins Simultaneously; Nazis Withhold "Old-Fashioned Hospitality."

PARIS, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Tardieu-Edge treaty abolishing double taxation was ratified today by the chamber of deputies after a delay of two and a half years.

Ratification, which had been urged by Foreign Minister Pierre Laval, came without debate or a record vote. It now goes to the senate, and the government hopes for final ratification before Christmas.

Action by the chamber quickly followed the recommendation of the chamber finance committee that the accord between the United States and France be carried out.

Criticism that the treaty was less favorable to France than to the United States was overcome by the committee's decision to ask for supplementary provision in the French interests.

Frano-American trade relations receive a boost by the ratification, which ends the controversial problem of many years standing and represents a saving estimated at $120,000,000 for American firms.

Negotiated in 1932 by Ambassador Walter E. Edge and Premier Tardieu, it dropped out of sight for two years.

The treaty was placed before the chamber by Premier Doumergue in an effort to smooth over the debt-ruffled Franco-American relations.

When Ambassador Strauss took over the embassy the question still was a problem.

The treaty contains the articles establishing regulations for taxation of American and French businesses in the two countries and defines the kinds of revenue for which double taxation is avoided.

Under the old French law French branches of American business houses were subject to taxation not only on the profits they made in France but on a part of the profits made by the parent company all over the world.

The treaty specifically bases taxation only on the business actually done in France.

His condition is such as to permit his release tomorrow, it was said, and Croats were planning a jubilant demonstration.

Machek was convicted of political activity subversive to the security of the regime of the late King Alexander, and was sentenced to death.

The government simultaneously made a conciliatory gesture toward the opposition with a Christmas announcement that most of the Austrians incarcerated for participation in the revolts of February and July have been released in recent months.

That by tomorrow Woellendorf camp near Vienna will have but 740 prisoners compared with 5,230 in September.

The communists explained the large number of releases was made possible by the peace and quiet prevailing in the country. It said, however, that "should irresponsible elements again attempt any disturbances they will be dealt with ruthlessly."

"Hate Riot Breaks Out After Moslem Sermon"

ANTIOCH, Syria, Dec. 22.—(UP)—A "hate riot" broke out in the Yemidjuni mosque today after a preacher had delivered a diatribe, accusing Moslems of being worse than the Christians.

The mosque became a battle field between die-hard Moslems and modernists. Five young Turks were injured seriously.

LA PAZ, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Disputes from Villa Montes, major Bolivian army base, today said General Jose Estigarribia, Paraguayan commander-in-chief, was preparing to attack the base.

Bolivian defenses, however, were described as impregnable, and military officials were reported confident the assault would be repulsed.

Meanwhile, the newspaper La Razon editorially blamed Argentina for not interfering to secure Paraguay's acceptance of the League of Nations' proposal for cessation of hostilities.

"An Argentine appeal," it said, "would have been successful . . . and would not be necessary to fear the death of more Paraguayan soldiers before our lines."

PARAGUAY RECEIVES LEGION'S PEACE NOTE

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The chancellery today received the League of Nations' latest note, proposing a cease-fire in the Chaco war, and prepared to give it careful study before replying by January 14.

A suggestion reported to have been made by the Argentinian ambassador, declared during Christmas had not been received, but official circles doubted whether any truce was possible, pointing out that both armies are now drawn up along the front.

Reports here, too, said Bolivia was concentrating troops and war materials in several sectors, apparently for an early offensive.

Plane Crash Victims Carried to Bagdad

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The bodies of seven victims of the crash of a biplane in the Chaco, built "flying hotel" in the desert near here were brought to Bagdad tonight in a royal air force plane and were immediately taken to a hospital for post-mortem examinations.

The log of Chief Pilot M. Beekman was found, but it cast no new light on the tragedy. The machine carried three clocks which had stopped at 1:45, 3:45 and 4:45, evidently indicating G. M. T. Egyptian time and Iraq time, respectively.

POPE, MUSSOLINI LAUD AND REWARD PROLIFIC MOTHERS

ROME, Dec. 22.—(UP)—The fecundity of Italian mothers, encouraged by Premier Benito Mussolini's "more babies" campaign, was praised both by the pope and Mussolini in picturesque ceremonies here today.

Ninety-four mothers from all parts of Italy, selected because of their large number of children they have borne, were received by Mussolini at Venice palace. They have a total of 912 children, or an average of about 10 each.

Mussolini caressed and kissed the children. In a speech of appreciation to the mothers, he expressed his wishes for their children, and hailed them as examples for all mothers of the nation. Then he distributed an envelope to each containing 4,000 lire (about $920).

Later the mothers were received by the pope at the Vatican.

CHRISTMAS TRUCE UNLIKELY IN CHACO

Paraguay Makes Ready To Attack Bolivia's Last Line Defenses.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A Christmas truce in the Chaco bore appeared little likely today as Paraguay made ready to hurl thousands of picked troops against Bolivia's last-line defenses in what observers said might be the decisive battle of the war.

From all directions Paraguayan columns were closing in on Villa Montes, Bolivia's central army base, and the La Paz government massed all available reserves in that sector, asserting its defenses were impregnable. Meanwhile, advances from Asuncion said official sources, doubt the feasibility of any truce, such as that suggested by the Vatican, pointing out that both armies were spread over such wide fronts that the armistice would be tactically impractical.

La Paz reported General Jose Estigarribia, Paraguayan commander-in-chief, was preparing to strike at Villa Montes, while Asuncion reports said Bolivia was massing men and munitions in several sectors, apparently making ready for an impending counter-offensive.

Minor Battles. With minor skirmishes reported in three sectors, three Paraguayan columns, under Colonel Fernandez, were advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

Further to the north the second corps, under Colonel Fernandez, was advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

CHRISTMAS TRUCE UNLIKELY IN CHACO

Paraguay Makes Ready To Attack Bolivia's Last Line Defenses.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A Christmas truce in the Chaco bore appeared little likely today as Paraguay made ready to hurl thousands of picked troops against Bolivia's last-line defenses in what observers said might be the decisive battle of the war.

From all directions Paraguayan columns were closing in on Villa Montes, Bolivia's central army base, and the La Paz government massed all available reserves in that sector, asserting its defenses were impregnable. Meanwhile, advances from Asuncion said official sources, doubt the feasibility of any truce, such as that suggested by the Vatican, pointing out that both armies were spread over such wide fronts that the armistice would be tactically impractical.

La Paz reported General Jose Estigarribia, Paraguayan commander-in-chief, was preparing to strike at Villa Montes, while Asuncion reports said Bolivia was massing men and munitions in several sectors, apparently making ready for an impending counter-offensive.

Minor Battles. With minor skirmishes reported in three sectors, three Paraguayan columns, under Colonel Fernandez, were advancing along the Lobos road, and was reported near Capirana, 30 miles northeast of the objective.

INFLATION DILES READY FOR SESSION

Divers Currency Expansion Proposals Limited in Scope To Gain Aid.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A tendency among congressional inflationists to limit their currency expansion proposals—and thus win more support—became evident today on Capitol Hill.

At the same time, the men who want to pay off depositors in all closed banks renewed their campaign and emphasized the belief that treasury estimates of four billion dollars as the amount of money that would be needed were far too high.

Representative McLeod, republican, Michigan, said he had written a new bill which would make it mandatory upon the reconstruction corporation to buy assets in closed banks and pay off depositors immediately. The RFC now has discretionary authority to do this.

The splendid assurances of support I have been receiving lead me to feel most optimistic of the outcome of our efforts in the coming session," McLeod said in a statement.

One argument behind his bill has been that it would put needed money into circulation again. Some of those who feel as he does argued today that it would take less than $1,000,000,000 to carry out the provisions of the McLeod bill despite treasury estimates last session that four billion dollars would be required.

Other developments indicating attempts to win support for inflationary proposals by establishing limitations:

Three Billion Limit Proposed.

1. Representative Lemke, republican, North Dakota, disclosed that he and Senator Frazier, republican, North Dakota, were placing in their bill a three billion dollar limit upon the amount of money the treasury might have outstanding at any one time in payment for mortgages. The three billion dollars, however, would be in a revolving fund and could be used to refinance the whole nine billion dollar farm mortgage debt.

2. Representative Dies, democrat, Texas, proposed his bill to devalue the silver dollar, arguing among other things that it would definitely limit silver currency expansion to under a billion dollars.

Bonus Pushed.

3. Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, sought support for his bonus bill, pointing out a new provision that if prices rose too high or inflation spread too much after the two billion dollars for the bonus was put into circulation the treasury might call in as much currency as it chose.

4. Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, proposed that the bonus be paid through the issuance of negotiable federal bonds. Some of these might not be sold, but he held until they matured, thus limiting expansion to below two billion dollars.

5. Representative Scruggs, democrat, Nevada, asked support from bankers about his plan to pay off the bonus with mortgage profits on silver purchased, thus assuring a metallic base for the new currency.

F. D. R. ADVISERS IN DISAGREEMENT ON WORKS BUDGET

Continued From First Page.

March to tackle the unemployment problem.

Meanwhile, a meeting was called to set for the review of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers in New York on January 11. Either immediately before or after that meeting, the conferees will meet with leaders of agriculture and labor to discuss the recovery program.

The Chamber of Commerce said the White Sulphur Springs conference had recognized that unemployment was the outstanding problem before the country and that business alone could not supply a cure. It added that government had a large responsibility and that agriculture and labor would play a part in the solution.

In general, the White Sulphur conference expressed a distaste for excessive public works expenditures. There remained some dispute, however, over the amount of spending it would consider excessive.

Amounts ranging upward to nine billion dollars were proposed some time ago by Relief Administrator Hopkins and Secretary Ickes. Secretary Roper and some other members of the cabinet are known to favor a sum as low as possible.

M'ARTHUR URGES FAST TANKS, CARS, PLANES FOR ARMY

Continued From First Page.

the enemy's supply and maintenance arrangements.

"Unified and effective control throughout such fast moving elements will demand a high perfection in signal communication."

MacArthur laid special stress on the army's need for more airplanes, more speedy tanks and armored cars, modern artillery guns capable of being transported from place to place at high speed, and rapid-fire small arms weapons such as automatic and semi-automatic rifles and the .50-caliber machine gun.

He asked for a regular army of 165,000 enlisted men and 14,000 commissioned officers; a national guard of 210,000 men; a well-trained, well-equipped reserve of no less than 120,000 men, and an officers' reserve corps of 120,000.

Improvements Cited.

He cited improvements during recent years in practically all forms of transportation, artillery, rapid fire guns and machine guns, anti-aircraft weapons and other equipment.

"Obviously any army supplied with all these modern weapons and mechanisms would be immeasurably stronger in mobility and fire power than an opponent equipped with the types our army is forced to use," MacArthur said. "Assuming approximately equal otherwise, the badly equipped force would be hopelessly outclassed from the moment it came in contact with its enemy. It could not escape defeat and destruction."

MacArthur said the army now has on hand "some hundreds of the World War tanks, totally unsuited to the conditions of modern war and of little value against an organized enemy in the field."

He said we have only 12 tanks which can be classed as modern, and only one capable of the desired speed.

MADAM GINGY, PALMIST

Gives advice on all affairs, marriages and business. Special 50c.

Readings 50c. (Track Federal Prison and of the U. S. Lark for Private rooms for night and colored. Reading Daily and Improvements. 10 to 12 P. M.)

Legion Post To Give Party For Needy Families Today

Members of 138 Fulton county families who otherwise would have little to look forward to Christmas will be recipients of presents which will be distributed from the Christmas tree shown above standing on the lawn of St. Philip's church at a party this afternoon under the auspices of Fulton County Post No. 134, American Legion. Staff photo.

A Christmas tree party and gifts will be given to 138 poor families of Fulton county by the Fulton County Post No. 134, American Legion, at St. Philip's cathedral.

An impressive program, including a prayer by Canon W. S. Turner, chaplain of the post, a dedication of the tree by Dean Raymond de Ovis and a benediction by the Right Rev. H. J. Mikell, bishop of the Atlanta diocese, has been planned.

Santa Claus will be introduced by Colonel Pat M. Stevens, chairman of the committee in charge of the party, and gifts will be distributed to the children by Santa Claus.

The gifts are all presents that have been made over by the members of the Buckhead fire station. "The work has been excellently done," Colonel Stevens said.

A beautiful Christmas tree, a great deal of credit should go to these firemen for the time and effort they have put into creating really beautiful toys for the poor children.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

Failing Fuse Averts Catastrophic Blast

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A bomb wrapped in holiday paper and powerful enough to have wrecked the downtown building where it was delivered endangered 20 persons today but failed to explode when its fuse sputtered and went out.

The bomb, addressed to "Eddy and William Jellinek" at the Jellinek Employment Agency, was contained in a standard-size wooden fruit jug and weighed about 25 pounds.

The proprietors of the agency, Wilfred A. Jellinek, tore off the wrapping. There was a snap as a spring switch closed. A thin wisp of smoke arose and Jellinek shouted:

"Everybody get out! It's a bomb."

Twenty persons waiting at the agency for jobs fled. Police started a search for the messenger who delivered the package.

ISTHMIAN RAILWAY HAS SIX ACCIDENTS
WITHIN FEW HOURS

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Two men were killed, a number of persons slightly injured, and traffic pretty well disrupted on the Isthmian Railway Saturday.

One train was derailed between Papaloapan and Tuxtepec and its passengers were badly shaken up.

Another train ran off the track at Kilometer 47 on the way to Los Tuxtlas. A wrecking crew packed up one of the overturned cars, but it slipped off the tracks and crushed two of the workmen.

BORDER CROSSED BY SOVIET TROOPS

Continued From First Page.

pute, and the month before Manchukuo, in the official complaint to the soviet consul general at Harbin, asserted Russians occupied an island at the confluence of the Amur and Ussuri rivers which Manchukuo claimed for her own.

Hopes that prevailing Russo-Japanese tension in the east would diminish were heightened after Tokyo dispatches in September reported the soviet had accepted Japan's offer of $400,000,000 for the Chinese Eastern railway and its affiliated railroads.

Negotiations Unsettled.

Those hopes were dashed in November, however, when the Russian (Moscow) news agency, declared negotiations for sale of the properties were still up in the air.

A belittling note struck when the Japanese army in its manifesto of October 2, which the war office admitted "expressed the views of the Japanese army," warned Japan to prepare for war with Russia.

"Constant trouble along the soviet-Manchukuo frontier, the increasingly challenged position of the Japanese in Russia's traditional unreliability make the future of Russo-Japanese relations uncertain," it declared.

"We cannot see military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation."

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

While the government was reported to be sending military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any emergency in the situation.

Atlanta Food Dealers Gather at Christmas Party

Atlanta food dealers gathered Saturday at the Massey & Fair Company, Inc., to enjoy the Christmas party given annually by the merchant-brokers and agents at their place of business on Hunter street. Seen above are (left to right) J. W. Zuker, wholesale grocer of Cedar-town; Abner Lichtenstein, of the Nation-Wide Stores; I. J. Paradies, of Paradies & Kirsch; Frank Fair, of Massey & Fair; Scott Allen, Rogers Stores; C. Y. Blessing, Volunteer Stores, and H. L. Singer, of H. L. Singer Company. In the lower picture are Roy Massey (left) and Frank Fair, who were hosts to the food dealers Saturday.

CHRISTMAS TRADE AT 5-YEAR PEAK

Continued From First Page.

Gains were from 8 to 100 per cent over the business transacted last year.

Banking houses in every city said there is much more money in circulation now and that people are buying the things they need as well as higher priced goods.

There was a tendency in Atlanta toward "quality" buying this year and purchases ran from middle class to high, while throughout the nation as a whole the buying was from middle to cheap class.

Buying Began Early.

Christmas trading began earlier this year than it has for the last several, and has maintained a greater sales volume from the start, it was said.

Saturday was virtually the end of the heavy Christmas buying, but late shoppers will give the stores another whirl on Monday, Christmas Eve, when all those last minute presents must be bought for Uncle Willie, whom you forgot, and for dear Mary, who sent you a gift when you hadn't expected to give her one this year.

There was a particularly heavy trade in toys in Atlanta this season, parents putting the playthings for junior into the category of necessities.

Reports From Stores.

Here is what some of Atlanta's most prominent stores found in the way of business increase this year:

Rich's department store reported a gain of 100 per cent in sales, since 1929, and a higher gain in the last several years.

Davidson-Faxon's experienced a gain of 100 per cent in sales, since 1929, and a higher gain in the last several years.

More going to movies.

The Christmas shoppers are also going to the movies in greater numbers than the box office receipts are showing.

The Fox theater showed a gain of over 100 per cent over last year and are experiencing the best attendance in five years. The Grand and Rialto report business as being much better.

Massey and Fair, brokers, are jubilant over the best year since 1929 and an increase of 20 per cent over 1933.

The Capital Electric Company reported a gain of 50 per cent in sales, since 1929, and a higher gain in the last several years.

"The people want merchandise and have the money to pay for it," officials of the company stated.

Big Furniture.

Haverty's reported a 50 per cent increase in sales over the same period last year. Substantial gains for all ages were said to be leading.

The volume of jewelry business was shown to be among the list of greatest increases.

E. A. Morgan reported a gain of 50 per cent in sales, since 1929, and a higher gain in the last several years.

Freeman's was said to be well above the last four-year average. Nat Kaiser reported a gain of 50 per cent in sales, since 1929, and a higher gain in the last several years.

Company, Inc., reported their sales better than in two years. The buying throughout the jewelry business was said to be toward a higher price paid for goods than in several years.

In the buying of men's clothing the public was said to be preferring a much higher quality. These stores also reported large sales in small novelties and accessories.

Zachry showed a large increase in cash business and reported their total sales to be a 50 per cent better than in 1933.

Muse's was selling a higher quality of merchandise throughout the store and reported a better volume than in four years and an increase of 40 per cent over 1933.

Parks-Chambers reported a preference for better quality and a larger volume than in five years.

15 Per Cent Increase.

Newman & Holley reported a 15 per cent increase over 1933, while the Congress clothing store, who have been in business less than one year said that business was on a decided upturn.

Hann & Son reported a finer buying spirit among their customers and a 15 per cent increase in sales volume.

The increase in collections was the main note of enthusiasm voiced by the Fair store, which reported the best year since 1929.

In the women's wearing apparel stores and shops the same enthusiastic note of increase was voiced.

Wolfe's reported that the trend among his customers was toward a better quality merchandise and that his sales volume showed a 25 per cent increase over last year.

Regenstein's reported a 33 1-3 per cent increase over last year, with a note of buying spirit among the customers.

The best year since 1929 was the note expressed at Frohman's dress shop, which showed a 25 per cent increase over last year.

Chandler's Boot Shop reported a 25 per cent increase over the same period during 1933.

Wolfe's Dress Shop experienced the best year since 1930 with a 35 per cent gain over 1933 they reported.

Drug Stores Trade Rises.

A Jacobs Pharmacy reports the best year since 1930, while Lane Drug Stores gives a 38 per cent gain over 1933 and the biggest year in its history.

Miner & Carter report an increase of over 100 per cent in the total business for the holiday season.

Storch's reports the best year since 1929 with a 25 per cent increase over 1933. The manager said that the customer seems to be going into home-making once again.

Brown Distributing Company reports business much improved. Dixie Radio Distributors were among the most enthusiastic about the upturn in business.

"We are selling a much higher price merchandise and a much greater volume, so you know what we think of business conditions," the manager said.

Beck and Gregg Hardware Company reported that they had not expected such a rush business and that they had just about sold out of the part of customers sent sales

U. S. Controlled Road May Be Tax-Exempt

DENVER, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A possibility the Moffat railroad will be exempt from taxation under a new act in which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has taken title to Moffat stock was sent tonight by John H. Seaman, chairman of the Colorado tax commission.

If the line is exempted Seaman said it would create a serious situation for counties school districts in which the Moffat is the largest taxpayer.

"Federal property is exempt from taxation by the state and local governments," Seaman said. "With the title of Moffat stock in the hands of the RFC, which is a federal agency, the road, it seems to me, has become federal property."

Transfer of the stock to the RFC was announced yesterday. Officials said that action was necessary to protect $10,000,000 in loans made to the Denver, Rio Grande Western, which held the majority stock.

The road, which runs from Denver to Craig through the Moffat tunnel, was valued at $5,718,050 last year and it paid $166,922.42 in taxes.

Recovery Committees
To Meet January 11

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A meeting between the recovery committees of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers was set tentatively for January 11 in New York.

The business conferees expect to meet with agricultural leaders in Washington on January 10 or 14, and later with labor leaders, to discuss the recovery program.

President Roosevelt has indicated his willingness to confer with them, but it was said no date had been arranged for such

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED BY RALPH T. JONES

'The Mighty Barnum' at Grand, To Start Monday Morning

All the American pioneers did not build cities and railroads and exploit the country's natural resources. The kaleidoscope of modern America is the product of diverse and colorful characters and none is more picturesque, more appealing, than Phineas Taylor Barnum, of Barnum & Bailey, whose richly human, highly comic saga opens at Loew's Grand theater on Monday morning with Wallace Beery impersonating the famous showman and with Adolphe Menjou, Janet Beecher, Rochelle Hudson and Virginia Bruce in the supporting cast.

"The Mighty Barnum" succeeds "The Band Plays On," with Robert Young, Stuart Erwin, Leo Carrillo, Betty Furness, Ted Healy, Preston Foster, and Russell Hardie, the brisk story of college athletics, to be seen at the Grand.

This is the second time in his career Wallace Beery has impersonated Barnum. Several years ago, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presented Grace Moore in a story based on Jenny Lind's American visit, Beery also played this role. His work is still remembered after "A Lady's Morals" is nearly forgotten and when Twentieth Century decided to film "The Mighty Barnum," Beery was the inevitable choice for that role.

"The Mighty Barnum" is an item of Americana of inestimable value. Lavishly produced, with full appreciation for the age it revivifies, it is nevertheless primarily comedy, brightened by an appealing romance and by the glamor of Jenny Lind, whom Barnum brought to a bedazzled America.

This film introduces its hero as a small store-keeper in New York a century ago. He and his young wife have come to the city from a small Connecticut farm, but are not doing so well in a business established with Mrs. Barnum's money. The proprietor has a queer, inexplicable preoccupation with freaks—two-headed calves, three-headed toads, and the like.

But it isn't until someone appears with an ancient crone and claims that she is George Washington's nurse 100 years old, that Barnum's real career begins. He opens up his first museum. From then on, to his wife's pious horror, Barnum wastes more and more prosperous by catering to the public's curiosity. Horace Greely, morally indignant, exposes Barnum as a fake, but he prospers on the adverse publicity. Presently General Tom Thumb, the 30-inch midiget and his tiny bride appear at Barnum's door, and these two become sensations of the Barnum Museum.

Then comes, as a climax, Jenny Lind, and Barnum's infatuation with the lovely Swedish Nightingale, his awkward attempt to pay homage to her, which ends in disaster, the burning of the Barnum Museum, Barnum's impoverishment, but, finally, a new and bigger prosperity, with the inception of the idea of a big show under a big tent. Barnum is elated with the idea of his new partnership. He talks excitedly of "Barnum and Bailey—the Greatest Show on Earth."

Fox Offers 'Happiness Ahead' In Double Celebration Event

Christmas is here again and the Fox theater is planning another combination yuletide and birthday present to give to its patrons! Dick Powell, with his inimitable singing voice, heads a cast of unusually talented players in the new production, "Happiness Ahead," which comes to the Fox Christmas Day!

Josephine Hutchinson, Allen Jenkins, Frank McHugh, Ruth Donnelly and Dorothy Dare form a splendid supporting cast. All these featured players need no introduction to the movie fan, with the exception of Josephine Hutchinson, who is in her first picture, "Happiness Ahead," playing opposite Dick Powell. Miss Hutchinson last season was the star of several stage successes.

Although the story is straight comedy-drama, there are four songs, catchy airs especially written by three of the most famous song-writing teams in Hollywood. Dick Powell sings two of the songs alone, "Pop Goes My Heart" and "Beauty Must Be Loved." Powell then joins Frank McHugh to sing the comedy duet, "Massaging Window Panes." The fourth song, "All on Account of a Strawberry Sundae," is sung by Dorothy Dare, the famous Broadway musical comedy star.

Miss Hutchinson, as the daughter of a wealthy and socially prominent family, runs away from her engagement party, in search of adventure. She runs into Dick Powell and his pal, Frank McHugh, in a Chinese chop suey palace, where the happy throngs are celebrating New Year's Eve. She is attracted to Dick but wishing him to love her for herself, she poses as a working girl out of work. This is the beginning of a plot which ends in one of the most amusing and thrilling climaxes imaginable. Popeye in another of his hilarious cartoons, "We Aim to Please," and a Grandland Rice Sportlight titled, "Sportlight Cocktails," complete the Christmas Day program. The Fox theater offers on its anniversary, "Chu Chin Chow," with its galaxy of beautiful girls, entrancing musical harmonies, fantastic dances of

EXCELLENT FILMS ON HOLIDAY MENU AT PONCE DE LEON

"Sensation Hunters" featuring Arline Judge and Preston Foster, will be the featured attraction at the Ponce de Leon theater today, Sunday. It concerns a group of good girls who try to be bad in a Panama night club. "I'll Tell the World" starring Lee Tracy and Gloria Stuart will be on the screen Monday and Tuesday. Tracy has the leading role in the picture, that of a fast-talking newspaper reporter who proceeds to tell the world all the news and scandals he can unearth.

Wednesday only, the Ponce de Leon will offer "Charlie Chan's Courage"

Atlanta's Screens Bring Alluring Christmas Programs

Here's your Christmas entertainment, Atlanta. Six splendid screen offerings at the six leading theaters of the city. Upper left, Dick Powell and Josephine Hutchinson in "Happiness Ahead," at the Fox. Upper right, Joe E. Brown and Maxine Doyle in "Six-Day Bike Rider," which will be seen at the Georgia when that theater reopens its doors on Christmas Day. Center left, Evelyn Brent and Jackie Cooper in "Fugitive Lady," which opens today at the Capitol. Center right, Wallace Beery, Adolphe Menjou and "Jumbo," the elephant, in "The Mighty Barnum," coming to Loew's Grand tomorrow, Monday. Lower left, Neil Hamilton and Florence Rice in "Fugitive Lady," which comes to the Rialto tomorrow and, lower right, Joe Penner, of radio fame, with Lydia Roberti in "College Rhythm," starting its run at the Paramount on Christmas Day.

'Fugitive Lady' Opens Monday For Three Days at the Rialto

"Fugitive Lady," latest special release from the studios of the Columbia Pictures Corporation, will open its local premiere run at the Rialto theater tomorrow, Monday. With Neil Hamilton, Donald Cook and Florence Rice, daughter of the nationally famous sports columnist, Grantland Rice, in the cast the picture promises exceptional interest as well as highest entertainment value.

The new picture will follow "The Circus Clown," with Joe E. Brown, which shows at the Rialto theater today ending a highly successful four-day return engagement.

Miss Rice, new feminine lead in "Fugitive Lady," made her debut on the Broadway stage in 1930, and last season filled the starring role in "She Loves Me Not." It was her work in this play that attracted the attention of Hollywood and resulted in her present contract with Columbia.

The story of "Fugitive Lady" centers on a girl who, driving with her fiancée to be married, discovers he has deserted her and left her to face the police who arrest her for the theft of the automobile she thought he had purchased for her.

She is sentenced to San Quentin but en route there is a train wreck and her woman guard is killed. So is a woman adventures, recently married to the son of a wealthy family, on the way to visit her new husband's people and make them so sick of her they'll pay well to get rid of her.

The heroine is taken for the newly-wedded woman and carried to the

Georgia To Reopen Christmas With Joe Brown in 'Bike Rider'

The popular Georgia theater reopens Christmas Day, under the direction of Lucas & Jenkins, and for its first feature attraction offers Joe E. Brown in "The Six-Day Bike Rider."

This time Joe appears as a "Six-Day" player, having the important roles in support of Joe. Maxine Doyle has the picture of that title. As a bicycle rider Joe is a regular "fiend," but he wins the race and his girl by the most novel and hilarious fluke imaginable.

Joe starts out as a village cutup who goes to the big city to show his girl, who has flitted him, and the rest of the neighbors what a great guy he is. After getting into a terrific battle, landing in jail and being bailed out, he makes a mad rush for the races which have already started.

The race is the big climax to one of the most uproarious comedies in which the wide-mouthed comedian has yet appeared. It is not only filled with riotous situations but is crammed with breath-taking thrills.

An exceptionally talented cast of players have the important roles in support of Joe. Maxine Doyle has the picture of that title. As a bicycle rider Joe is a regular "fiend," but he wins the race and his girl by the most novel and hilarious fluke imaginable.

Funnyman Frank McHugh plays the role of Joe's pal and racing team mate, while Gordon Westcott is the "city slicker" who tries to steal Joe's girl. Others in the cast include Arthur Aylesworth, Lottie Williams, Dorothy Christy, Harry Seymour, Lloyd Neal and William Granger.

The management has booked some very attractive shorts including a musical novelty conducted by Spitalny and female orchestra. A comedy titled "Monkey Shines" should be especially pleasing to the children as well as grown-ups. Paramount News completes the Georgia's offering.

Complete plans have been made for the New Year's Eve midnight show at the Capitol, starting at 11:30 p. m., on Monday night, December 31. The management advises that tickets for this event are now on sale at the box office. A special feature picture and a gala stage show will be offered on this special program.

Among the well-known names appearing with the stage show are Ulla and Clark, famous radio and stage stars, whose names have flashed on the marquee of theaters from coast to coast; Vardo and Kinney, in musical moments; Wilfred and Mae Troupe, another standard vaudeville act, and probably the world's fastest hoop manipulators; Bobby Moore, acrobatic tap dancer; Slatz Randall's stage band and the California Sunlight Beauties.

In addition to the regular stage and screen program, Enrico Leide has planned a novelty Christmas number for the week, with the support of the Jesse Reese School of Personality.

Youngsters will be featured in this production number, which is to be staged with special scenery and lighting effects and Christmas music for the background.

"Home on the Range" is well in keeping with the Zane Grey type of story, which means a western background, cowboys, cattle and the beautiful western scenery. There are thrilling home of her "husband's" parents. Here the youth helps her when he finds she is wanted by the police. The auto thief also appears on the scene and other complicating characters until the plot becomes one tense situation after another.

Of course the outcome is happy for all concerned and the Christmas audiences who see this splendid production will undoubtedly enjoy it to the full.

"Broadway Bill" the famous Frank Capra production with Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy and Walter Connolly, opens its engagement at the Rialto on Thursday next.

Smashing all Smilage Records as The Tearing Tornado of the Track in First National's Design for Laughing!

Continuous From 11 A. M.

JOE E. BROWN "6 Day Bike Rider" with MAXINE DOYLE FRANK McHUGH

Extra! Phil Spitalny and his Female Orchestra

Monkey Shines A Monkey Comedy Paramount News POPULAR PRICES

A Lucas & Jenkins Theatre

GEORGIA: Where Happiness Costs So Little

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL! CAPITOL

STARTS TODAY Our Merry Xmas Stage and Screen Show ON THE SCREEN

"THE KID" COMES BACK

Jackie Coogan comes back to the screen... proving his worth as a star!

Adolphe Menjou

Zane Grey's HOME ON THE RANGE

A Paramount Picture with JACKIE COOGAN RANDOLPH SCOTT EVELYN BRENT

AND 8 Sensational ACTS ON THE STAGE

Marsline K. Moore's "GARDEN OF GIRLS" The Big Vaudeville Revue! 20—Stage Stars—20 Slatz Randall's Stage Band

ULIS AND CLARK Stage and Radio Stars

Wilfred-Mae Troupe World's Fastest Horse Artists VARDON & KINNEY In Musical Moments LEIDE CHRISTMAS OVERTURE

STARTS TODAY

CAPITOL

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

a Christmas Gift TO YOU ON OUR Anniversary

DICK POWELL

Star of Flirtation Walk "Singing" FIVE NEW SONG HITS IN

"HAPPINESS AHEAD" with JOSEPHINE HUTCHINSON FRANK McHUGH, DOROTHY DARE, ALLEN JENKINS.

FOX NEWS The Grandland Rice SPORTLIGHT COCKTAIL

Today and Mon. The 4-Star Liberty Picture CHU CHIN CHOW All Atlanta is talking of its beauty and thrill!

THE SOUTH'S FINEST

"YOU NASTY MAN! DON'T NEVER DO THAT!" YOUR XMAS SHOW!

"COLLEGE RHYTHM" WITH JOE PENNER HELEN MACK JACK OAKIE LANNY ROSS Lydia Roberti - Mary Brian - George Barbier and the All-American Co-eds

Only 2 Shows! Starts XMAS DAY

Paramount Direction Lucas & Jenkins

HILAN Atlanta's Finest Community Theatre

SUNDAY ONLY The Love Captive with ALICE ANDERSON and GLORIA STUART

MONDAY AND TUESDAY Here Comes the Navy with JAMES CAGNEY and PAT O'BRIEN

WEDNESDAY Among the Missing with RICHARD CROWELL and HENRIETTA CROSMAN

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY Born to Be Bad with LORETTA YOUNG and CARY GRANT

SATURDAY Girl in Danger with RALPH BELLAMY and SHIRLEY GREY

THE GEORGIA OPENS XMAS DAY... with this riot of fun!!

Continuous From 11 A. M.

JOE E. BROWN "6 Day Bike Rider" with MAXINE DOYLE FRANK McHUGH

Extra! Phil Spitalny and his Female Orchestra

Monkey Shines A Monkey Comedy Paramount News POPULAR PRICES

A Lucas & Jenkins Theatre

GEORGIA: Where Happiness Costs So Little

8 Sensational ACTS ON THE STAGE

Marsline K. Moore's "GARDEN OF GIRLS" The Big Vaudeville Revue! 20—Stage Stars—20 Slatz Randall's Stage Band

ULIS AND CLARK Stage and Radio Stars

Wilfred-Mae Troupe World's Fastest Horse Artists VARDON & KINNEY In Musical Moments LEIDE CHRISTMAS OVERTURE

STARTS TODAY

CAPITOL

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

'College Rhythm' With Penner
Opens Tuesday at Paramount

Ending the successful run of "Behold My Wife," starring Sylvia Sydney and Gene Raymond on Monday, the Paramount announces that their Christmas picture, "College Rhythm," will start Tuesday for a run of one week.

A gorgeous medley of girls, music, gridiron play. And it closes on an comedy and stirring football scenes which include Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Supported by a magnificent cast, which includes Lanny Ross, Jack Oakie, Helen Mack, Lyda Roberti and Mary Brian, "College Rhythm" introduces Penner to the film public in a hilarious story of deadly college rivals, the football star and the piccolo player, who finally agree by disagreeing and falling in love with different girls.

The picture opens on football scenes—real football with charging backs, plunging lineemen and crashing tackles—none of the namby-pamby stuff that used to characterize screen football.

Three Stars in One Picture

"Forsaking All Others," which comes to Loew's Grand on December 31, brings three of the screen's most popular players in its cast. Shown above are Robert Montgomery, Joan Crawford and Clark Gable.

Capra's New Film, 'Broadway Bill,'
Comes to the Rialto Next Thursday

Frank Capra, director who made screen history with his productions of "Lady for a Day," "It Happened One Night," etc., has again scored a smashing success with his latest, "Broadway Bill." This new picture will open its premiere Atlanta engagement at the Rialto theater next Thursday.

Capra has again based his success on the selection of a story by a well-known chronicler of modern life among the sporting fraternity. "Lady for a Day" was written by Damon Runyon, one of Broadway's ace chroniclers, and "Broadway Bill" is by a commentator scarcely less known, Mark Hellinger.

Next Capra selects a cast of well-known players best suited to the roles they are to portray. Warner Baxter tops the cast of "Broadway Bill," with Myrna Loy heading the feminine contingent and Walter Connolly his own delightful self as the father of the family. Helen Vinson has another good role, while the character parts are so numerous and so splendidly done as to make listing impossible.

Then there is a dumb actor, a horse, in the title role, who is the finest piece of horseflesh seen on the screen in a long, long time. And while the cameramen must, of course, be praised for most of the effective use of the equine actor, at the same time it is hard to see the picture and doubt that the animal understood at least some of the scenes it is called upon to perform. And the little ban-tam rooster is no slouch of an actor himself.

The story is of the pull exerted by the race tracks for a man who has tried to abandon the life for ultra respectability as head of a paper box factory. Of course, the tracks win at the end, much to the delight of everyone in the audience, including the paper box manufacturers.

There is a race sequence that is, positively, the most thrilling of its kind ever transferred to the screen. No one other than Capra could have done it. "Broadway Bill" is booked for one week at the Rialto and, while the value of the picture and its box office power will undoubtedly permit a run to rival the records set by "Lady for a Day" and "It Happened One Night," it is as yet uncertain whether Columbia can provide the print for a longer booking than the one week. So wise theater fans will take a tip and make sure to see the picture this week or next.

Saturday, "Girl in Danger," a story revolving around Gloria Gale, a society girl who is bored with the humdrum existence of a rich girl. Seeking thrills and adventure she assists a crook in the theft of an emerald. Before she can prevent it she is caught in a complicated set of circumstances in which the entire police force of a large city figure. Ralph Bellamy tries to recover the emerald, while Shirley Gray reveals Gloria's leading part.

Sunday, "The Love Captive," a story revolving around Gloria Gale, a society girl who is bored with the humdrum existence of a rich girl. Seeking thrills and adventure she assists a crook in the theft of an emerald. Before she can prevent it she is caught in a complicated set of circumstances in which the entire police force of a large city figure. Ralph Bellamy tries to recover the emerald, while Shirley Gray reveals Gloria's leading part.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

2 Atlanta Girls
Appear in Film,
'College Rhythm'

Margot Sage and Virginia Dabney, two of Atlanta's contributions to the Hollywood film colony, are both former local debutantes. Both are appearing in Paramount's sensational musical comedy "College Rhythm," which starts Tuesday at the Paramount theater.

Margot, daughter of Ira Sage II, retired head of a large corporation, entered the movies because, as she says, "I just had to go out and earn my own living. This career is not just a passing fancy; I'm in the movies for good and intend to stay. I like the movies, they are great. Computing with other girls, all of whom have had major experience in New York and Hollywood, makes me feel I'm really worth something. I want to be a big success and be financially independent again."

Besides "College Rhythm," Miss Sage has played in "The Green Hat," with Joan Bennett, and several big musicals. Improving with each picture and learning more each day on the sets of various studios she seems to be headed for a big success.

Virginia Dabney, well remembered in Atlanta, is a graduate of Washington Seminary. After her debut she spent several years in the theater, where she was able to develop herself as well as her pupils in the most intricate of dancing steps. Just to say that Miss Dabney is in the cast of "College Rhythm" is a great compliment. Only the cream of Hollywood's beauties were selected from the thousands of applications filed and many more were rejected for the slightest defect in voice or dance.

O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Frank McHugh is billed. Stuart and O'Brien are the stellar roles, as two U. S. seamen who hate each other with bitter intensity, augmented by the fact that the former is in love with the latter's sister. McHugh furnishes his hilarious comedy.

Wednesday, "Among the Missing," with Richard Cromwell and Horrietta Crossman will be shown. The story concerns an aged wife who unwittingly falls in love with a gentleman.

Thursday and Friday, "Born to Be Bad" brings the story of an unscrupulous "customer" of the girl in the cloak and suit trade, deterred by no moral qualms from entering into fraud, conspiracy, blackmail, or minor deceits. It moves through scenes of drolery and pathos to a vertiginous climax of a moment in which the girl for the first time sees herself clearly. Loretta Young and Car Grant play the leading parts.

Saturday, "Girl in Danger," a story revolving around Gloria Gale, a society girl who is bored with the humdrum existence of a rich girl. Seeking thrills and adventure she assists a crook in the theft of an emerald. Before she can prevent it she is caught in a complicated set of circumstances in which the entire police force of a large city figure. Ralph Bellamy tries to recover the emerald, while Shirley Gray reveals Gloria's leading part.

Sunday, "The Love Captive," a story revolving around Gloria Gale, a society girl who is bored with the humdrum existence of a rich girl. Seeking thrills and adventure she assists a crook in the theft of an emerald. Before she can prevent it she is caught in a complicated set of circumstances in which the entire police force of a large city figure. Ralph Bellamy tries to recover the emerald, while Shirley Gray reveals Gloria's leading part.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

Monday and Tuesday, "Here Comes the Navy," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. Cagney takes the part of an unscrupulous doctor who gains great local prominence by the use of hypnosis, but does not hesitate to use his hypnotic power to further his own personal ends.

New Manager

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

Bob Cullinane, who has been highly successful as publicity man for the Fox theater, steps into a new post, with added responsibility, when he becomes manager of the Georgia theater, which will reopen on Christmas Day with Joe E. Brown in "6-Day Bike Rider."

CHESTER MORRIS IS STARRING TODAY
ON EMPIRE SCREEN

"Embarrassing Moments," starring Chester Morris and featuring Marion Nixon, will be the attraction at the Empire theater today. Morris plays the role of a practical joker. Miss Nixon plays the role of his sweetheart, who is not in favor of his silly jokes and resorts to drastic measures to cure him of the habit. Others in the cast are Walter Woolf and George Stone.

Shirley Temple, the sensational star of Paramount's "Little Miss Marker," returns in another Paramount picture, "Now and Forever," the feature for Monday and Tuesday, in which the five-year-old is starred with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard.

Wednesday brings to the screen George O'Brien in "The Dude Rancher," the thrilling Zane Grey story of the Arizona cattle ranges. Irene Hee plays the feminine part.

The Maytime brings to the Georgia theater the role of the bland Chinese detective, Drue Layton and Raymond Milland are also featured. A Friday presents Jack Holt in "Black Moon."

Fay Wray has the feminine lead. Saturday will bring to the Empire Ken Maynard in "Smoking Gun."

Funeral Notices

TURNER—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. (Jimmie) Turner, Masters Mark and Jimmie Turner, Miss Mamie Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moore, Mrs. Tony Kovac, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McDowell will

Robert C. Turner this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Sam Greenberg & Co 274 Ivy street. N. E. Rev. Samuel

Mr. C. W. Goring officiating. Interment in Crown Hill mausoleum. The following gentlemen will please accompany the pallbearers and meet at the chapel at 1:45 p. m.: Messrs. F. F. Atkinson, P. D. Atkinson, H. F. Atkinson, H. B. Hodo, W. D. Turner, W. C. Goring. Hugh A. Gatlin will charge.

WHITTEN—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ryder, Mrs. Vieta Danielson and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whitten are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. James C. Whitten this (Sunday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock from the Linden Yards Baptist church, Re-terment, Crest Lawn cemetery. The following gentlemen will act as pallbearers and meet at the residence

HOLSTIN—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Louis Holstin, Mother of Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson, Louis Holstin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Meyer, Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Butts, Dallas, Texas, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Louis Holstin this (Sunday) afternoon, 2 p. m., at 2 p. m. at the St. A. Legg, M. W. Sorrells, Mr. M. L. Warren, Mr. J. A. McGaughey, Mr. W. Herndon and Mr. E. E. Henderson, Members of Lodge No. 302, Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, will accompany honorary escort and meet at the church at 2 p. m. J. Austin Dillon, Co., funeral directors.

ence. 2601 Peachtree road. Dr. W. W. Memminger will officiate. Interment (private), West View.

metery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at the residence at 1:45 o'clock: Mr. Frank Fleming, Mr. Albert Thornton, Dr. F. P. Caloun, Mr. Jesse Draper, Mr. Francis Adair, Mr. Cary Baker, Mr. Henry Newman, Mr. W. C. Wardlaw, Mr. Robb Caldwell, Mr. J. Bowie Matson, and Mr. Robert Clower. Pleasant flowers. H. M. Patterson & Son.

STLER—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Oastler, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Oastler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coleman, Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Jessie R. Oastler, Pasadena, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oastler, Hope, Ark.

Kansas City, Mo., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. B. H. Mastler this (Sunday) afternoon December 22, 1934, at 2 o'clock.

LITTLE—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Lena Heath Whittle, Mrs. and Mrs. Raleigh Drennon, Mrs. and Mrs. William West, Piedmont, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Namber, Jr. and College, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Heath, Reynolds, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Heath, Lanett, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Funderburk, Talbot.

N. Ga. are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lena Heath White tomorrow (Monday) morning, December 24, 1934, at 11 o'clock, at Spring Hill. Dr. Louie D. Newton will officiate. Interment, Westview cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and the service will be held at 10:45 a. m. at Spring Hill at 10:45 a. m. Mr. Harry Ahlman, Mr. L. Gatchell, Mr. Harley Lee, Mr. Martin Crawford, Mr. M. Sheppard, Mr. R. Patterson, Dr. Drennon Jr., M. Patterson & Son.

(COLORED.)

WORTHY — Mr. William Worthy passed away recently. Funeral announced later. Hanley Co.

LIER — Mr. Charlie Collier passed away recently. Funeral services will be announced later. Stanley Co.

COY—David McCoy passed very suddenly December 22. Funeral pronounced later. Montgomery Funeral Home.

ERICOTT—The remains of Mr. Wesley Derricott, of 268 Schofield street, were sent to Washington, this morning for funeral and interment. Hanley Co.

HEARD—The remains of Mrs. Essie Taylor Heard, of Scott Crossing, will be carried to Villa Rica, Ga., this morning for funeral and interment. Hanley Co.

ALEXANDER—Friends and relatives of Mrs. Willie Mae Alexander, end her funeral tomorrow (Monday) at 10 a. m. from Hood Tabernacle, Newton street. Rev. Hood

MERRITT—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Merritt are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Merritt today at 2:30 p. m. in the Philadelphia Baptist church. Rev. H. O. Hord officiating. Ivey morticians.

(COLORED.)
Card of Thanks.

want to thank our many friends for numerous calls during the recent illness and death of Mr. Joseph (Buster) and for the use of their cars and floral arrangements. Especially do we thank the Floral Company for the efficient service rendered.
VIOLET WHIGHT AND FAMILY.
 (COLORED.)
Card of Thanks.
 The family of the late Charles W.
 Whight wish to thank their friends for assistance shown during his illness and burial. Also for the floral and use of cars. We especially thank David T. and Co. for their excellent service.
VIOLET JOHNSON AND FAMILY,
 (COLORED.)

L.S.U. SEEKS TO SIGN COACH THOMAS FOR 5 YEARS

Frontiersman of Georgia 'Introduced' Bowie Blade in Battle at Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 22.—It was late afternoon when the Alabama football team was taken to the Alamo. They called it Alamo when it became a fortress instead of a church and they gave it its name because of the cottonwood trees thereabouts which the Mexicans call Alamo.

The sun is soft on the old walls. There is a peace about it now as there is about most places where great tragedies have had their day. So there is peace about the Alamo.

It was March 6, 1836, that 182 men died here in the Alamo. And one of them was a boy from Georgia, from Waynesboro, Ga., in Burke county.

Jim Bowie was his name. And he died here alongside Davy Crockett from Tennessee. And in the hand of each was a knife which came to be called the Bowie knife.

There are too many inarticulate voices here. And one of them is the voice of the Georgia boy whose body was tossed from one Mexican bayonet to another before it was placed with the others on the blazing fire.

They do not know much about you, Jim Bowie. They do not know much about you in Burke county in Georgia. They do not know the date of your birth. It was said to be 1799 when Georgia was one of her majesty's colonies. They do not know much about you. There is a record which says you were in Texas hunting a lost gold mine in 1828.

And there is a record which says that you were a great hunter and a great fighter in those wild days in Texas when there was no law but the Mexican law and it was far away.

There is a story about you, Jim Bowie, which says that when there was a fight with hostile Indians and you closed in to fight with them knife to knife, your hand slipped down on the blade. And you broke off a sword and took it to a blacksmith and had him fashion the short blade into a knife. The hilt would not let it slip.

There is no one who knows the true story of that knife, Jim Bowie. But this much is known. It was called the Bowie knife and it was so popular with our Texans that there was an English factory established at Sheffield to turn out the knife. And more of them were sold in Texas than in all the rest of the civilized world put together.

You came from Georgia and you died at the Alamo. And so I lift a hat to you today. There was no man came alive from this place save one negro slave.

WHEN SANTA ANNA CAME.

It was here that vain and boasting Santa Anna came to fight. It was he who sent word to the government of the United States he would march through the United States and plant the Mexican flag in Washington.

He was to grow calmer later when old Sam Houston, from Tennessee, routed him and his army at San Jacinto. But when he came here at the Alamo he had 2,000 men against 182.

Texas was a lost country then, belonging to Mexico and yet independent in thought and later to be a republic which once was considered as a potentially great nation. A man from Georgia was her second president, Mirabeau Lamar, from Columbus.

But that day no one cared much about Texas and it was the Alamo which started regiments marching from Tennessee and Kentucky and Georgia to fight for Sam Houston in Texas. The Lone Star flag was made in Columbus, Ga. There is a great deal of Georgia here at the Alamo.

But the long days that Santa Anna waited before the Alamo saw red-headed William Barrett Travis send out a message. Read it. There is no more heroic message in all American history.

"Commandancy of the Alamo
"Bejar, Feb. 24th 1836.

"To the people of Texas & all Americans in the world—
"I am besieged by a thousand or more Mexicans under Santa Anna. I have sustained a continual bombardment & cannonade for 24 hrs. and have not lost a man. The enemy has demanded a surrender at discretion, otherwise the garrison are to be put to the sword. . . if the fort is taken. I have answered the demand with a cannon shot and our flag still waves proudly from the wall. I shall never surrender or retreat. Then, I call on you in the name of Liberty, of patriotism & everything dear to the American character, to come to our aid with all dispatch. The enemy is receiving reinforcements daily and will not doubt increase to three or four thousand in four or five days. If this is neglected I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible . . . victory or death.

"W. BARRETT TRAVIS,
"Lt. Col. Comd."

That is the message. On March 6 the final assault came. And the final scene came in the little room in the center where the church had been.

A Mexican soldier writing of that battle left this for posterity:
"When a Texan's rifle was leveled on a Mexican he was considered as good as dead."

It was the last war in which the bugles blew the old Spanish battle call of the "deguello"—which meant "no quarter."

"The men in the Alamo heard it and met it with guns and at the last with Bowie knives.

When the afternoon of March 6 was come it was all over. And Santa Anna was thinking of marching to Washington if the Americans did not cease flocking to the help of the upstarts in Texas.

Jim Bowie, from Burke county, Georgia—the Alabama team lifted a hat to you today.

AIN'T I IN TEXAS NOW?

This is a Texas story of the old days when it was wild and woolly and full of fleas.

All the soldiers of fortune went there. All those with the law after them fled to Texas. It was the happy hunting ground of the great fighters and trappers. And the story goes that a Texas boy got in trouble and went to a judge for advice.

"You'd better leave here in a hurry," said the judge. "Leave here," wailed the young man. "Where will I go? Ain't I already in Texas?"

AND SO TOMORROW.

And so tomorrow there is Arizona. Texas, as large as Germany, will be left behind. And in the afternoon will be Tucson, where the old Spaniards came and where the west made one of its old stops. And stayed. The team will take a long walk at Tucson.

'Pop' Warner Drills Temple Team at Baton Rouge

Toccoa Honors Favorite Sons Of Grid Wars

There were big doings at little Toccoa in the north Georgia mountains Friday night. Four college football captains—one for every thousand in population—were honored at the T-Club banquet. At right above, three of the captains, one of Oglethorpe, and two of Georgia, are shown at the banquet with their mothers. Left to right, Mrs. Claud Bond and John, Mrs. R. McKnight and John, and Mrs. R. W. McNeely and John, or Jack. The three Johns were described thusly, "Toccoa trio on top." The picture at left shows Coach Harry Mehre, of Georgia, and Marion Gaston, a Toccoa boy and former Georgia star, talking over old times. Staff photos by Turner Hiers.

SPORTS ATLANTA CONSTITUTION RALPH MCGILL, Sports Editor. Grantland Rice - Clarence Nixon - Jimmy Jones - Roy White - Jack Troy - Henry McLamore - Alan J. Gould

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 23, 1934.

TEMPLE DRILLS AT BATON ROUGE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Football foes in New Orleans' New Year's Day Sugar Bowl classic were encamped near the scene of the battle ground tonight, girding their loins for the impending clash.

Coach "Pop" Warner and his squad of 33 mighty maestros of the gridiron were safely and "pleasantly" quartered at Baton Rouge tonight, only 80 miles from the scene of hostilities, and were primed for a week's training on the Louisiana State University field.

In New Orleans, the Tulane Green were scammed through a brisk workout on the home field, consisting of a stiff scrimmage session.

"It will be a real battle," said "Pop" Warner this morning as he stepped off a train here with his fine squad of huskies. "It will be a great fight," echoed Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, Tulane director of athletics.

STOP IN NEW ORLEANS.

The men and director exchanged greetings briefly this morning as the Owls enjoyed a two-hour stop-over in New Orleans before proceeding to Baton Rouge.

Warner wasted no time today in getting his Owls down to serious work again after a five-day absence of outdoor scrimmage. The players went through their paces on State field at Baton Rouge Saturday afternoon, after the team and its coaches had been greeted by city and university officials.

Coach Warner said his team was in better shape physically than when they left Philadelphia. Several of his mainstays who were ailing with colds appeared recovering today.

The great sophomore fullback, Smukler, who was among those slightly indisposed, seemed in good shape when the team arrived here this morning, and will be able to see plenty of service against Tulane.

CLIMATE PUBLICITY.

The climate: "It's great," exclaimed the players and coaches as they stepped off the train into the warm glow of the southern sun. Chilly, but not cold weather prevailed.

Baton Rouge Welcomes Temple

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Coach "Pop" Warner and his Temple football team arrived in Baton Rouge at noon today to prepare for their New Year's Day clash with Tulane in the Sugar Bowl game.

The veteran coach and his men were greeted by Mayor Wade F. Bynum, and by Captain Laurence "Biff" Jones, resigned Louisiana State University head coach and one of "Pop's" leading "system" disciples, as well as by scores of Baton Rouge citizens.

They were taken down to the L. S. U. campus below the city for a luncheon, after which the university's athletic facilities were turned over to them.

Welcoming the sunshine and mild temperature prevailing, Coach Warner said he would work out his squad on the L. S. U. field during the afternoon to limber them up after their trip from Philadelphia.

He said his players were in fairly good shape.

"Several of them have colds, though," he said. "This sunshine ought to fix them up, however, we had almost an epidemic of flu in Philadelphia before we left."

The Temple players will train here until just before the Sugar Bowl game.

VAN WEISE RE-ELECTED.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 22.—(UP)—Louis P. Van Weise, who recently moved to Montclair, N. J., today was re-elected president of the St. Louis Browns, American baseball league team.

O. K., Minus Huey, Declares Warner

"Pop" Warner would be interested in the football coaching job at L. S. U., but not in having Huey (The Kingfish) Long helping him with it.

Since he has been mentioned among the leading coaches being considered for the post, "Pop" was queried on the subject while passing through Atlanta Friday with his Temple team, en route to Baton Rouge, stronghold of the kingfish, where his team will train for the "Sugar Bowl" game with Tulane.

"Huey and I probably could get along all right, provided he would consent to sit up in the stands with the rest of the spectators and not try to help me run the team," Pop, who has been coaching football 40 years, stated.

Warner, however, said that he was well satisfied to remain at Temple, where he is in solid with officials and has been given a long-time contract.

In his two years at Temple, "Pop" has succeeded in putting the school on the football map, giving it an unbeaten team in his second year and developing one All-American candidate in Sophomore Dave Smukler. He has done this after passing the age of 60.

Georgia Wins Second, 54 to 30

By Bill Ray.

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 22.—The University of Georgia made it two straight over Oglethorpe University, 54 to 30, in a closing preseason basketball game for both teams here tonight.

The Bulldogs, leading all the way, found the basket with better consistency than they did last night. Andy Anderson gathered 16 points for scoring honors, but Frank Johnson was close with 15.

For the Petrels, Belton Clarke was highest with 10. Sullivan was second with eight.

Oglethorpe trailed after a rather slow first half with 12 points to 21 belonging to the Bulldogs. They came back with a short-lived flourish shortly after the second period began, only to see their opponents pull away to win comfortably.

Georgia has a veteran quarter available. Coach Rex Enright, however, mixed five sophomores in his oft-changed lineup. Harry Harman, Charlie Harrell, Max Green, Jim Moore and Tony Solms were the first-year varsity men seeing service. Their play indicated that many of them might see much service after the boys come back from Christmas vacations to go into the regular season.

SUMMARY.

Johnson	F	15	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Harrell	F	10	2	0
Moore	F	10	2	0
Sullivan	F	8	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0
Solms	F	10	2	0
Harman	F	10	2	0
Anderson	F	16	2	0
Clarke	F	10	2	0
Green	F	10	2	0

Tech Outlets Five Home Games Starting With Celtics

TWELVE TEAMS ALREADY CARDED ON 15-GAME SET

Georgia, Mercer, Vandy, Kentucky, Vols, Clemson, Auburn on Card.

By Jimmy Jones.

Roy Mundorf, the Tech basketball coach, announced a 15-game schedule for his team in the new year, opening on the night of January 9, with a game with the famous New York Celtics at the Atlanta auditorium.

Georgia will be played a series of the three games, one here and two in Athens, while Jimmy Slocum's Mercer team will be played at Macon in another intra-state clash, the date for which has not been exactly decided upon.

The Jackets' only inter-collegiate game is a jump to Cincinnati on February 16 to play the quintet of St. Xavier.

Kentucky, boasting another great team this year, will be tackled on the same trip.

FIVE HOME GAMES.

Only five games are on Tech's home schedule this year, due to the fact that the Jackets are now in the building process. They are preparing to launch an outstanding home season in 1935, when they start playing in their new gymnasium, near Grant field, construction of which will start in the spring.

"We have been greatly helped in the efforts to develop a winning basketball team this year with the advantage of being able to practice on the new armory court," Mundorf stated.

"Next year, when we are able to practice and play on the campus, we will have an even better chance." Coach Mundorf, incidentally, is now nursing along the most promising crop of freshman material to show up at the Flats in the history of basketball here. Mundorf is devoting his personal attention to the freshmen, teaching them the system that the varsity will use.

DEDICATE GYM.

Mundorf is now working on some outstanding teams such as Pittsburgh, Kentucky, Wake Forest and Duke to appear in the Jackets' new gym in '36, and chances are a team such as Pittsburgh, which is one of the outstanding teams in the east, will be brought here to dedicate it.

The Jackets will continue to use the auditorium until their new playing court is finished, meanwhile practicing at the armory, which has a splendid basketball floor, but not seating accommodations.

OFF FOR HOLIDAYS.

The Tech varsity, after 10 practice sessions and several scrimmages, has been excused for the holidays, with instructions to return to practice on January 8.

The squad has been strengthened somewhat by the reporting of Burke Boulware, tennis and football star and former center on the G. M. A. basketball team. Boulware, who is fairly tall and active, will see considerable service in the Jackets' new year.

Katz, who has an injured shin from the football season, will go to his rest and recuperate through the holidays.

Following is the list of games already booked for the Jackets, with additional games with Mercer, at Macon; Auburn, at Auburn, and Seawane, at Seawane, to be filled in later:

January 9-New York Celtics, here.
January 10-Tennessee, at Macon.
January 11-Georgia Tech, at Jacksonville.
January 12-Vanderbilt, here.
January 13-Georgia Tech, at Nashville.
January 14-Kentucky, at Lexington.
January 15-Tennessee, at Knoxville.
January 16-Tech, at Athens.
January 17-Georgia Tech, at Chattanooga.
January 18-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 19-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 20-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 21-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 22-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 23-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 24-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 25-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 26-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 27-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 28-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 29-Georgia Tech, at Macon.
January 30-Georgia Tech, at Macon.

The Bruins' managers open the campaign the day following New Year's with the University of Chattanooga here in a two-game series. A later the Rose-Hulman College pay their annual visit to middle Georgia on January 10. On February 14, the local quintet encounters the Carolina Maple Leafs in Spartanburg, S. C.

The schedule:

January 9-Chattanooga in Macon.
January 10-Rose-Hulman College in Macon.
January 11-University of Georgia in Macon.
January 12-Albany Y. M. C. A. in Albany.
January 13-Chattanooga in Chattanooga.
January 14-Howard in Birmingham.
January 15-Birmingham Southern in Birmingham.
January 16-Unannounced opponent in Atlanta.
January 17-Oglethorpe in Macon.
January 18-Georgia Tech in Macon.
January 19-Albany "Y" in Macon.
January 20-Oglethorpe in Atlanta.
January 21-University of Georgia in Athens.
January 22-Furman in Greenville.
January 23-Carolina Maple Leafs in Spartanburg, S. C.
January 24-Wofford in Spartanburg, S. C.
January 25-Clemson in Clemson, S. C.
January 26-Georgia Tech in Macon.
January 27-Georgia Tech in Macon.
January 28-Georgia Tech in Macon.
January 29-Georgia Tech in Macon.
January 30-Georgia Tech in Macon.

Methodist

Oakland City is the only boys' team that has not been defeated this season. The Associated Reformed Presbyterians of Highland Avenue, hold the record for the girls of the Methodist leagues. Oakland has defeated every team in the league and has a tie with the champion, the A. R. P. girls are by far the class of their league and have won the Plaxico sisters, Phillips, Holt and Poole, are the main ones to watch.

First Methodist had things all its own way until Calvary defeated the champion, the Oakland City of last year. English, Gene Lewis and Leah Donohoe managed to crush the Oakland City in the second half and almost doubled the score. All three leagues will start the second round of play after the holidays. The first series of games being scheduled for January 3.

GIRLS. Won Lost Pct.
Highland A. R. P. 3 0 1.000
David Hills 2 1 .667
East Point 2 1 .667

BOYS' LEAGUE. Won Lost Pct.
First Methodist 5 1 .833
East Point 4 2 .667
Grace 4 2 .667
McConnell 3 3 .500
Clifton Presbyterian 2 4 .333
David Hills 2 4 .333
College Park 2 4 .333

BOYS' LEAGUE. Won Lost Pct.
Oakland City 1 0 1.000
Calvary 1 0 1.000
Stewart Avenue 1 0 1.000
David Hills 1 0 1.000
Haywood 1 0 1.000
Totally 6 0 1.000

'Pop' Warner and His Georgia Team of '96

—Reproduced from Fussy Woodruff's History of Southern Football.

This is a historic football picture. It is "Pop" Warner's football team of 1896 at the University of Georgia—the first coaching job that "Pop" ever held. Today, in his sixties, Warner is still a successful coach at Temple, while several of the players in the above picture are no longer living. This team included "Cow" Nalley and Von Gammon, now dead, and other famous players of the day. "Pop" is the stout, youthful-looking gentleman who is wearing the cap and sweater in the middle of the back row.

CLEMSON FIVE OPENS AT VANDY

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Clemson's Tiger, long a prowl in the collar of the Southern conference basketball races, will win its hopes for court recognition this season on seven letter men and four promising sophomores.

Whether the Bengal quintet can qualify for the conference tournament remains to be seen because it meets only three members of the circuit—South Carolina, North Carolina State and Washington State at Clemson; its 17-game schedule calls for games against five members of the Southeastern conference.

Height will be the standout characteristic of the current five. In Alex Swails the Tigers will have a six-foot five inch pivot who probably will be able to command the tip-off against most opponents.

Tom Brown, a letter guard, is six feet one, and Pete Seppanman and Henry Woodward, other hold-over guards, are five feet eleven and five feet ten, respectively. Clyde Pennington, likely to land a regular guard post, is six feet two.

Coach Joe Davis' forward problem seems settled with the availability of Bill Dillard, Bill Dobson and Harry Shore.

Brice and Weiler, promising sophomore center and guard, respectively, have shown up well in early practices. Two other sophomores, Wall and Rice, may land reserve forward posts.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

WARNER RECALLS TICHENOR RUSE

Continued From First Sports Page.

Nalley and Von Gammon (both of whom are dead), Cochran, Middlebrook, Blanch, Stubbs, Wright, Walden and others.

Reynolds Tichenor entered Georgia in '97—the year after Warner returned to Cornell—and played one year with the Bulldogs. "Pop" said he would have liked to have had "Tich" on his team.

Eleven years ago Georgia and Auburn played their games at Briarcliff park in Atlanta and drew one crowd of 10,000—a record turnout of that period.

A GREAT COMEBACK. All of Warner's "old boys" in Georgia are doubtless overjoyed that the grand old man of the coaching profession has bobbed up with another great team at Temple at an age when most coaches are retired to their memories. The Temple team for a time was among those considered for the Rose Bowl game and was given the "Sugar Bowl" game with Tulane as second choice of the unbeaten eleven. Temple was one of three major unbeaten teams in the country this year.

"Pop," who coached at Georgia, Cornell (twice), Carleton, Pitt, Stanford and Temple, envisioned the chat here with stories of some of his famous Indian players. He recalled the time when he took a three-man track team, composed of Jim Thorpe, Remie Pierce and an Indian named Kewanina to a meet with Lafayette and at the stands reading a newspaper while Thorpe, who was a great all-around track man, was a great ball star; Pierce (a weight man), and Kewanina, a distance runner, won nearly all of the 13 places in the meet.

The track team was sent to Lafayette consisted of two street fare, Lafayette being only a few miles from Carleton.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

NEGRO ALL-STAR TEAM SELECTED

With the aid of all the coaches and sports writers who saw the various teams in action during the year, The Constitution presents a list of the best colored football players for 1934.

Kentucky State College, of Frankfort, which was recognized as national champion, paced the list, with five players named on the first and second teams, and others being given honorable mention.

Morris Brown, Atlanta, winners of the Southern Colored championship, was second to Kentucky State, with Florida A. & M. coming in for several places.

Dick Smith, Morris Brown, and Everett, Florida, were two of the outstanding backfield stars of the year. Smith was particularly good at kicking field goals and accounted for two victories with field goals. He kicked the field goal in the game with the Florida A. & M. team, and in addition to being a great kicker, he was a good passer, and a fine runner and one of the best defensive players on the squad.

The "Will Horse of the Oage," as he was called, was the best player in the south. He was a great runner and a fine passer, and he was one of the best defensive players on the squad.

Following is Tech's complete 1935 card, showing seven home games, with several away games. The first game will be played at Macon, Ga., on September 27—Presbyterian at Grand field.

October 3—Seawane at Grand field; 10—Kentucky at Lexington; 12—Duke at Grand field; 13—North Carolina U. at Charlotte; 14—Vanderbilt at Grand field; 15—Auburn at Grand field; 16—Alabama at Birmingham; 17—Florida at Grand field; 18—Georgia at Grand field.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

January 3-Vanderbilt at Nashville; 4-Tennessee Politechnic Institute at Cookeville; 10-Tennessee at Knoxville; 12-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 13-Wofford College at Spartanburg; 14-North Carolina State at Clemson; 26-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 27-Furman at Clemson; 28-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 29-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 30-Georgia Tech at Clemson; 31-Georgia Tech at Clemson.

JACKETS DROP CLEMSON GAME, SCHEDULE P.C.

Revised Schedule for Tech Eleven Is Announced for 1935.

By Jimmy Jones.

</

Gordon Caldwell, Leading Richmond Bowler, Enters U. S. Stakes

TRONSKY'S MARK LIKELY TO FALL IN EVENTS HERE

Six of Baltimore's Leading Bowlers Enter January 5 Event.

By Jack Troy.

There is only a remote chance that Nick Tronsky's record of 2,101 will be equaled or bettered in the United States sweepstakes at Bick's Bowling Center on January 5.

But, on the other hand, the chance is there, because Tronsky and leading bowlers in the country will participate.

In setting the remarkable record two years ago at Richmond, Tronsky had an average of 140 pins per game for the 15 games!

Carl Tidwell, Dewey Bowen and John S. Bick were winners from Atlanta that year. They were, of course, duly impressed by the outstanding bowling performance.

TIDWELL, BOWEN, BICK. Tidwell, Bowen and Bick are entered in the forthcoming sweepstakes and are hopeful none of the nationally famous entries will strike such a stride.

One of the latest entries is Gordon Caldwell of the Health Center alley of Richmond. He is the high average bowler for all Richmond leagues.

Caldwell's record is distinguished by the fact that he has to his credit one game of 201, which is only one pin shy of a world's record. He has an average of 123.

Six of Baltimore's leading duckpin bowlers are entered. They include Gordon (Pick) Schible, who was second in the Dixie Sweepstakes; Wilmer Robey, Doc Pickens, Ray Barnes, Ray Von Dreese and Harry Schreck.

DIXIE WINNER ENTERED. Billy Arnold, of Annapolis, winner of the Dixie Sweepstakes, is another great entry.

The nation's No. 1 and No. 2 bowlers are coming. They are Joe Harrison, of Washington, and Jack White, of New Haven, teammates of Tronsky.

Then, of course, Astor Clarke, of Washington, last year's United States Sweepstakes winner, will be here striving to repeat.

Dewey Bowen, Georgia state individual champion, is the latest free entry winner. Bowen won last week's preliminary sweepstakes. He joins a list that includes John Bick, Carl Tidwell and Lloyds Somons.

The United States sweepstakes has never been south of Richmond, Va. Atlanta negotiated for several years before landing the famous event.

J. C. SPENCERS. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, under the able direction of Allen Littlefield, is sponsoring the sweepstakes. Littlefield is chairman of the bowling committee in charge of the event.

George L. Isemann, of Washington, secretary of the national duckpin bowling congress, will arrive in Atlanta January 4. He will be in charge of bowlers here.

Isemann has visited Atlanta before and is greatly impressed with the growth of bowling here.

The United States Sweepstakes, Atlanta's first major league duckpin action, may be the forerunner of the leading tournament of them all—the national duckpin bowling congress.

CHANCE FOR NATIONAL. It is understood that Atlanta will have a change for the national congress if the United States Sweepstakes is successful. This development will not come right on the heels, so to speak, of the sweepstakes. It will take time.

All advance indications are that the sweepstakes cannot be anything but a success. The entry list is stuffed with stars and spectators already are clamoring for tickets.

One fact is very clear—the only worry concerning the United States States Sweepstakes will be where to seat all the spectators. So what? So a successful sweepstakes is assured a couple of weeks in advance.

THE SPORT PARADE

Bobby Jones' Most Important Shot

In the course of 15 years of championship competition, wherein he won a dozen major crowns, Bobby Jones played more than one important shot to reach the front. But here was the most important of all. He had led Al Espinosa 6 strokes, with 6 holes to play, and had seen this lead cut away at Winged Foot in the open championship of 1929. His approach had caught the bank of a trap at the final green and his recovery stopped 12 feet away. If he missed this 12-footer, he was out of the championship list, beaten after a 6-stroke lead. If he had missed this putt his morale might have been shaken for all time in competition. But the putt rolled up—wavered—and then fell in. (Acme photo.)—Copyright, 1934, by Grantland Rice.

THREE ARE TIED IN $4,000 EVENT

By Paul Zimmerman.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—After a long parade of seasonally low scores, Charles Guest, Los Angeles; Harold McSpaden, Kansas City, Kan.; and Johnny Revolta, Milwaukee, held the lead at the halfway mark of the Pasadena $4,000 open golf tournament tonight with cards of 137.

Guest, last of these three cash-seeking caballeros to finish, had the most amazing score of all, a 68, five strokes under par, to add to his 71 of yesterday.

Early in the day McSpaden had posted a fine 87 to match his 70 of the first round. It appeared for a time that this would stand up without opposition until Revolta, putting with the skill he showed two seasons ago, paraded in with a 68 on top of his 69 of yesterday.

A GREAT PUTT. Needing only a par on the 18th for a tie with Revolta and McSpaden, he nearly captured the lead with an amazing 46-foot putt that stopped just two inches short of the cup.

Guest, a Los Angeles driving range professional, missed other chances to better his score because putts would not drop, but he didn't complain, for his irons were working in amazing form.

The score tied the record for tournament play here, equalling the card turned in by Craig Wood when he won the championship three years ago.

In fourth place, two strokes back of the three mucketeers, was Jimmy Hines, Long Island, who shot a 68 today for 130 total.

Youngful Chicago pro, added another 70 to his list today for a 140 and fifth position, followed by Ralph Guldahl, Los Angeles, who was sixth.

In a three-way tie for seventh were Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J.; MacDonald Smith, Los Angeles, and Sam Parks, Los Angeles, who were tied at 143.

DOZEN UNDER PAR. A dozen players shattered perfect figures of 71 as the field warmed to the task of the 18th hole.

As a result, the field of 140 and better were required to continue play tomorrow through the last two rounds in quest of the $1,000 first prize money and 10 other cash awards.

Few of the more than 1,000 in the gallery saw much of the par-shattering golf, however, for they insisted on trailing Walter Hagen, that veteran showman from Detroit, 144 holes, taking a 74 today for 147 strokes.

Hagen had been presented with a birthday cake on the first tee by A. K. Bourne, veteran sportsman and one of the tournament's sponsors, before he set out.

"This is the first since today," said Bourne, as he cut the cake which honored "The Bird" for his 147.

By the time the firing had died down the first round leaders had pretty well retreated from the front ranks. Guldahl, who was sixth, was the only one who could stay up in front.

Sports Writers Claim Repeal Boosted Trade

By Jack Caddy.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(UP)—In the year that followed the repeal of prohibition, approximately 1,648, 200,000 gallons of spirits, beer and wine gurgled down the throats of American consumers at a cost of approximately $2,530,000,000.

What effect, if any, did this drinking and this huge expenditure have upon sports?

A small plurality of the nation's sports editors claimed today in a nationwide United Press poll that the stimulation resulting from drinking and the increased flow of cash resulting from liquor expenditures was beneficial to sports in 1934.

But a robust minority claimed that the aftermath of repeal had no effect upon sports. Of the 302 editors who voted on the question, 129 said the aftermath of repeal was beneficial; 116 said it had no effect; 22 said it was detrimental, and 35 answered in such manner that their votes could not be counted either way.

MORE DRINKING. Of these editors, men in a competitive position to observe accurately, 228 said increased drinking had been noticed in connection with spectators at sporting events, and 16 said there was less.

G. L. Parsons, of the Denver Post; Wilbur Wood, of the New York Sun; Frank Lewis, of the Cleveland Press; Charles Johnson, of the Minneapolis Star, and the others who voted the aftermath of repeal beneficial, pointed out that it resulted as follows:

(1) The elbow benders in legal taverns, clubs, bars, etc., met and talked sports over their glasses, stimulating interest.

(2) Increased prosperity resulting from repeal gave the sportswriter more money to spend on his sportswriting, in all its ramifications, more money with which to attend sports events.

(3) Increased betting on sports events, thereby increasing the interest of the public.

(4) Made sports events more of social functions. Persons attending big events like football games in neutral territories, prize fights, baseball games and horse races, staged parties while traveling to them, at the events and afterwards.

(5) Drinking added to the enthusiasm of the crowds and made conditions of new comers.

Those editors who said they saw no effect resulting from repeal, as far as sports were concerned—like George Daley, of New York Herald-Tribune, and Edwin J. Pollock, of the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger—emphasized that there had been plenty of drinking since prohibition, that some of the banner years in sports had occurred during certain prohibition years of the "old" decade, and that if liquor industry increases had been noticed in any line of sports since December 6, 1933, there was no good reason for attributing them to liquor.

The few who claimed to have noted detrimental effects pointed out more tourism at sports events, tending to ruin away women fans; increased beer drinking among baseball players, making them lazy and less efficient; endangering sports officials, newspapermen and spectators who may be the victims of thrown bottles and other missiles.

Some of those who evaded the question, gave such replies on the effect of repeal as "stimulating," "stimulating," "what prohibition?" "Clearer heads for Sunday morning quarterbacks due to better buy juice," etc.

A. M. Goul, of the Daily Sun, Goose Creek, Texas, said, "about the only effect of repeal was that the empty bottles picked up after football and baseball games bear labels instead of being bare-bellied."

V. M. I. QUINTET PLAYS 17 GAMES

LEXINGTON, Va., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Tall and clever handballers but a trifle slow of foot, V. M. I.'s basketball team will get its first taste of the game when it meets the team of Annapolis, here three days after their return on January 2 from their Christmas furlough.

Frank Summers, four-sports star at V. M. I., a dozen years ago, has succeeded Bill Rafferty as varsity basketball coach. He has only two letters from his alma mater, a letter of commendation and last year's reserve will provide outstanding talent.

The club will not be outstanding in speed," Summers commented, "but we have some clever handballers among the rangiest candidates who have ever turned out at V. M. I."

Merola, ineligible as a transfer last year, at center; Morris Haas, 1934 freshman star, at forward, and Nelson Ockerly, who saw some varsity service last year, at guard. Merola is a New Yorker and Haas and Ockerly are from Lynchburg.

Tucker Watkins, football star from South Boston, is one of the leading candidates from last year's reserves who include Frank Raffo, Stan McKibben, Holmes Petty John, and Emory Rucker. Among the sophomores prospects are Wayne Lough, George Storer, Bill Kane, Joe Lemaurel, Bill Moore and Jim Zimmerman.

The schedule: January 8, St. Johns, here; January 15, Maryland at College Park; January 16, Navy, here; January 18, Virginia, here; January 20, V. P. I., here; February 1, Richmond, here; February 2, South Carolina at Columbia; February 6, William and Mary, here; February 7, Duke, here; February 12, N. C., here; February 13, Virginia at University; February 16, Richmond, here; February 17, N. C. at Chapel Hill; February 22, William and Mary at Williamsburg; February 23, P. I. at Blacksburg; February 28-March 2, southern conference tournament at Raleigh.

Time Supply Given Race's Top Weight

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—LOS F. A. Carreault's Time Supply, winner of the Los Angeles Meadows handicap, today was given top weight of 126 pounds for the $5,000 Christmas stakes, feature event of the new Santa Anita track's opening day card next Tuesday.

The Belair stud's Fairness was ranked second in the handicapping list announced by Webb A. Everett, racing secretary. Fairness will carry 120 pounds. Mrs. S. B. Mason's Head Play was given 117 pounds.

The other weights: Riskulus 110, Top Row 106, High Kick 108, Frank Ormont, Dark Winter and Terallie 107, Thomassville and Bonny Grafton 104, Wacoche and Senapahora 103, Jabot, Chictoney and Trombone 102, Navanod and Mad Frump 101, Fleam 100, Sun Archer and Percusor 98, Mr. Bun 96, Gillie 95, Peradventur 92.

Big Train Admits Cleveland Has Good Chance To Win Flag

By Dillon Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—To Rogers Hornsby's assertion that Cleveland ought to win the American League pennant next season, Walter Johnson responds with an optimistic "maybe."

While the cows mowed, the chickens clucked and his bird dogs yelped, the Indians' manager leaned against a fence on his way to the clubhouse and looked for a good club, perhaps a pennant winner.

"Hornsby was right about the Indians," Johnson said. "He has always been a good first baseman, but he couldn't hit a curve ball. He has made rapid advancement and even if he hits only 260 in his first year he will be a star. We have enough outside power."

HERE AND FIRE GRID POLICES GAINING FAVOR

Cornell Challenges System of Varsity Football Business.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Editor, NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Despite the reluctance of eastern college athletic leaders today to discuss publicly Cornell University's plans, though unofficially known to the "blue and fire" system of conducting the varsity football business, it is known that the subject is under serious consideration now than at any time since the Carnegie Foundation delivered its blast against the subsidizing and recruiting of athletes five years ago.

It has already led to the formation of opposing "schools of thought," not only in the east but throughout the country. It is a vigorous topic with certain major conference groups, where conflicting viewpoints exist as to the ways and means of handling the gridiron sport, the profits from which feed the entire college athletic system.

No doubt exists in the minds of well-informed football men that the competition among major colleges for star high and prep school talent has been increasingly keen during the past few seasons, due to alumni demands for winning teams as well as the financial urgency common to most big universities.

THREE GROUPS. This has resulted in the development of at least three separate groups comprising (1) those which have frankly gone into the open market and bid high to get the desired material for successful football teams; (2) others who have employed more subtle but not less attractive inducements, meanwhile wearing the cloak of academic dignity but achieving the same winning results; and (3) those which have stood their ground on the scholastic rocks but suffered the inevitable consequences of mediocre teams and dwindling gate receipts.

Cornell may like the number of other colleges that have turned to the alternative of making their fine old traditions more attractive than any other inducements but winning teams will continue to follow the standards of rival universities which, if they do not actually buy football material, otherwise develop an efficient recruiting system.

This leads to the two possibilities as mentioned in the Cornell Alumni News, namely, "Take it and like it" or "drop it." Indications are that Cornell will do neither.

Commenting today on Cornell's frank statement of existing conditions, George Little, athletic director at Rutgers, urged that the university be discarded in seeking desirable athletic talent. He expressed opposition to a system whereby the coaches conduct championships and draw up over finances with schoolboy stars, suggesting instead that athletic university through the regular university channels in making pre-school contacts.

ALL ROUND PROGRAM. "The healthiest way to conduct intercollegiate athletics is to take students who come to you and provide for them a well-rounded program of intra-mural and seasonal intercollegiate sports," Little said.

Officials at Princeton, Harvard, Pittsburgh, Carnegie, Columbia, New York University and Dartmouth either are unavailable or declined to enter the discussion raised by Cornell's frank statement of existing problems and prospects.

Meanwhile the Harvard A. A. News, in connection with Harvard's quest for a new head football coach to succeed Eddie Egan, gives voice to the optimistic view that the "old order" by which a plentiful supply of talented young athletes came with the job, is passing. Generally well-known facts are not heard out this suggestion.

Cornell apparently has no intention of seeking the scalp of Gilmore Doble, like Howard Jones, at Southern California, and Harry Kipke, at Michigan, where football fortunes also sagged this year. Doble's job has not hinged upon production of all-winning games. Over a stretch of years, he formed Minnesota quarterback has demonstrated he can get results with good material. His record at the University of Washington, the national academy and Cornell has proved it.

New York Rangers Buy Harold Starr

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 22.—(UP)—Harold Starr, former Montreal Maroons defenseman, has been sold to the New York Rangers. Tommy Gorman, manager of the Montreal club, announced here tonight.

Starr, a sturdy player of the hard-hitting type, was forced out this year by the Windsor (Ont.) club of the International Hockey league. He will report to the Rangers at once.

Gorman revealed, also, the recall of Sam McKennas, left winger, who was undergoing early professional hockey seasoning at Windsor.

McKennas came up to the Maroons this fall from the Canadian and International amateur hockey champions, the Moncton Hawks. He will report to the Maroons at Montreal Monday morning.

Doerun Quintets Win Double-Header

DOERUN, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The boys' and girls' basketball teams of the Doerun High school won a double-header from the Pelham High school teams here last night. The score of the girls' game was 32 to 24, and that of the boys' game, 43 to 18.

Both of the Doerun teams took the lead in the beginning and were never headed. The Pelham teams were hard fighters and were as good sports as have been seen on the local court this year.

The Kingfish Hunts a New Coach

Senator Huey P. Long (left) grew a bit too vociferous in talking into the ear of Coach Lawrence "Biff" Jones (right), telling him how to run the Louisiana State University football team, and Jones up and resigned. The senator said Clark D. Shaughnessy (below), coach at Chicago University, was a "mighty fine man," hinting he might get the job. (Associated Press photos.)

Senator Huey P. Long (left) grew a bit too vociferous in talking into the ear of Coach Lawrence "Biff" Jones (right), telling him how to run the Louisiana State University football team, and Jones up and resigned. The senator said Clark D. Shaughnessy (below), coach at Chicago University, was a "mighty fine man," hinting he might get the job. (Associated Press photos.)

U. S. Golf Association Observes 40th Birthday

Group Formed Dec. 22, 1894, With Five Clubs Represented; 850 Clubs Today.

By Herbert W. Barker.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Organized golf in this country celebrates its 40th birthday today.

It was on December 22, 1894, that representatives of five clubs, four in the east and one in the midwest, organized the United States Golf Association. Out of that meeting of 40 years ago has grown the powerful body which today boasts more than 850 member clubs and directs the activities of millions of golfers.

Directly leading to the formation of the U. S. G. A. was the fact that earlier in 1894 both the St. Andrews Club of Yonkers, N. Y., (later moved to Mount Hope, N. Y.) and the Newport (R. I.) Golf Club held tournaments which they labeled national championships.

Considerable criticism followed and H. O. Tallmadge, of St. Andrews, invited the Shinnecock Hills Club, of Southampton, N. Y., the Country Club of Brookline, Mass., and the Chicago Golf Club to join with St. Andrews and Newport in the formation of an organization to promote the game, conduct championships and draw up and enforce a set of rules. The U. S. G. A. was the result.

The organization meeting was held on December 22 of that year with representatives from all five clubs attending—Tallmadge and John Reid, of St. Andrews; General T. H. Barron and S. L. Parrish, of Shinnecock; Laurence Curtis and P. S. Sears, of Brookline; C. B. MacDonald and Arthur Ryerson, of Chicago, and Theodore A. Havemeyer, of Newport. The second Newport representative, Winthrop Rutherford, found it impossible to attend.

After electing officers—Havemeyer was elected president, defeating Reid, five votes to four—the delegates adopted the following declaration of purposes:

PURPOSES LISTED. 1. To promote the interests of the game of golf. 2. To establish and enforce uniformity of the rules of the game by creating a representative authority. 3. Its executive committee to be a court of reference as a final authority in matters of controversy. 4. To establish as far as possible a uniform system of handicapping. 5. To decide on what "links" the amateur and open championships shall be played.

The constitution and by-laws were adopted at the first annual meeting February 5, 1895.

Palmer Stone Wins 2 From Covington

OXFORD, Ga., Dec. 22.—The Wildcats of Palmer Stone won a double-header from the Covington Rams here last night. The girls took their game, 36-16.

For the Palmer Stone girls Ruth Butler with 28 points played best. Rosemary Arnold and E. Elliott played best for the Rams. Neely Hammond and Howard Cook played unusually well for the Wildcats while W. T. Herrin and Cecil Alwood were best for the Rams.

THE LINEUP. (GIRLS) (BOYS) PALMER STONE: (1) Crawford, (2) Butler, (3) Elliott, (4) Butler, (5) Butler, (6) Butler, (7) Butler, (8) Butler, (9) Butler, (10) Butler, (11) Butler, (12) Butler, (13) Butler, (14) Butler, (15) Butler, (16) Butler, (17) Butler, (18) Butler, (19) Butler, (20) Butler, (21) Butler, (22) Butler, (23) Butler, (24) Butler, (25) Butler, (26) Butler, (27) Butler, (28) Butler, (29) Butler, (30) Butler, (31) Butler, (32) Butler, (33) Butler, (34) Butler, (35) Butler, (36) Butler, (37) Butler, (38) Butler, (39) Butler, (40) Butler, (41) Butler, (42) Butler, (43) Butler, (44) Butler, (45) Butler, (46) Butler, (47) Butler, (48) Butler, (49) Butler, (50) Butler, (51) Butler, (52) Butler, (53) Butler, (54) Butler, (55) Butler, (56) Butler, (57) Butler, (58) Butler, (59) Butler, (60) Butler, (61) Butler, (62) Butler, (63) Butler, (64) Butler, (65) Butler, (66) Butler, (67) Butler, (68) Butler, (69) Butler, (70) Butler, (71) Butler, (72) Butler, (73) Butler, (74) Butler, (75) Butler, (76) Butler, (77) Butler, (78) Butler, (79) Butler, (80) Butler, (81) Butler, (82) Butler, (83) Butler, (84) Butler, (85) Butler, (86) Butler, (87) Butler, (88) Butler, (89) Butler, (90) Butler, (91) Butler, (92) Butler, (93) Butler, (94) Butler, (95) Butler, (96) Butler, (97) Butler, (98) Butler, (99) Butler, (100) Butler, (101) Butler, (102) Butler, (103) Butler, (104) Butler, (105) Butler, (106) Butler, (107) Butler, (108) Butler, (109) Butler, (110) Butler, (111) Butler, (112) Butler, (113) Butler, (114) Butler, (115) Butler, (116) Butler, (117) Butler, (118) Butler, (119) Butler, (120) Butler, (121) Butler, (122) Butler, (123) Butler, (124) Butler, (125) Butler, (126) Butler, (127) Butler, (128) Butler, (129) Butler, (130) Butler, (131) Butler, (132) Butler, (133) Butler, (134) Butler, (135) Butler, (136) Butler, (137) Butler, (138) Butler, (139) Butler, (140) Butler, (141) Butler, (142) Butler, (143) Butler, (144) Butler, (145) Butler, (146) Butler, (147) Butler, (148) Butler, (149) Butler, (150) Butler, (151) Butler, (152) Butler, (153) Butler, (154) Butler, (155) Butler, (156) Butler, (157) Butler, (158) Butler, (159) Butler, (160) Butler, (161) Butler, (162) Butler, (163) Butler, (164) Butler, (165) Butler, (166) Butler, (167) Butler, (168) Butler, (169) Butler, (170) Butler, (171) Butler, (172) Butler, (173) Butler, (174) Butler, (175) Butler, (176) Butler, (177) Butler, (178) Butler, (179) Butler, (180) Butler, (181) Butler, (182) Butler, (183) Butler, (184) Butler, (185) Butler, (186) Butler, (187) Butler, (188) Butler, (189) Butler, (190) Butler, (191) Butler, (192) Butler, (193) Butler, (194) Butler, (195) Butler, (196) Butler, (197) Butler, (198) Butler, (199) Butler, (200) Butler, (201) Butler, (202) Butler, (203) Butler, (204) Butler, (205) Butler, (206) Butler, (207) Butler, (208) Butler, (209) Butler, (210) Butler, (211) Butler, (212) Butler, (213) Butler, (214) Butler, (215) Butler, (216) Butler, (217) Butler, (218) Butler, (219) Butler, (220) Butler, (221) Butler, (222) Butler, (223) Butler, (224) Butler, (225) Butler, (226) Butler, (227) Butler, (228) Butler, (229) Butler, (230) Butler, (231) Butler, (232) Butler, (233) Butler, (234) Butler, (235) Butler, (236) Butler, (237) Butler, (238) Butler, (239) Butler, (240) Butler, (241) Butler, (242) Butler, (243) Butler, (244) Butler, (245) Butler, (246) Butler, (247) Butler, (248) Butler, (249) Butler, (250) Butler, (251) Butler, (252) Butler, (253) Butler, (254) Butler, (255) Butler, (256) Butler, (257) Butler, (258) Butler, (259) Butler, (260) Butler, (261) Butler, (262) Butler, (263) Butler, (264) Butler, (265) Butler, (266) Butler, (267) Butler, (268) Butler, (269) Butler, (270) Butler, (271) Butler, (272) Butler, (273) Butler, (274) Butler, (275) Butler, (276) Butler, (277) Butler, (278) Butler, (279) Butler, (280) Butler, (281) Butler, (282) Butler, (283) Butler, (284) Butler, (285) Butler, (286) Butler, (287) Butler, (288) Butler, (289) Butler, (290) Butler, (291) Butler, (292) Butler, (293) Butler, (294) Butler, (295) Butler, (296) Butler, (297) Butler, (298) Butler, (299) Butler, (300) Butler, (301) Butler, (302) Butler, (303) Butler, (304) Butler, (305) Butler, (306) Butler, (307) Butler, (308) Butler, (309) Butler, (310) Butler, (311) Butler, (312) Butler, (313) Butler, (314) Butler, (315) Butler, (316) Butler, (317) Butler, (318) Butler, (319) Butler, (320) Butler, (321) Butler, (322) Butler, (323) Butler, (324) Butler, (325) Butler, (326) Butler, (327) Butler, (328) Butler, (329) Butler, (330) Butler, (331) Butler, (332) Butler, (333) Butler, (334) Butler, (335) Butler, (336) Butler, (337) Butler, (338) Butler, (339) Butler, (340) Butler, (341) Butler, (342) Butler, (343) Butler, (344) Butler, (345) Butler, (346) Butler, (347) Butler, (348) Butler, (349) Butler, (350) Butler, (351) Butler, (352) Butler, (353) Butler, (354) Butler, (355) Butler, (356) Butler, (357) Butler, (358) Butler, (359) Butler, (360) Butler, (361) Butler, (362) Butler, (363) Butler, (364) Butler, (365) Butler, (366) Butler, (367) Butler, (368) Butler, (369) Butler, (370) Butler, (371) Butler, (372) Butler, (373) Butler, (374) Butler, (375) Butler, (376) Butler, (377) Butler, (378) Butler, (379) Butler, (380) Butler, (381) Butler, (382) Butler, (383) Butler, (384) Butler, (385) Butler, (386) Butler, (387) Butler, (388) Butler, (389) Butler, (390) Butler, (391) Butler, (392) Butler, (393) Butler, (394) Butler, (395) Butler, (396) Butler, (397) Butler, (398) Butler, (399) Butler,

Santa Claus Unites Warm Springs Family

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 22. (UP)—Santa Claus made an early visit tonight to Edith Holt, 80-year-old infirmity patient.

"The finest Christmas gift I could hope to receive," was the way Holt expressed gratitude for the reunion with his wife and son, Gene, 5, who arrived today from their farm near Bloomfield, Iowa.

And Holt had a Christmas gift in the nature of a surprise for his family, too. He showed them that the curative waters at the Warm Springs Foundation had so improved his health that now he can stand erect with the aid of braces and arm supports—a feat he was not able to do when he left his Iowa home four months ago.

The reunion of the Iowa family was arranged through the Warm Springs Foundation, but it was believed Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt instigated it. Without mentioning any names, she recently said in Philadelphia that she would "get that family together at Warm Springs for Christmas."

Mrs. Roosevelt had been impressed, it was said, with Holt's desire to see his family when she was here during the president's Thanksgiving visit.

Mrs. Holt and Gene arrived in Atlanta tonight and were motored immediately to Georgia Hall where Holt was awaiting them.

Hijackers' Efforts Directed at Produce

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—(UP)—A $100,000 ring of hijackers, believed uncovered here today with the arrest of eight men who allegedly turned to farm produce for their profits after repeal of the prohibition law.

Revenue in the "latter racket" comes from butter, lard or stock-laden trucks en route to the Chicago market from farms in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. The cargoes are so valuable as to make the hijacking highly profitable. Police found it has attracted a well-organized gang.

The eight prisoners already in custody will be turned over to the federal government for prosecution under interstate commerce laws, it was announced tonight.

Usual procedure of the gang has been to kidnap the truck driver, driving him blindfolded about the city while he confederates took the cargo to "fence." The driver then was released and the truck later found abandoned.

$266,921 SCHOLARSHIP GIVEN BY HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 22.—(UP)—Harvard College gave undergraduates financial aid totaling $266,921 during the past year, it was announced tonight.

The figure, which excludes earnings in jobs provided by the student employment office, is about $10,000 less than in the previous academic year. The decrease was attributed largely to shrinkage in scholarship incomes, beneficiary aid funds and a decreased demand for loans.

Undergraduates, college authorities believe, are borrowing less because they realize it is more difficult under present conditions, to obtain jobs after graduation, and it therefore would be more difficult to repay loans of any considerable size.

TOYS
MURPHY'S ARMY STORE
700 N. W. 10th St.

Mother's Patience Breaking Wall Around Sleeping Girl

With a mother's understanding, Mrs. Miley, has aroused the "sleeping beauty" to the point where the girl responds to written instruction.

PATRICIA MAGUIRE

By BRUCE GRANT.

Central Press Correspondent.
CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Where science has failed a mother in winning her daughter's attention, Mrs. Miley, an unassuming woman, has succeeded in winning the attention of her daughter, Patricia Maguire, out of a three-year sleep.

With a mother's understanding, which confounds physicians, Mrs. Miley has aroused the 29-year-old "sleeping beauty" of Oak Park, Chicago suburb, to the point where the girl responds to written instructions.

Just how this was accomplished is what your correspondent set out to learn. And, expecting to be floored by some intellectually deep and complicated system, the writer was stunned by the naive simplicity of Mrs. Miley's methods.

Treated as Baby.

The mother explained: "I have just treated her as I did when she was a baby. I saw her lying there, alive, breathing, eating, smiling and now and then fluttering her eyelids—but unable to speak or move. It took me a long time to realize that she was just a little baby again. She had to begin like a baby to speak, read and move properly. I thought, 'I began writing the alphabet and explaining the letters to her. Then I wrote out words and signified their meaning by touching objects. She lay there, eyes open, and would smile now and then, making me understand that she was learning what I was trying to teach her. I taught her the most simple things. For instance, I would write 'Raise your finger.'"

A demonstration.

Mrs. Miley walked over to the bed where Patricia, a healthy-looking, pretty girl, lay, and wrote on a scratch pad: "Smile for the gentleman."

Patricia drew back her lips, showing her teeth in a semblance of a smile! Just as would a baby whose mother says to it, "Smile for the gentleman."

It caused a queer feeling in one to sit there and realize that before this young woman sank into her sleep on February 15, 1932, she was an alert, brilliant secretary for the Chicago office of a national magazine.

Patricia has had medical men mystified, as hers is the only case of sleeping sickness to persist for so long a time without response to any kind of treatment. Blood transfusions have been tried. Electrical treatments, massages of every kind, inoculations of blood from recovered encephalitis victims and other serums and medicines have all had their turn in the treatment of the girl.

A Mother's Way.

While physicians have come and gone, some empirics, some learned men, Mrs. Miley has carried out her own system, following only maternal instinct.

Mrs. Miley remarked, with a sigh: "Yes, Patricia is like a baby again to me—except she is far slower than any normal baby. Patricia may not like this, but even now she is much slower to learn than she was as a baby."

"Anyway, in time I believe that I shall be able to teach her to walk and to talk and to feed herself. Since about a month ago, when she first responded to my written instruction to raise her finger, I have gradually increased the number of things for her to do and I intend to keep on. I certainly hope that I shall be able to teach her to talk. It may be that the brain center which controls that is clearing at last. It has been so slow to react that I can do no more than simply hope that this is the beginning of recovery."

Family Comes and Goes.

Meanwhile Patricia Maguire is just as much a member of the family circle as she ever was. Her room on the first floor of the modest family home at 523 S. Clarence street, Oak Park, is open always to her relatives. They go in and out, carry on their private conversations much as if she were taking part.

Her day is by no means a dull one, even if she is not aware of her entire progress. In the morning she is aroused, bathed and massaged and given a breakfast which she swallows without any difficulty, since it is replete with liquids and semi-solids.

From then her untiring mother goes through a vigorous routine of exercise, attending Patricia's positions from prone to sitting and from side to side. Mrs. Miley gives her four or five meals a day, including the cooling drinks which break the morning and the afternoon.

When afternoon comes, Patricia is taken from her bed and propped up in her window in a comfortable chair. While she is thus far shown no interest in the activity in the street, her mother believes that she enjoys being taken from the bed she has occupied for so long.

Gains 40 Pounds.

Patricia has gained nearly 40 pounds during her illness, increasing from 128 to about 168, her mother estimated. In fact, the gain was so great that her diet of a quart of milk and a quart of cream a day has been greatly reduced.

A year ago Mrs. Gladys Hansen, Patricia's sister, who does her share in taking care of the girl, told the writer:

"For a time I was glad she was asleep. During a whole year I thought how nice it would have been for anyone to have been asleep—times were so terrible. But now we wish she would awake—times are becoming good again."

Alexandria Ministers Rap Ouster of Mayor

ALEXANDRIA, La., Dec. 22.—(UP) Another fiery blast against the ouster of Alexandria's mayor and councilmen by the state legislature on a charge of "lawlessness" was issued here tonight by the city's ministers.

Dr. J. R. Keeling, pastor of the First Christian church, in a formal statement declared he was "markedly improved" in the moral conditions in Alexandria since C. O. Malley took over direction of the city's police through appointment of the legislature.

The fifth issued by ministers denying charges made in the legislature that "Alexandria is a lawless city" for its lawlessness.

"Alexandria is as clean a city as I have ever lived in. I am satisfied with the mayor and councilmen. The law is being enforced as well or better in this city as in any other city."

"I have had contact with the chief of police and I find him a gentleman of high character. The marked improvement in the moral conditions of Alexandria since he has been head of the department."

Keeling assured his flock that "rotten eggs" during a political speech here a year ago. His enemies attribute the ouster to that incident.

MORE HOME WORK FOR WIVES URGED FOR HARMONY

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22.—(UP)—A widely known economist dared to infer today that more work for housewives would be a good thing.

Dr. Ralph Borsodi, of Suffern, N. Y., advocated more home-work as an important feature of his plan to improve the national standard of living.

Although numerous members of the City Club expressed masculine doubts, Dr. Borsodi assured his listeners that the "emancipation of women" is mostly "so-called."

Some women have succeeded in passing a part of their work to other women, such as those working in laundries, but that's not a gain for women in general," he said.

In the opinion of Dr. Borsodi, families should be as nearly self-sufficient as possible, the housewives doing most of the cooking, dress-making and laundry work, and the husbands repairing the shoes and keeping truck gardens.

This home-work, he said, would supplement the man's regular employment, which would be industrial or agricultural in nature, also would center at the home instead of in some factory.

Some parts of many industries should be decentralized in this manner, Dr. Borsodi said, and at least a third of the people now living in cities should move to country homesteads where they would carry on with the aid of electrical power.

DIVER SEEKS BODY OF MRS. SCHAFFNER
CARMEL, Cal., Dec. 22.—(UP)—The body of Mrs. Elliot Bots Schaaffner was sought by a diver under the waters of Carmel bay today while her husband, Joseph H. Schaaffner, Chicago clothing manufacturer, waited anxiously for reports.

Diver Oscar Lager started the underwater search yesterday along submerged reefs and beds of kelp.

A blue bedroom slipper found at the water's edge and identified as Mrs. Schaaffner's, led authorities to believe she walked into the bay after wandering from her home early Tuesday.

TOBACCO CONTROL ACT ATTACKED IN N.C. COURT
GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 22.—(UP)—A court fight against the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, approved overwhelmingly in the referendum of tobacco growers, was launched here today.

The Piedmont Tobacco Non-Tax Association petitioned in federal court for an injunction restraining the collector of internal revenue from imposing the 25 per cent tax now in effect on non-signers under the act.

The petition contends the act is unconstitutional in imposing a tax for purposes other than raising revenue.

The association bringing the suit is composed largely of farmers in Forsyth and Davidson counties.

CAPITOL VIEW PUPILS PREPARE FOR SEASON
This week our school has been busy preparing for Christmas. Besides making our rooms look pretty, and getting presents ready for our mothers and daddies, each grade has had a Christmas party Thursday morning. Many of our parents came, and we had a good time with Christmas programs and distributing presents.

High 5 especially enjoyed reading Dickens' "Christmas Carol." They dramatized the "Gracilis Christmas dinner." The High 6 children read and liked Henry Van Dyke's story, "The Other Wise Man."

Low 4 sang Christmas carols with Bill Aracat at the piano, and Lamar Poole playing the violin.

Five children of Low 1 visited Mr. Sutton and asked him to name their farm. He told them to name it "Dorothy farm," after his old home. He told the children stories of his sheep and chickens.

We wish everybody a merry Christmas and happy New Year.

BRIS HUTCHESON.

GORDON PUPILS GIVEN CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON
Low 1-1 are spending this week in fixing for a party.

Low 1-2 will be given a Christmas luncheon on Wednesday. They are learning a new Christmas story every day.

Low 2 are decorating their Christmas tree for Christmas.

Low 5-1 have been making and painting Christmas cards for their mothers and fathers.

Low 6-2 will have a Christmas tree Thursday.

Low 6 are entertaining their mothers at a Christmas party Thursday.

JUANITA NABERS, JESSE BRESIDINE.

News of Interest From Atlanta's Public Schools

BASS HOLDS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Christmas is about here and Bass held its annual Yuletide program last Thursday, under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Barnett. The program was well organized. First, there was presented a monologue by Stuart Eason, entitled, "Easy Christmas Shopping." This was followed by an interesting play presented by Mae West, Rita Santry, Margaret Dodge, Carlotta Phillips, John Kernan, Carol Sands, Mary Sue Heldmann, Frances Muse and Ben Kramer. There was also a reading by Loree Bartlett. The theme of the program was the happiness that comes as a result of unselfish service in the making of a blessed Christmas season.

In the Bass Junior High auditorium, on December 18, a large and appreciative audience witnessed a beautiful and elaborate dance by 285 girls under the supervision of Miss Helen Mapp. Rita Santry was queen this year.

CALHOUN SCENE SHOWS MEDIEVAL CHRISTMAS

All of the classes of Calhoun had brightly decorated Christmas trees and interesting Christmas programs.

The Lions' Club gave the Braille class a Christmas tree Tuesday in the Dixie ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel.

John Hays, of the low sight conservation class, won the contest for the best work for the last two weeks. Clifton Hume drew a picture of the story of the Wise Men for the blackboard.

CONCERT PRESENTED FOR MADDOX PARENTS

Everyone enjoyed the assembly Thursday. There was a special Christmas program presented by the pupils. These cards were greetings to the parents or guardians of the pupils. Those receiving the cards were passing in even.

MILTON CLASS MAKES ARBOR DAY BOOKS

The happy Christmas season is here and we love the spirit and gaiety of this lovely time of the year. We are thinking of the real meaning of Christmas and the spirit of giving as we expect for ourselves.

INMAN CHILDREN ENJOY JUNIOR LEAGUE SHOW

S. M. Inman school was very much pleased when the Junior League presented a Marionette show at the school on Thursday, December 13.

GEORGIA AVENUE HAS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

High 6 presented a Christmas play, "The Visit of the Wise Men." The play represented the different periods in history. The first period represented the ancient nations laying typical gifts before the cradle of the King.

TENTH SCHOOL PUPILS FIX CHRISTMAS TREES

High 6 are busy reviewing the work done the past few months. They are enjoying the study of the Crusades.

FORMWALT ENTERTAINS MOTHERS WITH PARTY

We are so happy to have Mrs. Stegall and Miss Tucker back with us. We missed them so much and are glad they are at Formwalt again.

TOBACCO CONTROL ACT ATTACKED IN N.C. COURT

GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 22.—(UP)—A court fight against the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, approved overwhelmingly in the referendum of tobacco growers, was launched here today.

CAPITOL VIEW PUPILS PREPARE FOR SEASON

This week our school has been busy preparing for Christmas. Besides making our rooms look pretty, and getting presents ready for our mothers and daddies, each grade has had a Christmas party Thursday morning.

GORDON PUPILS GIVEN CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

Low 1-1 are spending this week in fixing for a party.

TOBACCO CONTROL ACT ATTACKED IN N.C. COURT

GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 22.—(UP)—A court fight against the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, approved overwhelmingly in the referendum of tobacco growers, was launched here today.

CAPITOL VIEW PUPILS PREPARE FOR SEASON

This week our school has been busy preparing for Christmas. Besides making our rooms look pretty, and getting presents ready for our mothers and daddies, each grade has had a Christmas party Thursday morning.

GORDON PUPILS GIVEN CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

Low 1-1 are spending this week in fixing for a party.

TOBACCO CONTROL ACT ATTACKED IN N.C. COURT

GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 22.—(UP)—A court fight against the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, approved overwhelmingly in the referendum of tobacco growers, was launched here today.

CAPITOL VIEW PUPILS PREPARE FOR SEASON

This week our school has been busy preparing for Christmas. Besides making our rooms look pretty, and getting presents ready for our mothers and daddies, each grade has had a Christmas party Thursday morning.

GORDON PUPILS GIVEN CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

Low 1-1 are spending this week in fixing for a party.

News of Interest From Atlanta's Public Schools

Christmas at Tenth School

First grade children of Tenth Street school are shown as they appeared in a Christmas assembly program at the school last week. They are, left to right, Charles Gielow, Charles Bottoms, Jane Macrae and Phyllis Anderson. Photo by George Cornett, staff photographer.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low and High Kindergarten had a play in Hooper Hall, Jumping Jacks Santa Claus, reindeer and many other characters visited a little sick girl to give Christmas cheer. The costumes were very attractive.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 1 have made their Christmas stockings and have hung them up. On their stand table they have the story of the "Three Wise Men."

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

High 3 have made lots of Christmas boxes for their mothers' presents. They also have a large hornet's nest which one of the children brought.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 4-1 are glad to have a new pupil, Robert Chisnell, from Georgia Avenue school. They are very sorry to lose Rosalyn Kirby.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

Low 6-1 won the bank banner last week. This was the first time they had won it but not the last.

PEEPLER'S FIRST GRADE SHOW MANGER SCENE

GIRLS' HIGH CLASSES STUDY VOCABULARIES

Recently Girls' High observed Vocabulary Week. A test was given to all English classes and the results are as follows: Freshmen on the honor roll are numbered 11, who made 89 per cent; 10 who made above 80 per cent, and one who made 100 per cent; juniors numbered 21 who made over 90 per cent, and three who made 100 per cent; seniors numbered 19 who made above 90 per cent and three who made 100 per cent.

Each of the seven celebrities of Girls' High gave her choice of attractive words, and each student of Girls' High seemed to realize that words are useful things. Wilson's remarkable vocabulary of 62,240 words has been admired greatly by all of Girls' High.

Girls' High has been truly haunted by the Christmas spirit! After her highly successful Christmas entertainment at the auditorium-annex, Thursday, December 20, she gaily went her way to the holidays.

However, she will return to a very few days' work of the semester, ending January 25. Hard work is necessary to satisfactorily enter a new semester, and G. H. S. realizes it thoroughly. ALICE CHEESEMAN.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

Two plays, "Station XXIV," and the "Ghost Hunter," were presented at Murphy, Wednesday night, December 19, under the direction of Miss Stubbs. The Murphy students also gave a Christmas program Thursday at an assembly. This was directed by Miss Bennett.

The Murphy P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon for its last meeting of 1934. Mrs. J. H. Harris, program chairman, made the occasion an enjoyable one.

MURPHY HAS CONTEST FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

The ninth grades of Murphy Junior High held a contest in public speaking, December 17, which was sponsored by Miss Catherine Baker. The contestants were Sara Jane Camp, Charles McGraw, Virginia James, Martha Miller, Geraldine Gunter, Don Barber, Harold Hamilton and Sammy Van Dyke.

The prizes will be awarded at the January graduation exercises. Miss Stokes, Miss Wood and Mr. Jenkins acted as judges. The contests of the seventh and eighth grades will be held in the near future.

STOCKS

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1934, Standard Statistics Co.)

Index (in 100's) Div. High Low Close Chg.

S&P 500 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Industrial 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Commercial 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Transportation 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Utilities 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Foreign 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Bonds 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Commodities 100.00 100.00 100.00 100.00 0.00

Dow-Jones Averages.

By THE UNITED PRESS.

Stocks	Open	High	Low	Close	Chg.
30 Ind.	99.97	100.27	99.44	99.73	-0.17
20 Rail	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	0.00
20 Util.	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	0.00
10 Bonds	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	0.00
10 Foreign	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	0.00
10 Commodities	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	0.00

By FREDERICK GARDNER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Securities markets drifted through a quiet week-end session today, while principal commodity prices were about steady. A flurry of trading in the shares of Radio Corporation of America in afternoon to last night's announcement that the directors had decided against any recapitalization at this time, evened an otherwise listless session in shares. The utilities were depressed a little more in spots, but Consolidated Gas week future earlier, the week held its ground.

Moderate firmness in sterling marked a quiet session in foreign exchange markets, and dealers were about steady. A rally in corn was conspicuous in grains. That staple moved up 3-4 to 1-1/2 cents a bushel, which reduced the net loss for the week to 1-3/8 to 1-7/8 cents a bushel. Wheat gained 3-8 to 3-4 of a cent, leaving prices 1-2 to 2 cents under the final levels of last session. Cotton in New York closed 15 to 45 cents a bale higher, making net gains for the week of 20 to 75 cents.

The action of the stock market left the Standard Statistics Company's price average of 90 shares barely changed. Closing at 71.7, it was off 0.1 of a point. The 20 utilities taken along, however, dipped 0.4 to 48.2, a new low for the depression. Three weeks ago this average slid under the bear market bottom of the summer of 1932, which was 51.8. Industrials and rails, however, are above those levels. At 71.7 the average of 90 stocks showed a loss for the week of 0.9.

Sales for the two-hour session in the stock exchange were 404,000 shares compared with 404,000 the previous Saturday. Bonds, like stocks, lost ground for the week. The Standard Statistics Company price average of 60 closed at 85.6, off 0.6 from a week ago.

Radio preferred B dropped nearly five points to 37, which virtually cancelled the rise which took place since first rumors were heard that directors were considering the possibilities of a reorganization of the company and accumulated dividends on the preferred issues.

Brokers' Views

FENNER & BEANE—We believe that accumulation of stocks is warranted by prospects of falling prices as the presence of tax liability after the year end.

ABEY—The market is showing a moderate recovery in tone Monday morning. A favorable indication for the post-holiday market.

STOCK OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—Sentiment appears to be strongly bullish and the market is likely to advance further. We believe that the market is showing a moderate recovery in tone Monday morning. A favorable indication for the post-holiday market.

COFFEE OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—Sentiment appears to be strongly bullish and the market is likely to advance further. We believe that the market is showing a moderate recovery in tone Monday morning. A favorable indication for the post-holiday market.

Produce

ATLANTA.—Wholesale market quotations in Georgia farm products received at the state bureau of markets are as follows:

Eggs. extra fresh, white, 30c; standard, 28c; extra, 32c; standard, 30c; extra, 34c; standard, 32c; extra, 36c; standard, 34c; extra, 38c; standard, 36c; extra, 40c; standard, 38c; extra, 42c; standard, 40c; extra, 44c; standard, 42c; extra, 46c; standard, 44c; extra, 48c; standard, 46c; extra, 50c; standard, 48c; extra, 52c; standard, 50c; extra, 54c; standard, 52c; extra, 56c; standard, 54c; extra, 58c; standard, 56c; extra, 60c; standard, 58c; extra, 62c; standard, 60c; extra, 64c; standard, 62c; extra, 66c; standard, 64c; extra, 68c; standard, 66c; extra, 70c; standard, 68c; extra, 72c; standard, 70c; extra, 74c; standard, 72c; extra, 76c; standard, 74c; extra, 78c; standard, 76c; extra, 80c; standard, 78c; extra, 82c; standard, 80c; extra, 84c; standard, 82c; extra, 86c; standard, 84c; extra, 88c; standard, 86c; extra, 90c; standard, 88c; extra, 92c; standard, 90c; extra, 94c; standard, 92c; extra, 96c; standard, 94c; extra, 98c; standard, 96c; extra, 100c; standard, 98c; extra, 102c; standard, 100c; extra, 104c; standard, 102c; extra, 106c; standard, 104c; extra, 108c; standard, 106c; extra, 110c; standard, 108c; extra, 112c; standard, 110c; extra, 114c; standard, 112c; extra, 116c; standard, 114c; extra, 118c; standard, 116c; extra, 120c; standard, 118c; extra, 122c; standard, 120c; extra, 124c; standard, 122c; extra, 126c; standard, 124c; extra, 128c; standard, 126c; extra, 130c; standard, 128c; extra, 132c; standard, 130c; extra, 134c; standard, 132c; extra, 136c; standard, 134c; extra, 138c; standard, 136c; extra, 140c; standard, 138c; extra, 142c; standard, 140c; extra, 144c; standard, 142c; extra, 146c; standard, 144c; extra, 148c; standard, 146c; extra, 150c; standard, 148c; extra, 152c; standard, 150c; extra, 154c; standard, 152c; extra, 156c; standard, 154c; extra, 158c; standard, 156c; extra, 160c; standard, 158c; extra, 162c; standard, 160c; extra, 164c; standard, 162c; extra, 166c; standard, 164c; extra, 168c; standard, 166c; extra, 170c; standard, 168c; extra, 172c; standard, 170c; extra, 174c; standard, 172c; extra, 176c; standard, 174c; extra, 178c; standard, 176c; extra, 180c; standard, 178c; extra, 182c; standard, 180c; extra, 184c; standard, 182c; extra, 186c; standard, 184c; extra, 188c; standard, 186c; extra, 190c; standard, 188c; extra, 192c; standard, 190c; extra, 194c; standard, 192c; extra, 196c; standard, 194c; extra, 198c; standard, 196c; extra, 200c; standard, 198c; extra, 202c; standard, 200c; extra, 204c; standard, 202c; extra, 206c; standard, 204c; extra, 208c; standard, 206c; extra, 210c; standard, 208c; extra, 212c; standard, 210c; extra, 214c; standard, 212c; extra, 216c; standard, 214c; extra, 218c; standard, 216c; extra, 220c; standard, 218c; extra, 222c; standard, 220c; extra, 224c; standard, 222c; extra, 226c; standard, 224c; extra, 228c; standard, 226c; extra, 230c; standard, 228c; extra, 232c; standard, 230c; extra, 234c; standard, 232c; extra, 236c; standard, 234c; extra, 238c; standard, 236c; extra, 240c; standard, 238c; extra, 242c; standard, 240c; extra, 244c; standard, 242c; extra, 246c; standard, 244c; extra, 248c; standard, 246c; extra, 250c; standard, 248c; extra, 252c; standard, 250c; extra, 254c; standard, 252c; extra, 256c; standard, 254c; extra, 258c; standard, 256c; extra, 260c; standard, 258c; extra, 262c; standard, 260c; extra, 264c; standard, 262c; extra, 266c; standard, 264c; extra, 268c; standard, 266c; extra, 270c; standard, 268c; extra, 272c; standard, 270c; extra, 274c; standard, 272c; extra, 276c; standard, 274c; extra, 278c; standard, 276c; extra, 280c; standard, 278c; extra, 282c; standard, 280c; extra, 284c; standard, 282c; extra, 286c; standard, 284c; extra, 288c; standard, 286c; extra, 290c; standard, 288c; extra, 292c; standard, 290c; extra, 294c; standard, 292c; extra, 296c; standard, 294c; extra, 298c; standard, 296c; extra, 300c; standard, 298c; extra, 302c; standard, 300c; extra, 304c; standard, 302c; extra, 306c; standard, 304c; extra, 308c; standard, 306c; extra, 310c; standard, 308c; extra, 312c; standard, 310c; extra, 314c; standard, 312c; extra, 316c; standard, 314c; extra, 318c; standard, 316c; extra, 320c; standard, 318c; extra, 322c; standard, 320c; extra, 324c; standard, 322c; extra, 326c; standard, 324c; extra, 328c; standard, 326c; extra, 330c; standard, 328c; extra, 332c; standard, 330c; extra, 334c; standard, 332c; extra, 336c; standard, 334c; extra, 338c; standard, 336c; extra, 340c; standard, 338c; extra, 342c; standard, 340c; extra, 344c; standard, 342c; extra, 346c; standard, 344c; extra, 348c; standard, 346c; extra, 350c; standard, 348c; extra, 352c; standard, 350c; extra, 354c; standard, 352c; extra, 356c; standard, 354c; extra, 358c; standard, 356c; extra, 360c; standard, 358c; extra, 362c; standard, 360c; extra, 364c; standard, 362c; extra, 366c; standard, 364c; extra, 368c; standard, 366c; extra, 370c; standard, 368c; extra, 372c; standard, 370c; extra, 374c; standard, 372c; extra, 376c; standard, 374c; extra, 378c; standard, 376c; extra, 380c; standard, 378c; extra, 382c; standard, 380c; extra, 384c; standard, 382c; extra, 386c; standard, 384c; extra, 388c; standard, 386c; extra, 390c; standard, 388c; extra, 392c; standard, 390c; extra, 394c; standard, 392c; extra, 396c; standard, 394c; extra, 398c; standard, 396c; extra, 400c; standard, 398c; extra, 402c; standard, 400c; extra, 404c; standard, 402c; extra, 406c; standard, 404c; extra, 408c; standard, 406c; extra, 410c; standard, 408c; extra, 412c; standard, 410c; extra, 414c; standard, 412c; extra, 416c; standard, 414c; extra, 418c; standard, 416c; extra, 420c; standard, 418c; extra, 422c; standard, 420c; extra, 424c; standard, 422c; extra, 426c; standard, 424c; extra, 428c; standard, 426c; extra, 430c; standard, 428c; extra, 432c; standard, 430c; extra, 434c; standard, 432c; extra, 436c; standard, 434c; extra, 438c; standard, 436c; extra, 440c; standard, 438c; extra, 442c; standard, 440c; extra, 444c; standard, 442c; extra, 446c; standard, 444c; extra, 448c; standard, 446c; extra, 450c; standard, 448c; extra, 452c; standard, 450c; extra, 454c; standard, 452c; extra, 456c; standard, 454c; extra, 458c; standard, 456c; extra, 460c; standard, 458c; extra, 462c; standard, 460c; extra, 464c; standard, 462c; extra, 466c; standard, 464c; extra, 468c; standard, 466c; extra, 470c; standard, 468c; extra, 472c; standard, 470c; extra, 474c; standard, 472c; extra, 476c; standard, 474c; extra, 478c; standard, 476c; extra, 480c; standard, 478c; extra, 482c; standard, 480c; extra, 484c; standard, 482c; extra, 486c; standard, 484c; extra, 488c; standard, 486c; extra, 490c; standard, 488c; extra, 492c; standard, 490c; extra, 494c; standard, 492c; extra, 496c; standard, 494c; extra, 498c; standard, 496c; extra, 500c; standard, 498c; extra, 502c; standard, 500c; extra, 504c; standard, 502c; extra, 506c; standard, 504c; extra, 508c; standard, 506c; extra, 510c; standard, 508c; extra, 512c; standard, 510c; extra, 514c; standard, 512c; extra, 516c; standard, 514c; extra, 518c; standard, 516c; extra, 520c; standard, 518c; extra, 522c; standard, 520c; extra, 524c; standard, 522c; extra, 526c; standard, 524c; extra, 528c; standard, 526c; extra, 530c; standard, 528c; extra, 532c; standard, 530c; extra, 534c; standard, 532c; extra, 536c; standard, 534c; extra, 538c; standard, 536c; extra, 540c; standard, 538c; extra, 542c; standard, 540c; extra, 544c; standard, 542c; extra, 546c; standard, 544c; extra, 548c; standard, 546c; extra, 550c; standard, 548c; extra, 552c; standard, 550c; extra, 554c; standard, 552c; extra, 556c; standard, 554c; extra, 558c; standard, 556c; extra, 560c; standard, 558c; extra, 562c; standard, 560c; extra, 564c; standard, 562c; extra, 566c; standard, 564c; extra, 568c; standard, 566c; extra, 570c; standard, 568c; extra, 572c; standard, 570c; extra, 574c; standard, 572c; extra, 576c; standard, 574c; extra, 578c; standard, 576c; extra, 580c; standard, 578c; extra, 582c; standard, 580c; extra, 584c; standard, 582c; extra, 586c; standard, 584c; extra, 588c; standard, 586c; extra, 590c; standard, 588c; extra, 592c; standard, 590c; extra, 594c; standard, 592c; extra, 596c; standard, 594c; extra, 598c; standard, 596c; extra, 600c; standard, 598c; extra, 602c; standard, 600c; extra, 604c; standard, 602c; extra, 606c; standard, 604c; extra, 608c; standard, 606c; extra, 610c; standard, 608c; extra, 612c; standard, 610c; extra, 614c; standard, 612c; extra, 616c; standard, 614c; extra, 618c; standard, 616c; extra, 620c; standard, 618c; extra, 622c; standard, 620c; extra, 624c; standard, 622c; extra, 626c; standard, 624c; extra, 628c; standard, 626c; extra, 630c; standard, 628c; extra, 632c; standard, 630c; extra, 634c; standard, 632c; extra, 636c; standard, 634c; extra, 638c; standard, 636c; extra, 640c; standard, 638c; extra, 642c; standard, 640c; extra, 644c; standard, 642c; extra, 646c; standard, 644c; extra, 648c; standard, 646c; extra, 650c; standard, 648c; extra, 652c; standard, 650c; extra, 654c; standard, 652c; extra, 656c; standard, 654c; extra, 658c; standard, 656c; extra, 660c; standard, 658c; extra, 662c; standard, 660c; extra, 664c; standard, 662c; extra, 666c; standard, 664c; extra, 668c; standard, 666c; extra, 670c; standard, 668c; extra, 672c; standard, 670c; extra, 674c; standard, 672c; extra, 676c; standard, 674c; extra, 678c; standard, 676c; extra, 680c; standard, 678c; extra, 682c; standard, 680c; extra, 684c; standard, 682c; extra, 686c; standard, 684c; extra, 688c; standard, 686c; extra, 690c; standard, 688c; extra, 692c; standard, 690c; extra, 694c; standard, 692c; extra, 696c; standard, 694c; extra, 698c; standard, 696c; extra, 700c; standard, 698c; extra, 702c; standard, 700c; extra, 704c; standard, 702c; extra, 706c; standard, 704c; extra, 708c; standard, 706c; extra, 710c; standard, 708c; extra, 712c; standard, 710c; extra, 714c; standard, 712c; extra, 716c; standard, 714c; extra, 718c; standard, 716c; extra, 720c; standard, 718c; extra, 722c; standard, 720c; extra, 724c; standard, 722c; extra, 726c; standard, 724c; extra, 728c; standard, 726c; extra, 730c; standard, 728c; extra, 732c; standard, 730c; extra, 734c; standard, 732c; extra, 736c; standard, 734c; extra, 738c; standard, 736c; extra, 740c; standard, 738c; extra, 742c; standard, 740c; extra, 744c; standard, 742c; extra, 746c; standard, 744c; extra, 748c; standard, 746c; extra, 750c; standard, 748c; extra, 752c; standard, 750c; extra, 754c; standard, 752c; extra, 756c; standard, 754c; extra, 758c; standard, 756c; extra, 760c; standard, 758c; extra, 762c; standard, 760c; extra, 764c; standard, 762c; extra, 766c; standard, 764c; extra, 768c; standard, 766c; extra, 770c; standard, 768c; extra, 772c; standard, 770c; extra, 774c; standard, 772c; extra, 776c; standard, 774c; extra, 778c; standard, 776c; extra, 780c; standard, 778c; extra, 782c; standard, 780c; extra, 784c; standard, 782c; extra, 786c; standard, 784c; extra, 788c; standard, 786c; extra, 790c; standard, 788c; extra, 792c; standard, 790c; extra, 794c; standard, 792c; extra, 796c; standard, 794c; extra, 798c; standard, 796c; extra, 800c; standard, 798c; extra, 802c; standard, 800c; extra, 804c; standard, 802c; extra, 806c; standard, 804c; extra, 808c; standard, 806c; extra, 810c; standard, 808c; extra, 812c; standard, 810c; extra, 814c; standard, 812c; extra, 816c; standard, 814c; extra, 818c; standard, 816c; extra, 820c; standard, 818c; extra, 822c; standard, 820c; extra, 824c; standard, 822c; extra, 826c; standard, 824c; extra, 828c; standard, 826c; extra, 830c; standard, 828c; extra, 832c; standard, 830c; extra, 834c; standard, 832c; extra, 836c; standard, 834c; extra, 838c; standard, 836c; extra, 840c; standard, 838c; extra, 842c; standard, 840c; extra, 844c; standard, 842c; extra, 846c; standard, 844c; extra, 848c; standard, 846c; extra, 850c; standard, 848c; extra, 852c; standard, 850c; extra, 854c; standard, 852c; extra, 856c; standard, 854c; extra, 858c; standard, 856c; extra, 860c; standard, 858c; extra, 862c; standard, 860c; extra, 864c; standard, 862c; extra, 866c; standard, 864c; extra, 868c; standard, 866c; extra, 870c; standard, 868c; extra, 872c; standard, 870c; extra, 874c; standard, 872c; extra, 876c; standard, 874c; extra, 878c; standard, 876c; extra, 880c; standard, 878c; extra, 882c; standard, 880c; extra, 884c; standard, 882c; extra, 886c; standard, 884c; extra, 888c; standard, 886c; extra, 890c; standard, 888c; extra, 892c; standard, 890c; extra, 894c; standard, 892c; extra, 896c; standard, 894c; extra, 898c; standard, 896c; extra, 900c; standard, 898c; extra, 902c; standard, 900c; extra, 904c; standard, 902c; extra, 906c; standard, 904c; extra, 908c; standard, 906c; extra, 910c; standard, 908c; extra, 912c; standard, 910c; extra, 914c; standard, 912c; extra, 916c; standard, 914c; extra, 918c; standard, 916c; extra, 920c; standard, 918c; extra, 922c; standard, 920c; extra, 924c; standard, 922c; extra, 926c; standard, 924c; extra, 928c; standard, 926c; extra, 930c; standard, 928c; extra, 932c; standard, 930c; extra, 934c; standard, 932c; extra, 936c; standard, 934c; extra, 938c; standard, 936c; extra, 940c; standard, 938c; extra, 942c; standard, 940c; extra, 944c; standard, 942c; extra, 946c; standard, 944c; extra, 948c; standard, 946c; extra, 950c; standard, 948c; extra, 952c; standard, 950c; extra, 954c; standard, 952c; extra, 956c; standard, 954c; extra, 958c; standard, 956c; extra, 960c; standard, 958c; extra, 962c; standard, 960c; extra, 964c; standard, 962c; extra, 966c; standard, 964c; extra, 968c; standard, 966c; extra, 970c; standard, 968c; extra, 972c; standard, 970c; extra, 974c; standard, 972c; extra, 976c; standard, 974c; extra, 978c; standard, 976c; extra, 980c; standard, 978c; extra, 982c; standard, 980c; extra, 984c; standard, 982c; extra, 986c; standard, 984c; extra, 988c; standard, 986c; extra, 990c; standard, 988c; extra, 992c; standard, 990c; extra, 994c; standard, 992c; extra, 996c; standard, 994c; extra, 998c; standard, 996c; extra, 1000c; standard, 998c; extra, 1002c; standard, 1000c; extra, 1004c; standard, 1002c; extra, 1006c; standard, 1004c; extra, 1008c; standard, 1006c; extra, 1010c; standard, 1008c; extra, 1012c; standard, 1010c; extra, 1014c; standard, 1012c; extra, 1016c; standard, 1014c; extra, 1018c; standard, 1016c; extra, 1020c; standard, 1018c; extra, 1022c; standard, 1020c; extra, 1024c; standard, 1022c; extra, 1026c; standard, 1024c; extra, 1028c; standard, 1026c; extra, 1030c; standard, 1028c; extra, 1032c; standard, 1030c; extra, 1034c; standard, 1032c; extra, 1036c; standard, 1034c; extra, 1038c; standard, 1036c; extra, 1040c; standard, 1038c; extra, 1042c; standard, 1040c; extra, 1044c; standard, 1042c; extra, 1046c; standard, 1044c; extra, 1048c; standard, 1046c; extra, 1050c; standard, 1048c; extra, 1052c; standard, 1050c; extra, 1054c; standard, 1052c; extra, 1056c; standard, 1054c; extra, 1058c; standard, 1056c; extra, 1060c; standard, 1058c; extra, 1062c; standard, 1060c; extra, 1064c; standard, 1062c; extra, 1066c; standard, 1064c; extra, 1068c; standard, 1066c; extra, 1070c; standard, 1068c; extra, 1072c; standard, 1070c; extra, 1074c; standard, 1072c; extra, 1076c; standard, 1074c; extra, 1078c; standard, 1076c; extra, 1080c; standard, 1078c; extra, 1082c; standard, 1080c; extra, 1084c; standard, 1082c; extra, 1086c; standard, 1084c; extra, 1088c; standard, 1086c; extra, 1090c; standard, 1088c; extra, 1092c; standard, 1090c; extra, 1094c; standard, 1092c; extra, 1096c; standard, 1094c; extra, 1098c; standard, 1096c; extra, 1100c; standard, 1098c; extra, 1102c; standard, 1100c; extra, 1104c; standard, 1102c; extra, 1106c; standard, 1104c; extra, 1108c; standard, 1106c; extra, 1110c; standard, 1108c; extra, 1112c; standard, 1110c; extra, 1114c; standard, 1112c; extra, 1116c; standard, 1114c; extra, 1118c; standard, 1116c; extra, 1120c; standard, 1118c; extra, 1122c; standard, 1120c; extra, 1124c; standard, 1122c; extra, 1126c; standard, 1124c; extra, 1128c; standard, 1126c; extra, 1130c; standard, 1128c; extra, 1132c; standard, 1130c; extra, 1134c; standard, 1132c; extra, 1136c; standard, 1134c; extra, 1138c; standard, 1136c; extra, 1140c; standard, 1138c; extra, 1142c; standard, 1140c; extra, 1144c; standard, 1142c; extra, 1146c; standard, 1144c; extra, 1148c; standard, 1146c; extra, 1150c; standard, 1148c; extra, 1152c; standard, 1150c; extra, 1154c; standard, 1152c; extra, 1156c; standard, 1154c; extra, 1158c; standard, 1156c; extra, 1160c; standard, 1158c; extra, 1162c; standard, 1160c; extra, 1164c; standard, 1162c; extra, 1166c; standard, 1164c; extra, 1168c; standard, 1166c; extra, 1170c; standard, 1168c; extra, 1172c; standard, 1170c; extra, 1174c; standard, 1172c; extra, 1176c; standard, 1174c; extra, 1178c; standard, 1176c; extra, 1180c; standard, 1178c; extra, 1182c; standard, 1180c; extra, 1184c; standard, 1182c; extra, 1186c; standard, 1184c; extra, 1188c; standard, 1186c; extra, 1190c; standard, 1188c; extra, 1192c; standard, 1190c; extra, 1194c; standard, 1192c; extra, 1196c; standard, 1194c; extra, 1198c; standard, 1196c; extra, 1200c; standard, 1198c; extra, 1202c; standard, 1200c; extra, 1204c; standard, 1202c; extra, 1206c; standard, 1204c; extra, 1208c; standard, 1206c; extra, 1210c; standard, 1208c; extra, 1212c; standard, 1210c; extra, 1214c; standard, 1212c; extra, 1216c; standard, 1214c; extra, 1218c; standard, 1216c; extra, 1220c; standard, 1218c; extra, 1222c; standard, 1220c; extra, 1224c; standard, 1222c; extra, 1226c; standard, 1224c; extra, 1228c; standard, 1226c; extra, 1230c; standard, 1228c; extra, 1232c; standard, 1230c; extra, 1234c; standard, 1232c; extra, 1236c; standard, 1234c; extra, 1238c; standard, 1236c; extra, 1240c; standard, 1238c; extra, 1242c; standard, 1240c; extra, 1244c; standard, 1242c; extra, 1246c; standard, 1244c; extra, 1248c; standard, 1246c; extra, 1250c; standard, 1248c; extra, 1252c; standard, 1250c; extra,

BOND DEALINGS ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

CLOSE IRREGULAR

Daily Bond Averages.

Day	20	25	30	35	40	45	50	55	60	65	70	75	80	85	90	95	100	105	110	115	120	125	130	135	140	145	150	155	160	165	170	175	180	185	190	195	200
Previous day	83.7	82.9	82.1	81.3	80.5	79.7	78.9	78.1	77.3	76.5	75.7	74.9	74.1	73.3	72.5	71.7	70.9	70.1	69.3	68.5	67.7	66.9	66.1	65.3	64.5	63.7	62.9	62.1	61.3	60.5	59.7	58.9	58.1	57.3	56.5	55.7	54.9	54.1	53.3	52.5	51.7	50.9	50.1	49.3	48.5	47.7	46.9	46.1	45.3	44.5	43.7	42.9	42.1	41.3	40.5	39.7	38.9	38.1	37.3	36.5	35.7	34.9	34.1	33.3	32.5	31.7	30.9	30.1	29.3	28.5	27.7	26.9	26.1	25.3	24.5	23.7	22.9	22.1	21.3	20.5	19.7	18.9	18.1	17.3	16.5	15.7	14.9	14.1	13.3	12.5	11.7	10.9	10.1	9.3	8.5	7.7	6.9	6.1	5.3	4.5	3.7	2.9	2.1	1.3	0.5	-0.3	-1.1	-1.9	-2.7	-3.5	-4.3	-5.1	-5.9	-6.7	-7.5	-8.3	-9.1	-9.9	-10.7	-11.5	-12.3	-13.1	-13.9	-14.7	-15.5	-16.3	-17.1	-17.9	-18.7	-19.5	-20.3	-21.1	-21.9	-22.7	-23.5	-24.3	-25.1	-25.9	-26.7	-27.5	-28.3	-29.1	-29.9	-30.7	-31.5	-32.3	-33.1	-33.9	-34.7	-35.5	-36.3	-37.1	-37.9	-38.7	-39.5	-40.3	-41.1	-41.9	-42.7	-43.5	-44.3	-45.1	-45.9	-46.7	-47.5	-48.3	-49.1	-49.9	-50.7	-51.5	-52.3	-53.1	-53.9	-54.7	-55.5	-56.3	-57.1	-57.9	-58.7	-59.5	-60.3	-61.1	-61.9	-62.7	-63.5	-64.3	-65.1	-65.9	-66.7	-67.5	-68.3	-69.1	-69.9	-70.7	-71.5	-72.3	-73.1	-73.9	-74.7	-75.5	-76.3	-77.1	-77.9	-78.7	-79.5	-80.3	-81.1	-81.9	-82.7	-83.5	-84.3	-85.1	-85.9	-86.7	-87.5	-88.3	-89.1	-89.9	-90.7	-91.5	-92.3	-93.1	-93.9	-94.7	-95.5	-96.3	-97.1	-97.9	-98.7	-99.5	-100.3	-101.1	-101.9	-102.7	-103.5	-104.3	-105.1	-105.9	-106.7	-107.5	-108.3	-109.1	-109.9	-110.7	-111.5	-112.3	-113.1	-113.9	-114.7	-115.5	-116.3	-117.1	-117.9	-118.7	-119.5	-120.3	-121.1	-121.9	-122.7	-123.5	-124.3	-125.1	-125.9	-126.7	-127.5	-128.3	-129.1	-129.9	-130.7	-131.5	-132.3	-133.1	-133.9	-134.7	-135.5	-136.3	-137.1	-137.9	-138.7	-139.5	-140.3	-141.1	-141.9	-142.7	-143.5	-144.3	-145.1	-145.9	-146.7	-147.5	-148.3	-149.1	-149.9	-150.7	-151.5	-152.3	-153.1	-153.9	-154.7	-155.5	-156.3	-157.1	-157.9	-158.7	-159.5	-160.3	-161.1	-161.9	-162.7	-163.5	-164.3	-165.1	-165.9	-166.7	-167.5	-168.3	-169.1	-169.9	-170.7	-171.5	-172.3	-173.1	-173.9	-174.7	-175.5	-176.3	-177.1	-177.9	-178.7	-179.5	-180.3	-181.1	-181.9	-182.7	-183.5	-184.3	-185.1	-185.9	-186.7	-187.5	-188.3	-189.1	-189.9	-190.7	-191.5	-192.3	-193.1	-193.9	-194.7	-195.5	-196.3	-197.1	-197.9	-198.7	-199.5	-200.3	-201.1	-201.9	-202.7	-203.5	-204.3	-205.1	-205.9	-206.7	-207.5	-208.3	-209.1	-209.9	-210.7	-211.5	-212.3	-213.1	-213.9	-214.7	-215.5	-216.3	-217.1	-217.9	-218.7	-219.5	-220.3	-221.1	-221.9	-222.7	-223.5	-224.3	-225.1	-225.9	-226.7	-227.5	-228.3	-229.1	-229.9	-230.7	-231.5	-232.3	-233.1	-233.9	-234.7	-235.5	-236.3	-237.1	-237.9	-238.7	-239.5	-240.3	-241.1	-241.9	-242.7	-243.5	-244.3	-245.1	-245.9	-246.7	-247.5	-248.3	-249.1	-249.9	-250.7	-251.5	-252.3	-253.1	-253.9	-254.7	-255.5	-256.3	-257.1	-257.9	-258.7	-259.5	-260.3	-261.1	-261.9	-262.7	-263.5	-264.3	-265.1	-265.9	-266.7	-267.5	-268.3	-269.1	-269.9	-270.7	-271.5	-272.3	-273.1	-273.9	-274.7	-275.5	-276.3	-277.1	-277.9	-278.7	-279.5	-280.3	-281.1	-281.9	-282.7	-283.5	-284.3	-285.1	-285.9	-286.7	-287.5	-288.3	-289.1	-289.9	-290.7	-291.5	-292.3	-293.1	-293.9	-294.7	-295.5	-296.3	-297.1	-297.9	-298.7	-299.5	-300.3	-301.1	-301.9	-302.7	-303.5	-304.3	-305.1	-305.9	-306.7	-307.5	-308.3	-309.1	-309.9	-310.7	-311.5	-312.3	-313.1	-313.9	-314.7	-315.5	-316.3	-317.1	-317.9	-318.7	-319.5	-320.3	-321.1	-321.9	-322.7	-323.5	-324.3	-325.1	-325.9	-326.7	-327.5	-328.3	-329.1	-329.9	-330.7	-331.5	-332.3	-333.1	-333.9	-334.7	-335.5	-336.3	-337.1	-337.9	-338.7	-339.5	-340.3	-341.1	-341.9	-342.7	-343.5	-344.3	-345.1	-345.9	-346.7	-347.5	-348.3	-349.1	-349.9	-350.7	-351.5	-352.3	-353.1	-353.9	-354.7	-355.5	-356.3	-357.1	-357.9	-358.7	-359.5	-360.3	-361.1	-361.9	-362.7	-363.5	-364.3	-365.1	-365.9	-366.7	-367.5	-368.3	-369.1	-369.9	-370.7	-371.5	-372.3	-373.1	-373.9	-374.7	-375.5	-376.3	-377.1	-377.9	-378.7	-379.5	-380.3	-381.1	-381.9	-382.7	-383.5	-384.3	-385.1	-385.9	-386.7	-387.5	-388.3	-389.1	-389.9	-390.7	-391.5	-392.3	-393.1	-393.9	-394.7	-395.5	-396.3	-397.1	-397.9	-398.7	-399.5	-400.3	-401.1	-401.9	-402.7	-403.5	-404.3	-405.1	-405.9	-406.7	-407.5	-408.3	-409.1	-409.9	-410.7	-411.5	-412.3	-413.1	-413.9	-414.7	-415.5	-416.3	-417.1	-417.9	-418.7	-419.5	-420.3	-421.1	-421.9	-422.7	-423.5	-424.3	-425.1	-425.9	-426.7	-427.5	-428.3	-429.1	-429.9	-430.7	-431.5	-432.3	-433.1	-433.9	-434.7	-435.5	-436.3	-437.1	-437.9	-438.7	-439.5	-440.3	-441.1	-441.9	-442.7	-443.5	-444.3	-445.1	-445.9	-446.7	-447.5	-448.3	-449.1	-449.9	-450.7	-451.5	-452.3	-453.1	-453.9	-454.7	-455.5	-456.3	-457.1	-457.9	-458.7	-459.5	-460.3	-461.1	-461.9	-462.7	-463.5	-464.3	-465.1	-465.9	-466.7	-467.5	-468.3	-469.1	-469.9	-470.7	-471.5	-472.3	-473.1	-473.9	-474.7	-475.5	-476.3	-477.1	-477.9	-478.7	-479.5	-480.3	-481.1	-481.9	-482.7	-483.5	-484.3	-485.1	-485.9	-486.7	-487.5	-488.3	-489.1	-489.9	-490.7	-491.5	-492.3	-493.1	-493.9	-494.7	-495.5	-496.3	-497.1	-497.9	-498.7	-499.5	-500.3	-501.1	-501.9	-502.7	-503.5	-504.3	-505.1	-505.9	-506.7	-507.5	-508.3	-509.1	-509.9	-510.7	-511.5	-512.3	-513.1	-513.9	-514.7	-515.5	-516.3	-517.1	-517.9	-518.7	-519.5	-520.3	-521.1	-521.9	-522.7	-523.5	-524.3	-525.1	-525.9	-526.7	-527.5	-528.3	-529.1	-529.9	-530.7	-531.5	-532.3	-533.1	-533.9	-534.7	-535.5	-536.3	-537.1	-537.9	-538.7	-539.5	-540.3	-541.1	-541.9	-542.7	-543.5	-544.3	-545.1	-545.9	-546.7	-547.5	-548.3	-549.1	-549.9	-550.7	-551.5	-552.3	-553.1	-553.9	-554.7	-555.5	-556.3	-557.1	-557.9	-558.7	-559.5	-560.3	-561.1	-561.9	-562.7	-563.5	-564.3	-565.1	-565.9	-566.7	-567.5	-568.3	-569.1	-569.9	-570.7	-571.5	-572.3	-573.1	-573.9	-574.7	-575.5	-576.3	-577.1	-577.9	-578.7	-579.5	-580.3	-581.1	-581.9	-582.7	-583.5	-584.3	-585.1	-585.9	-586.7	-587.5	-588.3	-589.1	-589.9	-590.7	-591.5	-592.3	-593.1	-593.9	-594.7	-595.5	-596.3	-597.1	-597.9	-598.7	-599.5	-600.3	-601.1	-601.9	-602.7	-603.5	-604.3	-605.1	-605.9	-606.7	-607.5	-608.3	-609.1	-609.9	-610.7	-611.5	-612.3	-613.1	-613.9	-614.7	-615.5	-616.3	-617.1	-617.9	-618.7	-619.5	-620.3	-621.1	-621.9	-622.7	-623.5	-624.3	-625.1	-625.9	-626.7	-627.5	-628.3	-629.1	-629.9	-630.7	-631.5	-632.3	-633.1	-633.9	-634.7	-635.5	-636.3	-637.1	-637.9	-638.7	-639.5	-640.3	-641.1	-641.9	-642.7	-643.5	-644.3	-645.1	-645.9	-646.7	-647.5	-648.3	-649.1	-649.9	-650.7	-651.5	-652.3	-653.1	-653.9	-654.7	-655.5	-656.3	-657.1	-657.9	-658.7	-659.5	-660.3	-661.1	-661.9	-662.7	-663.5	-664.3	-665.1	-665.9	-666.7	-667.5	-668.3	-669.1	-669.9	-670.7	-671.5	-672.3	-673.1	-673.9	-674.7	-675.5	-676.3	-677.1	-677.9	-678.7	-679.5	-680.3	-681.1	-681.9	-682.7	-683.5	-684.3	-685.1	-685.9	-686.7	-687.5	-688.3	-689.1	-689.9	-690.7	-691.5	-692.3	-693.1	-693.9	-694.7	-695.5	-696.3	-697.1	-697.9	-698.7	-699.5	-700.3	-701.1	-701.9	-702.7	-703.5	-704.3	-705.1	-705.9	-706.7	-707.5	-708.3	-709.1	-709.9	-710.7	-711.5	-712.3	-713.1	-713.9	-714.7	-715.5	-716.3	-717.1	-717.9	-718.7	-719.5	-720.3	-721.1	-721.9	-722.7	-723.5	-724.3	-725.1	-725.9	-726.7	-727.5	-728.3	-729.1	-729.9	-730.7	-731.5	-732.3	-733.1	-733.9	-734.7	-735.5	-736.3	-737.1	-737.9	-738.7	-739.5	-740.3	-741.1	-741.9	-742.7	-743.5	-744.3	-745.1	-745.9	-746.7	-747.5	-748.3	-749.1	-749.9	-750.7	-751.5	-752.3	-753.1	-753.9	-754.7	-755.5	-756.3	-757.1	-757.9	-758.7	-759.5	-760.3	-761.1	-761.9	-762.7	-763.5	-764.3	-765.1	-765.9	-766.7	-767.5	-768.3	-769.1	-769.9	-770.7	-771.5	-772.3	-773.1	-773.9	-774.7	-775.5	-776.3	-777.1	-777.9	-778.7	-779.5	-780.3	-781.1	-781.9	-782.7	-783.5	-784.3	-785.1	-785.9	-786.7	-787.5	-788.3	-789.1	-789.9	-790.7	-791.5	-792.3	-793.1	-793.9	-794.7	-795.5	-796.3	-797.1	-797.9	-798.7	-799.5	-800.3	-801.1	-801.9	-802.7	-803.5	-804.3	-805.1	-805.9	-806.7	-807.5	-808.3	-809.1	-809.9	-810.7	-811.5	-812.3	-813.1	-813.9	-814.7	-815.5	-816.3	-817.1	-817.9	-818.7	-819.5	-820.3	-821.1	-821.9	-822.7	-823.5	-824.3	-825.1	-825.9	-826.7	-827.5	-828.3	-829.1	-829.9	-830.7	-831.5	-832.3	-833.1	-833.9	-834.7	-835.5	-836.3	-837.1	-837.9	-838.7	-839.5	-840.3	-841.1	-841.9	-842.7	-843.5	-844.3	-845.1	-845.9	-846.7	-847.5	-848.3	-849.1	-849.9	-850.7	-851.5	-852.3	-853.1	-853.9	-854.7	-855.5	-856.3	-857.1	-857.9	-858.7	-859.5	-860.3	-861.1	-861.9	-862.7	-863.5	-864.3	-865.1	-865.9	-866.7	-867.5	-868.3	-869.1	-869.9	-870.7	-871.5	-872.3	-873.1	-873.9	-874.7	-875.5	-876.3	-877.1	-877.9	-878.7	-879.5	-880.3	-881.1	-881.9	-882.7	-883.5	-884.3

GEORGIA WONDERLAND WATER WOLF COPELAND BERN

IN BUSINESS, CARTER STATES

State of Georgia Once Owned Vast Swamp, Naturalist Points Out in Article.

(This is the third of a series of articles written for The Constitution by H. A. Carter, of the Georgia Naturalist Society, on the Okefenokee Swamp. In today's article he points out that the vast wilderness was once owned by the state of Georgia.)

By H. A. CARTER.

There has always been an air of mystery associated with the name "Okefenokee," since the days when the first white men saw it in its primeval grandeur. While it cannot be seen today in this primitive condition, there is still an indefinable quality that impresses one with a feeling of association with true wilderness. In one place I am told that the primitive flora is still to be seen. If this area is any more overgrown in its beauty than the small part I have seen, I hope to be able to go there before many days have elapsed.

On entering the swamp, the first adjective that occurred to me was "majestic." All that is implied in that word can be experienced in the swamp. The dignity of the cypress, the shavenness of the prairies, the dark mystery of the water, the grace of the Tillandsia that clothes the trees, the daintiness of water plants, the quiet loneliness of luxuriant vegetation, ranging from the exotic appearing trumpet to the familiar pine, all combine in producing in the beholder a sense of brooding calm.

There is an aura of latent strength, of inexorable destiny about Okefenokee that must be experienced to be believed. If one's consciousness is not too dull from the constant stunting influence of civilization, there cannot be more than one result: a shyness in the swamp. The egocentric world fades away and disappears, its place is taken by a sense of proportion of magnitude which the place of man is very small and of no real matter at all.

When one's consciousness begins to recover from the first alteration of proportions, one is able to detect quite different reactions to various parts of the area. The charm and dignity of old cypresses, the inevitable property of cypress here can give way at once to the force and beauty of a Japanese screen when one's foot enters abruptly into a prairie and snowy white cypress stand revealed in statuette relief against a jade background of vegetation. To enter a heavy sand scrub area is to be reminded again of the cypress of the highland wild of Africa, especially when the spines of cactus and the sword points of saw palmetto manage to make contact with one's skin even through heavy wildcat trousers and through shirts.

700 Square Miles. Throughout the 700 square miles that is the Okefenokee, many varieties of habitats exist. These are so various in nature that they afford support for an astonishingly wide range of animal species. Even in the sand of Florida's island one can trace mole runs, although it is a matter of conjecture as to how the mole runs came to be there. The round-tailed muskrats were very abundant this year at Coffee Bay and on Florida's island prairie, many miles north of their first known habitat in the Florida. An abundance of small mammals is indicated before one even sets a mouse trap by the great numbers of hawks that can be seen and heard.

Deer are to be found on the islands, as well as bear, raccoon, bobcat, and opossum. The open water as well as the prairies support large numbers of waterfowl and wading birds, among which the ibises and the greys are especially interesting. At almost every season in the swamp the visitor is likely to be greeted with a chorus from the most abundant animals within its limits.

Snakes, on the other hand, according to all the information I have been able to gather, are by no means as numerous as is formerly reported. The last time I saw a snake was on Florida's island in three years, within a few yards of the place where the last one was killed. This should comfort those who see every marshy area as a snake-infested hole.

The names applied to the various habitats of the swamp by the natives are most interesting. To list some of the more striking names. I offer the following, with descriptions of what is meant by each name.

"Bay." The word is not at all restricted to its commonly accepted geographical sense. In the Okefenokee it means a wooded swamp, filled with cypress or other growth. Some of the most impressive parts of Okefenokee are to be found in these bays.

"House." Not a house, as members of the Georgia Society of Naturalists have found to their discomfort on past trips. A house is simply a small island in a prairie or a bay, often in a bay, with a foundation of a man and transfers an unearthly motion to the trunks of large trees.

"Prairie." Far from the rolling wheat lands of the west in nature and in distance are the Okefenokee prairies, or as the guides say it, "bay-rath." These areas are simply open marshes in which many species of aquatic plants grow in abundance. To mention some important regions: Grand Prairie, Chase Prairie and Florida's Island Prairie are excellent examples.

Sand-Scrub Area. Contrary to general Okefenokee terminology, sand- and scrub areas are exactly what the name implies. In general, I should say that the sand- and scrub is the recovery effort of the swamp after being disturbed. There are numerous scrub oaks and pine seedlings to be seen in such an area, and the dominant form of vegetation is the sand- and scrub pine. It is an excellent name if one ever existed.

As often as not the same word may apply to one of several sorts of areas. The word "hammock" is a case in point. It may mean a small climber forest of gordonia, magnolia and cypress, with a very sparse undergrowth, or it may be an island in open water, or on a prairie. Whatever it is, it is beautiful.

Georgia Wonderland

The map of the Okefenokee swamp, shown above, gives the complete outline of the 700 square miles included in what H. A. Carter, of the Georgia Naturalist Society, declares is the "wonderland of the south." The area begins south of Waycross and extends into Florida, the east-west section extending almost from Folkston to Fargo. In this great swamp, two important rivers have their source—the St. Marys and the Suwannee—the latter made famous by the song by that name written by Stephen Collins Foster.

not over 30 cents. This syndicate had the idea of draining the swamp, taking out the timber, and then selling the resulting cleared area for agricultural lands. The work began with enthusiasm and the net remaining mark of the interest of the syndicate is the lumber canal, now known in Folkston and elsewhere as "Jackson's Folly." Yes, for it was found when the work was finished that the water had back into the swamp and not out of the canal. I am told that more than one million dollars was spent on this project before the syndicate was into receivership, from which it passed after considerable litigation into the possession of its present owners.

Lumbering operations, it has been said, have denuded the swamp. While I cannot qualify as a timber expert, I cannot recall having seen more than a few cypresses in the swamp, the last into the swamp. Certainly in which it is possible to become utterly lost on a cloudy day can be made contact with one's skin even through heavy wildcat trousers and through shirts.

Confusion as to Use. There has always been some confusion as to the exact purpose for which the Okefenokee should be purchased by the federal government. It has been advocated as a wildlife refuge under the administration of the biological survey. It has been repeatedly urged as a national forest, for which it is not a suitable location. It does not stand at the head of important watersheds and soil erosion is not of any consequence here.

It is my sincere belief, however, that the swamp is one of those areas that are necessary to those who care to enter it and enjoy its unearthly beauty, it would meet a marked need of the nation. We have a need of setting this aside as a national park in perpetuity, or of seeing it neglected and gradually destroyed by the onward march of civilization. Regardless of the policy of the federal government, the swamp is a place of conservation, Okefenokee can be destroyed by the inroads of civilization.

Objections have been raised to the purchase of the area on the grounds that its administration would cost more than its value to the public. The very face of such an argument is fallacious and I am sure that the point out that funds for the administration of the area could be provided by the sale of furs of animals which should be protected for a few years, to provide for a more rapid increase of certain spectacular and attractive forms of wild life. This means of refuge administration has proved very successful in other places and should be equally good here.

While no hunting is permitted on national park lands, the sale of fish and game is permitted, with the order to further defray expenses or if it is contrary to federal policy, let there be concessions as to hotel space, guide service, dining rooms and similar things that are necessary to public enjoyment of the area.

One pays more than $40 for the doubtful privilege of making a circle through the Yellowstone national park and the stage of lake and bog development in the swamp is just as feasible. Careful consideration of the matter leads me to believe the area could be made self-supporting as a national park.

This year has been designated by the national park service as "National Park Year." Large postage stamps have been issued to bring before the public consciousness the beauties of the various national parks. It should be significant that no recent stamps have been issued to bring before the public consciousness the beauties of the Okefenokee region. Here we have something that is entirely different in character from any other area that is preserved and managed for the enjoyment of the American public throughout the centuries to come.

Wonderland of South. We are perfectly willing to give to the west its geyers and bad lands, its petrified forest, its hot springs and mud-springs, its caves and its mountains. These are all natural wonders and worthy of preservation. It is not surprising to find that our representatives in Washington train their eyes on the western bog and neglect the outstanding natural wonderland of the south.

The Okefenokee swamp, the last remaining upland swamp in America, is still shrouded in mystery. It appears certain, however, that it should be saved and that no recent stamps have been issued to bring before the public consciousness the beauties of the Okefenokee region. Here we have something that is entirely different in character from any other area that is preserved and managed for the enjoyment of the American public throughout the centuries to come.

The Okefenokee swamp, the last remaining upland swamp in America, is still shrouded in mystery. It appears certain, however, that it should be saved and that no recent stamps have been issued to bring before the public consciousness the beauties of the Okefenokee region. Here we have something that is entirely different in character from any other area that is preserved and managed for the enjoyment of the American public throughout the centuries to come.

IN SAVANNAH RACE

Invitation To Be Sent 600 Flyers To Take Part in Flight to Florida Jan. 5

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Andrew A. Smith, president of the local chapter of the National Aeronautics Association, has announced that 60 airplanes will participate in a race from Savannah to Orlando, Fla., on January 5.

Invitations will be sent 600 flyers, from whom the 50 starters will be selected. A trophy will be given the winner, Smith said.

BANK CASHIER LEAVES LAWRENCEVILLE POST

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Lawrenceville Post, for his past 28 years has been cashier of the Bank of Commerce, of Lawrenceville, Ga. The bank, which is a member of the Federal Reserve System, has elected J. H. Hutchison, of Canton, as its new cashier. Mr. Hutchison was chosen to succeed him and will assume his duties on January 1.

REV. LIPHAM SPEAKS AT GREENVILLE MEET

GREENVILLE, Ga., Dec. 22.—At the regular meeting of the Central Georgia Conference, held Friday evening, Rev. C. M. Lipham, of Atlanta, was the principal speaker. The meeting was attended by approximately 150 young people of the surrounding area. The Rev. C. M. Lipham, of Atlanta, was the principal speaker. The meeting was attended by approximately 150 young people of the surrounding area.

METHODISTS ORGANIZE AT LAWRENCEVILLE

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Methodist church organization at Lawrenceville, Ga., has been organized. The church is located on the corner of Main and Second streets. The church is located on the corner of Main and Second streets.

LEGION PLANS TREE

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Dec. 22.—The executive committee of Joseph S. Cedartown, Ga., has decided to plant a tree in the town square. The tree is to be planted in the town square.

VETERANS ELEGANT OFFICERS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 22.—Officers for 1935 have been elected and installed by the local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Columbus, Ga. The officers are: President, J. H. Hutchison; Vice President, J. H. Hutchison; Secretary, J. H. Hutchison; Treasurer, J. H. Hutchison.

MASONS GIVE DINNER

SPARTA, Ga., Dec. 22.—The local Masons gave a turkey supper last night at the Woman's Club building. The supper was given in honor of the local Masons.

LINDALE MASONS MEET

LINDALE, Ga., Dec. 22.—The annual past master's night of Lindale Lodge of Masons, was held Thursday night. The lodge is located in Lindale, Ga.

CHRISTMAS FUNDS GAIN

LINDALE, Ga., Dec. 22.—Lindale Lodge of Masons, has just paid total $43,500 and according to Treasurer C. H. Edmondson the 1935 club will run to nearly $50,000. The lodge is located in Lindale, Ga.

CHILDREN TO SEE PICTURE

LINDALE, Ga., Dec. 22.—Two thousand Lindale children will be treated to a free Christmas matinee at the auditorium picture show on Monday morning, as the guest of the management, H. W. Neal, to see "Alice in Wonderland."

ROOSEVELT BALL PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Ga., Dec. 22.—The auxiliary unit of the Jerome A. Wooten post, American Legion, will sponsor Roosevelt balls on the birthday anniversary of the President in January. The balls will be held in Washington, Ga.

WAYCROSS COMMISSION FAVORS MAYORS' PLAN

WAYCROSS, Ga., Dec. 22.—The city commission of Waycross, by unanimous vote, has endorsed the legislative program adopted by the Georgia Mayors' Association. The program is to be implemented in Waycross, Ga.

PLEA OF FOUR TOTS GAIN FATHER'S FREEDOM

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Four little girls, all under 10, trooped into the office of Augusta's chief judge today. Their father was serving a three-month sentence on the charge of neglecting his children.

POSTMAN RETIRES

ROYSTON, Ga., Dec. 22.—William L. Nelson, veteran mail carrier of this city, having served 30 years on the postal force of Royston as mail carrier, was given his retirement on December 1. His place as carrier for rural route two will be filled by C. H. Lindale.

PLANS COLLEGE FOR BOY

Invitation To Be Sent 600 Flyers To Take Part in Flight to Florida Jan. 5

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Plans have been completed for the meeting here on January 4-5 of the Georgia Hotel Association. The meeting will be held in Savannah, Ga.

GEORGIA ASSOCIATION TO CONVENE IN MACON JANUARY 4-5

MACON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Plans have been completed for the meeting here on January 4-5 of the Georgia Hotel Association. The meeting will be held in Macon, Ga.

THOMSON METHODISTS ELECT BOARD MEMBERS

THOMSON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The initial meeting of board of stewards of First Methodist church, for the coming year, was held here today. The board members are: J. H. Hutchison, of Canton, as its new cashier. Mr. Hutchison was chosen to succeed him and will assume his duties on January 1.

CAMELLIA SHOW PLANNED AT AUGUSTA

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Augusta will hold its annual camellia show here on January 4-5. The show is to be held in the city hall.

J. C. DOYLE NAMED MAYOR OF ROYSTON

ROYSTON, Ga., Dec. 22.—In the city election held here, six new officials were named. J. C. Doyle, cotton and fertilizer merchant, was elected mayor. Branson James, cash of the city, was elected clerk.

NORTHWEST BASIN

ROME, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Northwest Basin, a large area of land in the northwest corner of Georgia, is being developed. The basin is being developed by the Georgia Power Company.

SALES TAX FAVORED BY SENATOR RUCKER

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 22.—Prediction that a proposed sales tax for Georgia will meet with strong and strong opposition from powerful sources in the general assembly was made today by Senator Rucker, who convenes next month in the state capital at Atlanta.

WARM SPRINGS BODY PLANS NEW DEAL FETE

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 22.—A New Deal banquet is planned by the Warm Springs Chamber of Commerce for December 31. The banquet will be held in the city hall.

CHILD, 7, CHANGES MIND ABOUT SANTA BEING MYTH

MACON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Bill Sorenson, 7, told his mother today that he had decided that Santa Claus was not real. He had decided that Santa Claus was not real.

LYERLY ELECTION

LYERLY, Ga., Dec. 22.—Lyerly's annual municipal election will be held on Monday, January 1, at which time a mayor and five councilmen will be chosen.

QUARTER BILLION WOULD BE SPENT ON STATE RIVERS

Improvement of Chattahoochee Included in Secretary of War's Report Covering Nation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Georgia's wide network of streams flowed today in the fore of Secretary of War Darn's picture of "the most magnificent system of improved waterways in the world."

In his annual report Secretary Darn said that the federal government had studied 1,600 projects embracing possible expenditures of $3,000,000,000 and that construction of the worthy among these would provide employment for thousands, aid business recovery and make cheap transportation possible.

Of the projects, about 50 representing over a quarter of a billion dollars were in or touched upon Georgia. The secretary of war shied from discussing individual projects and did not take a position of suggesting the 1,600 generally were feasible. However, specific recommendations already have been made in numerous cases.

Practically all the projects, made public in summary form by the army engineers with their chief's report, gave the ratio of cost to benefit as 1:1.1. That is, for each dollar invested the estimated benefit of $1.10. The Georgia projects include three major basins in south Georgia, the Savannah river basin, the Altamaha basin and the Apalachicola basin.

The Apalachicola basin, which includes the Chattahoochee river development as far northeast as Gainesville, is the largest one listed in Georgia, the total cost being estimated at $1,542,100. The Savannah river basin is second at a cost of $86,120,000, while the Altamaha basin is estimated to cost $28,674,600. The northwestern Georgia developments, which include those in the Home area in Coosa and Stovall, is set at $45,000,000.

TRANSIENT THROUGH IS MACON PROBLEM

MACON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Facing with the double problem of caring for about 2,000 unemployed and thousands of transients who are pouring into the city, Macon relief workers and civic leaders are in a quandary.

To add to the difficulty, city and county authorities have informed relief officials that their 1935 budget must be reduced.

W. E. Stewart, president of the Society for Organized Service, local relief agency, said county commissioners have had a hard time beginning January 1 their monthly appropriation for relief work will be only $800. For the past three months it has been $1,000.

The city, he said, will continue to appropriate $1,000 monthly "for the present."

New Trial Plea Argued For Patterson Youth

FORSTH, Ga., Dec. 22.—Motion for a new trial for Julian (Pat) Patterson, Elbert county youth, who was convicted at Jackson in October for the death of Miss Virginia Walden, of Atlanta, and sentenced to life imprisonment, was argued here today by attorneys for Patterson's family.

At the trial of Patterson the state charged that Miss Walden was killed by a fall from Patterson's car after he had driven her, during a ride while the girl was visiting a friend near Indian Springs, Patterson said the girl either jumped or fell from his car, but that he was not to blame.

JAMES L. B. BARROW DIES AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, Ga., Dec. 22.—James L. B. Barrow, prominent local politician, died here today. He received in an automobile accident Wednesday. While returning to his home from his farm the automobile was struck by a train, turning over and injuring Mr. Barrow.

He was the son of James H. Barrow and Nancy E. Barrow, of Chambers county. He married Miss Adeline Howell, of Chambers county, in 1889. After her death he married Miss Jimmie Boyd, of Troup county, in 1904, who survives him.

Until failing health caused his resignation a year ago, Mr. Barrow had been a director of each of West Point's banks. He was a member of the First Baptist church, West Point, and was for many years a senior deacon of the church. For a number of years he was a member of the board of education of the West Point public schools.

He is survived by four children by his first marriage, Mrs. Britt Veazley, J. Howell Barrow, Mrs. Reid Veazley, J. Howell Barrow, Jr., and J. Howell Barrow, Jr. He married Miss Adeline Howell, of Chambers county, in 1889. After her death he married Miss Jimmie Boyd, of Troup county, in 1904, who survives him.

OFFICE AT WINDER CLOSED BY RUSSELL

WINDER, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. today closed his office here and announced that he and his office would return to Washington immediately after Christmas for the forthcoming session of congress. The office will be reopened January 1. The senator expects to spend Christmas at the home here of his parents, Chief Justice and Mrs. Richard B. Russell Sr.

LYERLY ELECTION

LYERLY, Ga., Dec. 22.—Lyerly's annual municipal election will be held on Monday, January 1, at which time a mayor and five councilmen will be chosen.

SALES TAX FAVORED BY SENATOR RUCKER

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 22.—Prediction that a proposed sales tax for Georgia will meet with strong and strong opposition from powerful sources in the general assembly was made today by Senator Rucker, who convenes next month in the state capital at Atlanta.

WARM SPRINGS BODY PLANS NEW DEAL FETE

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 22.—A New Deal banquet is planned by the Warm Springs Chamber of Commerce for December 31. The banquet will be held in the city hall.

CHILD, 7, CHANGES MIND ABOUT SANTA BEING MYTH

MACON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Bill Sorenson, 7, told his mother today that he had decided that Santa Claus was not real. He had decided that Santa Claus was not real.

LYERLY ELECTION

LYERLY, Ga., Dec. 22.—Lyerly's annual municipal election will be held on Monday, January 1, at which time a mayor and five councilmen will be chosen.

BUSINESS SHOWS BIG GAIN OVER U. S.

By RADER WINGET.
Associated Press Financial Writer.

Major business barometers for the country pointed "fair and warmer" during the past week.

The best Christmas shopping season in years, probably since 1920, drew to a close, and weekly reports of steel production, movement of railway freight, and production of electric power, all showed exceptional gains for this season.

Some spottiness in industrial production is foreseen during the holidays, but shutdowns for inventory and other purposes probably will not be as extensive as last year. Output of 1935 models continues to expand in the automobile industry.

New England noted a little let down in cotton and woolen textiles during the past week, but the New York wholesale dry goods markets were active, and one of the large wholesalers in Chicago reported numerous orders.

Steel production, which usually declines in the last few weeks of the year, has increased for the ninth successive week, and was estimated last week by the American Iron and Steel Institute at 34.6 per cent of capacity, the best since June.

For the second successive week the movement of freight was reported well above 1933, giving rise to hopes that after nearly six months of running behind the previous year the trend was again definitely upward. The increase was largely due to a sharp expansion in the movement of fuel. The total of 579,035 cars reported was 3.3 per cent over the previous week and 3.7 per cent over the like week of 1933.

Tire Retreading Department Ready At Goodyear Service

What is said to be one of the most completely equipped tire retreading plants in the United States has been opened by Goodyear Service, at the corner of West Peachtree and Alexander streets. M. B. Dawson, who has been with the Goodyear organization for the past 12 years, will be in charge, and retreading service will be maintained 24 hours daily.

"Our new retreading plant," stated Jack Kelly, manager of retail stores of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in Atlanta, "is equipped with the latest Heints full-circle molds and is not to be confused with superficial re-capping processes. We will rebuild tires from sidewalls to sidewalls, not merely on top. The user will get a complete new tread, from shoulder to shoulder, as much rubber as there is on a brand-new tire. He will be assured of center-grip, not center-slip, because the tread will be the famous all-weather design."

"We believe the opening of this retreading plant is particularly timely right now, since we are entering upon Atlanta's spell of rainy and skiddy weather. Since skids cause five and a half times as many accidents as blowouts and punctures, the importance of a skid-proof tread on tires cannot be overstressed. Not only will owners of passenger vehicles be interested in this retreading process, but also operators of laundry trucks, department store delivery cars, milk trucks and similar trucks, to whom the savings made available will be considerable."

It is said that a tire whose casing or carcass is in satisfactory condition can be retreaded at this new Goodyear Service plant for approximately half the cost of a new tire. Goodyear has an investment of $10,000 in this new Atlanta plant, which in addition to retreading will be equipped to render complete service to motorists on lubrication, gasoline, tires and tubes, batteries, radios and other accessories. The public is cordially invited to visit the plant and witness the modern way in which tires are given thousands of miles of added life.

Reagan Jones Attends Meeting At Nash Factory

Reagan Jones, distributor in Atlanta for the Nash-LaFayette car, returned this week from Kenosha, Wis., where he attended the annual first showing of next year's Nash and LaFayette cars. Mr. Jones announced that assembly lines at the Nash and LaFayette factories at Kenosha and Racine were assembling cars on heavy production schedules, and shipments would arrive in time to have the dealer showing here late in December. The new Nash-LaFayette for 1935 will feature modernization in lines and a host of mechanical improvements and innovations. Following the dealer showing late in December, the cars will be announced publicly the first week in January.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS OF EVERY NATION TO BE SUNG TODAY

Christmas carols of every land will be sung at a special candlelight service of the Sunday school of St. Mark's Methodist church at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon at the church. The entire membership of the church will take part in the services.

Songs from Germany, France, England, Russia and America will be sung. Among the more noted songs to be sung are: "Silent Night, Holy Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

Mrs. W. M. Garrard will play a harp solo and the vested virgin choir of the church will assist the Sunday school. The choir will sing the German air, "Silent Holy Night."

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Army orders: A board of officers in command of Major General Upton B. Smith, chief of field artillery; Brigadier General Oscar Westover, assistant chief of air corps; Colonel Oswald W. McNeese, general staff corps; Colonel Edmund R. Tompkins, quartermaster corps; Asa L. Singleton, infantry; Clarence Hotchkiss, general staff corps; Lieutenant Colonel Karl F. Baldwin, bureau of insular affairs, appointed to meet in Washington for purpose of recommending individuals who should be awarded decorations.

A board of medical officers appointed to meet at Washington for purpose of conducting annual physical examination of officers of the regular army on duty in Washington: Lieutenant Colonel Harry M. Decker, dental corps; Colonel Alexander Murray, dental corps; Colonel George F. Lall, Major Charles W. Riker, Major Frank W. Wilson, Major Oranot H. Stetler, Major Elmer E. Cooley, Major John W. Walls, Major Charles A. Stammel, Major Paul M. N. Kyle, Major Frank W. Pitzer, Major James S. Owen, Major George W. Rice, Major Lewis B. Bink, Major L. J. Bell, Captain Charles R. Ford, A. Best, John F. Bollender, Arnold A. Albright, medical corps, and Major Earl J. McClung, dental corps.

Captain James H. Pence, dental corps, to Manila.

Major Virgil H. Cornell, medical corps, to New York.

James Tire Service Helps Santa

This service truck of the James Tire Service has been put into service for Santa Claus, by the James Tire Service, Inc. It has been a familiar sight on Atlanta streets the past week.

Chrysler Distributors Hold Meeting

Over two hundred Chrysler dealers and distributors met in Atlanta the past week and had their first view of the 1935 Chrysler line of cars. This group of factory executives and Chrysler's larger distributors was made at the Biltmore hotel. They are, seated, left to right, G. Roy Smith, Harry Sommers, W. Cleve Stokes and J. F. Oates. Back row, left to right, Stewart Munroe, W. O. Phillips, G. E. Barnes and J. B. Dorris.

C. C. Carr Gets Salesmanship Prize

The All-America Selling Team Association, incorporated under the laws of Michigan, awarded membership to more than 50 sales officials of Chevrolet at the second annual meeting of the association held in Detroit during the national sales convention of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Above, W. E. Holler (right), general sales manager of Chevrolet and president of the association, presents C. C. Carr, Atlanta, Ga., zone manager, with a gold football, emblem of the association, for outstanding performances in the field of salesmanship during 1934.

Auto Association Elects Officers At Meeting Here

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Atlanta Automobile Association, Friday evening, December 21, at the Atlanta Athletic Club, were: President, J. M. Harrison, president J. M. Harrison & Co.; first vice president, Charles E. Freeman, president C. E. Freeman, Inc.; second vice president, A. L. Belle Isle, president Black & White Cab Co.; honorary secretary-treasurer, D. E. McCord, partner, McCord-Johnson Motor Co. Directors: Hal Smith, John Smith Co.; A. O. Mitchell, president Mitchell Motors, Inc.; Directors allied lines: J. A. Doyle, manager Southern Bearing and Parts Co.; Wiley Moore, president Wofford Oil Co.

Just preceding nomination and election of officers brief report was rendered by retiring President W. M. Boomerhine covering the accomplishments of the association during 1934. The report of retiring President Boomerhine showed that the association had functioned most successfully during the past year and that it is functioning on a basis that assures its continued success during 1935.

At the close of his report the association presented Mr. Boomerhine with a beautiful silver water pitcher, and Carlyle Fraser, head of the allied lines, with an attractive desk pen and pencil set, as an expression of appreciation for services rendered.

Following the business session the members and guests retired to the gymnasium, where a delightful dinner was served, following which the evening was given over to entertainment features which were arranged by Al Belle Isle.

More than 250 attended the meeting, which was one of the most enjoyable ever staged by the association.

Automobile Association Elects New Officers

Seated, left to right, A. L. Belle Isle, J. M. Harrison, C. E. Freeman and W. M. Boomerhine. Back row, left to right, J. A. Doyle, A. O. Mitchell, Hal Smith and Ely McCord. These men were elected as officers of the Atlanta Automobile Association for 1935. W. M. Boomerhine, in the above group, retires as president, being succeeded by J. M. Harrison, who will head the association for the coming year.

Oldsmobile Zone Men Meet Here

The past week Phil F. L'Engle, Atlanta zone manager for Oldsmobile, presided over a two-day meeting of Oldsmobile dealers for the Atlanta territory. These men learned from him the company's plans for 1935, and at the same time saw the car the company has developed for the new year. At the conclusion of this meeting over 300 Oldsmobile dealers and salesmen met with these men and their reception of the new car was very enthusiastic. In the above photo, seated left to right, A. S. Frugh, Phil F. L'Engle, J. M. Wilson, P. A. Sinclair and George Reeves; second row, left to right, Bingham Bach, Bill Webb, Miles Jones and George Davenport; center row, E. R. Fenton, C. L. Whitehead, W. O. Livingston, C. A. Smith, Harry Strickland and John Squires; back row, A. T. Landstreet, J. W. Russell and Len P. Jones.

New Ford V-8 Truck for 1935

The 1935 Ford V-8 trucks include 49 improvements. These are designed to give better load distribution, easier control, greater engine efficiency and added comfort and safety for the driver. The 157-inch heavy duty stake truck with dual rear wheels is shown.

Traffic Police Use Sound Truck

Captain Jack Malcom, head of Atlanta's traffic squad, is the originator of many new ideas for educating motorists on what to do and what not to do. This past week he inaugurated a brand-new wrinkle on the streets of Atlanta and we know thousands wonder what it is all about. With the usual crowded conditions at Christmas time Captain Malcom with the assistance of Lieutenant Reggie McLean are driving over the streets calling attention to wrong driving and jay walking as it occurs and it is needless to say the campaign was quite impressive. The sound truck they used was through the courtesy of the Ford Motor Company. Above, left to right, are Lieutenant Reggie McLean, P. A. Boykin, assistant branch manager of Ford, and Captain Malcom.

The First 1935 Pontiac Six

Here is Pontiac Motor Company's new six-cylinder brain trust admiring the first of their new deal in power plants... the No. 1 six-cylinder engine for 1935... as it comes off the motor assembly line. From left to right they are: Frank W. Mowbray, general plant superintendent; Carl Heymann, superintendent of the motor plant; William H. Vann, chief inspector; B. H. Anibal, vice president in charge of engineering and P. H. MacGregor, general plant manager.

THRIFT GROUP ASKS WIDER BANK BUREAU

The Atlanta Thrift Society Saturday recommended the creation of a remedial loan section of the state department of banking with complete administrative powers to compel self-regulation of cash credit companies, J. L. R. Boyd, secretary of the society, announced Saturday.

"Unquestionably," he said, "the act would take some of the profits out of the business of small loans, but, on the other hand, it would guarantee state protection to the business, which is now subject to personal attacks at each session of the Georgia legislature."

The rhinoceros mouse is a tiny creature, its likeness to the rhino being its hairless, wrinkled skin.

Greatly Improved Truck Announced By Ford for 1935

Better load distribution and materially improved driver comfort are among the important improvements in Ford V-8 trucks for 1935.

A softer, more effective clutch, improved braking and substantial improvements in the cooling system are design features appealing to owners and drivers.

Although in all 40 improvements are announced, there is but a single change in the 80-horsepower V-8 engine—a directed-flow crankcase ventilation system.

Described as the Ford V-8 "double-duty" truck, the line for 1935 includes seven types. Special attention has been given to smartness of appearance in all of these, with new front-end appearance, a new cab design and wider and deeper fenders with large skirted aprons.

The truck is available in two wheelbases, 131 1/2 and 137 inches, and the following types:

131 1/2-inch chassis—panel, platform, stake, hydraulic dump, cab and chassis with dual wheels and auxiliary springs for tractor use.

137-inch chassis—platform and stake.

The "double-duty" designation, it was explained, is based on the truck's ability to give speed for fast delivery, as well as power and ruggedness for heavy duty hauling.

The additional room on the truck chassis has been obtained by moving the engine forward, increasing the distance from the back of the cab to the centerline of the rear axle by 6 1/2 inches. This moved the load center forward so that more of the load is carried by the front axle. This more ideal distribution of the load gives increased brake effectiveness and also allowing acute angle turns with full-width semi-trailer, and reducing the body overhang.

A high-efficiency cooling system, including a wider radiator with 15 per cent greater cooling area, is a new feature. It includes larger water pump impellers and a six-blade 14 1/2-inch fan. Water-jackets extend the full length of the cylinder walls and along the upper crankcase walls, keeping both the engine and the oil in the crankcase at efficient operating temperatures.

The new heavy-duty truck-type clutch is built for longer life and smoother engagement. The pedal pressure at idling speeds is reduced. Centrifugal force developed by means of weights at the outer ends of the clutch release levers is applied as the engine speed increases to insure maximum resistance to slippage. The clutch diameter has been increased to 11 inches, giving more than 123 square inches of frictional surface. Its design has been simplified with fewer working parts, and the clutch is ventilated for cooler operation.

Brake drums are cast alloy iron with integral cooling ribs and an extra large reinforcing rib to prevent distortion. The brake-shoe pressure is more evenly distributed by a newly designed and simpler internal mechanism. The brakes are designed to require less frequent adjustment.

Steering stability and riding ease have been improved by mounting the front spring four inches ahead of the front axle. The front spring is longer, with shock absorbers and wheels. Oilless shackle bearings are provided. The front axle is heavier.

The full-floating rear axle, in which the load is carried on the reinforced axle housing, is continued. All driving and braking stresses are transmitted directly to the frame through the full torque tube and radius rods. Freely-shock semi-elliptic rear springs support the frame at four widely separated points, resulting in a material reduction in frame flexure and body wear. Auxiliary springs, recommended for unusually heavy loads, are available upon order.

The steering gear is of the "worm and sector" type, with 17-to-1 ratio for easy handling. The new coupe-type cab is of welded all-steel construction, and is designed to give the driver passenger car comfort. The new adjustable driver's seat is of the tilting-back type with comfortable mattress-top seat cushions. The seat width has been increased to 45 3/4 inches.

The new 18-gallon gasoline tank has a conveniently located filler-cap, doing away with any need for the driver to lift the seat. The cab interior is fully lined with durable material in a pebble-grain finish. Roof and dash are insulated. Safety glass is standard equipment in all windows, doors and windshield.

Baked enamel finish, with matching fender colors, is provided on all types.

The new triple ventilation system includes vision ventilation in the door windows, a windshield wiper, a single center control, and a screened cowl ventilator.

Roofed edges reinforce the deep-skirted fenders and provide a drain trough for water thrown up by the tires, preventing excessive splashing of the body.

The speedometer, ammeter and fuel gauge are grouped in an attractive panel at the left side and directly in front of the driver. A dispatch box is placed at the right side of the instrument panel.

Reo To Announce New Flying Cloud At N. Y. Show

Reo will be ready for an enlarged passenger car market during 1935, the result of adding to its line an entirely new lighter Flying Cloud model to be announced at the time of the New York automobile show, according to Don E. Bates, president of the Reo Motor Car Company. The new Flying Cloud, Mr. Bates says, presents further development of aerodynamic body and fender design pioneered by Reo in 1930. Several improvements have been incorporated in the Reo-patented self-shifter transmission, used in 85 per cent of Reo's entire passenger car production since its announcement nearly two years ago. A new Reo-built, 2-bearing engine with chrome-nickel alloy cylinder block and lo-ex aluminum alloy, cam ground pistons, new rigidly "K"-braced chassis frame, new front and rear axles, with hydraulic brakes, cam-and-lever steering, and numerous comfort features are among the items covered in the specifications.

Prices are to be below those of any previous Reo six-cylinder sedan. Body types will at present include both a 4-door sedan and a 2-door sedan on coach. The larger, heavier, companion car, the new Reo-Royale for 1935, will also be offered either with Reo's patented self-shifter or with a synchronized shift, conventional three speed, silent second transmission.

CROPS IN ARKANSAS INCREASE $10,000,000

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Although unfavorable weather including a drought prevailed over the state during much of the past year, the value of Arkansas crops during 1934 increased more than $10,000,000 over the previous year.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and President
CLARK HOWELL JR.
Vice President and General Manager
H. H. THOMAS
Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone Walnut 8650.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier or Mail:
Daily and 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Daily only 10c 70c 2.00 4.00 7.50
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
BY MAIL ONLY:
Sunday 10c; 1 Mo. $1.50; 3 Mo. $3.00; 6 Mo. $5.00; 1 Yr. $8.00.
Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or postal rates for 1st, 2d and 3d class zones only, on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City at 35 N. 5th St. and in other cities by the following:

The Constitution is not responsible for advertisements or notices in its columns. It is not responsible for the opinions or statements of its contributors. It is not responsible for the actions of its readers.

The Associated Press is not responsible for the publication of news items or for the accuracy of the news items published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., DEC. 23, 1934.

WAY OPENED FOR RELIEF

Information comes from Washington that the works division of the federal emergency relief administration has investigated the screw worm menace in Georgia and drawn up plans and instructions explaining how the state could set up FERA projects to combat it.

"The initiative in the matter of state relief projects must come from the state relief administrator, and if the projects are laudable there is no doubt they will be approved," state officials, in indicating that if the Georgia state relief administrator will estimate the approximate cost of a screw worm project in Georgia, and formally request Washington headquarters to endorse it, the project can be started without delay.

The responsibility for immediate action against the deadly pest is thus clearly established, and the five stock owners of the state will anxiously await action by the state relief administrator.

Immediate action is necessary to prevent further losses. Delay until congress can appropriate funds for this purpose will make the task of control all the more difficult, for while cold weather has checked the northward spread of the pest, it is still active in the southern part of the state, and should the weather be mild for the rest of the winter it will invade new sections.

No more important project for the relief workers can be found than that of combating a pest that has attacked human beings, destroyed live stock in such numbers as to cause heavy losses to owners, and threatens to wipe out an industry we have been slowly building during the past 25 years, and in which hundreds of thousands of dollars are invested.

The federal government has been extremely liberal in advancing funds to combat plant life pests; fifty million dollars have been spent fighting the gypsy moth; over six million dollars went into the fight that eradicated the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida; over two million was used to fight grasshoppers in the northwest last summer, and other millions were used in combating a dozen other such enemies to plant life, one of the most recent appropriations being $677,000 to fight the Dutch elm disease that threatens the elm trees of the country, a laudable project, but one certainly not of the vital importance of the fight on the screw worm.

A menace that can grow from one case of infestation in July of 1933 to over 75,000 by December of that year, and to over 500,000 in the present year, is so appalling in its potential spread next year as to demand immediate action by the federal government not only to check further spread, but to bring it under complete control in the sections already infested.

Two-thirds of Georgia is now infested territory, growing from one case in two years time; unless speedy action is taken not only will the rest of Georgia be invaded next year, but the flies will cross over into Alabama, Tennessee, North and South Carolina.

A few hundred thousand dollars spent in Georgia, beginning now, under direction of constituted authorities, will save the expenditure of millions later on. In the preliminary work, such as building hospital pens and chutes for animals that become infested, and carrying on the educational work now being conducted by the entomological bureaus of the federal and state governments, FERA workers and CCC men could be employed to great advantage.

In the work of bringing the menace under control and preventing its spread the experts know what to do, but they are handicapped by lack of funds. Federal officials have pointed the source from which these funds can be secured. They should be forthcoming without delay.

THE NATIONAL RED THREAT

The revelations made during the past few days before the house committee investigating un-American activities are of such a sensational nature as to shock the people into a realization of the seriousness and scope of the effort being made by communist organizations to tear down the foundations of the American government.

Ranking officers of the army and navy have testified to the efforts to spread discontent among the men in the armed forces of the country—through the use of stereotyped methods calling for the employment of women, subversive literature and undercover activities.

Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, declared the communists were boring into the ranks of labor and were responsible for the violence incident to the strikes of the past several months.

Solicitor-General Boykin, of Fulton superior court, called attention at the national crime convention in Washington to the necessity for more strict laws and better enforcement in the suppression of communist activities. He reiterated the position he has formerly taken that "everybody who knows anything about communism knows you cannot wait until they are well organized before striking."

The warning that new laws are needed to permit action when agitation first appears, comes at a time when communist activities have spread from one end of the nation to the other.

Reliable information puts the gain in membership in the International Workers' order, only one of the communist organizations in the United States, at 2,500 during the month of October alone. The organization now has a total of 45,000 adult members, with an additional 8,000 in the youth section. An open drive is being staged to increase the total membership to 75,000 by the first of the year.

The recent serious strikes in the Chicago stockyards were the result of the activities of red agitators, and it is known that since the settlement of the strikes communist units have been organized among the workers of all the big packing plants. Similar units, or "cells," as they are designated by the communists, are already in existence in most of the big automobile plants in Michigan and Ohio and in many textile factories, coal and steel mines, and among the employees of transportation, shipping, canning and clothing concerns.

In addition to the organizations among the employed workers of the country, active units have been set up among the unemployed and even among relief workers and in other governmental agencies.

Having secured a foothold among the manual workers of the nation, the communists are now extending their activities among the so-called "white collar" class of workers. To inveigle this class, communist leaders have launched a new organization, the "Office Workers' Union," which is already making rapid strides. Active units are now in existence in several large New York book publishing houses and department stores and among Wall Street clerks. Others exist in large mercantile and publishing houses in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit and other cities.

An amazing feature of the apathy of the authorities toward the activities of the red agitators is the failure to suppress the numerous communist publications that have sprung up in the east and middle west.

In a recent editorial, reviewing the growth of communism in the United States, the National Republic, a monthly magazine published in Washington, points out that—

Government records show that there are today more communists in Los Angeles alone than there were in Russia at the time of the revolution, and Los Angeles is considered not the greatest stronghold of communism in the United States, but the third largest. New York City and Chicago ranking above it, with Cleveland, Detroit or Pittsburgh crowding Los Angeles for third place and Milwaukee, Philadelphia and Boston following close by.

Communists do not anticipate overthrowing the United States government by ballot; they state plainly that they will accomplish it only by the bullet, and while putting tickets in the field and campaigning for communist doctrines not a very great percentage trouble themselves to vote and a great percentage of the voting tribe cannot vote because of their migration from state to state, while numerous others are aliens. Communists attempt to hide their strength from the public so as to catch the public off guard.

American children to a total of 14,000 have already joined the Young Pioneers, the branch in this country of the Internationale of the same name in Russia. This organization publishes several periodicals devoted to the spreading of communist doctrines and teaching habits of American principles of government. The members of the organization are also furnished with propaganda in the form of red games and cross-word puzzles.

When these children reach the age of 15 they are transferred into the Young Communist League, also a branch of a Russian organization, and at 21 become members of the adult communist units.

The communist movement in America is divided among numerous organizations, but all have the same objective, the overthrow of American principles of government, and the activities of all are controlled, either directly or indirectly, from Moscow.

The movement, beginning only a few years ago in New York, has spread from coast to coast, affecting the workers in the industries of the north, east and middle west and the port laborers on both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts.

The communists have fought for nearly a decade to gain a foothold in the south, through the effort to create dissatisfaction among textile and mine workers and the negro element of the population. Only in this section have they met with determined resistance, and as a result they have met with less success here than anywhere else.

Georgia is practically free from this threat to peace and order, chiefly because every effort at agitation has been sternly dealt with by the authorities and the courts.

Because authorities in other sections of the country did not follow the same wise course as did those in the south, the country is now faced with a serious and widespread threat to law and order and to the principles upon which the government is founded.

A psychologist says parents should tell their family secrets to their children. But even with hiding the secrets, some children are ashamed of their parents.

FOR BETTER COTTON

The offer of the Citizens and Southern bank, made through H. Lane Young, its executive vice president, to finance 180 tons of uniform one-variety cottonseed for planting in Georgia next spring, is an outstanding example of fine cooperation on the part of a financial institution toward improving agricultural conditions in the state.

American cotton is now faced with one of the most serious crises in its history. The record of the past quarter of a century shows that in the years that prices were high enough to bring reasonable profits to the southern producer, foreign demand fell off sharply and production in other countries rose sharply.

The American planter finds himself, therefore, in a position where he must accept lower prices or face the danger of permanent loss of domination of the world cotton markets.

There is only one solution to the problem and that lies in the improvement of the quality of American cotton. Nowhere else in the world can cotton of as fine quality be grown and the salvation of the American grower depends upon his producing only the finest grades.

It has been conclusively proven that the best way in which this objective can be reached is through the planting of one-variety seed. Not only is the staple uniform, but its production and handling is more economical. In all localities throughout the south in which all growers have used the same type of seed the profits have been larger than in those sections where different varieties were used.

The remarkable improvement in agricultural conditions in Georgia during the past decade has been largely due to the efforts of the bankers of the state to bring about the adoption of modern methods of farming. Heretofore these efforts have been chiefly towards bringing about a greater diversification of products on each farm, and a lessening of the acreage in cotton. The move of the Citizens and Southern bank to encourage the production of better cotton is a logical further step in the fine program of cooperation between the banks and the farmers of the state.

Of course, perpetual motion is impossible, but the constant beating of war drums is the next thing to it.

A UNIQUE FIGURE PASSES

The death at the advanced age of 88 years of Colonel Henry G. Hester removes a unique and interesting figure from the ranks of those who have gained prominence as followers of King Cotton.

Although Colonel Hester retired from active endeavor two years ago he remained to his death an acute observer and commentator on the south's great agricultural product. Probably no man ever connected with the cotton industry had so thorough a knowledge of its every phase, both in this country and in the markets of the world.

If a man's word can be said to be law, Hester's was in his comment on cotton. For more than three-score years he had literally "lived cotton" and for upwards of half a century his comment on the crop and its markets earned for him the sobriquet of "father of cotton statistics." Hester was told merely to find out "what was to be done" when he was offered a position in 1871 by the president of the newly-organized New Orleans cotton exchange. Although he kept the title of secretary of the exchange for 61 years he enlarged his field until he finally became the world's best-known authority on cotton affairs.

His life, filled as it was with brilliant achievements that made his name well known in the great markets of the world, is a romance of industry. Quiet and unassuming, and with a wealth of dry humor, Colonel Hester was an outstanding representative of the able business and financial leaders who led the south out of the economic morass of the post-war period.

The cotton industry has lost not only an interesting and lovable figure, but an expert whose comment and advice will be keenly missed.

The gift problem is a serious one at Christmas. Nobody wants to give a more expensive present than the one they will receive in exchange.

THE SANDLOT TOURNAMENT

No more interesting athletic event occurs in Atlanta each year than the sandlot football tournament, sponsored by the Rotary Club and conducted by the boys' work committee of the club, of which Trammell Scott is chairman and many of Atlanta's best-known business executives are members.

This committee is interested in educational work, Boy Scout activities and recreational endeavor, but the sandlot tournament is the biggest and most arduous task it assumes. The tournament is held in order that the boys who do not make a high school team may have a chance to play organized football.

The purpose is not to develop star players, but to inculcate the idea of good fellowship and the spirit of sportsmanship, the Rotary sponsors being convinced that "good sportsmanship is a stepping stone to good citizenship."

The tournament is limited to high school students and gives the parents an opportunity to see their sons in competition in organized play. Any group of boys of any section or suburb of the city can organize and enter the contest. Not only are these youngsters enthusiastic among themselves but during the past tournament each team had a large group of followers who filled the grandstands.

The tournament was organized into leagues of 120-pound and 135-pound weights. This year there was a total of 16 leagues with some 400 players. Since 1930, the year the Rotary Club inaugurated the sandlot tournament, there has been a steady growth in the number of participants and an increased interest yearly.

It is not surprising that among a large number of youthful Atlantans the chief ambition is to "grow up and be a Rotarian." Healthful exercise, joyous competition and increased ambition have come to these youngsters through the selfless assistance of the Rotary committee, which has sponsored an athletic event that is becoming more important and attracting more entrants each year.

The sandlot tournament is one of Rotary's finest activities, and the success that has been achieved is attributable directly to the earnest and tireless efforts of the able committee that has had the work in hand.

The mark of many an auto driver is a pedestrian.

Prohibition couldn't last because it was regarded about as lightly as the Ten Commandments.

No losing football coach is a hero to the alumni.

You do not have to offer proof to people about the things they want to believe.

The profit system hasn't passed as long as you are charged such prices for souvenirs.

You can always tell an important man. He is not constantly telling you of his importance.

An island missing for 20 years has bobbed up again. So we have amnesia victims among islands.

When it comes to brain work there are certainly many unemployed.

When you keep in constant touch of things, you are constantly touched.

Lucky is the person who finds a pearl in an oyster or an oyster in an oyster stew.

Feature Index

Radio Programs ..... 8-A
Page of Foreign News ..... 10-A
Movies, Theaters ..... 12-A
Sports ..... 1-B, 2-B, 3-B, 4-B
Financial ..... 8-B, 9-B, 10-B
News of Georgia ..... 8-C
Want Ads of Georgia ..... 9-C
Editorial Features ..... 4-C, 5-C
Society ..... Section M

Soviet Satire Shows Confidence

New Volume Approved by Moscow Lampooned Workings of Many Communist Doctrines.

By PIERRE VAN PAASEN, European Correspondent of The Constitution.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—A screamingly funny book on soviet life has been written by two young Russians, Ilya Petrov and Eugene Golden. It is called "The Little Golden Calf." It has been translated into English. I am sure that there is scarcely another country in the world where such a satire on the system of government and the resultant effects in the life of the people would be permitted in our dictatorial days.

I am not speaking even of Germany, where the burn masterpieces of literature, but Italy, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, would not for a minute tolerate a book so trenchant and so mordantly critical as "The Little Golden Calf."

And what a howl of indignation would have gone up in France, or in Britain, or in Canada if anyone should dare to satirize the country of the idiosyncrasies and the futility of many of our so-called cherished institutions as these two young soviet writers have done with the institutions and social and economic doctrines of the U. S. S. R.

Here at last is a document, too, that will come as a godsend to professional anti-soviet writers, for even the most venomous outbursts these gents can muster, not even in their most "objective" moments can they surpass what these two authors have performed in the way of critical analysis. It is a devastating book. It makes the reader rock with laughter. There is a chuckle on every page in every paragraph. It lays Russia bare to the bones as no foreign observer could do it.

And the soviet commissar of fine arts, Anatole Lunacharsky, has written the preface! Take this episode, for example. A fellow working in a state institution fears that an examination of the books will show him up as a grafter. In order to be above the law, he conceives the brilliant notion of simulating insanity. "I am the victor of India," he begins to shout suddenly, "bring me my rajahs and my elephants and my babas!" He is duly locked up, kindly treated at the asylum, but he continues to shout, he is transferred to the ward for dangerous paranoiacs. Here he meets a gink, who walks around in a bed sheet and who cries out upon seeing him, "Long live the constituent assembly! All to the forum, citizens! And thou, Brutus, hast thou also sold thyself to the enemy?"

Night comes and our patient falls asleep, but as he wakes he hears his fellow patients in whispers discuss his own arrival. "Such a fine time we had," they say, "the four of us, until this crazy guy arrives with his worked-out victory-and-phantasy stuff." The talkers approach his bed. As he does, he recognizes among them an old friend from whom he learns after a time that all of them in that ward are pretending to be insane. They chide him for picking on the childish victory simulation. Dozens, it appears, have been sent to the asylum before him. "Where did you get it?" he asks one. "Read Professor So-and-so's psycho-analysis!" asks one.

"See," goes on the shouter, "they don't harm me. I tell you it gives a thrill. 'What about that?' 'Boy,' says one of them, 'mine is detection proof. And besides it gives me a thrill. This insane asylum is the only place where a man is free in Russia!'"

"See," goes on the shouter, "they don't harm me. I tell you it gives a thrill. 'What about that?' 'Boy,' says one of them, 'mine is detection proof. And besides it gives me a thrill. This insane asylum is the only place where a man is free in Russia!'"

The book deals with the experiences of four plotters who track a man whom they know to be hiding millions of rubles. Red tape and all over the soviet union and the reader sees the vast panorama of industrialization and many aspects of life in the soviet union. It is a book of plotters get their man and a part of his treasures and then the real trouble begins—because they simply don't know what to do with the loot.

Loaded down with a mink coat in which are stuffed diamonds and jewels and golden crosses, golden snuff boxes and such-like trinkets of the "ancient regime," one of them crosses the river into Rumania. He is robbed by the frontier guards and tucks back over the ice shouting imprecations and insults at the "imperialistic scoundrels."

Every phase of soviet life passes before the reader's eyes. Bureaucratic red tape is rendered so ridiculous, solemn party slogans are frequently turned to such hilarious and mirth-provoking nonsense that one wonders how such a book could have passed the censor.

And then one remembers that this is a book of self-criticism, meretricious and devastating, such as only a confident regime could permit to be published. The story, magnificently written, does something that no other book does—it makes one realize the absurdity of the soviet system and the absurdity of the soviet system.

Editor Constitution: On behalf of the B'nai B'rith membership enrollment, we want to express our grateful appreciation and thanks for the fine co-operation that you and your associates have given us in the space accorded in the columns of the paper. We believe, we were largely responsible for the fine response given by our community.

EDWARD M. KAHN, General Chairman, Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 21, 1934.

The Old Man of the Mountain

New York Skylines

Copyright, 1934, by The Constitution and North America Newspaper Alliance

THE NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Last night the city lay in darkness beneath the violet of a twilight sky.

As ever, the big building seemed to reach on and on, the great open before their onward rush. As ever, the lights winked on, running like golden leaders up the sides of skyscrapers, shining down the streets, and the streets, and rimming with pale fire the rivers, parks, harbor and all the galled and scarred spaces that do their best to make life here livable. This is all as ever, and the man who checks his calendar from the city's face cannot know that only days lie between now and Christmas.

In New York, the seasons crawl upon us across unchanging stone. In summer there is no upward thrust of earth, only the heat. In winter there is not the almighty fury of dead trees nor the bleak skeleton of snow. In the cold, the cold soaking down across the stones. But the man who holds his ear to the heart of the city can hear Christmas. He can hear it as the drone of the countless army of bees and he can see it in the throngs that roll like clouds beneath the lights.

CHRISTMAS IN TOWN.

Passing the department stores, a roar buffets out through the swinging doors the warm, the warm, the warm for their bargains. In one day this week, 200,000 buy-hungry people jostled through the doors of a single large store. They spill out across the streets and the curbs of perspiring policemen that hold them back against the traffic lights has been doubled. A heart-warming scene goes forward as young correspondents hurry by. Before the door, a pretty, young Salvation Army lassie, armed with a bell and standing guard over a pot into which she is pouring money for the Christmas baskets for the poor, is in happy conversation with the dark and handsome doorman of one of the stores.

And as you are hurrying by, you hear within their aunts, he hears: "Go away with your blarney, you slay me!" All very happy and jolly and Christmas-like.

Now into Times Square, where theater managers hold their heads disconsolately. Here it is Christmas, too, and Dick Maney, staring down at the empty rows at a matinee of a hit show, mutters: "What can you expect? Everybody is down in the department store basements."

Further up town, the elevators of the large apartment houses have blossomed out in holiday. The doors are politer, the elevator man says, "What floor, puh-lease?" with a smile. And in a flower store, a hopeful dandel is cautiously inquiring the price of mistletoe, "to have fun, you know, at a party, you know."

Christmas has not yet come to the upper reaches of the city. Here the festive blazes into strident, noisy on its way. Then stacks of Christmas trees line the streets. Toys, flowers, candy, gifts of all sorts are set out on counters before the stores. And long lines of young and old parents drift by, laden with bundles, their faces gripped with a preoccupied, worried sort of happiness.

Weather Bureau Chief Scarr has said, "A white Christmas is not too much to hope for." Belle Livingston has said that, by Christmas Eve, she will have entered upon her career of blowing repeat on politicians as prominent as the days of her famous highway. And even the snickering, japing town wits—the boys who turn a pretty line as easily as a pretty head—are bustling, clamping, fretting amid great heaps of red-floored wrapping paper.

Christmas is upon us and only the businessmen of the town don't know it. In the East side and West side, they still puff along behind their large cigars, immersed in their large affairs, oblivious to the air of warmth of all about them. They hold out to the last. Until 5 o'clock of Monday evening, their talk will be of dollars, sales and purchases, of hiding, firing and ticker tape. Then, suddenly, Christmas will win. They will all be snatched from their scurrying and darning and, for a single day, their now cluttered streets will be as empty as a battlefield from which the struggling armies have gone.

The face of the city does not change, but its heart does. And, with its heart, most of it is saying "Merry Christmas," a sentiment to which your correspondent can add nothing.

TEXT AND PRETEXT

BY M. ASHBY JONES
Mary, Joseph and the Baby

That is the picture which the shepherds, and afterward, the Wise Men, saw when they entered the stable at Bethlehem that first Christmas morning. While reading again the familiar story the other day, there rushed over me, with all the wonder of a new revelation, the joyful truth, religion has been the most perfect expression of God ever made in human life. And it is made in a realm more wonderful than the physical universe. Here in this psychic world, is a realm for the play of forces far more potent than those which find expression in the world of physics. In the form of a human personality, God can more fully manifest Himself than in any other form which "declare His glory," or the firmament which "showeth His handiwork." Here, too, is God's revelation of a child. It is His estimate of the worth of a human life.

There are two points where we touch most immediately the unseen and eternal. They are at birth and death—the cradle and the grave. Religion has lingered long at the grave, and through blinding tears has proclaimed the loved one who has disappeared. But would it not have been better if religion had lingered longer at the cradle, asking from whence did the loved one come? Would not the other question have been easier to answer?

The study of cradles should be by the light of the Bethlehem star. A baby born in a manger developed into a Jesus, the Son of Man, the Son of God. And His name calls to counsel, love to every other baby in all the world: "Follow me." That is the significant thing about a baby, he is a human being, and he is a Jesus-kind of a man. Would that the Christian world on Christmas morning might by faith gather around the Bethlehem manger, and proclaim that every baby in all the world shall have a fair chance to realize its divine possibilities. That no more children should be sacrificed to our industrial greed, and that he who put his selfish stumbling block in the pathway of a child's progress should be cast into the depths of the sea. But to see the full significance of this Christmas picture, we must see that this family is God's ideal for all human race. One Father, and all of us His children. This is the revelation of the cradle. This baby is to be the meeting point of all the children of men. It is He who is to become "the peace among men." It is in this supreme revelation of men's kinship to God, that are to find kinship to each other. Herein is to be the complete fulfillment of the prophecy: "A little child shall lead them." It will be the Child Jesus.

Big Counties' Rights Should Not Be Overlooked Cautions South Georgian

Editor Constitution: I want to take issue with the prohibitionists in Georgia who want to vote on a prohibition measure by the county unit plan as now operated.

I am a believer in the county unit plan, but would want it reckoned in proportion to population, or at least a reasonable approximation thereto. The smallest county in population has about 3,500 population. Echols county, Fulton county, the largest in population, has about 400,000 population. In the legislature or in a convention or in an election under the present county unit system, Fulton has only three times the voting power of Echols.

If the drys win a victory under that plan it would not be a majority and would not be worth much, if anything. A prohibition law has to be enforced as well as enacted, and how are you going to enforce a law in a democracy without the majority support?

The majorities in the counties of large population have rights which the counties of small population should scrupulously regard.

The future is a long time and events may occur in which you will long for Fulton county to have its full voting power under democratic or majority rule.

BOWELL CLOPTON HARRIS, Cordele, Ga., Dec. 21, 1934.

Making Farm Home More Attractive Is Seen as Unemployment Solution

Editor Constitution: Surely today in the midst of this tragic depression nothing could be looked upon with more favor than an effort on the part of the federal government to make its contribution to the farm homes in a practical way and put hundreds of thousands of men to work in building power plants and furnishing the essential things to help people really desire to get on the farms where they can enjoy life and have the terror of insecurity removed from their lives.

The drudgery of farm life would be lifted with electric engines cutting wood and churning milk and washing clothes and pulling machinery as well as furnishing lights and thus removing fear from the minds of the people over the state.

This would help in a great way to solve our unemployment problem. It would give home and church and school conveniences and build up a steady country life that would with itself bring back prosperity to our nation. Every dollar spent in this way would return to the treasury of the nation four-fold.

(Rev.) W. H. FAUST, D.D., Pastor (Gordon Street Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 20, 1934.

BOOKS CLOSED:Charge Purchases Made Now
Payable in February!J. M. HIGH CO.*STORE OPEN MONDAY NIGHT
UNTIL 9 P. M.!

WE SAY PRICES TALK!

Follow the Crowds--Save on Xmas Gifts!

Toys! $1 to $1.49
Dolls! Games!

Lovely dollies, thrilling games — toys they'll play with for hours at a time... but Hurry Santa! they won't be here long!

50¢

TOYS: HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$1 Values! Women's*Handbags

Alligator and calf grain lined and fitted. Choice of black or brown. A value indeed!

59¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Women's 89c Silk
"Arrowhead" Hose

Sheer beauty for her Christmas! Full-fashioned, ringless Chiffon in the new dark shades. Picot top. Reg. Sizes. Pr.

69¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$1.25 Chrome Finish*Serving Trays

Every hostess needs one! Correct size for serving—attractive designs—glass-covered... Chrome finish. Your choice

98¢

HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

$1.98-$2.39 Value!*Silk Blouses

Tunics—smart tafetas, sleek satins, metal shot cloth—long and short sleeves. New necklines, and only

$1.77

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Hassocks and*Ottomans, 88c to

Smart new styles in featherette... rich, warm colors and combinations. A size to fit every need.

$3.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$4-$6 Value! Girdles*Corselettes

Warner and Redfern models—choose from 2-way stretch, inner-belt styles, step-in, side-fastening, lace uplift brasieres.

$3.75

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Christmas Boxed—*Lux Soap - 6 for

6 cakes in a Christmas box... cellophane wrapped. A gift mother or sis will surely appreciate. Reg. 10c size.

35¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Steel Constructed
$4.98 Wagons

Wheel! He's off to a merry Christmas! Sturdily built—steel constructed wagons with disc wheels and rubber tires. Only

$3.24

TOYS: STREET FLOOR

Reg. $1.39*Men's Shirts

Choose from Whites! Checks! Colors! Monotones! Stripes! Collar attached—neckband style. Fine new fabrics, custom designed. Sizes 14 to 17.

$1

MEN'S STORE: STREET FLOOR

Warm Flannelette*Girls' Pajamas

They're a joy on cold nights! Dainty prints—solids, stripes, in snappy 1 and 2-pc. models for Miss 7 to 16. Pr.

64¢

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Sizes for Wine—Dox.*Crystal Glasses

For his Christmas cheer! Daintily rimmed in coin gold. Liqueur glasses, too... and a whole doz. for only

59¢

HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

At a 'Close-Out' Price*Sample Neckwear

See these to realize the values! Heavy corded silks, soft satins, metal cloths—in every new style and color. Each

54¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Reg. $9.98—*"Pabco" Rugs

Yes! They're guaranteed for 5 years or you get a new one. Felt Base Rugs in smart new patterns for every room. Size 9x12-ft.

$6.66

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$3.98 "Bates" Colonial*Bed Spreads

... and they're reversible! Authentic Colonial designs... heavy cotton spreads with scalloped edges. Twin or double-bed size.

$2.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$3 "Chenier's"*'Dixiana' Perfume

Fine, imported French Perfume—in attractive crystal bottle—Fragrant floral odors. Boxed.

39¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Reg. $2.98 Wicker*Doll Carriages

How little mothers love them! To take their babies out in! Well-made carriages with hood, rubber tires—everything.

$1.98

TOYS: STREET FLOOR

Women's Reg. $4.98*Flannel Robes

All-wool flannel in gorgeous two-tone combinations. Monogram... pleated pockets. Self belts. Sizes small, medium and large.

$2.99

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

For Mother!*$1.39 Shoulderettes

For cozy comfort on cool days. Delicate pastel shades, white and black. Matching ribbon ties.

$1

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$1.65 Value! Cocktail!*Wine Glasses, Doz.

Gay-colored glasses, with red or black rims for his Christmas parties! Sizes for Cocktails, Liqueurs, wines! Dozen

$1

HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

Buy in Quantities!*10c 'Kerchiefs

Sizes for the whole family—for mother, dad and the children. Soft, fine materials with smart colored borders.

5¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

"Nestle's" 1-Lb. Bars*Chocolate, 2 for

Plain or with almonds. Let the children eat all they want—it's pure and wholesome and Oh, so nourishing. Two bars—

25¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

9-Piece Linen $6.98*Damask Sets

Snowy white linen with wide hemstitched hems—Cloth 68x84 with 8 matching napkins. Smart, new designs. Set—

$4.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

For Him! Colgate's*Shaving Set

Say "Merry Christmas" with this fine shaving set. Toiletries for his own use—boxed and ready for giving. Set—

97¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Special! $1.49-$1.98*Scooters

A real gift that every child wants! Ball-bearing scooters with rubber tires and brakes—and how they go! Each

$1

TOYS: STREET FLOOR

Women's $5.95*Corduroy Pajamas

Beauty and durability combined! Smart wide-wale Corduroy in snappy 1-pc. models. Bright, gay colors for Holiday cheer!

$2.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Closeout! 5,000 Pcs.*Fine Jewelry

Formerly sold for $1 to $5! Give jewelry for her Holiday gaily! Choose from such pieces as Earlets, rings, clip, bracelets, neck bags, compacts! Ea.

25¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$1.29 Dresden Pattern*Service Plates

A surprise gift for smart hostesses! Dainty Dresden centers—full-circumference plates... at a price to about about! Each

$1

HIGH'S FOURTH FLOOR

Women's 12½c to 15c*'Kerchiefs

A table full to close out at this low price. Fine, sheer materials—some hand-made—white or color combinations. Each—

9¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$1.49 to $3 Values!*Gift Specials

5-pc. Breakfast Sets, Electric Toasters, Serving Trays, Boudoir Lamps, Casseroles, 3-pc. Carving Sets—and many others.

89¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Hand-Embroidered*Madeira Cases, Pr.

Reg. $2.98. Exquisite cases elaborately embroidered on fine English cloth. Dainty, attractive designs. Pair—

$1.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Boxed for Giving—*$1 Toiletries

A smart gift for Her! Dusting Powder and Toilet Water—fragrant floral odors—attractive boxed... ready for giving.

79¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Reg. 25c-50c Toys!*Games! Books!

What a joy for the Youngsters! You'll find in this selection just the things he's been wanting and at what SAVINGS! Each

10¢

TOYS: STREET FLOOR

Reg. $3.50*Silk Negligees

Shimmering loveliness for HER! Pastel and dark shades—lavishly lace-trimmed or tailored. A gift she'll love!

$2.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Values to $2*Toiletries

Whatever she wants you'll find here! Toilet Water! Dusting Powder! Powder Jar! Bath Crystal! Manicure Set... at prices that make giving a joy!

25¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$3.98-$4.98 Gift Value!*Silk Umbrellas

Smart new winter colors—novelty handles. Heavy silk canopies that keep off the rain. 16 ribs. Buy NOW and Save.

$2.69

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Men's $1 Boxed*'Kerchiefs

Sheer, beautiful linen—hand-rolled hems in all white. Beautifully boxed for your favorite boy friends. 3 in box—

79¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Women's $5.98*Flannel Robes

Smartly man-tailored—wrap-around styles in rich, warm colors and combinations. Self belt. Small, medium, large.

$4.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$2.98 Embroidered*Linen Cloths

Heavy cream linen, smartly hand-embroidered—fringed edges. Sizes 54x54 and 54x70!

$1.59

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$2 Value! Bottled*Eau de Cologne

Fragrant floral odors in attractive hob-nail bottles, ribbon-tied and gift-boxed... for the girl of your heart.

79¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$5.95-$7.95 New*Holiday Frocks

New—every one! Choose for Christmas gaities ahead! For Gifts! Brilliant hi-shades, sophisticated browns, blacks.

$3.99

HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

For Mother! Sis!*Suede Jacquets

Snappy Cossack style in button or zipper closing. Gay colors in sizes 8 to 16, 14 to 20.

$1.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$2 Value! 3-Pc.*Dresser Sets

Delicate pastel shades to match her boudoir... or black if she prefers. Comb, brush, mirror—attractively boxed for giving. Set

89¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

79c to 89c Novelty*Fabric Gloves

Smart styles for wear now and all winter. Novelty cuff treatments—solid colors and attractive combinations. Pr.

59¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Reg. $5 Silk*Damask Drapes

Fine quality Damask cut full and long, lined—with pinch pleat tops complete with tie-backs. Pr.

$3.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

A Gift for Him! $1.98*Bill Fold Sets

Includes bill fold, cigarette case and key container... of genuine leather, gift boxed.

79¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Women's $3.98*Coat Sweaters

For Mother or Grandmother! Popular waffle or plain weave. With or without collars. All-wool. 38 to 46, 48 to 52.

$2.98

HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$1 Value! Men's*Pt. Size Flask

Attractive glass flasks in leather container, with cup top. Each—

39¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

DEAN—HARBIN.

Mrs. Joel Edward Dean, of Rome, announces the engagement of her daughter, Charlotte, to Dr. Robert Maxwell Harbin Jr., of Rome, the marriage to be solemnized February 16. No cards.

FEIN—SIEGEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fein, of Birmingham, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Thelma, to Harry Siegel, of Atlanta, the wedding will take place in February.

HAMMOND—PICKETT.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor Hammond Jr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Clyde, to Booty Marion Pickett, the wedding to be solemnized January 19, 1935, at 8:30 o'clock at the Stewart Avenue Methodist church.

COOPER—LANGSTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Cooper, of 40 Murray boulevard, Charleston, S. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to Albert Douglas Beach Langston, of Atlanta, Ga., the date to be announced later.

MALONE—BALLARD.

Mrs. Randolph Augustus Malone, of Monticello, announces the engagement of her daughter, Anne Kingman, to W. Heard Ballard, of Atlanta, formerly of Monticello, the marriage to be solemnized in the spring.

WEBB—CONNALLY.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Webb, of South Orange, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Evelyn, to Charles P. Connally Jr., of Maplewood, N. J., formerly of Atlanta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Connally, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

CLOWER—BARNWELL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Clower announce the engagement of their daughter, Cathryn, to Walter J. Barnwell, the wedding to take place at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, December 29, at Mary Branan Memorial church.

PAUL—KING.

Mrs. James Leith Paul announces the engagement of her daughter, Caroline Janet, to Spencer Bidwell King Jr., of Atlanta and Blakely, the marriage to be solemnized Wednesday, December 26, at 5 o'clock in St. Helena Episcopal church, Beaufort, S. C.

BURNS—TARVER.

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Elwood Burns announce the engagement of their daughter, Bobby, to Thomas Holcombe Tarver, of Fitzgerald, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

McGUIRE—LUMMUS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGuire, of Atlanta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Ophelia, to Carl Morton Lummus, the date of marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

TISINGER—BROWN.

Mrs. G. W. Tisinger, of Carrollton, announces the engagement of her daughter, Pansy, to Herman E. Brown, of Carrollton, the marriage to be solemnized in January.

JOINER—COX.

Mrs. I. L. Joiner Sr., of Tennille, announces the engagement of her daughter, Annie Hill, to James Everett Cox, of Chattanooga, Tenn., the wedding to be solemnized in January.

ROBINSON—ROGERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Louis Robinson, of Spring Place, announce the engagement of their daughter, Will Frances, to James Herbert Rogers, of Chatsworth, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

MARTIN—BROWN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Martin, of Arlington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Arly Livingston Brown, of Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized in February.

HOLCOMBE—GRIFFIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Norwood Holcombe, of Valdosta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace Dea, to W. Harry Griffin, the marriage to take place at a later date.

BUTT—LINDHOLM.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Butt, of College Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Alex Lindholm, of Atlanta, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

BROWNING—McNEIL.

Mrs. Bessie Browning, of Fitzgerald, announces the engagement of her daughter, Bessie Evelyn, to Reuben McNeil, of Columbia, S. C., the marriage to take place in the early spring.

Miss Edenfield Weds Charles S. Moncrief.

Miss Laura Edenfield and Charles Spurgeon Moncrief married at the bride's home on Tenth street, N. E., Wednesday evening, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Duncan McKinley sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" and Miss Pauline Crawford played the wedding march. The only attendants were Mrs. D. C. Lacy and L. C. Rader. Dr. Louie D. Newton performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Edenfield, of Atlanta and Vienna, Ga. Mrs. Edenfield before her marriage was Miss Carrie Miller, of Augusta. Mr. Moncrief, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spurgeon Moncrief, of Greensboro, has made his home in Atlanta for a number of years, and is connected with the Gulf Refining Co. The bride was formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Rainwater of Greensboro. The bride wore blue velvet with rhinestone trimmings and her flowers were tallman roses and pink snapdragons. Mrs. Lacy wore blue satin and her flowers were tallman roses. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief will be at home at 270 Tenth street, N. E.

MRS. WILLIAM LYCETT, INC.

287 PEACHTREE ST., N. E.
CHINA AND CRYSTAL
See our new and attractive patterns now on display.

It's Not Too Late
To Select a Gift at

FREEMAN'S JEWELERS

103 Peachtree St.

Freeman's answer to the "last minute rush" is a superb assortment of new, fresh stock, much of which has just been received over the week end.

DIAMONDS WATCHES SILVERWARE

We are also showing a fine assortment of clever novelties and gift items priced as low as one dollar up.

Myron E. Freeman
& Bro.
JEWELERS
103 Peachtree Street

Miss Irwin Weds George D. White In Buford, Ga.

Buford, Ga., Dec. 22.—A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the state was that of Miss Mildred Marie Irwin and George Douglas White, which was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Irwin, in Buford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Thrallkill and witnessed by the immediate families and close friends. The marriage vows were taken before an improvised altar, bedecked with palms and white chrysanthemums. The bride entered with her father, and wore her going-away gown of brown crepe, trimmed with clips of rhinestones, emeralds and brown accessories. She wore a bouquet of orchids.

Miss Mary Lilla Irwin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of emerald crepe and carried tallman roses. The groom's only attendant was his brother, Edmonson Ware White, who acted as best man. Mrs. Patrick Greer played the wedding march. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Irwin, of Buford, and after completing high school attended college in Colorado, being a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Her only sister is Miss Mary Lilla Irwin, and her brothers are Robert Beverly Irwin and the late Thomas Beverly Irwin, of Marietta, and she is also a descendant of the late Judge David Irwin and Governor Charles J. McDonald. Her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop Goodman, of Marietta. She is also a descendant of the late Dr. and Mrs. William Alston, of Marietta.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White, of Buford, and maternal grandson of the late Meredith E. Phoebe Williams Edmonson, of Cumming, Ga. His paternal grandparents are Clarence Ware White and the late Mary Wright White, of Buford. His sisters and brothers are Mrs. Earle Simpson, Miss Mary White and Edmonson Ware White, of Buford. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, being a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Alpha Kappa Psi honorary fraternity. Since graduation he has been engaged in the wholesale mercantile business at Buford. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Irwin entertained with an informal reception, following which the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida.

Miss Shannon Weds Sam E. Wilder

A wedding centering wide interest throughout the state was that of Miss Jewett Shannon to Sam E. Wilder, of Brynmore, which was solemnized at high noon Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Shannon, at Fairburn, Rev. E. W. Jones, of the Fairburn Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The home was attractively decorated in ferns and smilax and on each side of the improvised altar were seven-branched candelabra. The bride and bridegroom were unattended. Lucille Wilder, of Brynmore, preceded the couple and lighted the candles. Miss Katherine L. "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin." The bride was attractively gowned in hunter's green, trimmed in fur and wore accessories in brown. Miss Lewis wore wine red and Miss Wilder was dressed in brown. Both the bride and bridegroom are widely known throughout the state. Mrs. Wilder was graduated from the University of Georgia and is now a teacher in the East Point school. The bridegroom, after finishing at G. M. A., attended the University of Georgia and is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. The young couple left for New Orleans on their honeymoon. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. S. E. Wilder, of Brynmore, mother of the bridegroom; Miss Lucille Wilder, of Miami; Rev. John Hearn, Cordell, and relatives from East Point and Atlanta.

Mrs. Lane Weds Rev. R. L. Latham.

A marriage of social interest was that of Mrs. Isabel W. Lane, of Jacksonville, Fla., mother of Mrs. C. F. Stallings, in Decatur, Rev. R. L. Latham, of Madison, Fla., which was solemnized Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon in the First Presbyterian church in Decatur, when Dr. P. McGeech performed the ceremony in the presence of a group of friends and relatives. Little Freeman Stallings, grandson of the bride, acted as ringbearer and only attendant. Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stallings entertained at a breakfast at their home on Feld avenue, after which Rev. and Mrs. Latham left for their home in Madison, Fla., where he is pastor of the Presbyterian church.

ENGRAVED
Wedding Announcements
Invitations
At Homes
Visiting Cards
Monogrammed
STATIONERY
The NAME
J. P. STEVENS
Engraving Co.
IS A TRADITION
FOR QUALITY
103 PEACHTREE STREET, ATLANTA.

Miss Dean To Wed Dr. Harbin At February Ceremony in Rome

MISS CHARLOTTE DEAN.

ROME, Ga., Dec. 22.—Few engagements of recent date are of more widespread interest than that of Miss Charlotte Dean, eldest daughter of Mrs. J. Edward Dean, of Rome, and Dr. Robert Maxwell Harbin Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Harbin. The marriage will unite families long prominent in the professional, social and cultural life of the city. Their marriage will be solemnized at a brilliant ceremony on February 16, taking place at the bride-elect's home, on Second avenue. Miss Dean is a beautiful young girl possessing charm and individuality. She is one of three lovely sisters, including Mrs. Curry Porter, of Trenton, and Miss Mary Jane Dean. Her brothers are Edward Dean, Nashville; J. Simpson Dean, of Wilmington, Del.; and Billy Dean, student at Georgia Tech. Miss Dean attended Lucy Cobb Institute, in Athens, and Shorter College, in Rome, before going to England, where she studied and afterward spent several months traveling in Europe. She has enjoyed extensive travel in this country and for a number of winters was in Florida and California. From her mother, formerly the popular and lovely Miss Lillian Hannum, daughter of the late Captain W. Y. C. Hannum, and Mrs. Hannum, of Nashville, Tenn., she inherits innate charm, poise and graciousness. Her father was a well-known Rome attorney, the youngest son of the late Henry White Dean, and Jane Adams Dean, pioneer settlers of this section of Georgia. Miss Dean by her popularity and executive talent launched Rome's Little Theater, of which she served as president two years. Dr. Harbin is one of Rome's most popular and able young physicians. He received a B. S. degree from University of Georgia, where he was a member of the University chapter of Chi Psi fraternity. He attended the University medical school at Augusta before entering Emory University. He did graduate work at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, Boston, where he was under the celebrated surgeon, Dr. Harvey Cushing, then in charge. He received an M. D. degree from the Emory medical school. Since returning to Rome from Boston he has been on the staff of Harbin hospital, established and managed by his father, for whom he is named, and his uncle, Dr. William P. Harbin. His grandfather, Dr. W. R. Harbin, was a beloved physician of Calhoun, Ga., coming to practice there when a young man, from South Carolina. His paternal grandmother was Mary Shelor Harbin, also a South Carolinian. His mother was the lovely Janie Kingsberry, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kingsberry, of Atlanta. His maternal grandmother was, before her marriage, Miss Rosa Bowie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Bowie, of Charleston, S. C. His sister is Mrs. Allison Ledbetter, of Rome.

Miss Brogdon Weds Ramon Gunter.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the marriage of Miss Emily Brogdon, of Buford, Ga., and Ramon Gunter, of Lawrenceville, Ga., quickly solemnized on Saturday in the study of the Oakhurst church in Decatur, in the presence of a few friends. Rev. A. B. Couch, pastor of the Oakhurst church, officiated and the bride's family performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of dark brown crepe with accessories to match. Completing her costume was a coat of tan wool with brown squirrel collar. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lealand A. Whitling, brother and sister of the bride and groom, after which they left for a short wedding trip. The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. Lena Brogdon and the late Byron Brogdon, of Buford, Ga. Her only brother is Ford Brogdon, of Buford. Her sisters are Mrs. Lealand A. Whitling, of Atlanta, and little Miss Eleanor Brogdon, of Buford, Ga. Mrs. Gunter is a graduate of the Buford high school. Mr. Gunter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gunter, of Lawrenceville, Ga. His only brother is Roy Gunter. He is a graduate of the Lawrenceville high school. For the past several months Mr. Gunter has resided in Gainesville, Ga., where he is employed with the J. D. Mathews company. Those attending the wedding of this couple were: Mr. and Mrs. Lealand A. Whitling, Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Whitling Jr., of Atlanta; Misses Dora Perkerson and Frances Williams, and Roy Gunter, of Lawrenceville, Ga.

HANAN'S EXQUISITE HOSE

"Beautifully Boxed"
The best answer to the last-minute Xmas Gift Questions:
79c—Regular Value . . . $1.00
2 Pairs, $1.50
97c—Regular Value . . . $1.15
3 Pairs, $2.85
$1.15—Regular Value . . . $1.35
$1.35—Regular Value . . . $1.65
Books Closed

HANAN
170 Peachtree St., N. W.

Mrs. Cox Weds Charles S. Bobo At Quiet Ceremony

The marriage of Mrs. Mathilde West Cox and Charles Swaim Bobo was solemnized at a quiet ceremony Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Los Cabin, the bride's home on Main street in College Park. Dr. William M. Sentell, pastor of the College Park Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a group of close friends. Christmas decorations featured the reception rooms. In the living room, holly berries and poinsettias lent color against a rich green background formed by evergreens and palms. Slender white tapers were placed in silver candelabra. Mrs. William Misell, soloist, and Mrs. Mary Bell Dennard, pianist, rendered a musical program. Mrs. Misell sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." The bride chose for her wedding a becoming gown fashioned with a blue crepe tunic embroidered in black and gold and worn with a black crepe skirt. Her smart black felt hat was decorated with velvet and she wore a corsage of white lilies. A shoulder spray of Sweetheart roses and valley lilies completed her costume. Following the ceremony a small reception was held. Mrs. Henry Hanes Green, aunt of the bride, received the guests with the bride and bridegroom. Following their wedding trip the bride and bridegroom will take an apartment at 404 Peoples street.

Northcutt-Roach Wedding Plans

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Northcutt to Mr. Frederick Roach will be solemnized at the home of the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. J. A. Northcutt, of College Park, on Thursday evening, December 27, at 8 o'clock. Only the closest friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom-elect will be present. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. W. M. Sentell following a program of nuptial music rendered by Mrs. C. W. Wall and Miss Avis Patterson. Miss Northcutt will be given in marriage by her brother, W. S. Northcutt. Her maid of honor and only attendant will be Miss Kathryn McConnell, of College Park. Mr. Roach will have as his best man Mr. H. L. Girtman, of Atlanta, first cousin of the bridegroom-elect. Following the wedding Mrs. J. A. Northcutt will entertain the wedding guests at a reception. Quite a series of lovely parties have and continue to be given for this popular couple.

BANKS—SOUTH.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Banks, of Fayetteville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Helen, to William Theron South, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

COX—DOBRA.

Mrs. Thomas Jackson Cox, of Atlanta, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miriam Allen, to Dunelue Petru Dobra, of Atlanta, formerly of Canton, Ohio, the marriage to be an event of January 1.

CARLTON—FLOYD.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Carlton, of Bowman, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Louise, to Henry Grady Floyd, of Canon, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

WEBB—PULLIAM.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Webb, of Elberton, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Zelma Ruth, to Lesueur Pulliam, of Dewey Rose, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

PARRIS—BURTZ.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Parris Sr., of Acworth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence Anne, to Charles William Burtz, of Acworth, the marriage to be an event of the holiday season.

BRADSHAW—SHAHAN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bradshaw, of Rome, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Zonia Genevieve, to Clyde Winchester Shahan, the marriage to be solemnized in February.

BARBER—KENERLY.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Barber, of Heard county, announces the engagement of their daughter, Johnnie Christeen, to Harold Kenerly, of Bowdon, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

KELLER—THURMOND.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keller, of Carnesville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Opal, to Paul Thurmond, also of Carnesville, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

JENNINGS—DICK.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jennings, of Covington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Helen, to Charles Parker Dick, of Covington, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

KRONER—JOHNSON.

Mrs. Frank H. Kroner, of Winterville, announces the engagement of her daughter, Louisa Henri, to T. S. Johnson, of Lithonia and Snellville, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

COOPER—SHEPPARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Collier Thomas Cooper, of Griffin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cornelia, to Albert Parker Sheppard, of Griffin, formerly of Sandersville, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

COTHERN—PHILPOT.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cain, of McComb, Miss., announce the engagement of their sister, Ruth Cothern, to Carl Stanley Philpot, of Chicago, Ill., formerly of Buchanan, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized during the Christmas holidays.

The Gift Supreme!

Every Woman Is Subject to the Spell of Maier & Berkele

DIAMONDS

The surest way to a woman's heart is to choose her diamonds from a house whose reputation and integrity have never once been questioned during forty-seven years of selling precious stones . . . a house which takes pride in selling diamonds of the highest quality. They need not be expensive . . . the inherent prestige attached to a Maier & Berkele diamond is the stamp of merit every woman expects.

Use Our Convenient Payment Plan

Platinum Dinner Ring, 13 diamonds, $100.	Platinum Solitaire, 2 marquise, 20 round diamonds, $225.	Yellow Gold Solitaire, $21.50.	Platinum Solitaire, 8 small diamonds, $120.	18-K. Gold Solitaire, 2 small diamonds, $80.
Platinum Solitaire, 10 small diamonds, $285.	Platinum Channel Wedding Ring, baguettes and round diamonds, $185.	Yellow Gold Wedding Ring with 5 diamonds, $12.	Platinum Solitaire, 6 baguette, 26 round diamonds, $450.	Gold Wedding Ring with 5 diamonds, $16.50.
Platinum Solitaire, 10 small diamonds, $550.	Platinum Solitaire, 18 diamonds, $82.50.	Platinum Solitaire, 4 small diamonds, $100.	Platinum Solitaire, 12 diamonds, $60.	18-K. Gold Solitaire, 12 small diamonds, $138.
Platinum Solitaire, 10 small diamonds, $285.	Platinum Solitaire, 14 small diamonds, $60.	Platinum Solitaire, 18 diamonds, $82.50.	Platinum Solitaire, 12 diamonds, $60.	18-K. Gold Solitaire, 12 small diamonds, $138.

CHRISTMAS EVE HOURS 8:30 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

Maier & Berkele

JEWELERS TO THE SOUTH SINCE 1857
ATLANTA-SAVANNAH

Wedding Bells Chime In Griffin, Ga., For Nuptial Rites

GRiffin, Ga., Dec. 22.—The marriage of Miss Sara King, of Griffin, Ga., and Walhalla, S. C., and Taylor Manley, of Griffin, was solemnized Saturday morning at the home of the bride's brother, Professor J. P. King, Rev. Dr. James B. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. The couple spoke their vows before an improvised altar of ferns, behind which tall white tapers were burning. On each side were pedestal baskets filled with giant white chrysanthemums.

There were no attendants. The bride was lovely in a traveling suit of brown tree bark wool with matching accessories and a corsage of sweethearts, roses and valley lilies. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Manley left on their wedding trip to Florida and when they return to Griffin they will set up home on his plantation near the city.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus King, of Walhalla, S. C. She is a graduate of Walhalla High school and attended Lander College in Greenwood, S. C. For the past two years she has been teaching in the Spaulding High school. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Manley, pioneer residents of this section. He attended Hampton High school and the Berry schools at Rome. He is a prominent peach grower and is one of the most popular young men in this section.

Miss Mary Lou Landers, of Griffin, and Horace Maddox, of Luella, were married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox, in Atlanta. Rev. G. W. Cox performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The lovely bride wore a smart brown wool crepe frock trimmed in coral. Her accessories were brown and she wore a shoulder bouquet of sweethearts, roses and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Maddox left for a motor trip to Florida, after which they will make their home in Luella. Mrs. Maddox has made her home in Griffin for some time, being connected with the Strickland Memorial hospital. She is a charming young woman and has enjoyed a widespread popularity here. Mr. Maddox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Maddox, of Luella, and is in business with his father in that town, where his family are prominently connected.

Miss Annie Lois Fisher and J. C. Campbell, both of Griffin, were married Saturday at the home of the Rev. J. G. Lupo, pastor of the Kincard Memorial church, who officiated. The bride wore a brown crepe frock with matching accessories. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will make their home in Griffin, where both have many friends.

Miss Florence Clark and Charles Laney, both of near Griffin, were married Saturday at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Echols, the Rev. Mr. Echols officiating in the presence of a few friends. The bride's gown was a tulle model of embroidered blue crepe combined with black crepe. Her black coat was trimmed with gray fur and she wore a small black hat. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Laney will establish residence in Griffin.

Mrs. Laney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clark, of near Griffin. She attended Zebulon High school, where she was an outstanding student. She has been a popular favorite throughout this section. Mr. Laney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Laney, of Griffin. He attended Griffin High school, where he took a leading part in all activities. He holds a responsible position with the F. W. Woolworth Company in Griffin.

Hardy-Hart.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Dec. 22.—The marriage of Miss Jeanette Hardy, daughter of Benjamin H. Hardy Sr., of Barnesville, to Thomas Hart, of Carrollton, took place at the home of the bride's father, on Greenwood street, on Thursday morning and was attended by only the immediate families of the young couple. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry V. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church of Barnesville.

Mrs. Hart is the youngest daughter of Mr. Hardy and the late Mrs. Hardy, who was Miss Jean Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell. Mrs. Hart was graduated from Gordon College in Barnesville, and from the art department of Sophie Newcomb College, in New Orleans. Since her graduation she has made her home with her father. She is one of Barnesville's most talented and popular young people.

Mr. Hart is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hart, now residing in Chile as missionaries, representing the Southern Baptist Convention. He is a graduate of William and Mary College and is a member of the faculty of West Georgia College, in Carrollton. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hart left on a wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in Carrollton.

To Wed in Canton, Ohio, Jan. 1

Miss Marjorie Ann Cox, whose engagement is announced today to Duncaloe Petru Dobra, of Atlanta, formerly of Canton, Ohio. The couple will be married January 1 at St. George church in Canton, Ohio. Miss Cox is the only daughter of Mrs. Thomas Jackson Cox and is an admitted member of the younger social set. Photo by Jennings studio.

Yaarab Social Club Plans Holiday Dance

As a forerunner of the New Year's Eve frolic on the night of Monday, December 31, at the Shrine mosque, there will be a special holiday dance there on Friday evening, December 28, to which the public is invited, at $1 per couple. There will be no cover charge for tables. This is sponsored by the Yaarab Social Club.

Chaperons will be: Mr. and Mrs. Barnes E. Sale; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Ashberg; Mr. and Mrs. Lew R. Piers; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murrell; Mr. and Mrs. John Burdine; Mr. and Mrs. John N. McDonald; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bray; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Evans; Mr. and Mrs. George Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Winton W. Bateman; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Webb; Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Cundall; Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Evans; and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Van Sickle.

Peony Garden Club Re-elects Officers.

The Peony Garden Club at its recent meeting elected the following officers: President, Mrs. C. A. McGinnis; vice president, Mrs. Willis Dobbs; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Gunnin; treasurer, Mrs. J. G. Dodson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. W. Alexander.

These ladies, having served the club so efficiently the past year, were unanimously re-elected.

Marchman-Mulkey.

GREENSBORO, Ga., Dec. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Marchman announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Agnes, to William H. Mulkey. The wedding was solemnized December 15 with Rev. Claude H. Pritchard, of Oakhurst Presbyterian church, officiating.

Georgians Attend Speech Convention.

A group of Georgia women leaving on December 23 to attend the national convention of the Teachers of Speech to be held in New Orleans, La., includes Miss Frances K. Gooch, head of the spoken English department of Agnes Scott College; Mrs. Alie Hayes Richardson, of Shorter College, Rome; Miss Carolyn Vance, of the University of Georgia, Athens; and Mrs. W. W. Davison, of Atlanta. The convention will be held on December 27-28-29, with headquarters at the Hotel Roosevelt, and will assemble more than 2,000 members of the organization. The delegation will be headed

Miss Rhoads and Mr. Knight Wed At Lovely Afternoon Ceremony

Beauty and simplicity marked the wedding ceremony of Miss Betty Anne Rhoads to James Knight, which was an event of interest solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Rhoads, on Cascade road Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. An improvised altar was erected in front of the attractive stone fireplace in the living room and banked with holly and mistletoe. Candelabra placed on each side of the altar held white tapers which were lighted by John Ed Rhoads, brother of the bride, and Willie Mack Dugger, cousin of the bridegroom. Preceding the ceremony selections of nuptial music were played by Mrs. Denny Starnes, after which Miss Geraldine Chapman sang "All For You" and Mrs. Edgar Long sang "Because." "To a Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony.

Miss Frances Wilson was the bride's only attendant and was an attractive figure wearing carotica crepe and a shoulder cluster of roses and swansons.

The bride, accompanied by her father, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his brother, Elwood Knight, who acted as best man. Rev. P. T. Knight, father of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully gowned in blue rough crepe with high neckline and rhinestone ornaments. She carried a lovely lace handkerchief which was pinned to her grandmother, Mrs. George Carmichael, of Muncie, Ind. Her costume was completed with accessories of gray and a shoulder cluster of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's mother wore blue crepe and a spray of roses. Mrs. P. T. Knight, mother of the bridegroom, wore black and a cluster of roses.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The table was covered with an imported lace cloth of exquisite design and in the center was placed the punch bowl embedded in holly, which was presided over by Miss Louise Ham. The beautiful wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, was placed at one end of the table.

The bride is a graduate of Fulton High school and Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind., where she taught for a year before becoming associated with the Fulton county school system at Cascade school in 1933. She is prominently identified with activities in Park Street Methodist church. Mr. Knight is a graduate of Boys' High school, attended G. S. C. M. at Tifton and graduated from the University of Georgia, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Alpha. He is connected with the United States department of interior.

Following the reception the young couple left for a short wedding trip.

Young Matrons' Club Plans Welfare Work.

Young Matrons' Club, a division of the Civic Club of West End, met Wednesday at the home of Miss Gunnela Lowe, on Cascade road, with the president, Mrs. Alton Hallum, presiding.

Plans for the Christmas welfare work were formulated and Miss Amy Witherspoon and Mrs. Earle White were appointed chairmen of the two committees to carry out these plans. Gifts were presented to the members from a lovely lighted Christmas tree. Those present were Mesdames Alton Hallum, H. V. Atkins, Hugh Bradley, John C. Hunsinger, Earle White, Clay Syper, Allen Wheelock, Louis N. Moore Jr., Louis N. Moore Sr., J. H. Savage, Boise Bomar, Misses Amy Witherspoon, Helen Boardman and Gunnela Lowe.

Elrod-Hobson.

Mrs. Martha Huncutt Elrod announces the marriage of her daughter, Henriette, to A. M. Hobson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hobson Sr., of Birmingham, Ala., on Monday, December 17.

Dismuke-Parish.

RICHLAND, Ga., Dec. 22.—The wedding of Miss Lenora Dismuke, of Columbus, to Walker Parish, of Richland, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Columbus last Wednesday morning. The bridegroom is president of the Richland Banking Company, of this city, and has large business and farming interests at Clayton, Ala. where he was reared, and is one of the leading young business men of this city.

The bride is one of Columbus' attractive young society women and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Paul.

Lovely Recent Bride

Mrs. M. H. Varn Jr., who before her recent marriage was Miss Alice Bloodworth Green, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Green. Mr. and Mrs. Varn are residing with the bride's parents on Highland avenue.

Dismuke, of that city. Immediately after the wedding ceremony Wednesday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Parish left for their bridal tour in Cuba. They will return to Richland to reside in future.

Hadassah Sabbath To Be Observed Friday, Dec. 28

Hadassah Sabbath will be held on Friday, December 28, at 8 o'clock at the Ahavath Achim synagogue on Washington street. Rabbi Harry H. Epstein will speak on "The Accomplishments of Hadassah."

The membership drive, culminating the membership drive now in progress, will be held on Wednesday, January 2, at 8 p. m. at the Jewish Progressive Club on Pryor street. The speaker will be Mrs. Mildred Seydel, who will relate her experiences in Palestine. Miss Marguerite Taylor will play the harp. The Hadassah yearbook will also be distributed to members and friends.

The next "Oneg Shabbath" will be held on Saturday, January 5, at the home of Mrs. A. M. Goldstein, 546 Capitol avenue. Mrs. J. J. Hellman will be in charge of this Sabbath. Shalom Asch's book, "Three Cities," will be reviewed by Mrs. H. H. Epstein and Mrs. E. H. Lipman. Atlanta chapter of Senior Hadassah has passed a resolution endorsing the amendment to the United States constitution embracing the child labor law. Friends are invited to attend these interesting functions.

Dr., Mrs. Pittman Honored at Supper

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Pittman, whose marriage was a recent event, were central figures Saturday evening at the buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Henry Rumph, were hosts at their home on Harvard road.

Invited for the supper were Misses Marion Yundt, Upshaw Jones, of Mississippi; Dr. and Mrs. Russell Burke, Dr. and Mrs. George Eubanks, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Rogers, Dr. and Mrs. John Duncan, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Floyd, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Peor, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Fincher, Mr. and Mrs. Cody Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Smith, Dr. Herschel Crawford, I. A. Ferguson, Dr. Shirley Davis and Dr. Ed Wright.

"PRICES TALK" IN

SUPER-VALUES IN CHRISTMAS GIFTS!

HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

The Economy Center of Atlanta

STORE OPEN MONDAY NIGHT UNTIL 9 P. M.

Women's 100% Wool $3.50

Lounge Robes

$2.25

Small—Medium—Large—Sizes

The BEST gift of all for Mother! Sister! Auntie!—all the women-folk you want to please! Solid colors, trimmed with matching silk braid and self ties! Generous pockets! Priced to save!

- BLANKET ROBES, $2.98 values! Warm patterns and colors in sizes for men and women! $1.79
- GIRLS' ROBES, blanket patterns in bright colors. All sizes 2 to 14. 89c

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's $1 Satin Undies

79c

Dance Sets! Chemise!

Beautiful satin undies—a gift every woman is sure to enjoy! Tealose and blue, rich with lovely laces. Regular sizes.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Sensational! Full Fashioned Silk Hose 39c PR.

Slight Irregularities of $1 Quality!

Now—your opportunity to get all YOU need for every occasion—and perfectly grand for gifts! They're marvelous "buys" at just 39c a pair! All the new dark shades that are so "right" with winter things—in all sizes 8½ to 10½.

HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

$3.95 to $5.95 New Silk Dresses $2.99

Bright Shades! Smart Black! Deep Browns! New Trims!

Imagine! Stunning new dresses—at a price so LOW before Christmas! Bound to be a sell-out at this price! Styles for every occasion—new as tomorrow! Rack after rack of beauties—all sizes 14 to 52.

Silk Dresses $5

$8.95 VALUES—and bargains at the price! New styles, sizes 14 to 52.

Tuck Stitch $1.29 Pajamas 88c

Women's Sizes!

Comfortable—and fashionable for lounging or sleeping! Two-piece styles in pastel colors.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Women's 59c Rayon Undies 39c

Regular Sizes!

Snap these up for intimate gifts! Quality rayon panties, bloomers, step-ins or chemise. Lacy or tailored styles.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Girls' $1 Wash Dresses 74c

Sizes 7 to 16!

For the "too old for toys" age—nothing better than a fresh, crisp new print frock! Darling styles—color fast. Rare values!

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Boys' 69c Shirts 49c

Also Blouses!

Man-tailored—practical gifts the young man likes! White, solids and smart patterns—color fast. Sizes 7 to 14.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Pure Silk Gowns AND PAJAMAS! ALSO, PANNE SATIN SLIPS! FLESH! TEAROSE!

$1.98 and $2.98 Values for $1.39

A late shipment—and what luck for Christmas shoppers! 100% pure silk gowns and pajamas—gifts supreme for women! Tearose and flesh tints—lavishly trimmed with gorgeous laces! All sizes, too, for a complete selection!

HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Women's $1 Crepe Slips 79c

Regular Sizes!

A gift value for yourself—or a friend! Full 48 in. long, trimmed with lovely laces. Pink or peach.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Men's 98c Broadcloth Shirts

Collar Attached

Solids in White, Blue and Green!

Attractive New Patterns!

Finely Tailored for Perfect Fit! 63c

Yes, sir! Here's a value every man will like—at a LOW price that is little short of marvelous! Give him two or three for his Christmas—gifts that will last—gifts that will please him! All sizes 14 to 17. Ea.—

HIGH'S BASEMENT

Give HER Stockings!

And what's more, give her Hosiery "As You Like It," the de luxe quality stockings at the purse-pleasing prices! Her eyes will light up like the festive Yule tree itself when she sees the smart, tasteful beauty of Hosiery "As You Like It"... And remember: No woman ever had enough stockings.

A BOX OF 3 PAIRS MAKES A LOVELY GIFT!

HOSIERY "AS YOU LIKE IT" 79c to $1.35

HOSIERY—STREET FLOOR

J. M. HIGH Co.

Miss Mary Thiesen Weds Mr. Reynolds at All Saints'

All Saints' Episcopal church provided the setting for the impressive rites at which Miss Mary Thiesen became the bride at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening of James E. Reynolds, of Washington, Ga., and Greenville, S. C. The Rev. W. W. Manning, rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a fashionable assemblage of relatives and friends. Vases filled with Easter lilies adorned the altar and the light from hundreds of white candles placed in seven-branched brass chandeliers added an effective glow to the scene.

The corners of the church were banked with stately ferns and palms, and appropriate musical selections were played by Joseph Ragan, the organist, preceding and during the ceremony. The bridal chorus from "Love's Labor Lost" heralded the entrance of the bride party, and Mendelssohn's march was rendered for the recessional. "O Perfect Love" was played by the organist during the taking of the vows by the bride and bridegroom.

The ushers were James M. Couper, George Northen, George W. McCarty, Jr., Westervelt Terhune, Willis Ragan, Rucker McCarty, Beverly du Bose, and James L. Wells. Misses Christine Thiesen and Jessica Thiesen, sub-deb sisters of the bride, served as maid of honor and junior bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in robe de style costumes of white tulle, the bodices introducing the off-shoulder neckline, the bouffant skirts touched the floor, and they carried bouquets of Scotch Key roses and pink hennaria tied with satin ribbon shading from American Beauty to turquoise blue.

Lovely Bridal Bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rudolph John Thiesen, with whom she entered the church, and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr.

Christmas Gaieties Bring Youth and Beauty Into the Social Limelight

Miss Clare Haverty Miss Ritchie Farrell, of Nashville, Tenn.

Daughters of the American Revolution

State regent, Mrs. John W. Daniel, of Savannah; first vice regent, Mrs. W. M. Mann, of Dalton; second vice regent, Mrs. J. E. Adams, of Dublin; recording secretary, Mrs. Harlowe Hightower, of Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Bailey, of Atlanta; and other officers and members of the organization are pictured in this group.

Honorary State Regent Extends Christmas D. A. R. Greetings

From Mrs. Herbert M. Franklin, Honorary State Regent, Tennessee, Georgia.

Christmas Day is Children's Day, and many hearts at this season breathe the prayer, "Backward turn backward, O Time in your flight, Make me a child again just for tonight." Let us have in our hearts the beautiful faith of childhood, the belief that Christmas will bring cheer and happiness. At this season, family trees, both great and small, engage the D. A. R. The family tree and Christmas tree are one with same bright star. Shine on bright star with kindly beam, o'er scenes of joy and mirth, Bring love and peace and loyalty to families of the earth. From childhood days we have heard of Christmas on the old plantation when plenty reigned, and "Marster and Missis" played Santa to the hundreds of children and servants. Let us carry in our hearts the spirit of those days of the old south even if our hands cannot dispense the bounty of that day.

"Santa Claus is right on the job—we have had regular Santa Claus weather, so why not believe that his pack is well filled with gifts for us of love to our fellow man, the gift of brotherhood which warms, cheers, and expands our own hearts and bids us hope for all things good during the coming year? Our old Georgian, President Roosevelt, is Santa Claus to the whole nation, our new south is living and flourishing under a new deal, and we are showered with gifts leading to prosperity.

The sun is shining bright and clear o'er all the world today. We march again with song and cheer. Uncle Sam's e'er leads the way. He's vanquished woes of yesterday, red, white and blue unfurled. For good times in the U. S. A. mean good times for the world! Here's to the cheer and happiness in which you have a part. Here's to the wealth of your helping hand and here's to the health of your heart!"

Mrs. J. W. Hooks, of Gordon, state chairman of welfare for women and children, says "As the Christmas tide approaches we naturally think of the Christ child and the suffering and deprivation of Mary, the mother of Jesus. This brings to our minds the welfare of women and children and

Christmas Gaieties Bring Youth and Beauty Into the Social Limelight

Miss Margaret Musgrave

BYCK'S

End-of-Year S-A-L-E

offers you the opportunity to buy Christmas Footwear for women, children and large girls tomorrow at...

Greatly Reduced Prices

Women's Fine Shoes $3.95—$4.95—$6.85

Children's Shoes Reduced 10% to 25% Gift Slippers for Children 89c to $1.95

For Your Convenience Byck's Will Remain Open Until 9 P. M. Christmas Eve.

BYCK'S

New Location 203 Peachtree, N. E. Opposite the Henry Grady Hotel

THE Christmas festivities bring youthful, beautiful and charming girls into the social limelight and around these college belles center a perfect whirl of parties.

Miss Haverty attends Ogonitz at Rydal, Pa., and will entertain for Miss Farrell, who arrives on December 26 to visit Miss Laura Maddox. Miss Farrell attends the Shipley school at Philadelphia; Miss Hewlett goes to Sweetbriar College in Virginia; Miss Meador attends Randolph-Macon College at Lynchburg, Va., and makes her formal debut on Christmas Eve at the Piedmont Driving Club. Miss Maddox goes to the Finch school in New York, and will be feted at a tea-dance given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, at the Piedmont Driving Club on December 27, at which Miss Farrell will share honors. Miss Musgrave is a student at the Spence school in New York city and is spending the holidays with her parents, Colonel Thomas C. Musgrave, U. S. A., and Mrs. Musgrave at their Peachtree road home, and will be entertained at a series of social gaieties during the holidays. Photos by Walter Neblett.

Miss Green Hostess.

Miss Clifford Greer entertained the members of her bridge club at her home Saturday afternoon. The home was adorned with Christmas decorations. High score was made by Miss Sarah Smith; low score, Mrs. Essie Mae Haynes, and Miss Vera Mae Moon got consolation. After the bridge game a Christmas tree was displayed, on which there were presents for each member, names having been drawn at a previous meeting.

Trousseau Tea For Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Eugene E. Lyons entertained with a trousseau-tea at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue on Saturday honoring her sister, Miss Louise Williams, whose wedding will be an event of Christmas Day.

Phi Mu Luncheon.

Phi Mu Alumnae Association of Atlanta entertained at Christmas luncheon Friday, December 28, at 1 o'clock, at the Piedmont Driving Club, honoring members home for the holidays. Reservations are being made through Miss Elsie Mullin, Hemlock 0707.

Miss Mary Frances Gay Weds Dr. W. Vance Jackson

An announcement of widespread interest throughout Georgia and Alabama is made today by Dr. and Mrs. Brinton B. Gay of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Frances Gay, to Dr. W. Vance Jackson, which took place on Friday in Birmingham, Alabama.

The ceremony was a quiet but impressive event, taking place at the residence of the bride's maternal grandfather, Rev. W. T. Daniel, who performed the ceremony in the presence of only members of the immediate family. Dr. Gay gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride, who is a dainty blonde, was never lovelier than in a handsome ensemble featuring the Russian effect. The brown transparent velvet skirt was offset by a rust lace blouse and completing her costume was a smart brown off-the-face hat and a shoulder bouquet of bronze orchids.

Mrs. Gay, mother of the bride, wore a handsome model of black lace with black hat and a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Daniel, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a lovely model of black velvet and gardenias.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal dinner honored the young couple after which they left for their wedding trip of an unannounced destination after which they will return to Atlanta and be at home at 1030 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. Jackson, the bride, is a representative of distinguished families, her mother having been the former Miss Regina Daniel, of Birmingham, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Daniel, Mrs. S. J. Gay, of Lineville, Ala., and the late

Miss King Weds Sid William Knight

HARRISON, Ga., Dec. 22.—The marriage of Miss Laura King and Sid William Knight, of Atlanta, was solemnized at a beautiful ceremony Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. King, Rev. W. H. Knight, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church in Atlanta, performed the ceremony in the presence of close relatives and a few friends.

A program of music was given by Mrs. L. M. Peacock. The living room and dining room were attractively decorated with holly, ferns, poinsettias and red candles in silver holders.

The bride and bridegroom entered the living room together. The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy blue ensemble of waffle crepe, with trimmings of moire tulle. Her close-fitting hat, was of silver and blue, and other accessories harmonized. Her flowers were a shoulder spray of roses and valley lilies.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. King, and received her education from the Sanderville high school, Bessie Tift college, and Mercer University.

Mr. Knight is the only son of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Knight, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, and received his education from Fort Worth high school, N. T. A. College, Arlington, Texas, and Mercer University. He holds position with the Gulf Refining Company in Atlanta and after a few days' motor trip to Florida he and his bride will make their home at 495 North avenue, N. E.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Knight entertained at dinner. In the center of the table was the wedding cake, on a stand of crystal, used at the wedding of the bridegroom's mother, and also on his maternal grandmother's wedding day. Those seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Sid Knight, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. King, Miss Emma Lou Knight, sister of the bridegroom; W. E. Harrison, E. W. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mullis, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Sinquefeld and Mrs. Annie Snell.

Mrs. E. W. Franklin presided over the bride's book and Mrs. W. E. Harrison received the guests at the door.

Mr. Holloway Fetes Office Force.

An interesting event of the week-end was the old-fashioned Christmas tree entertainment given by E. W. Holloway, assistant agent of the Georgia Air Line railway, on Saturday evening at his residence, No. 535 Park drive, N. E., honoring members of the office force. The house was beautifully decorated with holly, mistletoe and other decorations suggestive of the yuletide season.

Mr. Holloway's guests included the entire office force of the Atlanta local freight agency, and their friends. He was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Holloway and his niece, Betty Holloway.

Mr. Miller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar Miller, of Hickory, and a prominent businessman of that city. He is the founder and president of the Hickory Daily Record, the city's daily newspaper, and secretary and treasurer of the Clay Printing Company. He is identified with other leading business concerns of Hickory, and with the civic and social life of the city.

The afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for a wedding trip to Florida. After January 1 they will be at home at 1611 Eleventh avenue, Hickory, N. C.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ambrose, of Conway, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, of Augusta, Ga., and the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. J. W. Johnson Sr., of Albany, Ga.

Felicians Dance.

The Felicians will give a senior Christmas dance Wednesday, December 26, at Columbian Hall. The chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly, Mrs. J. Lecher, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Donnellan, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Riley.

The Felicians will give a junior tennant dance Saturday, December 29, from 6 to 7 o'clock at Columbian Hall.

LAST-MINUTE SPECIALS For Hard-to-Please Shoppers

ALL BRAND-NEW 1934 TOYS
No. 711 Mechanical Train, engine, tender and three cars, with complete circle of track... with burning headlights...	95c
Big 9-inch Musical Top with Mickey Mouse design	59c
Litho-Art Set, a practical lithographing outfit for a boy who has had everything	$2.95
SCAMP Wagon, new streamline wagon with headlight	$3.49
BULLDOG Coaster Wagon, big 34-inch wagon with roller bearings	$3.95
Sidewalk King Skates, ball bearing	98c
Youth or Medium Size Boxing Gloves, set of four	$2.95
Large Size Boxing Gloves, set of four	$3.95
Footballs, the new narrow size (with outside valve)	98c to $3.50
Regulation Basketball, balls, grain leather	$2.95
Play Suits, wide assortment of Cowboy, Indian, Baseball, in all sizes	$1.19 to $5.49
Large All-Metal Roller Bearing Scooters	$1.59 to $2.59
Toys Accordion—48c 98c $1.25
The Automatic Automobile, new and different from any mechanical toy, will run in squares, circles, figure eight, or straight and return	$1.79
Poker Roulette, fresh shipment of this popular game	98c

STANLEY BRADLEY'S TOYLAND

384 FORREST AVE. Auto Riders—Plenty of parking space. Street Car Riders—Toll operator, he knows us.

Wilkinson-Sifford Rites Performed At Beautiful Afternoon Ceremony

A marriage of unusual beauty, characterized by simplicity and dignity, was that of Miss Marion Clara Wilkinson to Lloyd A. Sifford Jr., which was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson, on Cornell road. Dr. J. W. Johnson, pastor of St. Mark Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and a few friends.

The ceremony was performed in the spacious living room where an improvised altar was formed of palms and white chrysanthemums flanked with tall white tapers placed in cathedral candelabra. During the afternoon a string ensemble rendered a program of appropriate musical selections.

The bride entered with her father, set.

Miss Catherine Cooper To Wed Albert Douglas Leach Langston

The engagement of Miss Catherine Cooper, of Charleston, S. C., to Albert Douglas Leach Langston, of Atlanta, is announced today by Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Cooper, parents of the bride-elect, the date of the marriage to be announced later. Their marriage will unite families that long have been prominent in the social and cultural life of Charleston and Atlanta.

Miss Cooper is a graduate of Ashley Hall in Charleston and a senior at the College of Charleston. She is a member of the Alpha Nu Chapter of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Langston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Langston, of Atlanta, Ga., and Claremont, Cal. He received his B. A. degree from the Citadel in Charleston in 1933 and his M. A.

from Claremont College, Cal., in 1934. He is doing further graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

Howard-Welch.

Mrs. Daisy Howard announces the marriage of her daughter, Lois, to George Harold Welch, formerly of Dallas, Ga., which took place Sunday, December 9, at the Lawrenceville Methodist church in Lawrenceville, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Welch are at home at 1023 Austin avenue, N. E.

Mr. and Mrs. Fain's Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. C. Leake Fain Sr. will entertain with a beautiful dinner party at their home on Fairview road on Christmas evening. Covers will be placed for Mr. and Mrs. C. Leake Fain Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fain, Miss Catherine Fain, Mrs. James W. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. C. Leake Fain.

Miss Frances Hammond To Become Bride of Mr. Pickett January 19

Widespread social interest centers in the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor Hammond Jr. of the betrothal and forthcoming marriage of their only daughter, Miss Frances Clyde Hammond, to Booty Marion Pickett. Miss Hammond is the sister of W. Taylor Hammond III.

The bride-elect is of lovely brown coloring and inherits the charm of her mother, the former Miss Eula Clyde Guthrie, and of her grandmother, Mrs. Horace B. Guthrie, who was before her marriage Miss Betty Maude Hightower, of McDonough and Atlanta. Miss Hammond was educated in the Atlanta public schools and Southern Junior College, of Tennessee.

Mr. Pickett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pickett, his mother having been before her marriage Miss E. Henning. He attended Tech and is now connected with the White Provision Company.

The marriage of Miss Hammond and Mr. Pickett will be a fashionable event of Saturday, January 19, taking place at 8:30 o'clock at the Stewart Avenue Methodist church. Dr. W. G. Crowley will perform the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends. Mrs. Sylvia Evans, aunt of the bride-elect, will be the maid of honor, and Mrs. Hazel Bradbury, sister of the bridegroom, will be matron of honor.

Jane Gilbert Poole will be the junior bridesmaid, and flower girl will be Jacqueline Malcom. Master Louis William Jr. will act as ringbearer.

Claud Pickett will serve as his brother's best man, with Walter Hinson acting as groomsman. Ushers will be Jimmie Dickinson and Luther Bradbury.

A musical program will be offered by Mrs. Robert F. Cunningham, organist, and Miss Blanche Walden, vocalist, who is a cousin of the bride-elect.

Photo by Ben Art Studio.

MISS FRANCES CLYDE HAMMOND.

Rich's
to the Last Minute
Your Christmas Store

Complete Stocks

Thousands of sparkling, fresh gifts for every one on your list.

Extra Salespeople

To avoid delay and facilitate your shopping to the greatest degree.

Penelope Penn

Will help you with selection, shop for you and wrap your gifts.

Store Hours

For quick and courteous service

our store hours remain

9 to 5:30

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Keep Open House Today To Celebrate Anniversary

Among the interesting events of today is the "open house" at which Mr. and Mrs. Evans A. Erwin will be hosts this afternoon at their home at 2314 Peachtree road in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary. The hours are from 4 to 6 o'clock and the occasion will assemble 200 members of the married contingent of society.

Assisting in receiving the guests will be the lovely young daughter of the hosts, Miss Ethel Erwin, and a group of her friends, including Misses Anne Irby, Beverly Bailey, Martha Burnett, Anne Atkins, Frances Hoyt and Marguerite Roddey.

Mrs. Max Land Issues Message.

Christmas message to Atlanta Woman's Club members from Mrs. Max E. Land, the president, is as follows: "My dear Club Members: Once more I approach the beautiful season of Christmas with our hearts attuned to the spiritual significance of the birth of the Christ Child. Once more men and women everywhere are full with thoughts of the needs of humanity and the wish to see little children made happy, are giving of their store to those less fortunate than this glad season may continue toward the fulfillment of Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

"May the spirit of this great anniversary, through a clearer understanding of truth, beauty, goodness and love, transform existing into living, and may each of us find abiding peace as our lives are more and more radiate these great characteristics. With a heart filled with love and appreciation of your loyalty in the fine things we are undertaking together in the name of the Atlanta Woman's Club, I wish you a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

Mr. and Mrs. Langston Are Hosts at Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Langston were hosts at a buffet supper Saturday evening at their home on Tenth street, entertaining a group of their friends at one of the loveliest of the holiday parties. A Christmas tree, preceding supper, afforded much amusement.

The interior of the home was gay with Christmas decorations of holly, mistletoe and poinsettias. The table in the dining room was centered with an attractive arrangement of crimson roses.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dendy, Mr. and Mrs. James Cotten, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Perry, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McWhorter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis, Captain John Patrick, of United States army air corps, Duke Counts, Tex Brice and Jack Slaton.

Miss Weinman Feted at Party.

Miss Frances Weinman, fond member of the Debutante Club, was central figure Saturday at the luncheon which Mrs. Ray Dellinger, of Cartersville, entertained at the Capital City Club.

Invited to meet Miss Weinman were Misses Mary Ann Carr, Mary Irby, Maude Thompson, Flossie Hill, Constance Adams, Eadie Dallas, Deas Smith, Octavia Riley, Anne Alston and Louise Robert. Miss Weinman is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weinman, of Cartersville and Atlanta, and is spending the winter at the Georgian Terrace.

Williamson-Cantrell.

J. C. Williamson, of Buchanan, announces the marriage of his daughter, Mildred, to Herman A. Cantrell, of Bremen, on November 17. The wedding took place in Heflin, Ala.

Faicom Club Plans Semi-Annual Dance At West End Club

Marking its seventh year of activity in the social life of the city, the Faicom Club will give its semi-annual dance at the West End Woman's Club Thursday evening, December 27.

Young ladies invited are Misses Nellie Taylor, Lois Latty, Annette Embrey, Annette Noll, Mildred Hansell, Thelma Firestone, Frances Ford, Irene Boyd, Hazel Rogers, Margaret Hindlestone, Jessamine Ward, Willie Mae Hancock, Martha Cowan, Jack Howard, Catherine Johnson, Estelle McKibbin, Eunice Lake, Byrdie Gravitt, Betty Blodgett, Frances Thaden, Jennie Lou Lenders, Mary Tucker, Lucy Grant, Nellie Scott, Margaret Rogers, Dorothy Mangert, Katharine Lettice, Ollie Russell, Catherine Kamper, Serle Roberts, Sara Lane, Janet McNeil, Sara Fitzpatrick, Dorothy White, Pearl Zachary.

A group of the married set invited includes Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wrightson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warren Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Butler, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Coster, Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nick, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Alston Will Give Tea

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Alston will entertain from 4 to 6 o'clock at a tea on Tuesday, January 1, 1935, at Woodville, their home on Andrews drive, the occasion to assemble a small group of intimate friends, and to mark the date of their wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Mayhew Cunningham, of Savannah, cousins of Mr. and Mrs. Alston, will arrive in Atlanta on December 30 to visit them, and will be numbered among the prominent and interesting guests attending the tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Alston were married in the historic Christ Episcopal church in Savannah.

Cascade Chapter O.E.S. Install Officers.

Installation of officers for Cascade Chapter No. 274, O. E. S., was held Tuesday in the Cascade Masonic hall. The installing officers were Mrs. Lottie Manry, chaplain; Mrs. Lucy Power, Edna Bentley, associate chaplain; Mrs. Clara Miller, Martha; Mrs. Laura Hooper, Electa; Mrs. Maude Burnett, marshal, and John Fugle, sentinel.

Mrs. Carrie Boatwreck made an address when she assumed her station. Mrs. Green sang to her when she was introduced as worthy matron. Mrs. Geneva Andrews formed a bouquet with flowers from the Star Point's stations and presented to Mrs. Boatwreck. She also received gifts from friends.

Mrs. Edna Bentley, junior worthy matron, was presented the jewel of the past matron, presented to her by the incoming worthy matron, H. A. Sewell. The jewel is a beautiful ring, symbolic of the order, set with diamonds. The gift from the officers of the chapter was rock crystal glasses, and presented by Mrs. Lucy Power. She received several gifts from friends.

Mrs. Ola Anderson, retiring secretary, and Mrs. Irene Spurlin, finance chairman, were presented gifts by Mrs. Andrews. Mrs. H. T. Pullen sang an original song entitled "Spotlights on Cascade Chapter." Ralph Richardson sang several songs, playing his own accompaniment. Mrs. H. O. Garrett acted as organist for the installation.

There will be a Christmas tree, with Arthur Connolly presiding as Santa Claus, and each child will receive a little gift and bag of candy. While this party will especially honor the children of the Sacred Heart alumnae members, all the friends of the organization are invited to share in the fun and celebrate Christmas.

Mrs. Boykin Fetes Popular Debutantes.

Miss Julia Boykin and Frances North, two popular members of the Debutante Club, shared honors Saturday at the buffet luncheon at which Mrs. S. F. Boykin entertained at her home on Springdale road.

The table in the dining room featured white and silver in the decorations being graced in the center by a silver Christmas tree and on either end were silver candelsticks holding green tapers.

Mrs. Boykin was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Richard Hooper Bennett Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. Frank North and Mrs. Greer Roberts.

The guest list numbered 20.

Miss Bryan Gives I-ech on.

Miss Emma Middlebrooks, popular schoolgirl daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Middlebrooks, was central figure Saturday at the seated luncheon at which Miss Mary Bryan entertained at her home on Peachtree road. Mrs. Shepard Bryan assisted her daughter in the entertainment of the guests, who included Misses Middlebrooks, Rosemary Adams, Rosemary Manry, Katherine Newman, May Gray Sara Smith, Cora Gantt, Elkin Goddard, Julia Colquhoun and Catherine Calhoun.

Trousseau Tea.

Mrs. William M. Schneider will entertain at a trousseau tea Sunday at her home on Jefferson avenue in honor of her daughter, Miss Louise Schneider, whose marriage takes place Monday. Mrs. C. F. Manry entertained at a linen shower Friday at her home on Spencer street for Miss Schneider. Miss Maree Cox entertained at a lingerie shower Saturday and Miss Audrey Warnock was hostess to a number of schoolgirl friends of Miss Schneider on Thursday.

Weds in Spring

Miss Anne Kingman Malone, whose engagement is announced today by her mother, Mrs. Randolph Augustus Malone, of Monticello, Ga., to W. Heard Ballard, of Atlanta, formerly of Monticello, the marriage to be solemnized in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. McGonigal Give Yule Party At Driving Club

Christmas, with all its color and sparkle, provided the background for the spirited party given on Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGonigal at the Piedmont Driving Club. A mound of crimson poinsettias and crocus graced the center of the table and mounds of similar flowers adorned the table. A silver tree, beautified with silver bells, added a festive note to the artistic decorations, the gleam of silver being reflected in mirrors.

Mr. and Mrs. McGonigal are numbered among the most prominent and popular members of society, and 100 guests enjoyed their hospitality. Mrs. McGonigal was crowned in a becoming costume of black moire, trimmed with turquoise moire. Her fetching black straw hat, lined with turquoise moire, was tied beneath her chin with black moire ribbon.

Grant Park O. E. S. To Install Officers.

At a recent meeting of Grant park chapter No. 178, O. E. S., the following officers were elected and appointed to serve during 1935: Mrs. Nora Dodson, worthy matron; Mrs. A. E. Coler, worthy patron; Mrs. Theo Jenkins, associate matron; Mrs. J. Harrington, associate patron; Mrs. Alma Elliott, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Heinemann, treasurer; Mrs. Greta Freeman, conductress; Mrs. Carrie Belle McEwen, associate conductress; Mrs. Martha McEwen, chaplain; Mrs. Bessie Glaze, marshal; W. T. Lester, organist; Mrs. Mary Goodwin, Adah; Mrs. Kate Pierce, Ruth; Mrs. Viola Harrington, Esther; Mrs. Viola Patrick, Martha; Mrs. Annie Gililand, Electa; Mrs. Daffie Terry, warder; E. M. Bridwell, sentinel.

Sacred Heart Alumnae Gives Party Today.

Friends and members of the Sacred Heart alumnae are invited to an old-fashioned Christmas party to be given Sunday afternoon, December 23, at the Columbian hall at 1200 Peachtree street.

Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. Jack Thompson are chairmen of the event and have secured some very talented children to appear on the program. They are the pupils of Mrs. Kathryn Webb, popular member of the alumnae. Other children appearing will be Martha Johnson, Betty Dollar, Margaret Dalton, Dorothy Allen, Barbara Power, Ann Camilla Andrews, Betty Ann White, Jean Scruggs and Kathryn Webb.

There will be a Christmas tree, with Arthur Connolly presiding as Santa Claus, and each child will receive a little gift and bag of candy. While this party will especially honor the children of the Sacred Heart alumnae members, all the friends of the organization are invited to share in the fun and celebrate Christmas.

FLASH!

LAST-MINUTE GIFT SUGGESTIONS

"Gift Day" is practically here, yet you still have time to make an excellent choice with a minimum of trouble and bother by shopping at Miner & Carter. Men, especially, like to shop here for we know the value of their time. Gifts attractively wrapped, and delivered if you wish.

PERFUMES

- Bourjois Seven-Piece Set
Lipstick, 3-Way Vanity, Perfume, Powder, Eau de Cologne, Sachet, Talcum, Rouge $15.00
Other 7-piece sets only ..... $12.50
- Bourjois Three-Piece Set
The famous Face Powder, Perfume and Talcum ..... $2.95
- Coty Five-Piece Set
The Coty Face Powder, Toilet Water, Perfume, Single Compact and Lipstick go to make up this set ..... $6.75
- Coty Combination for Men
Coty's Shaving Cream, Shaving Lotion and Powder—always the choice for men ..... $2.35
- Yardley Four-Piece Toilet Set
Includes Face Powder, Toilet Water, Soap and Talcum Powder ..... $3.25

OTHER PERFUMES

- |  |                                       |
|--|---------------------------------------|
| Caron'sBellogia.....$10.75 to $19.25 | Le Tabac Blend.....$19.25            |
| En Avion.....30.00                         | Coty'sA Sums.....$10.00 to 35.00 |
| Christmas Nite.....37.50                   | Chanel's Ivoire deChanel.....9.50 |
| N'Aimez Que Moi.....15.00                  | Houbigant.....$1.10 to 2.20          |
| Ciro'sReflection $18.00 to 32.00      | Barbours Gould.....7.75 to 7.75       |
| Ciro'sSurrender.....$10.75 to 32.00   | Tussy.....$1.10 to 3.50              |
|  | Others.....$1.10 to 3.50             |

NOVELTIES

- Sillet Ash Trays.....4 for $ 1.00
- Ash Trays.....25c to 2.00
- Book Ends.....$3.00 to 6.00
- Ink Well and Letter Opener.....2.00
- Parker Fountain Pens, $3.75 to $10.00 (Sets $12.50)
- Waterman's Pens.....$3.00 to .500
- Harriet Hubbard Ayer's Sets, 2, 3 and 4 pieces.....50c to 4.50
- Ayer's Manicure Sets.....3.75
- H. H. Ayer's Dusting Powder.....1.10
- H. H. Ayer's Toilet Water.....1.10
- Cutex Leather Sets.....3.59
- Tangee, 2 pieces.....1.65
- (3 Pieces, $2.75)
- Moon Glow Leather Manicure Sets.....1.00
- Lentheric Set, 2 pieces.....3.00
- (3 Pieces, $7.00)
- Evening Bag, fitted.....12.50
- Eau de Cologne.....$1.00 to 3.75

GIFTS for MEN

- Pen Holder.....$1.00 to $ 5.00
- Yardley Shaving Bowl.....1.00
- Yardley Sets, 3 pieces.....$2.75 to 3.95
- Yardley Sets, 4 pieces.....3.30
- Coty Sets, 2 pieces.....1.00
- Coty Sets, 3 pieces.....2.00
- Coty Sets, 4 pieces.....3.00
- Mennen Set (Leather) 10 pieces.....6.50
- Palmolive, Colgate's, Williams, 5-piece sets......98
- Lentheric Sets, 2 pieces.....1.75
- Lentheric Sets, 2 pieces.....2.25
- Hudnut Eau de Cologne.....1.50
- Comb and Brush Set, 2 pieces.....1.00
- Comb and Brush Set, 3 pieces.....2.00
- Shaving Brushes.....$1.00 to 15.00
- Flash Lights.....45c to 1.50
- Kodaks.....$1.00 to 17.50
- Razors.....49c to 5.00
- Bill Folders.....49c to 1.19
- Watches.....$1.25 to 5.00
- Beverage Sets.....1.39

and...

FOR THOSE WHO LOVE FINE THINGS

Hollingsworth's
UNUSUAL CANDIES

- The LaFayette Box.....pound, $1.50
- Breath of France Package.....pound, $1.00
(Fruits and Nuts)
- Milk Chocolate Covered Nuts.....pound, $1.50
- Memories of the Old South.....pound, $1.50
- Royalty Box—Selected Chocolates.....pound, $1.00
- Brazil Nut Selections.....pound, $1.00
- Montreat Package Selected Chocolates.....pound, $1.00
- Montreat Package.....pound, $4.00
(in Cedar Chest)
- My Hobby Box.....pound, $1.50
(Selections from 12 Hollingsworth packages)

MINER & CARTER
— DRUGGISTS —

Peachtree Street at Ellis Free Delivery WA. 4900

Youth Reigns At the Mansion During Holidays

Youth will reign in Georgia's state executive mansion during the Christmas and New Year holidays. Miss Margaret Talmadge, lovely schoolgirl daughter of Governor and Mrs. Talmadge, who is enrolled at Washington Seminary, will entertain groups of friends at the handsome gray stone mansion in Ansley Park during the gay Yuletide season. Herman Talmadge, son of this renowned household, who returned Friday from the University of Georgia, will be host to a number of college mates throughout the Christmas vacation.

The presence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smyly, of Eastman, Ga., the latter being the older daughter of the Governor and Mrs. Talmadge, will complete the family circle at the mansion and they will assist their parents in entertaining guests throughout the holidays.

An old-fashioned Christmas dinner will be served at the mansion in the evening of December 25, the menu to feature products grown in Georgia. The state dining room will be festively decorated for this important occasion. Adding gayety to the decorations prevailing in the lower floor of the mansion is a brilliantly illuminated Christmas tree standing in the spacious living room overlooking the sloping lawn in front of the home. Passersby are greeted with "Merry Christmas" from the gayly lighted trees growing on either side of the mansion's lawn, their myriads of twinkling lights reflecting the cordial and warm hospitality reigning inside the home.

Among prominent visitors to the mansion during the holidays will be Mrs. M. A. Cameron and Mrs. W. S. Mann, of McRae, Ga., lifelong friends of Mrs. Talmadge. Later in the week the chief executive and Georgia's first lady will motor to their former home at McRae, where they will be extensively entertained by relatives and friends.

Bivings-Loyless Bridal Personnel Is Announced

Social interest is focused upon the bridal personnel of Miss Helen Randall Bivings and Augustus S. Loyless, their marriage to be solemnized on Friday evening, January 11, at 8:30 o'clock at All Saints' Episcopal church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception given at the Piedmont Driving Club by Dr. and Mrs. W. Troy Bivings, parents of the bride-elect.

Mrs. W. Troy Bivings Jr., sister of the bride-elect, will be matron of honor, and the bevy of bridesmaids includes Misses Anne Wynne Fleming, Ida Nevin, Betty Timmons, Phoebe Rhet, Anna Blake Morrison, Mrs. Hugh Carter Jr., Miss Rhoda Montague, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Miss Jean MacFetridge, of Birmingham, Ala. Miss Mamie Raine will keep the bride's book at the reception.

Dr. William B. Armstrong will serve as best man and Frank Boston, William A. Ward, G. F. Willis, William C. McClain, James Morton, Laurent de Givé, Charles Nunnally and Dr. W. Troy Bivings Jr. will be groomsmen. The ushers include Dr. Frederick G. Hodgson, Henry L. de Givé, Wylie Ballard, Dr. Stephen Barnett Sr., Malcolm Fleming and W. D. Thomson.

A series of parties will complement Miss Bivings and Mr. Loyless, with Miss Ida Nevin and Miss Betty giving social affairs, the dates to be announced later. Mr. and Mrs. Rix Stafford, uncle and aunt of Mr. Loyless, will entertain at a buffet-supper preceding the church rehearsal on Thursday, January 10.

After their marriage Mr. Loyless and his bride will sail from New Orleans on their wedding trip to Mexico and South America.

Canon W. S. Turner To Occupy Pulpit.

Canon William S. Turner has been invited to occupy the pulpit at St. Thomas' Episcopal church in Washington, D. C., on December 30, and accompanied by Mrs. Turner leaves on December 26, to visit Colonel and Mrs. William F. Pearson, parents of Mrs. Turner. It was only last April that Miss Sally Pearson became the bride of Canon Turner at a fashionable ceremony taking place in this handsome edifice.

The stained glass windows have been acclaimed the most beautiful in the national capital, and Rev. C. Ernest Smith, rector of the church, was the officiating minister at Canon and Mrs. Turner's marriage. It was Dr. Smith who extended the invitation to Canon Turner to deliver the post-Christmas sermon at St. Thomas' church.

Included in the festive social invitations extended Canon and Mrs. Turner is the one to attend the diplomatic reception at the White House on January 3. They will accompany Bishop Atwood, an intimate friend of President Roosevelt and is well known to Atlantans as the father of Mrs. Stephen B. Ives.

CHARMING ATLANTANS PREPARE FOR CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

Miss Harriet Grant

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings To Give Family Dinner at Floweracres

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hastings will entertain at a family dinner at 4 o'clock on Christmas Day at their handsome home, Floweracres, near Jonesboro. The occasion will be a complimentary gesture to their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hastings, in celebration of their 46th wedding anniversary, and will assemble members of four generations of the family. Special guests will be Mrs. W. W. Freeborn, mother of Mrs. H. G. Hastings, who will come from her home in Cleveland, Ohio, for the event, and Miss Delle Freeborn, also of Cleveland.

Covers will be placed for the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hastings, Mrs. W. W. Freeborn, Miss Delle Freeborn, William Freeborn, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hastings, Misses Barbara, Shirley, Gertrude, and Judith Hastings, Harry Hastings, little Miss Mary Louise Hastings, Donald Hastings Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford Brown, Massey and Dempsey Brown, A. H. McDonald, of Augusta; Mrs. Penelope Harvey, of California, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hastings.

The decorations for the dinner will be elaborate and unusual. Mrs. Hastings being noted for her ability along artistic lines. Covering the table will be a white satin cloth reaching to the floor, and gracing the center will be a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, embossed in white roses and valley lilies, the exquisite work of the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings will keep open house from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at their home, in accordance with their annual custom. One hundred and fifty members of the young married contingent of Atlanta society will motor to Floweracres for the event.

Miss Nancy Brown To Receive Welcome.

Former Atlanta friends will give affectionate greeting to Miss Nancy Brown when she reaches the city to visit Miss Frances Haven for the Christmas holidays. When she was a classmate at North Avenue Presbyterian school with Miss Haven, she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hines, the latter's parents, and it was only four years ago that she joined her mother in Columbus, Ohio. Miss Brown is a junior at the University of Ohio, from which institution she graduated in 1933.

Mrs. Linda Spence Brown and Mrs. Hines grew up together in Dallas, Texas, and it follows as a natural consequence that their attractive daughters should become congenial and devoted friends. Blond and stunning Miss Brown is exceedingly active in college circles, for she is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity and takes a decided interest in dramatics, being a talented member of the Dramatic Club at the University of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Roan Receive Gift.

Among the many handsome wedding gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Moseley Roan, whose marriage was a brilliant event taking place in Newnan last week, was the gorgeous silver service presented to the bride, the former Miss Eleanor Orr, by members of the state democratic executive committee, of which she is executive secretary. The service consists of a silver pitcher and a dozen goblets. The pitcher bears the inscription, "To Eleanor Orr, from the State Executive Committee of Georgia, December 15, 1934." Each of the goblets is embossed with a small seal of the state of Georgia.

Mrs. Roan has recently been re-elected to the committee for a period of two years, an honor well deserved. Not only has she filled the position most capably, but she has brought to it the grace and poise with which the women of her family are endowed. In addition to her charm and beauty, she possesses the enviable gift of being a fluent speaker. Not lacking for words, she never fails to rise to the occasion when called upon to speak extemporaneously, reflecting credit and honor upon her organization. Her graceful little speech of welcome to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in behalf of the committee was one of the highlights of the luncheon given upon the occasion of Mrs. Wilson's visit here two years ago, and numerous other occasions have found her just as ready to respond.

The beautiful cake which graced the bride's table at the wedding was the gift of the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. S. E. Leigh, of Grantville, who fashioned it with her own hands. Exquisitely embossed and built in tiers, the cake was surmounted with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing under a canopy from which was suspended a wedding bell and upon which was perched a tiny dove made of frosting. On the front of the cake, Mrs. Leigh designed in icing an open book upon which was traced the names of

Miss Sara Smith

WHOOP-LA! Christmas comes day after tomorrow, and that charming socialite, Miss Harriet Grant, is hanging a wreath on the mantel of her Eleventh street home, in celebration of the festive season, and as a welcome to Santa Claus when he scrambles down the chimney on December 25. An aura of mystery surrounds the gifts that have been wrapped in attractive boxes by a duo of popular sub-debs, Miss Colley and Miss Woodruff, the presents destined to be delivered on Christmas Eve. The tinsel-laden tree upon which Miss Smith is placing an ornament, will grace her Eleventh street residence. Miss Smith is a daughter of Marion Smith, and is one of the most admired members of the subdeb coterie. Photographs by Kenneth Rogers, staff photographer.

Grandmother Will See Dixie Dunbar in Revue.

Christmas this year will present additional pleasures to a 79-year-old grandmother, who in her long life has stored up many memories of Yuletide celebrations, but who this year will have an entirely new program of the day to conform to. Mrs. Anna Stinch, happens to be the grandmother of Atlanta's own Dixie Dunbar, whose career is one of the most successful of quick successes in recent theater annals and who has planned for months for "Granny" to be with her in New York for the holidays.

Dixie at present is one of the top entertainers in Broadway's favorite musical revue hit, "Life Begins at 8:40," and it will be there that her grandmother will spend her Christmas and watch her already famous young granddaughter sing and dance and receive the applause and admiration of a New York audience.

Mrs. Stinch will attend both performances of the show Christmas Day, for the traditional slogan, "The show must go on," is truly effective in the case of the presentation of the two shows on the holiday. Mrs. Stinch and Dixie's father, F. M. Dunbar, will spend the holidays with Mrs. Dunbar and Dixie at their attractive penthouse high atop one of Gotham's smart hotels.

To say that Dixie is a Broadway favorite is putting it mild, as this talented young girl, whom Atlantans watched dance since babyhood, is constantly in demand for personal appearances not only in New York but near-by cities as well. Her rise has been one of those things which all dancers dream of and soon after her arrival in New York it didn't take George White, who knows his dancers, long to spot her and sign her up for his "Scandals" picture made in Hollywood last year. Among her most recent tours was with Buddy Rogers and

Atlantan Is Guest At Lake Placid.

Christmas plans of Miss Virginia Campbell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell, do not include Atlanta, but they sound most interesting and exciting. Miss Campbell is spending the winter in New York city,

Continued in Page 7, Column 6.

Miss Gunby Weds Harry White At Quiet Rites

Impressive dignity marked the quiet ceremony which united Miss Gardner Gunby and Harry White, the event taking place at high noon on Saturday in the pastor's study of Peachtree Christian church with Rev. Dr. Robert Burns officiating. The bride wore a striking ensemble fashioned of Roosevelt blue wool and trimmed with brown wool buttons. Her becoming hat was of brown felt and she wore other brown accessories. Completing her modish costume was a shoulder cluster of deep purple orchids.

Mrs. E. R. Gunby, mother of the bride, wore a black velvet gown and a hat of black felt. A shoulder bouquet of gardenias was worn on her left shoulder.

Mr. White and his bride left for a motor trip immediately after the ceremony and upon their return they will make their home in the Villa in Ansley Park.

Mr. and Mrs. White are popular members of Atlanta's younger society and they will be attractive additions to the city's young married contingent. The bride is a representative of prominent and influential families throughout the south, her father being the late E. R. Gunby. The former Miss Gunby received her education at Rosemary Hall in Connecticut and the Spence school in New York. She made her formal debut in this city as a member of the 1931-32 Debutantes' Club.

Mr. White is the son of Mrs. Cecil Robert White and the late Mr. White, of Little Rock, Ark. Like his bride, Mr. White is a member of distinguished southern families. He graduated from the University of Arkansas with high degrees, coming to this city for residence three years ago from Little Rock.

Miss Rhodes Is Presented To Society

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Adair Rhodes formally presented to society their lovely young debutante daughter, Miss Ellen Virginia Rhodes, on Saturday, entertaining at an elaborate reception from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and at a dancing party from 10 to 2 o'clock in the evening. Both parties were given at their home on Brighton road and they were among the most interesting and brilliant events featuring the holiday social calendar. Several hundred members of the married contingent of society called to greet Miss Rhodes in the afternoon, and the evening party assembled members of the younger set.

The gay and colorful decorations throughout the home featured the Christmas motif, with festoons and wreaths of smilax, holly, and other foliage forming a background for the many graceful baskets filled with giant white chrysanthemums. Myriads of Christmas candles burning in silver holders contributed to the beauty of the festive scene. Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes and their daughter received the guests standing before a screen formed of tall palms and Woodwardia ferns, the arrangement flanked on either side by floor standards topped with candelabra holding lighted crimson tapers. The many floral gifts, consisting of bouquets and baskets of exotic blossoms, attested to the popularity of the debutante.

The beautifully-appointed table in the dining room was covered with an exquisite lace cloth and held in the center an attractive midwinter scene in miniature. A large mirror represented a lake, across which paraded a realistic Santa Claus figure with a sleigh and a team of reindeer. Encircling the lake were tiny Christmas trees and foliage. Suspended from the chandelier above the table was a graceful shower of silver bells. Garlands of smilax festooned the light and doorways, and gay holly wreaths were hung at the windows.

The debutante chose for the occasion a charming gown of lustrous white satin and net. The close-fitting bodice of satin was cut with a becoming square neckline and brief cap sleeves finished with ostrich feathers. The graceful skirt was formed of alternating bands of satin and net, the bands graduating in width from narrow at the waistline to wider at the hemline. Completing the effective costume was a muff of white satin, adorned with an old-fashioned bouquet of sweetheart roses, showered with valley lilies.

Mrs. Rhodes received her guests wearing a handsome costume of red and silver metal cloth, trimmed in bands of mink fur. Her flowers were a cluster of bronze orchids.

Receiving the guests at the door were a group of young belles, including Misses Florrie Margaret Guy, Mary Jane Campbell, Marion Barber and Elizabeth Dunn. Assisting in the living room were Mesdames W. M. Dunn, J. W. Speas, Jerome Beam, Max E. Land, Walter Scott Askew, and Ed H. Greene. Mesdames Sam Guy, Vernon Skiles, Edward L. Wight, F. M. Barfield and W. Barber assisted in the dining room.

Eggnog was served in the library from a huge cut glass punch bowl. The table, covered

Continued in Page 7, Column 4.

Legion Auxiliary Officers

Miss Mattie Eno Bagley, Columbus, president; Miss Helen Estes, Gainesville, first vice president; Mrs. B. Bennett, Cordova, second vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Young, Eaton, historian; Mrs. Hanson Henderson, Savannah, chaplain; Mrs. P. I. Dixon, Thomasville, national; Miss McNeely, Columbus, national; Mrs. J. C. Minton, of Thomasville, alternate national committeewoman; Miss Latimer Watson, of Columbus, director of publicity; secretary, Mrs. Robert McNeely.

State Editor Issues Christmas

Mrs. Ottley Receives Important Letters Of Appreciation

Letters published here, below, are of importance to the Georgia Clubwomen because each refers to this association of the Vera Connolly scholarship recently established at Tallulah Falls Industrial school, honoring the distinguished newspaper woman who wrote the widely-read article printed in the July edition of Good Housekeeping. These letters were addressed to Mrs. John K. Otley, president of the board of trustees of Tallulah school, which is owned and operated by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

find wonderful news waiting me of founding perpetual scholarship at Tallulah in my name. I am too deeply moved and too thrilled to know how to thank you all. Letter to you will follow but I could not wait to thank you for this the happiest moment of my life. I send deep and earnest gratitude right from my heart to you and all trustees and faculty and students of Tallulah Falls, and also to the clubwomen of Georgia—who own the school, for this great and undeservhigh honor you have done me. My love to you all.

VERA CONNOLLY.

Your letter of December 6 makes us feel both very proud and very humble. Of the things we say have such far reaching influence, then we must be very careful in our choice of things to support. Mildred Seydell was in Friday and I read her a portion of your letter. She was immensely pleased, because she said that Miss Connolly's article was really an answer to her prayers. She told me also that she found Good Housekeeping in tiny villages in the Congo section, just as a year or so ago she had found it being used as a primer in Turkey for the teaching of English. I am glad that we were able to do this thing for Tallulah, and I hope that the school could continue to flourish.

Sincerely yours,

W. F. BIGELOW, Editor,
Good Housekeeping, New York City.

---

Demorest Woman's Club Federates

At the meeting of Demorest Woman's Club held in December it was unanimously voted to join the ninth district, state and general federations as a per capita and dues paying member.

W. F. BIGELOW, president.
M. M. Mowbray, secretary.

the session and welcomed five new members; Mesdames Ray Black, G. E. Denton, Alice Beveridge, T. E. Campbell and Katherine Lokey. Eighteen members were present and answered to roll call with Christmas quotations.

Don't fail to attend the state president's lecture, which will be given by Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, in which the main objectives of Georgia Federation were outlined.

Those who presented their plans, the garden section being represented by Mrs. Ruth F. Atkinson in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. G. E. Bellingrath, and the literature by Mrs. J. W. Ritchie. Other chairmen to be chosen. Greetings were heard from clubs at Cornelia and Clayton and Mrs. T. M. Bonner, president of the club in Helen, brought an inspiring message telling of the work being accomplished by the clubwomen. Having been the one to take the initial step toward organizing the Demorest club, Mrs. B. N. Bonner presented an honorary report. Under the leadership of Mrs. Mowbray the club is sure of a successful year of achievement.

After the business session, refreshment was served at Mrs. Mowbray's home and she was assisted by Mesdames J. W. Ritchie, James Taylor, Joe Phillips and Miss Ruth Stone.

Lesche Club Hears Christmas Music.

As an innovation from the usual Monday program, the Lesche Women's Club, of Dalton, entertained with a program of Christmas music given at twilight on Sunday at the clubhouse. The songs were made more effective by the perfect setting in which sung. The rooms were lighted by candles, and the music was made more effective by the perfect setting in which sung.

glowing log fire, on the piano and in seven-branched candelabra by the stage. Garlands of ivy and arrangements of Christmas greens further emphasized the holiday atmosphere. The program was introduced by Miss Martha Lin Manly, who told of the origin of the celebration of Christmas and of the beginning of carol singing and its ever-increasing practice. She then gave of songs of the three Slovak carols whose melodies date from the tenth and eleventh centuries. The songs were sung by a quartet composed of Miss Margaret Gavit, Miss Ruth Strain, Joe Crawley and Kinney Davis. "Wenceslaus" and "The First Noel."

The fourth selection was a duet, "The Infant Light," sung by Miss Kate Harlan and Miss Vera Deck, followed by two quartets, "There Were Shepherds" and the lovely "Holy Night." Mrs. C. D. Meadows read Phillips Brooks' beautiful poem, "A Christmas Carol," after which Miss Harlan and Mr. Crawley sang as a duet, "The Song of the Angels." Miss Minnie Freybach gave a beautiful rendition of "The Wondrous Story," and Miss Harlan and Mr. Crawley "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem," and closed with a brilliant quartet.

next meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Green, with Mrs. H. Huckabee assisting.

ERS . . .

---

for the season
ng taste,

"Yuletide Spirit!"

At this time a Christmas box was given to each veteran, after which all went to the recreation building for a grand party of games and stunts. On Christmas morning each veteran will receive a carton of cigarettes.

The gift from the department and from the Junior Red Cross, a red tartelette, a bag, filled with fruits and candles. These boxes are made possible by the various units in the state, each having contributed its pro rata share. On Dec. 8, at Millersville, Pa., where there are some 100 soldiers, parties similar to the one held in Allentown were given. At each hospitalization the veterans were reminded again that the love of the entire department was theirs. This Christmas work is carried on through the rehabilitation department of which Mrs. James MacDor, Rome, is state chairman.

The Quiltman unit reports $21 realized from the Poppy Day sale, held

On November 11, Mrs. R. L. Groove placed wreaths on the graves of the soldiers on Armistice Day. The rehabilitation chairman reported that the Quiltman unit will be hostess to the Augusta hospital in February. The members voted to entertain at a cake walk early in January. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. J. T. McCoy with Mas. J. T. Bridges and Mrs. A. M. Adams as joint hosts. The Quiltman unit contributed its share to the Christmas fund.

Under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Youmans, rehabilitation chairman, a the unit to the Charles Harrison post, the most successful dance was held at the Night Owl Club. At this time a large sum was realized for the Christmas fund. The rustic club was charming with its decorations of smilax, holly, Christmas berries and a gay, colorful floor lamp. During the evening the floor was kept busy and at midnight Mr. and Mrs. Robert McArthur, the grand marsh, bid the guests adieu. Old-fashioned square dances were called by Mrs. Miller. Honor guests were Miss Margaret Kate Bagley, department president; Mrs. R. H. McNulty, department secretary; Miss Watson, publicity director.

LaGrange Club Votes Upon Activities

For the Holiday

LaGrange Woman's Club met Wednesday at the club rooms under the direction of the Garden session, with Fine Arts and the American Hop sections contributing to the program. The room was decorated with Christmas greens, with holly wreaths at the window where lighted red tapers burned in candelabra. The table held a small lighted tree set in a mound of holly and smilax and flanked with burning red tapers.

Mrs. D. E. Morgan, president of the club, and Mrs. F. E. Callaway, chairman of the Garden section, presided. Following the reading of the national presidents-general's Christmas greeting, a letter was read in response to which prizes for the best essay on "Safety in the Home," offered by the committee on insurance and safety of the home. Plans were discussed for the club sponsorship of a door-to-door lighting Christmas project. A vote was taken to apply the proceeds raised from the October flower show to repairs on the club house, and to purchase a Christmas gift to Maude Freese, the club's scholar at Taft College.

The meeting opened with the reading of Henry Van Dyke's "Pathway to Peace," and other numbers on the program were: a talk by Mrs. T. L. McKinnin, on the holly tree viewed from a botanical, historical, and literary standpoint; a vocal solo by Mrs. Eugene Baker, "Jesu Bambino," accompanied by Mrs. R. F. McTigue, with violin obligato by Miss Ida Hooten and th. carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," led by the Fine Arts section. Hostesses were: Mesdames W. A. Reeves, H. R. Slack, W. W. Cadwell.

H. Childs, C. V. Truitt, Claude Hammitt, and Miss Annie Newton.

---

Maysville Clubwomen Hear Reports.

Maysville Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Omer Arial for their December meeting, with Mrs. M. P. Deadwyler, president, presiding, and Mrs. Hiram Hancock read the collection, followed by the club song, "My Georgia Land." Mrs. J. P. Cooper reported that her department realized

Mrs. Deadwyer urged members to try to raise as much as possible to take to the children of the Fruit Cakes. Mrs. C. W. Murphy, chairman of public welfare, reported that clothing and money to the value of $25 had been gathered through her department. The great amount from this department amounted to $27, part of which will be used for needy families and for the Christmas cheer.

was prepared by Mrs. J. P. Round, chairman of home department, and Miss Ruth Maynard, teacher of home economics in the school. Featuring the duet, "Sleep, Holy Child," by Miss Annie Higgins and Miss Mary Ethel Deadwyler, accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances Carr, reading "Home," by Miss Gode Eberhard, "The Home," "Asleep in the Manger," Mary Helen Hancock, "The value of Home Economics Club Work," Miss Frances Carr; "How Home Economics Helps the Life of Today and Tomorrow," Miss Edna St. John, and "Ways in Which the Federated Women's Clubs Can Aid the Community," Mrs. J. P. Round.

Flowers
Uptown Store

New Florist
Walnut 3216

FEDERATED CHURCH WOMEN OF GEORGIA

"Laborers Together With God"—1 Cor. 3:9

Founded by the Late Mrs. Albert Braswell.

OFFICERS: Mrs. T. L. Lewis, honorary president, 201 Fourth street, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, president, 267 Virginia avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Mary B. Bland, first vice president, 100 Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. L. O. Freeman, second vice president, 262 West High street, College Park; Mrs. Arthur Hale, recording secretary, 1000 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. A. J. Keady, treasurer, 118 King's Highway, Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. Edgar C. O'Connell, auditor, 1730 N. Decatur road, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Thomas Morgan, chaplain, 247 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta.

STAFF EDITORS: Miss E. Elizabeth Sawell, 256 Richardson street, S. W., Atlanta, Ga.; Associate Editors: Baptist, Mrs. E. L. Astin, 1541 Hudson drive, N. W., Atlanta; Methodist, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 258 Goodrich avenue, W. 24, Decatur; Presbyterian, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 258 Goodrich avenue, W. 24, Decatur; Episcopal, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 258 Goodrich avenue, W. 24, Decatur; Lutheran, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 258 Goodrich avenue, W. 24, Decatur; Christian, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 258 Goodrich avenue, W. 24, Decatur.

Baptist Young People Hold Meetings of Varied Interests

Mary Perry Intermediate G. A.'s of Druid Hills Baptist church were entertained at a Christmas party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reilly, Mary Callaway, chairman of the social committee, assisted by Erindale Taylor, co-chairman, was in charge of the decorations. A color scheme of white and green, the G. A. colors, was used. Singing of Christmas carols and playing games were enjoyed by the following members: Mary Callaway, Louise Hammack, Janice Smith, Margaret Spratt, Katherine Stone, Jane Suddeth, Erindale Taylor, Elizabeth and Mary Alderman, Janelle Willoughby, Ninette Carter and two visitors. Sixteen members are enrolled in this organization and the average attendance is 12. During December the girls are giving Christmas presents to a family of three children. Mrs. W. A. Reilly is counselor.

The annual Christmas party given to the Sunbeams of Druid Hills Baptist church was held at the church Monday, Mrs. Sam Quigley, assisted by Mesdames W. T. Johnson and Walker Matthews, were in charge. Twenty Sunbeams were present. Playing games and singing Christmas carols was enjoyed.

Girls' Auxiliary of the W. M. U. of the West End Baptist church met Monday at the church. The hostesses were Mrs. Julian Saunders, the program as outlined in the day of prayer for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering was carried out by the following girls: Louise Bryant, Mildred Winchester and Barbara Anne Moore.

Under the leadership of the counselor, Mrs. Julian Saunders, the program as outlined in the day of prayer for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering was carried out by the following girls: Louise Bryant, Mildred Winchester and Barbara Anne Moore.

Royal Ambassadors of the West End Baptist church met Sunday afternoon under the leadership of the counselor, W. H. Galloway.

"The Jew First" was the topic of the program. The boys who took part were Manuel Cooper, Hugh Staples, Lewis Stanley, Henry Crisler and Raymond Drane.

Election of Officers Features Baptist Missionary Meetings

Blanche Bradley Business Women's circle of the Kirkwood Baptist church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Hoke Shirley. The program was directed by the chairman, Mrs. H. S. Hamilton.

Installation of new officers was as follows: Chairman, Mrs. H. S. Hamilton; first co-chairman, Mrs. W. D. Herndon; second co-chairman, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell; third co-chairman, Mrs. R. W. Norrell; recording secretary, Mrs. J. L. Ruffy; corresponding secretary, Miss Roberta Swann; treasurer, Miss Irene Duvet; personal service chairman, Miss Jessie Meyers; publicity chairman, Mrs. Gussie McWhorter; stewardship chairman, Mrs. J. L. Jackson; mission study chairman, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell; current events chairman, Mrs. Etta Newborn; social chairman, Mrs. G. H. Howard; assistant social chairman, Miss Sarah Newborn; group leaders, Mesdames Jane Owen, L. McConnell, C. C. Carroll, Mrs. J. F. Brown, Misses Irene Duvet and Gertrude McMullen.

Mrs. W. O. Mitchell brought a beautiful devotional, her subject being "A Pearl of Great Price." Lesson on "Stewardship" was given by Miss Loin Winn. There were 40 members and three new members and one visitor. A gift to Miss Blanche Bradley, missionary nurse to Pingtu, Shantung, China, for whom the circle is named, was reported. A gift of love and appreciation from the circle was presented to the chairman, Mrs. H. S. Hamilton, by Mrs. J. L. Jackson, who paid highest tribute to the faithful work and accomplishments. The leader spoke of the loving friendship which exists between Mrs. Hamilton and each member of the circle. Mrs. Hamilton responded in a lovely manner. Mrs. Fred Boring rendered a program of vocal music. This circle is the largest in the Kirkwood Baptist church.

Circle No. 3 of Oakhurst Baptist W. M. S. held the last meeting of the year with Mrs. M. W. H. as hostess. After the business and program, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. J. F. McKelney, chairman, was presented with a handsome handbag by the members.

Naomi Shell circle of the Capitol View Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon. After a short business session, the circle met jointly with other circles of the church to enjoy a devotional given by Mrs. L. Allen and a talk on missionary work in China by Miss Mary Crawford, returned missionary.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. A. Wix, 703 Cumberland circle, N. E.

Mrs. J. S. Price, secretary of the fourth district of the R. W. M. U. of Atlanta association, reports the organization of a W. M. S. at the Sharon Baptist church, the organization meeting having been held at the home of Mrs. Happy White on Concord road. Mrs. Price led the devotional and Mrs. E. H. Gibson led in prayer. Inspirational talks were given by Mrs. L. O. Freeman, superintendent of the association; Mrs. E. H. Gibson and Mrs. Julius Smith.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Happy White; first vice president, Mrs. J. L. Chaffin; second vice president, Mrs. J. H. Hallman; secretary, Mrs. O. O. Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. A. Bartlett; circle chairmen: 1, Miss Ruby Hallman; 2, Mrs. S. A. Carroll; Mrs. L. O. Freeman conducted a beautiful installation service.

Others present were Mesdames E. Scott, Homer Painter, J. J. Cochran, C. E. Dollar, Golden Pickett, R. S. Adams, W. F. Cargins, H. E. Kennedy and five visitors. Refreshments were served by Mrs. White, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. R. Keene.

Circle 5 of the Oakland City Baptist church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. G. R. Speer and elected the following officers for the coming year: Chairman, Mrs. T. B. Wolford; co-chairman, Mrs. L. L. Leathwood; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. V. V. Makasier; personal service chairman, Mrs. A. K. Stovall; publicity, Mrs. V. V. Makasier; social chairman, Mrs. L. M. Crawford; floral chairman, Mrs. M. Keith. The circle will meet with Mrs. D. L. Wardlaw in Fort McPherson on January 7.

W. M. S. of the Arondale Baptist church met Tuesday at the church to observe a season of prayer for foreign missions. On Wednesday night

Sunbeams of the West End Baptist church had a special meeting Monday to observe the week of prayer. The contribution for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering was 100 per cent. The children started individual Christmas projects which were to be completed following Monday. The addition of one new member brought the enrollment to 40.

All children between the ages of three and nine years, inclusive, were invited to meet the Sunbeams on each first and third Monday of each month. Mrs. Howard Bagwell is leader.

Cornelia Brown Sunbeam band of the First Baptist W. M. U. rendered the program at the city-wide rally on the subject, "Lanterns That Shine for Jesus." A mission study was held and 21 certificates were issued to Thera Jo Barnett, John Anderson, Emily Calhoun, Bill Scarborough, Winston Gross, Nokie Bennett, Evelyn Fields, Miriam and Frances Gartenhaus, Jean Harris, Jeanette Holbrook, Eva Pearl Franklin. The band will have a Christmas party next Wednesday, making a special love offering for Lottie Moon. Each child will bring toys for the orphan's home, which is an annual Christmas gift.

G. W. of the Arondale Baptist W. M. U. met Thursday at the church. The hostesses were Mrs. E. O. Cole, the leader, had charge of the program.

Mrs. C. L. Robinson, leader of the R. A. of the Arondale Baptist church, held a meeting last Thursday at her home.

Y. W. A. of the Central Baptist church met Wednesday at the church. After prayer, a Christmas program was rendered.

Y. W. A. of the Arondale Baptist church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. W. P. Burke. A foreign mission program was given.

The W. M. S. with all the junior organizations had charge of the program.

W. M. S. of West End Baptist church met Monday. An installation program was rendered. The pastor, Dr. M. A. Cooper, leading, each member planted an imaginary package of seed in the W. M. U. garden with the hope and expectation of a harvest in the coming year. The W. M. S. as a whole expressed its appreciation of the faithful services of the officers. Mrs. A. C. Honea, who has just completed her second year in this office.

The newly elected officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell; first vice president, Mrs. J. J. Hemperly; second vice president, Mrs. J. C. Watkins; third vice president, Mrs. A. C. Honea; recording secretary, Mrs. J. M. Manry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thad Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. T. D. Body; auditor, Mrs. L. P. Wilson; publicity, Mrs. E. H. Burger; chorister, Mrs. J. M. Little; circle chairmen, Mrs. S. O. Smith, Mrs. R. C. Bean, Mrs. D. L. Stovall, Mrs. A. C. Honea, Mrs. E. O. Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Manry, Mrs. T. K. Moore, Mrs. J. M. Turner, Mrs. G. W. Light, Mrs. L. N. Brown, Mrs. L. C. Bryant, chairman Blanche Cooper circle; Y. W. A. counselors, Mrs. T. K. Moore and Mrs. M. W. Hardwick; honorary councilor, Sunbeam leader, Mrs. H. C. Bagwell; G. A. councilor, Mrs. Julian Jackson; intermediate G. A. councilor, Mrs. A. C. Honea; R. A. councilor, W. H. Galloway; chairman of standing committees: Travelers' Aid, Mrs. W. C. Cooper; Margaret Fund, Mrs. M. C. Cooper; sick fund, Mrs. V. Vines; luncheon, Mrs. T. Edwards; Georgia Baptist Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. W. D. Johnson; Georgia Baptist Orphan's Home, Mrs. C. E. Broach; Andrew and Frances Stewart mission, Mrs. J. W. Armistead; Kate Pendleton Dawson mission, Mrs. J. B. Holmer; mission study, Mrs. W. D. Marshall; publicity, Mrs. W. W. Whitington; scrapbook, Mrs. J. Bratton Davies; personal service, Mrs. J. T. Staples; welfare, Mrs. A. W. Lynch; pulpit, Mrs. W. H. S. Dorsey.

An offering of $1,000 for foreign missions was made by the Tabernacle Baptist church following a week of prayer just closed at the church. Mrs. Ben Thompson, of Madison, Ga., was guest speaker.

An installation service was conducted for the following officers. Honorary president, Mrs. H. H. Knight; president, Mrs. R. S. Howell; first vice president, Mrs. P. A. Williams; second vice president, Mrs. J. W. Avery; third vice president, Mrs. H. H. Strickland; secretary, Mrs. Frank Todd; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. H. Coogler; treasurer, Mrs. D. G. Russ; pianist, Mrs. M. J. McWhorter; chorister, Mrs. J. L. Belinger; auditor, Mrs. J. H. Boling. Chairmen: Stewardship, Mrs. M. E. Springer; mission study, Mrs. W. C. Mann; White Cross, Mrs. H. McGuire; personal service, Mrs. W. A. Grubbs; Good Will Center, Mrs. Joe Pasplair; Margaret fund, Mrs. J. Day; training school, Mrs. C. A. Huley; standard of excellence, Mrs. M. Hard; publicity, Mrs. A. G. Sullivan. Counselors: Y. W. A., Miss Frances Mason; intermediate G. A., Mrs. H. H. Strickland; junior G. A., Mrs. C. M. Parker; R. A., Mrs. C. Jones; Sunbeams, Mrs. D. C. Russell; Circle leaders: Mrs. C. M. Parker; J. C. Williamson, R. J. Eaves, E. G. Wood, W. T. Dilbeck, R. L. Mays, Olin Williams, D. W. R. Adams, Fred Adams, N. J. Thompson, Edgar Long, Misses Pearl Royal and Mary Baker.

Mrs. Ferguson Pleases Audience Here.

Audience James T. Ferguson, president of the National Council of Federated Church Women, challenged the large audience to whom she spoke at the First Baptist church on Sunday to the power of the united church womanhood and to the opportunities of the present hour.

Her winsome and pleasing personality won a large circle of friends both at the luncheon and the Sunday mass meeting.

The Georgia Council of Federated Church Women, which was recently affiliated, will announce the chairman of several departments which will be established at the quarterly meeting in January.

Mrs. Stauffer Issues Christmas Message to Church Women

Peace and good will to you, Federated Church Women.

As on that night long ago, shepherds' hearts were attuned to catch the heavenly strain of peace on earth, good will to men, so today the ether waves are laden with the same message and we need only to be attuned to receive it.

May this recently created greater Federated Church Women's organization be challenged to awaken all to the prayer for peace and good will with brotherly love for the world over and clasp the hands of each other a little tighter that together this prayer may be realized.

Best wishes for a merry Christmas.

MRS. C. R. STAUFFER,
President of Federated Church Women of Georgia.

Christian Woman's Council Plans Interesting Activities for Christmas

Woman's council of the First Christian church are sending attractive potted plants as a Christmas greeting to the octogenarian members of the church. They are Mesdames Kate Logan, M. V. Williams, Henry Lewis, Nannie Morton, C. C. Archer, E. F. Small, Ida Crumback, C. G. Root, R. A. Gann, J. V. Fitzgibbon and G. W. Baker.

Mrs. George Crawford was re-elected president of the Gleasons' class of the First Christian church Sunday. Mrs. Crawford has served as president of the class for the past year. Elected to serve with Mrs. Crawford were Mrs. Adele Kate McCormick, first vice president; Miss Fannie Odum, second vice president; Mrs. Burrell Baker, recording secretary; Mrs. H. C. Wells, corresponding secretary; Miss Isabel Day, treasurer; Mrs. John Hodge, assistant treasurer. The Gleasons' class is closing one of the most successful years in its history. Among some of the major accomplishments was the making of 52 garments for the Needlework Guild; sending a box of 50 baby garments to Miss Isabel Day for mission work among her Chinese; 2,100

Church Meetings

Lutheran
Monthly meeting of the Matrons' Class of the Lutheran church of the Redeemer is called for December 27 in the church at 10:30 o'clock.

"Christmas Pictures," a beautiful program, will be presented by the Sunday school of the Lutheran church of the Redeemer at the Christmas service Sunday evening, December 23, at 7 o'clock. The early Christmas service will be held on Christmas morning at 7 o'clock.

Christian
Gleasons' Class of the First Christian church will have a Christmas party Friday at the home of Mrs. J. H. Bush, 1366 North View avenue, at 10 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, at which Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Stauffer will be honor guests.

Episcopal
Young People's Service League of the Cathedral of St. Philip will present a Christmas party Sunday evening, December 30, at 5 o'clock in the cathedral. This pageant is written by Lois Parker, a member of the cathedral choir. The program will be presented by the Young People's Service League and Arthur Davis, cathedral organist, will conduct the music.

Miss Dorothy Hinman will entertain the bishops' branch of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Atlanta at her home, 923 Piedmont avenue, at 7 o'clock. The Christmas party Friday evening, December 28, Mrs. George Hinman will give an illustrated talk on "The Madonnas in Art."

Baptist
T. E. L. Class of the Baptist tabernacle meets at the church December 27 at 10 o'clock for the business meeting and Christmas party. All members are urged to be present.

Mount Vernon Church Activities.

The Missionary Society of Mount Vernon Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Martin Walker. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Tom Kemp; vice president, Mrs. E. N. Wingard; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Hudgins; treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Warren; superintendent of mission and Bible study, Mrs. C. Y. Wright; superintendent of supplies, Mrs. E. N. Wingard; publicity, Mrs. E. S. Cline.

The circle chairman will be appointed later. The financial report was indeed gratifying.

A life membership certificate was presented to Mrs. Martin Walker by the society in recognition of her unselfish and untiring services. She was a charter member and all through the years has been an inspiration to all those who came in contact with her. Last year the society presented a life membership certificate to Mrs. Thomas Moore, also a charter member and sister of Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Moore had been president of the missionary society for about 20 years.

The very existence of the present Mount Vernon church is largely due to the efforts and services of the families and relatives of these two honored and loved members.

Mount Vernon Methodist church on Marietta road held a reception for the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Chidsey, who comes from Buchanan.

A pantry shower was also given and they were the recipients of many nice groceries, home canned fruits, vegetables.

Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a social time.

The stewards of the church for the following year are: H. Thomas Kemp, W. L. Millwood, W. G. Allen, Thomas J. Campbell Jr., W. H. Millwood, Charles B. Lewis Jr., J. C. Morris, T. J. Campbell Jr., W. H. Kemp, O. C. Echols.

Mrs. J. C. Hudgins was elected to serve as secretary and treasurer.

Mount Vernon church is one of Atlanta's oldest churches. The fifty-sixth anniversary was celebrated recently. The present structure was built under the pastorate of Rev. Felton Williams, 25 years ago and is a very handsome edifice.

Lutheran Matrons' Class Reviews Year's Activities

Marking a year of benevolent activities, the Matrons' class of the Lutheran church of the Redeemer had as the concluding feature the annual Christmas party last Thursday at the church. This event is the high mark for a social gathering. A short business session at which reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. B. Carroll, and treasurer, Mrs. J. Schoen, preceded the luncheon presided over by Mrs. C. H. Ables, class president.

Mrs. John L. Yost gave a vocal selection, "Joel," while the class joined in the singing of "Hark, the Herald Angels," with "Ourselves Christian Soldiers" as the concluding hymn.

Four beautifully decorated tables commensurate with the spirit of the season, surrounded the effectively lighted tree around which guests were seated. A surprise gift at each table accompanied by verses appropriate for each member afforded amusement when read aloud. An interchange of gifts by the Sunshine Sisters occasioned much cheer and good will and new assignments were made for the coming year. Amusing games followed under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Conover. Mrs. Lottie Ethridge was chairman of luncheon committee.

A resume of the year's activities are as follows: January, support of India Bible woman consummated; benefit supper; February, silver tea; dinner at Storch's furniture store; March, oyster supper, memorial flowers; April, rummage sale; May, luncheon at Sears-Robuck; June, doughnut sale; September, manufacturer's dinner, mother's union entertained; October, rummage sale, oyster supper, report of Red Cross work, including 374 garments made in 800 hours; November, class birthday party for distribution of three Thanksgiving baskets; December, 40 gifts for inmates of Lowman home, White Rock, S. C., gifts for Sunshine Sisters of the class, class party.

Christmas Services At Westminster Church

Special Christmas services will be held at the Westminster Presbyterian church, corner Ponce de Leon and Boulevard, on Sunday, December 23, at 11 and 5 o'clock. Rev. Peter Marshall will use as his subject for the morning sermon, "The First Christmas." The morning service will also feature special numbers by the junior choir and the Westminster vested choir, under the direction of Miss Edna L. Whitmore, organist and choir director.

Vesper service at 5 o'clock will be in the form of a cantata, a service of praise and worship in song, rendered by the church choir and assisting artists, under the direction of Miss Whitmore. "The Gift of God," a Christmas cantata by E. S. Lorenz, including the following numbers will be given: "Awake Up, My Glory," "The Son of the Highest," "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord," "Bethlehem," "No Room in the Inn," "The Message of the Angels," "Let Us Go to Bethlehem," "Under the Christmas Star," "The Return of the Shepherds," "Where Is He?" "Following the Star," and "Glorious Is Thy Name."

Kappa Kappa Gamma To Honor Members

Atlanta alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma will honor active members of the sorority at a 5 o'clock tea Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dowell Brown, 233 Fourteenth street. Mrs. George Reid will be cohostess with Mrs. Brown.

Among the Atlanta girls to be honored are the Misses Rosemary Tandy and Beverly Rogers, home from the University of Wisconsin; Miss Mary Cary Maynard, of the University of Kentucky; Miss Hilda Blount Brown, from Sophie Newcomb, and Miss Diana Mary Dotz, of Connecticut. Some of the Atlanta girls who are holiday guests.

Miss Meador Feted At Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Meador were hosts at a buffet supper Sunday evening at their home on Peachtree road as a complimentary gesture to their niece, Miss Josephine Meador, a popular member of the Debutantes' Club.

Misses Fort Scott Meador and Belle Scott Meador assisted their parents in the entertainment of the guests, who included 10 members of the Debutantes' Club, and their escorts.

Decorations throughout the lower floor of the home carried out the Christmas motif and gracing the table in the dining room was a miniature Christmas tree.

Comunion service will include the "Gloria Tibbi," by Edin, "Holy Night," by Schubert, "Nunc Dimittis" by Rameau. The procession will be the "Adeste Fideles."

Lovely Christmas Visitor

Miss Ruth Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Sullivan, of Covington, Ga., and Austin T. Drew, of this city. Following the church service in the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, with the Rev. Pilkington officiating, the wedding party attended a dinner-dance at the Hollywood Beach hotel. The bride's gown was of white satin, modeled on princess lines, and her close-fitting turban was of white satin and silver mesh. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Drew was graduated from the Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, and later did postgraduate work in Emory College, Atlanta. For the past several years she has been head of the art department of the Covington Public Schools. Mr. Drew, a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at Miami Beach, attended Kemper Military School of Booneville, Mo., and also the University of Missouri, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at Columbia. He is engaged in the gasoline industry in Miami and the building business in Miami Beach.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Drew will reside at their present front home at Miami Beach, 7837 Atlantic way.

Mr. and Mrs. Elder Plan Family Dinner

Among the prominent visitors in the city are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weller, of New York City and Miami, Fla., who are the guests for the Christmas holidays of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Elder, at their home on Muscogee avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Weller arrived by motor last week from their winter home in Miami, and are receiving a cordial welcome from a host of friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Elder will be hosts at a family dinner at their home on Christmas Day in compliment to their visitors. Covers will be placed for Mrs. Weller, Mr. and Mrs. H. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling J. Elder, Mrs. John Z. Lawless, Miss Martha Lawless, Miss Ruth Elder, Mr. H. Elder Jr. and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Elder.

Miss Ruth Shellnut Is Bride Of Claud Herrin, of Buford, Ga.

WINDER, Ga., Dec. 22.—Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Shellnut, of Winder, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Claud Herrin, of Buford, formerly of Winder, on Friday, December 21.

The ceremony, which was performed by the bride's father, Rev. E. L. Shellnut, was a quiet affair, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, in Winder, and attended only by relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom. Immediately after the wedding the couple left for New York city, where they will spend the holidays.

Mrs. Herrin, who is the eldest daughter of her parents, received her education in the public schools of Winder and at Georgia State Teachers' College in Athens, where she was a member of the Sigma Kappa Nu sorority and was prominent in dramatics.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herrin, of Winder. He was graduated from Oglethorpe University in the class of 1931, and is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity. He is captain of the Oglethorpe football team in his senior year. He is at present connected with the firm of Bona Allen, Buford, where he and his bride will reside.

Photo by Bacon-Biggers.
MRS. CLAUD HERRIN.

Visitors, Brides-Elect and Debutantes Share Honors at Piedmont Driving Club

A gay holiday atmosphere marked the dinner-dance given Saturday evening at the Piedmont Driving Club by a number of members and visitors who have arrived in the city to spend Christmas here. Sharing honors with prominent out-of-town guests were popular debutantes and brides-elect who were central figures in congenial dinner parties. Miss Betty Schroder and Jack Kalkhurst, whose marriage takes place this week, were honor guests in the party given by Miss Suzanne Memminger. Covers were placed for Miss Schroder and Mr. Kalkhurst and members of their bridal party, including Misses Eleanor Spalding, Ann Clay, of Harris, Ky.; Betty Gage, Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, and David Smith. Larry DeGree, William Schroder Jr., Hoke Smith, Simpson, Dillon Kalkhurst, and Thomas Hinman, Kels Boland, Lamar Ellis, Joe Joyce and Jack Cassin.

Ed Hardin, of Chicago, formerly of Atlanta, was host to Miss Olivia Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Royal Daniel, of Chicago.

Miss Betty Cole entertained a group of friends in honor of Miss Louise Effrid, of Albany, and her fiancé, Chester Robinson, of Chicago, whose marriage takes place in Albany on December 27. Covers were placed for Miss Effrid, Mr. Robinson, Miss Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Madison Bell, parents of the hostess; Mrs. Vincent Allen Ship, Miss Lucile Willis, Dargan color, Gus Abscraft and Richard Robinson, of Chicago.

Mrs. Stewart Hill Jones, of New York, was honor guest in the party given by Mrs. Fannie Durand Williams, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dargan Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ebersole, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wickliffe Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collier, Joseph Raine, John C. Wheatley and Daniel Whitehead Hickey.

We stay with you until 9 P. M. tomorrow!

and deliver all purchases made in time for CHRISTMAS!

Furgiture Co.

Corner Edgewood Ave. & Pryor St.—(Just a Few Steps from 5 Points)

McClelland Barclay's "GLAMOROUS GIRLS"

She Loves to Play
On the Year-End Holiday

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1934

Trade Mark Registration Applied For.

HOLIDAY GIRL

GOOD OLD YEAR-END!

Christmas is sacred, New Year is pagan, but they're both swell holidays, and so are the days around them, when everybody seems in the spirit to have fun, to give fun—and to give parties.

Those parties! All gowned up and places to go! And no 9 o'clock classes the next morning for my college-girl, who doesn't care much for vacation—oh, no?

It's good to relax, to play, to frolic. It's good that we have occasions dedicated to pleasure and celebration; which throw us into the mellow mood, which snap us out of our routine of responsibilities, work and worry. So, I say:

GOOD OLD YEAR-END! McC. B.

More Satisfaction Has Been Brought to American Homes By

A&P COFFEES

than any other brands.

Highlights of Broadway by Jack Lait

BESIDE a handsome profile photo of Jimmy Walker, with the first of his contributions in the London Sunday Dispatch, is a "box" reading: DO YOU LIKE THIS PAGE? WRITE TO THE EDITOR. Okay. We'll write to the editor.

Dear Editor:

The oversigned, not a Constant Reader, Pro Bono Publico or Mother of Six, awaited with eager eye the arrival of our Jimmy's opening column.

JACK LAIT.

Jimmy turned out a bit of interesting copy and I mail him to the inner circle of the guild.

But Jimmy's observations, that some of our American newspapers are "no respecters of law or truth—and get away with it," is scarcely becoming, coming from Jimmy. If there is one squawk that Jimmy cannot make with conviction, it is this rap against American newspapers. They were kind—generous to him... I don't know a man in my many years' contact with men in public life, for whom and about whom newspapermen said more friendly things and left unsaid more hostile things than Jimmy.

I sat with Jimmy, when he was Mayor of this city, at the speakers' table of a dinner given by a couple of thousand women in the Astor Hotel. He was at the peak of his popularity. He told me he had been offered $100,000 to star in a movie, and that he had turned it down.

Now, that's a pretty sweet item for a Broadway columnist or any other reporter. I said "Jimmy, I'd like to print that." He looked worried. "No, please—I'm Mayor of New York—it would make me appear very undignified."

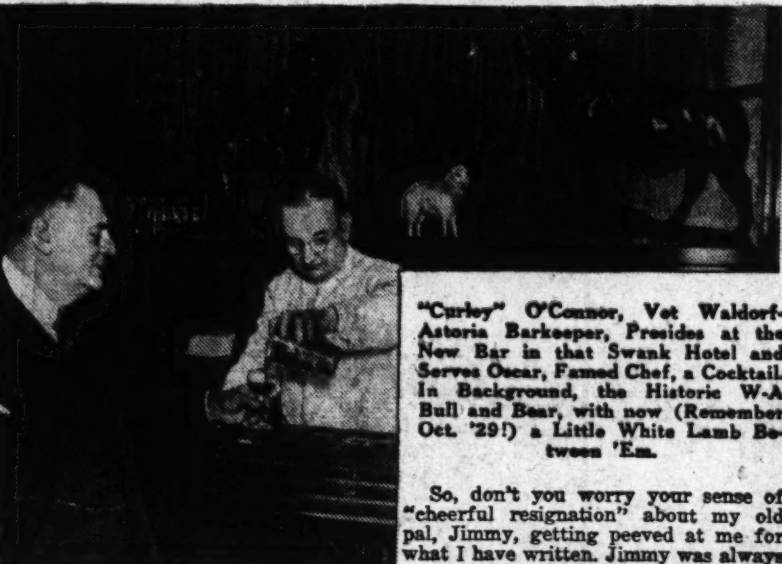

So, I didn't print it. Now that he's a columnist, himself, I hope he won't mind. I don't know where a columnist could use a lot of dignity. But it's just a single instance of hundreds I know, where American newspapermen indulged our Jimmy.

That he was often late for appointments was a village gag and he used to laugh with us about it and refer to it in his speeches. And when he was called the "Night Mayor," he publicly repeated the quip.

Mind you, dear editor, it is no manly brag to throw up courtesies extended to a fellow because one likes him. We all fell for Jimmy rather hard—rawther. The chap is irresistible if you get to know him personally, as we all did. I still like him a lot. I had a cocktail with him in your Savoy bar a few weeks back, and even after all that had been written on what his mentor, Al Smith, points to as "the record," I couldn't stop liking him. But it grieves me that he should write in a British paper against American papers, and say:

"the jaundiced publication hides behind a scarecrow, and threatens the existence of any who question the freedom of the press. All too frequently that salutary fundamental is an alibi for the freedom of the publisher."

Never, in my recollection, was an iota of that full freedom denied to Jimmy. He never said a word for publication that wasn't published. I cannot imagine when Jimmy's existence was ever threatened for questioning that salutary fundamental. The only two men I know of who ever seriously threatened Jimmy were Sam Seabury and Frank Roosevelt—and neither of them was a publisher.

When Jimmy challenged the world with "I will match my private life with that of any man," he doesn't know, perhaps that plenty of volunteers swarmed at the doors of editorial rooms, offering to meet that challenge in the columns of our newspapers—jaundiced and ill-white. He doesn't know, surely, of any of those that got any encouragement.

When he no longer sat on top of our world, when he no longer packed a punch that was driven with the force of vast political power, the harpist descended on us in hordes. They all said they had "inside stuff" on Jimmy. Not less than several scores got to me, personally... Was ever a line published?

Of course, we did publish sworn official testimony and verbatim State proceedings. But if ever a line of personal scandal was published about Jimmy, it escaped my eye—and I mean after as well as before Seabury opened up and cracked down on him.

"Our boys," says Jimmy, meaning American newspapermen, "don't let a little matter of the facts interfere with a good story..."

That's kind of a rabbit-punch. More often than we embellish "the facts," we overlook a few because we don't want to hurt a good scout. If all the accredited newspapermen of America, at one time, let loose with all "the facts" they knew to be facts, there would be more chaos in this country than ever possessed Babel or Bedlam.

ANNETTE MARGUELES, Creator of the "Diplomatic Vamp," Tondeleyo, in "White Cargo," whose Musical Voice Is a Delight on the Radio.

Jimmy pats the British publisher on the back "for the cheerful resignation with which he chucks a swell story because it has the taint of libel."

No story that has the taint of libel is "swell." We chuck them every hour. I can't honestly say that we are "cheerful" about it; as for "resignation," Jimmy is an authority on that and I wouldn't cross typewriters with him thereon.

Get me straight, dear editor, I am inordinately fond of you, my columnist, and have never written a word that could make him unhappy save it was already engraved in the indelible archives of our public records. But, now that he is a columnist, and engages in controversial subject matters, he is open to the same accountability for his words as we all are—and are quite willing to be.

Jimmy, himself, gives the cue when he writes:

"But don't think I've gone gag—nor that I'm going to have a hinge built into my neck, to make yesing easier."

Those who won't neck-tie for a lot of yesing, have to expect a bit of noing. Jimmy announces that he's going to speak his piece, and he is lawyer and sportsman enough to recognize that this procedure always contemplates a rebuttal.

"Curley" O'Connor, Vet Waldorf-Astoria Barkspeer, President at the New Bar in that Swank Hotel and Serves Oscar, Famed Chef, a Cocktail. In Background, the Historic W.A. Bull and Bear, with now (Remember Oct. '29!) a Little White Lamb Between 'Em.

So, don't you worry your sense of "cheerful resignation" about my old pal, Jimmy, getting peeved at me for what I have written. Jimmy was always a crack debater who could take plenty of care of himself in all clichés; nobody liked a good fight any better than he did, or won more of them. And now that he has space and circulation, he has a competent weapon as well as talent with which to wield it against any gladiator in the limotype arena.

I hope he keeps on saying what he thinks, whether it's what I think or

A 6,000 Mile Trek, from Agony to Jubilee. Hunting Their Runaway Girl

Impulsive Ardath's Worried Parents Spent All Their Money, Roamed Far and Wide to Find Her, While She Was Looking for "Some Place Nice"

"HAVE you seen a brown-haired girl with blue eyes and a pretty smile? She might have passed this way..."

The man and the woman stood at the side of the road in front of a shabby 1928 sedan. Their hungry hearts showed in their eyes. Neatly but cheaply dressed, the middle-aged pair obviously hung on the bus driver's reply. The woman put a handkerchief to her lips.

The bus driver took off his cap and scratched his head.

"Dunno if I have," he answered.

"She wore her hair around her shoulders, and she laughed a good deal," suggested the woman hopefully.

"Well," said the driver, "maybe I did and maybe I didn't. I don't rightly remember. Sorry."

He climbed into his bus, swung the door shut, and in the next minute the transcontinental giant was lumbering on its way.

Mrs. Clare Atkinson turned to Clare Atkinson.

"Now what?" she demanded.

"We'll be on our way," said he.

The little auto rattled after the bus. The faces of the two were stolidly expectant.

They asked their question, its form little changed, 2,000 miles further on—in Wichita, Kansas. All the way from Los Angeles, they had asked, over and over. No one had seen a girl exactly fitting the description, but one or two had said someone rather like her was on a transcontinental bus. At Wichita

"COPY" FOR A NOVEL

Ardath Atkinson, 24, Although She Looks 16, Sought Stirring Personal Experiences to Put into a Book—So She Traveled 6,000 Miles, Her Parents Tagging Behind Her, to Get Her Material.

It was this Chicago address that was wrong, and therefore the Dead Letter Office who first opened and read her note.

Ardath said the men she had encountered on the open road had all been gentlemen. The only men who "tried to get fresh" were those on the streets of crowded cities.

"I walked across deserts and over mountains," she told her parents, one sunburned arm flung around Father's neck, the other around Mother's. "Strangely enough, no woman motorist gave me a lift the entire trip. I had to depend on the open drivers, although I never signaled them for a ride. I just

LEARNING ABOUT LIFE
Walking, Getting "Hitches," Working as a Servant or Waitress, Ardath Acquired a Rich Experience in Her Year's Travels.

kept walking, and if they stopped and asked me to ride I accepted, providing my judgment of them made it seem safe."

The naive, wide-eyed girl, who speaks so softly you have to strain your ears to hear, seemed genuinely contrite to learn her parents had squandered their savings and imperiled their health trying to catch up with her. She got jobs as a servant or waitress wherever she went, but they slept in their car and cut their meals down to one a day, in order to keep going...

She will make it all up to them when she writes her book. She expects to go to New York, as soon as she can, to get the money for gasoline and meals, this time with Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson along! There she hopes to find a publisher for "Some Place Nice."

And then—on the proceeds—back to California, back home to write the other eleven novels her travels have given her ideas and experience for!

When she talks about it, she looks 16 instead of 24, and her face under its little-girl haircomb is like the Tenniel drawings of "Alice in Wonderland." Her weary-eyed mother and father just gaze and sigh—in happiness. Ardath is back!

REUNITED!

From Los Angeles to Portland, Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Atkinson Came. Asking Strangers: "Have You Seen Our Girl?" Here They Are, at the End of the Trail, Overjoyed to Find Her Safe.

no one remembered any girl traveling alone...

"We will go to Chicago," said Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson.

North to Chicago, to the Crane Junior College, they trekked. No one there had heard from the brown-haired girl since she vanished between Chicago and Los Angeles at the end of the term.

"We'll keep looking till we find her," said the couple.

On to St. Louis, talking with police, questioning strangers. It grew cold. Food was scarce. There was trouble with the car. Day's work was hard to get. No matter! On to New York. Someone had seen a girl headed in that direction. From New York to St. Louis again—on a false clue. Michigan. Canada. Then a hot trail to Boston.

"But why do you keep on? Isn't it futile?" they were asked.

"She's our daughter."

Suffice? It had to. A lovely, 24-year-old girl vanished into thin air, because she wanted to collect material for a novel, a novel to be called "Some Place Nice" who would not search for such a one!

Sleeping in their car in Copley Square, the parents who had traveled 6,000 miles wondered if Boston were the "some place nice." Surely Ardath must be here! They had obtained a letter which was misdirected and returned to the Dead Letter Office, in not. I hope he clicks with the British public as he did with the American. I hope he sticks by the fine ideals of journalistic tolerance, fairness and admiration for your law which, he affectionately says, "...guarantees one a substantial measure of security in his or her public life—or private life." And I hope, most of all, that he keeps that kind of sense of his own life. And with these sincere wishes, I say cheerio, pip-pip and all that sort of jolly old thing.

FAITHFUL TO A GHOST

BEAUTY and talent. Youth. Admiration of the crowd. Dora Duby had them all. Yet life cheated her.

Dora goes about her career as a dancer with strangely sobered spirits. She cannot forget the dark-eyed partner whose self-inflicted death cut short her dreams of romance and fame.

Ernest Van Duren took Dora as partner when Edmonde Guy, his former partner turned him down for a wealthy prince. But he could not go through with life without Edmonde. He took an overdose of a drug before he and Dora had started fairly on a new career. The Paris that knew them both never knew them together.

Dora Duby once wore bracelets up to her elbow. They have no glitter for her now. Everywhere she sees the shadow of Van Duren's face, reminding her of what can never be.

Dora Duby, American Dancer, Still Flashes Her Smile and Her Toss in Public, But Sees in Her Mind's Eye the Face of Her Dead Love, Ernest Van Duren, Who Loved Another Woman in His Lifetime.

PIERRE VAN PAASSEN, one of the greatest commentators on world-wide conditions of today, is now in Africa gathering up-to-date material for his WORLD'S WINDOW, published every day on the editorial page of The Constitution. In addition, Mr. Van Paassen is sending special articles for The Constitution's Sunday editorial page.

Peace on Earth?

An Editorial by BRUCE CATTON

THREE wise men from the Orient plodded across a plain with their eyes on a blazing star. The dark veil of a Syrian night was rent apart so that wide-eyed shepherds in a quiet sheepfold might have a vision of unearthly glory. A child was born in the stable of an inn, in an out-of-the-way province of the Roman empire . . . and into a world that lived by the sword came the promise that men some day would learn to live in peace.

That miraculous Christmas Eve in Bethlehem was not only the announcement of man's eternal kinship with something deathless, something greater and nobler and finer than he had dared dream himself to be.

It was also a promise that since man is made in the image of God, this old earth can be remade in the image of God's city. It revealed to men the simple fact that war, with all that it connotes—might's triumph over wrong, the enthronement of brute strength, reason surrendering to the law of the jungle—is no more a part of the natural order of things than poverty, greed or oppression, and can be abolished when men wish.

That was an unbelievable promise, in those days, just as it seems to be now.

On the one hand were a child in a stable, and a few aging philosophers and unlettered shepherds; on the other, all the glitter and pomp and hard-fisted might of the Roman empire. The tramp of the Legions raised the dust on roads all across the known world. The triremes of Rome's fleet ruled every known sea. Beat those swords into plowshares? Great Caesar, if he had heard about it, would have laughed.

NOR does the outlook seem any brighter today. Peace? The dreadnaughts and the tanks make a mockery of the idea, just as Caesar's legions did.

But there is a power in the world that cannot be measured in terms of army divisions or naval squadrons. You cannot weigh it or analyze it in a laboratory, but in the long run it is only real power. It is that strange and unfathomable force in the human soul which keeps weary and discouraged men plodding along on the road to the stars.

Now the world has lasted a long time, and its history is one long record of blood and suffering, of inhumanity and injustice, of wrong triumphant and of right in the condemned cell; and most of the time we forget about this incalculable spiritual power.

But at Christmas, each year, we rediscover it. We remember where it comes from; we see it symbolized in those little Christmas customs that we all observe; and in the magnificent cadences of that deathless story from Bethlehem we realize its eternal truth.

FACING this, we then discover something else: that the great battles, the battles which decide the world's destiny, are fought out in men's hearts and minds. It is there that the great decisions are made; everything that happens afterward simply ratifies them.

Where are the legions that held the world in thrall, while the heavens opened over that sheepfold? Blown dust on the winds of time, these 19 centuries; bloodless shadows, marching through oblivion with the shades of all the other armies man has raised.

And the vision that those legions mocked? It still lives, imperishable and ageless, in millions upon millions of hearts, lightening the fear and discouragement of unnumbered generations of men. All of the world's armies have not killed it, all the world's fleets have not touched it. It is above change and beyond time.

Slowly, year by year, it increases. Human nature does change; it is a denial of all that we live by to say that it does not. Generation by generation and century by century, men come a little bit closer to a realization of the fact that they can make this world precisely what they want it to be, if they have the faith and courage to try.

As we realize that, we find that the star that blazed in the eastern sky is still shining. The smoke from the navies and the dust-clouds from the parade grounds may obscure it, but they cannot cut off its light entirely.

And so we can celebrate our Christmas, and re-read the old promise of peace and human brotherhood, in spite of the war clouds. For that star will continue to give us its light in the future as in the past. Year by year the light will grow a little bit brighter, and as it does so we shall become a little bit better able to see the tragic stupidity of trying to conduct human society by the rules of the tiger-cage.

Then we shall be able to see this story of manger and wise men and sheepfold, not as a beautiful old story or as a lovely but impractical ideal, but as a guide for human affairs, a miraculous disclosure of eternal truth. And in that day, looking about us we shall discover that we have begun to build the city of God.

(Copyright, 1934, by EveryWeek Magazine)

My Million Thrills, Battling Man-Killing Beasts

GENIUS OF THE JUNGLE
Hauntingly Weird Are the Creatures of the Tropics, Even in Broad Daylight—as This Picture of Major Howard S. Reed, Holding a Giant Vampire Bat Which He Captured, Indicates at a Glance. Note the Creature's Over-Size Tail.

IN THIS, the concluding article of this series dealing with his adventures in jungles, Major Howard S. Reed, noted explorer and big-game hunter, tells of his thrilling encounters with man-eating crocodiles. He also reveals a dramatic and tragic battle between a man and a crocodile.

By MAJOR HOWARD S. REED

WHENEVER I see an alligator-skin handbag or suitcase or gaze at a crocodile at a zoo, in my mind I see swirling, muddy waters lashed to foam and reddened with human blood.

It was in Central America that I had the experience I am about to relate. Having participated in several revolutions with the famous adventurer, Lee Christmas, I persuaded him that there was more money in growing bananas than in lending aid to revolutionists. He took my advice and settled down near Choloma, Honduras—that is, he settled down until the next revolution started. I went further inland but we both started clearing forests and planting our bananas.

One day a heavy-set, muscular and heavily-bearded chap appeared at my plantation and asked me for a job. He had a pronounced scar across the bridge of his nose. At the time I had over 100 native axe-men and machete-men at work. I had just put on a new major-domo and added two black Jamaican Negroes as field captains, so I had no need for additional help.

WHEN I told the white man I couldn't use him, he left abruptly. I heard no more of him until some weeks later, when a passing native reported that the newcomer with the scarred nose was working in a mahogany camp operated on the upper waters of the Uluu River.

A couple of months later I went down to the coast port to receive a shipment of supplies from the United States. The inn-keeper there, a fat, rotund, red-nosed fellow, George le Fevre by name, introduced me to another stranger who had just arrived on the boat. Referring to me, he said to the stranger:

"This man knows every man and yellow dog back up in the interior. You may depend upon any information he gives you."

With this introduction, the stranger invited me to his room for a talk. He divulged that he was a special agent from the United States Government. He had a warrant for a fugitive for whom there had been offered a reward of $5,000. Since there was at the time no extradition treaty between the United States and Honduras, he was confronted with the problem of how to capture and remove his man, once he was found.

From his description of the fugitive (chiefly the identifying scar on the bridge of the nose) I recognized that the man he wanted was the bearded stranger who had applied to me for a job. I explained to the officer where his man could be found—in a camp on the upper Uluu waters. He offered me half of the $5,000 reward if I would undertake to put the man aboard an American ship bound for the United States. I accepted his proposal and it was arranged that the officer go aboard ship on a given day and that I would signal the ship from an open boat, to be picked up by them at the mouth of the Uluu River.

CROCODILE IS HIS MEAT
"The deadly tsetse fly, of African sleeping-sickness fame, sucks blood from the corners of crocodiles' eyes and the unarmored regions of their mouths."

Returning to my plantation, I took two of my best boatmen, Pedro and Nunez, and my old dependable black, Dod, the Jamaican, and started in a dugout or cayuca up the Uluu. (Incidentally, that canoe almost cost me my life. It was the same cayuca over which a controversy had arisen with a native to whom I had loaned money to hire helpers with which to hew the canoe out of a giant Ceiba tree. My refusal to extend

RELAXATION IN A HUNTER'S LIFE
Photograph of Major Reed, Author of This Article, Enjoying Himself in a Native Camp During One of His Many Expeditions in Search of Wild-Animal Specimens.

diles we passed in that tedious trip down the river, never dreaming that those crocodiles were soon to spoil our plans.

We reached the mouth of the great river on the appointed day and sat in the canoe waiting for the ship, which was due around the point late in the afternoon carrying the weekly mail to New Orleans, and upon which the agent had promised to be. As her bow rounded the point, I ordered the boatmen to paddle fast out and over the bar to intercept her.

KNOWING full well that there would be a question raised by the captain and perhaps a refusal to take a man on board bound in ropes, I ordered the thongs cut from his feet and hands. When he sat up he took one look at me—then at the boat—and in an instant sprang overboard and struck out for the shore.

He must have known full well the terrific risk he was taking in those crocodile-infested waters.

It was all over in a moment. Quick, swirling waters, lashed to foam with powerful tails and quickly turning red with human blood, told the story.

And that was the end of the reward, too!

In the jungles of Central America the 30-inch Collins machete is the weapon of offense, defense and utility. No native thinks of going a hundred feet from his house without carrying his machete. They become so dexterous with this weapon that they can perform marvelous feats.

A five-day fiesta is celebrated annually by by these protective coverings that Nature has given the crocodile.

On the morning of the opening day of the fiesta, Ramon, Nunez and myself pushed out from shore armed with machetes, in a small cayuca canoe. I used a smaller and lighter boat than the one I had used on the Uluu in capturing the fugitive, for the reason that speed and dexterity were the sole factors governing the success of our proposed crocodile fight. It takes good judgment and excellent skill to swing and manoeuvre a canoe so that the lashings of the mighty tails do not smash or capsize it.

The water in this part of the Chemelicon River was unduly low, giving us the advantage of keeping the crocodile in sight most of the time once we pursued one and got it into the section of the river where it was broad and shallow. As we sighted our quarry and started paddling hard in pursuit of the big fellow heading downstream, the natives lining the banks on both sides of the river stood up and shouts of glee rose in anticipation of what was to come.

WE circled the big brute, swinging into his fore-quarters, which was always our procedure in order to keep out of the way of his dangerous tail. As we shot out alongside, both Ramon and I leaned far over and made telling slashes with our razor-edged machetes, while Nunez deftly swung the boat away from the big "croc."

We circled and approached again from the opposite side, as he made a rush to escape, and again renewed the attack. With each telling blow one or the other delivered, the big brute would lash the waters into foam with his big tail thrashing around. The sport was truly exciting and gave many thrills to the onlookers as well as the participants—until suddenly I found myself knocked head over heels overboard and choking with muddy water.

A mighty yell rose from the banks when the natives saw their "patrone" being dragged back aboard the cayuca by the two men. We rested for a few moments, and so did our quarry. Then we renewed the attack and drove him half out of the water and up the shallow sandbar, where we quickly dispatched him.

The natives on shore attached a rope around the crocodile's neck and all hands dragged it high and dry upon the sand. It proved to be a giant old female, full of eggs. Ripping her up the middle, we found a pile of great white ovals larger than goose eggs, more than sufficient to fill a bushel basket and our morning of sport

BITES BEFORE HE'S BORN

These Unusual Photographs Show the Hatching of a Baby Crocodile. He Was "Born in Captivity." But the Egg Was Dug Up on a Creek-Bank. (Above) The Egg Just Parting. (At the Right) The "Croc's" Snout Emerging.

unlimited credit to him started an argument in which he attempted to assassinate me.)

But to get back to the story. The boat was light and well-made and soon brought us in close proximity to the camp on the river bank. We hid ourselves and the boat, tied up under the lianas and vines until after nightfall, then stealthily approached the camp to reconnoitre.

In the flickering light of the campfire we located our man and quietly watched until he retired to his hammock. Before settling down to sleep he carefully adjusted his pavilion, or mosquito net covering. Gradually the camp fires burned down and flickered out.

Dod and I crept stealthily forward, followed by the two natives. Under my whispered orders Black Dod's big hands suddenly shot forward and clutched the sleeping figure with a death-like grip on the throat, shutting off all chances of a sound that would arouse the sleeping camp.

Two swift strokes with a native machete severed the hammock ropes and quickly our prisoner was carried, hammock and all, tightly bound and gagged, and deposited in the bottom of the cayuca. The boat silently shot out into the current, and our 100-mile trip down the Uluu was begun. Overhead, whippoorwills sounded in the night air, and small nocturnal eyes peered out from the jungle-covered banks.

WITH the coming of daylight, shadowy animal forms moved quietly back into the jungle. All that long hot day the tropical sun beat down upon the open boat and its human cargo. At every bend of the great river were sandbars. White egrets and roseate spoonbills rose and slowly flapped away while great Cayman crocodiles, sprawling in the warm sand, slipped quietly back into the muddy waters. We gave little thought to the countless hordes of croco-

The Infant Crocodile a Little Further Out of His Shell—at This Stage He Snapped Viciously at the Finger of an Attendant Who Tried to Pet the Baby.

And Finally the Little Crocodile Emerges from His Shell and Is "Born." The Young Saurian Swims, Dives and Fights from the Moment of Birth and Has a Bad Temper Calculated to Carry Him Through a Century or Two of Jungle Life.

the natives throughout the length and breadth of the Central American republics. One of the sports in which we engaged to celebrate the opening day was a battle between man-eating crocodiles and natives armed with their trusty machetes.

In this particular year the first day of the fiesta arrived, with Ramon and Nunez, my two best boatmen, eager for a round of their favorite sport—pitting their machete skill against a big crocodile. Best man to win. We had tried it the previous year with great success before an admiring crowd of natives who had gathered from miles around and lined the river banks. But this year we didn't do such a smooth job—at least not on my part.

The great horny plates covering the saurians' backs are most difficult to pierce. Even the powerful teeth of jaguars and leopards are thwarted

If you like good fiction, you'll enjoy "ONE WAY STREET" by Joseph McCord—A stirring new serial about two girls and the man they wanted. JEAN SAWYER had fallen in love with a man it seemed impossible to win. He was her boss, and his employer's beautiful and shrewd daughter, EDYTHE, had set her heart on winning him. JEAN was intelligent, but not shrewd. She could not scheme her way into any man's favors. But she was a fighter, and she knew instinctively all the rules of the game. EDYTHE was not only shrewd,

from Savage Jungles to the Frozen North

Big-Game Hunters Recounts His Thrills—TODAY: Battling the Central America; Major Reed in a Vicious Saurian and a as He Usually Manages when His Vicious Teeth and Armored Hide Get into Action—A Stirring Epic of the Tropic Wilds

NO HUMAN REFEREE WANTED!

"The 'floating log' suddenly flung itself around end for end, striking the jaguar a stunning blow. One end of the 'log' split open and rows of gleaming teeth closed down upon the cat. It was a losing fight for the jaguar."—Drawing by Louis Biedermann of One of the Thrilling Scenes in Major Reed's Narrative.

wound up with a feast of baked crocodile eggs, greatly relished by all except the "patrone."

As I related in a previous chapter, there was a smooth, grassy bank bordering the Chemelicon River, where my pigs used to go for their water and where marauding jaguars found them and took their toll. I had pretty well cleaned out the jaguars, but the pigs were still disappearing and I found that there was another enemy. Crocodiles which infested these waters were also taking their toll of my hogs. So I decided I would have to start battling crocodiles, too.

One day I went to the banks of the river to watch for the marauders and take a few shots at them. Overhead macaws, flying, squawked as they spotted me on the bank. I became interested in watching a huge iguana lizard about four and a half feet long climb out a long limb on the tree overhead.

WHEN I turned back again to take a look for approaching crocodiles, I was astonished to see a beautifully spotted jaguar quietly drinking. Near-by a drift log was lying alongside the bank, apparently water-logged and almost submerged.

Before I could reach and bring my gun into position, the "log" suddenly flung itself around almost end for end, striking the jaguar a stunning blow and knocking him completely into the water.

Then ensued one of those tragic private jungle battles, as one end of the "log" split open and rows of gleaming teeth closed down upon the cat.

The jaguar screamed and clawed and beat the great horny plates covering the back of the crocodile, but with little effect. It was a losing fight for the jaguar. The big brute gradually submerged, pulling the shrieking, fighting cat down under the muddy waters.

True crocodiles are distinguished from alligators by their narrow snouts and conspicuous front teeth, as compared with the broad snouts of the latter. Crocodiles, unlike alligators, have a vicious disposition. Those of French Guiana have a decided effect on the convicts quartered there for the dreaded man-eater frustrates their escape. Death from them is indeed terrible.

There are seven distinct species of the Cayman or American crocodile in Central and South America.

Antiquity is replete with tales of crocodiles—

The Mother Tiger, Which Major Reed Ranks Among the Fiercest of Beasts, Is Wonderfully Patient with Her Turbulent Offspring. Her Babies Never Give Her a Moment's Peace After They Reach the Play-Age. Maybe She Admires Their Youthful Pep—She Has Plenty Herself! especially concerning those of the Nile, referred to in the Book of Job.

The alligator has an unusual voice. The bull produces a loud bellow heard for miles—usually on Spring evenings and cloudy days. Perhaps it's a challenge to near-by bulls as well as to attract the female, as is also the case with the bull moose. At the time of their bellowing fine jets of fluid—musky smelling—are ejected from glands on his chin. The voice of the female is

'Gator catchers, searching out nests of hatching eggs, know that usually three generations of young 'gators are to be found near the last bunch of eggs, and always seek them out.

But such incidents are expected, in the life of one who hunts the dangerous jungle creatures in their native haunts. Incidents such as I have tried to narrate are easy to describe—afterward. But living through them is something else again.

(THE END)

NEXT WEEK—The story of the Cinderella-man, Baron Bill von Blomberg, who was transformed from a plain Irish boy to a German Baron—found romance and danger—and writes about them himself.

DEADLY DENTAL DISPLAY

"True crocodiles are distinguished from alligators by their narrow snouts and conspicuous front teeth, as compared with the broad snouts of alligators. There are seven distinct species of the Cayman or American crocodile in Central and South America."—From Major Reed's Account of Jungle Life.

This Big Brown Bear Reveals His Surprise at Being Face to Muzzle with a Camera. He Was Gravely Puzzled Over the Slight Click of the Shutter, Then Turned and Dignifiedly Shambled Away.

less tremulous, and that of the young a weak grunt, which hunters imitate to lure them. Gators, when captive, inflate lungs and body and only give forth a hissing sound. During Winter, when the weather is cool they hibernate in the mud. Their subterranean caves back of the river banks form what is commonly known as 'gator holes.

During night-hunting, it is easy to distinguish small alligators from large ones, the eyes of the former showing red by night and the latter looking yellow. The hunter swings his headlight in an arc of 180 degrees and shoots when he sees the gleam. Only the ventral or belly portions of the skins are saved, the backs being too horny.

There are about 50,000 skins a year taken in the United States, in Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana. Three-foot skins bring around 50 cents and 7-foot skins bring about $3.50. Central America yields a large supply, one New York dealer handling a half million a year.

'Gator farms are found in St. Augustine, Fla., and Los Angeles, where they are raised for commercial exhibition and sale.

THE deadly tsetse fly, of African sleeping sickness fame, sucks blood from the corners of crocodiles' eyes and the unarmored regions around their mouths.

There are two species of the genus alligator—one found in the southern waters of the United States and the other in Eastern China. Of late years they have been much hunted for their hides for tanning for leather novelties—particularly the young ones with lighter and more pliable hides.

JUSTICE AND THE TRI-STATE GANG

By PETER LEVINS.

William Weiss, a powerful figure in the night life of Philadelphia, has been kidnapped and is being held for $100,000 ransom. Underworld figures believe he was kidnapped by Robert Mals, who shot his way out of a Richmond, Va., jail September 29, where he was under sentence of death.

—News Item.

WHEN the Tri-State Gang lost their leader, Big George Phillips, in a skirmish with the Washington, D. C., police last April, the organization that had done so well for 12 months began to fall apart. And when, a few days later, they abandoned the leader's French-Canadian sweetheart, pretty Lenora Fontaine, with a bullet under the heart, they committed a serious error indeed.

For Lenora lived—and talked. She told the police she had met Big George in Canada; he had waved a "beeg gun" in her face and demanded she come with him or else. "I took just one dreenk with him and 24 hours later I wake up in the states."

Phillips had formed an efficient criminal squad, composed of Walter Legenza, Herbert Myers, George Kaufman and John Kendrick. Robert Mals, in flight from his native Philadelphia after a career of petty racketeering, had joined up in Washington. John (Slim) Dunn, numbers artist, became a member, as did Sam Berlin, of Baltimore, and Dewey Jenkins, of Washington.

With this as the original personnel, activities got under way. They stole a few fast automobiles, rented a cottage at Crystal Beach, Md., for their headquarters, and soon newspaper headlines told of one daring robbery after another.

Sticks Up Breweries,

Banks and Trucks.

They stuck up a car barn in Baltimore and got $2,000, then a brewery in the same city and got $2,000 more. Jumping over to Washington, they held up another brewery and made off with $3,000, then returned to Baltimore and netted $4,000 in a biscuit company stick-up. Next they tried a Baltimore bank and escaped with $13,000.

After that they fled south and held up a cigarette truck at Petersburg, Va., netting $30,000 in cigarettes.

They tried their hand at another bank job in Bowie, Md., but the place caught fire from an acetylene torch Legenza was using on the safe, and the building burned down. No loot this time.

Deciding to replenish their arsenal, the boys broke into an armory in Hyattsville, Md., and made off with $750 worth of machine guns, rifles and ammunition.

Finally there was the Federal Reserve Bank holdup in Richmond, Va.

On March 8, 1934, Arthur Misunas, who had joined up with the Tri-Staters, drove to Richmond with Phillips, Mals and Legenza, who had spent several days in that city watching a Federal Reserve Bank truck. It was their belief that this truck regularly carried tens of thousands of dollars in cash.

At about dusk that afternoon Ewell M. Hubbard, sole support of a wife and large family, drove the bank truck toward Broad Street station. He noticed an automobile blocking the winding road that led to the express office, so he slowed down. Immediately five men jumped from a clump of bushes and trained machine guns and pistols on him. Hubbard reached for the emergency brake and was shot in the back of the head. Death was instantaneous.

The killers seized 13 sacks from the back of the truck, abandoned the blocking car, and fled in other machines to the outskirts of Richmond, where they had secreted a truck loaded with empty egg crates. Avily they had opened the sacks.

But there wasn't a cent in cash in those bags. Nothing but canceled checks and other worthless paper.

The disgusted robbers continued their flight. Mals and Phillips sitting on the front seat of the farm truck, the others hiding among the empty crates. Under cover of darkness they drove toward Washington.

As they neared that city, a police officer (Sergeant D. Robert Thompson) stopped them. Misunas trained a machine gun on him, ready to let fire if the policeman touched one of the crates. But Sergeant Thompson merely spoke about a faulty light before allowing them to proceed.

Police in Washington, Baltimore and Richmond were baffled by the wave of robberies. They could not find a single lead to follow. They had little or no definite proof that one gang was responsible.

On April 11 another cigarette truck carrying $35,000 in merchandise, was stolen at Norfolk, N. C. Police managed to get the license number of one of the robbery cars and located it shortly afterward in Washington. Officers smashed the ignition system of the machine and awaited developments.

After a while Phillips and Legenza sauntered up, climbed into the car and tried to start it. Failing, they jumped out immediately and made a dash for freedom.

But only Legenza got away, for Big George was shot dead in his tracks.

The extermination of the leader damaged the boys' morale. Mrs. Fontaine told the police. Legenza got in touch with Mals and Misunas and they fled to Upper Darby, Pa., with the French-Canadian girl and Marie McKeever, Mals' moll. There they rented an apartment and made plans for further holdups while they hid out.

But, lacking leadership, the gang could not agree. Mrs. Fontaine said they formed themselves into factions, she and Misunas lining up against the others. The situation culminated in the shooting on the night of April 26.

Mrs. Fontaine was taken to a hospital with a bullet wound in her left chest, just under the heart. Who took her there was never disclosed—she herself did not know. At any rate, it was none of the gang. When she was well enough to talk she said that she had refused to ride in an automobile with the boys while they were spotting an armored dairy truck.

Mals became angry, she said, and when he returned to the apartment that night drunk, he was still more angry. He stuck a gun against her heart.

"I ask him, 'What do you want?' and he knock me down on the bed. Marie McKeever was stand behind him with beeg, beeg eyes. He said, 'Do you want to finish you now?' and then I heard a noise and see blood on my dress. I hear him ask Marie, 'Will I give her another one through the head?' and then Marie say, 'Let's get out of here. After that I know nosing until I wake up in the hospital and a doctor is cutting my pajamas with his scissors.'"

7 Groups Question The Wounded Woman.

She was questioned by seven groups of investigators, including not only department of justice men and postal inspectors but detectives from Richmond, Washington, Philadelphia, Delaware county, Pa., and the Upper Darby police. When the police learned that the gang planned to dynamite the hospital, she was removed to a Philadelphia hospital. Once they had heard her story, the authorities moved into action. The postoffice department printed thousands of circulars bearing photographs of Mals, Legenza, Myers, Kendrick, Misunas, Mrs. Kendrick and Marie McKeever.

Robert Mals pictured in Richmond, Va., court, where he was convicted and sentenced to death. The worried look was justified.

It was not until these pictures were broadcast that Myers was recognized as Herbert Brooks, an employee of the Club Forest, Richmond night club, who had been sought for months for the murder (January 15, 1934) of Miss Madeleine Whelton in a hotel room. The girl, 24, and pretty, had died of an abdominal wound less than an hour after she was shot.

Myers, alias Brooks, vanished after the murder, but on July 19, 1934, New York police cornered him in an apartment on Tenth avenue, Manhattan. When he flashed a knife he was shot dead.

Baltimore police recognized Legenza, Mals and Marie McKeever from the photographs and traced them to a small cottage on the outskirts of the city. Twenty officers, headed by John K. Mientz, chief of Baltimore detectives, surrounded the house. Just as they were closing in, Mals and Legenza rushed out, leaped into a sedan and attempted to crash through the police lines.

Speeding in pursuit, the officers poured more than a hundred machine gun and pistol bullets into the sedan. With tires punctured, the fugitives jumped out and tried to escape on foot. Mals was shot six times before he fell and Legenza was collared a few moments later, hiding in the shrubbery. He was taken without firing a shot.

Miss McKeever was arrested at the cottage.

The police found the usual "small arsenal" in the house—a sub-machine gun, a high-powered rifle and many smaller weapons, several of which had come from the Hyattsville armory. Mals and Legenza had been armed with automatics when captured.

Meanwhile, federal state and city authorities continued their search for the remaining members of the Tri-State mob.

Misunas was located in a small saloon in San Francisco. Kendrick was caught in Johnson City, Tenn., and returned to Washington to serve out a term. Kaufman was taken for a ride by gangsters in Pittsburgh. Sam Berlin was picked up in Baltimore. Slim Dunn and Dewey Jenkins were arrested in Richmond and removed to Washington for trial on conspiracy charges. Dunn was let loose on bail but later surrendered, saying he was on the spot and preferred to be in jail. Mrs. Kendrick was found in Philadelphia.

However, though the ringleaders were dead or behind bars at this stage of the war on the Tri-Staters, Mals and Legenza still seemed to have an abundance of friends—money, which may amount to the same thing in such a situation—on the outside. While Mals was in a Baltimore hospital several efforts were made to move him to a hideout, with the result that the police finally had to transfer him to the county jail.

Many places wanted Mals and Legenza, but Richmond was given the call, and the two were sent there under heavy guard to await trial for the bank truck murder.

As usual, when several persons are involved in one crime, the police honed for a squeal from one of them. In this case the squealer was Misunas. While he was en route east from California, in the company of department of justice agents, which may have part in the Richmond murder, and implicating Mals and Legenza. When the prisoners in Richmond learned that Misunas had "sung" to the agents, they realized that they were in a very nasty position indeed. They tried to retain Gordon B. Ambler, a former judge and a leading Virginia lawyer, but he declined. However, they hired a lawyer of almost equal prominence—Charles W. Moss, member of the Virginia house of delegates, who has been mentioned as a possible mayor of Richmond in the next election. M. Haley Shelton was also retained.

A curious event occurred at 2 a. m. the morning before the trial opened late in August. A darkened automobile drove up to the Club Forest, a club patronized by society, but later found to be a Tri-State gang rendezvous. Two masked men "stepped out" and walked into the palatial dining room and dance floor that had been closed for the summer.

It developed that on the night following the publication of the names in the juror panel, some time before the trial, W. H. Kelly Jr., one of those on the list, was approached by a man on a dimly lighted thoroughfare. The man thrust a note into his hand, saying: "Read this, buddy."

"I can't see it," Kelly replied. "All right, I'll do it for you. If you think anything of your family you'd better give Mals anything but the chair."

The stranger then snatched the paper from Kelly's hand and disappeared around the corner. Kelly had been chosen for the jury. He did not mention the incident because he feared his wife and children might be harmed. When the jury retired to consider last verdict, he was the only one who held out for life imprisonment. Finally, however, he had voted with the rest, and then told his story to the authorities.

Mrs. Lenora Fontaine, who recovered from a bullet under the heart and spilled the story that broke up the Tri-State Gang.

City Sergeant John G. Saunders issued special orders to his deputies to search all packages before they were delivered to Mals and Legenza; that no visitors should see them unless recommended by Judge Ingram or Director of Public Safety James R. Sheppard Jr., and that armed guards must be stationed at three points of the jail whenever the pair were taken from their cells for a conference with attorneys.

But the Richmond city jail is a dilapidated and antiquated affair. Only one tier of cells—the penitentiary tier—has case-hardened steel bars; the others can be severed in seven minutes with a notched table knife. The two killers had to be confined in one cell, much as the jail officers disliked this arrangement.

About the middle of September an oddly-shaped can, labeled "baked chicken" arrived at the jail, addressed to Mals and Legenza. Deputy T. P. O'Connor shook it, heard what he thought to be gravel swishing around inside the can, then passed it on to Deputy Richard C. Duke for another check. Finally the can was turned over to the prisoners.

On the morning of September 29 Attorney Moss called at the prison for a conference with a man whom Mals and Legenza said would appear at 10 o'clock, arrange for an appeal. When this person did not arrive the lawyer asked to see his clients. This he too, was made the dupe of their scheme.

Mals and Legenza were taken out of their cells and led through the corridor toward the courtroom where they reached the door. They pulled pistols from their blouses and whirled upon the deputies.

Deputy John A. Selph, unarmed, fell with a bullet in the abdomen. Another shot struck Policeman William A. Moore in the leg. The two murderers raced toward the front door.

There they encountered Policeman W. A. Tott, the last guard. A single bullet dropped him, and the fugitives ran up the steep hill one block to Broad street, where the traffic is heavy. Espying a United States parcel post truck parked at the curb, they drove the driver and his assistant off with their guns, and drove away on the truck.

The police radio droned the news to a startled city. Officers dashed off in pursuit. In a little while they found the parcel post truck, abandoned. Later they learned that the desperadoes had changed to a fast sedan. They were reported seen in dozens of places.

Meanwhile the wounded officers had been taken to a hospital. Policeman Tott said he had emptied his gun at the fugitives before he collapsed. He believed he had struck Mals. In a few hours Officer Tott expired. (Moore is still in the hospital; Deputy Selph apparently has recovered.)

A week after the escape, with Mals and Legenza still at large and the public aroused against the jail officials, Deputy Duke committed suicide by shooting himself at the jail. Friends attributed his act to worry over the escape.

Mayor J. Fulton Bryant posted a $2,000 reward for the capture of the killers, dead or alive, and the state raised it to $2,500.

Not long after the escape, Deputy O'Connor recalled the incident of the baked chicken can. This was recovered from a dump and officials then said that it was obvious it had been opened and resoldered. The can was large enough, they found, to contain two pistols and ammunition.

Mrs. Mals, mother of the murderer, was arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting in the murder of Policeman Tott. The police asserted she had carried the baked chicken can to the jail. She denied this emphatically. O'Connor admitted he could not swear who put the can on his desk.

Marie McKeever, who had left town upon order of the court the day before the escape, also became the object of an extensive search. But she had disappeared as completely as her sweetheart and his pal.

President Roosevelt revealed that the news of the break had Deputy Richard C. Duke points out cell from which Mals and Legenza escaped. Duke later killed himself because of the fatal break.

Commonwealth's Attorney T. Gray Haddon (left) and Detective Sgt. J. L. Wittshire inspect the "baked chicken" can in which police believe the guns and ammunition were smuggled to the killers.

prompted him to confer with Attorney-General Homer Cummings relative to the safe-guarding of federal prisoners in Richmond. It is said the department of justice is now attempting to improve the standards of prisons generally to make escapes more difficult.

Governor George C. Peery appointed Judge Don P. Halsey, of Lynchburg, to preside over a special grand jury to investigate the break. Judge Ingram disqualifying himself in order to testify in the inquiry.

After a week of hearings the jury of leading Richmond business men, headed by John M. Miller Jr., president of the largest bank in Virginia, recommended that City Sergeant Saunders and Deputies John H. Saunders (his son) and O'Connor be removed for gross negligence. Furthermore the jury censured Judge Ingram for failing to take adequate steps to guard the prisoners after receiving an unfavorable report from the jail commissioners. Mrs. Mals was indicted as an accessory in the murder of Policeman Tott.

The commonwealth's attorney acted upon the jury's recommendation and 11 charges of negligence were filed against Sergeant Saunders. The veteran prison head, who has had nearly 40 years of experience, appeared in court on November 19 to show cause why he should not be removed from office. His attorneys contended that he had taken every precaution to guard the prisoners, and pointed out that under the law he was not responsible for his subordinates' failure to carry out his orders. After a three-day hearing, Saunders was exonerated.

On the same day Commonwealth's Attorney Haddon recommended that Mrs. Mals be freed for lack of evidence. She was taken to Philadelphia by one of her attorneys.

As this is written, the fate of the two dupes has not been determined. Under the code of Virginia, they may be dismissed either by the city sergeant or by the judge of husting court.

What of Mals and Legenza? One month to the day after their escape, information from Washington indicated that their crime trail had led north again. They were being sought in connection with the ambush murder of Allen B. Wilson, a news agent of the Washington Herald, mortally wounded in Takoma Park, Md. Police believed that he was an innocent victim of gangster bullets meant for a gambler who was on the spot.

Then, a week or so later, it was revealed that William Weiss, big shot Philadelphia racketeer, had been kidnapped, and that Mals had allegedly had a hand in the snatch. There was uncertainty whether this was actually a kidnapping or a ride murder. When Weiss did not reappear, the latter theory gained strength.

Within recent days there were reports that Mals was dying in Philadelphia from an intestinal wound, inflicted during the Richmond break. He was said to have tried time and again to obtain treatment, only to flee when physicians told him the authorities must be informed of all such cases. Even underworld doctors would not touch him, it was said. (Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Marie McKeever, sweetheart of Robert Mals, captured with him and Legenza.

Arthur Misunas, arrested in San Francisco, turned State's evidence in the trial.

This diagram traces the course of the two condemned killers as they shot their way out of the Richmond jail.

ENJOY LIFE

Get your right up. Used by thousands. Endorsed by Doctors and Scientists. Send $1.00 for 60 days or 3 months. Free trial. No obligation. Try it today. Write to: KATON CO., DEPT. 25, BALTIMORE, MD.

LIQUOR HABIT

HELP HIM OUT. Send for FREE TRIAL of Nordon, a guaranteed harmless home remedy. Can be given secretly in food or drink to any one who drinks or uses Whiskey, Beer, Gin, Rum, Brandy, Wine, Moonshine, etc. Your request for Free Trial brings trial supply by return mail and full $2.00 refund which you may use for a $2.00 refund. Try Nordon of our risk. Write: APLE CO., Dept. 25, BALTIMORE, MD.

AUNT HET

"This was pa's birthday and I got up thinkin' I'd make a cake and kill a chicken."

"But we got to discussin' my kin folks before he went to work and I reckon I'll just fix hash."

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

"The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures"

From "Icones Biblicae," Swiss Etcher Matthew Merian's Chronological Story of the Bible, Published in 1625, in Germany

No. 134—"Daniel in the Lions' Den."—Under Darius, Daniel retained his high position, being made chief of the three presidents which Darius set over the kingdom. Then his fellow dignitaries induced King Darius to issue a decree forbidding any one to ask anything of God or man for 30 days except of the king. Then Daniel, nevertheless, continued to pray three times a day at an open window looking toward Jerusalem, the king against his will felt obliged to carry out the decree. "Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, He will deliver thee. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel. Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music brought before him; and his sleep went from him. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: and the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live forever. My God hath sent His angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before Him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. Then the king exceedingly glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God." Daniel vi, 16-23. Then Darius commanded that those who had accused Daniel be cast to the lions, and this was done.

No. 135—"Daniel's Vision of Four Beasts."—"In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters. Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea. And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. After this I beheld and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it; and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had 10 horns. I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things." Daniel vii, 1-8. Daniel then tells of the coming of God's kingdom and interprets the vision of the four beasts. "These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. But the saints of the Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, even for ever and ever." Daniel vii, 17-18.

No. 136—"Hosea Denounces Israel for Her Sins."—Hosea was a prophet who belonged to the northern kingdom of Israel, and was the first of the 12 Minor Prophets, so-called because their works are briefer than those of the four Major Prophets, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel. The other Minor Prophets are Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. Hosea began to prophesy during the reign of Jeroboam II. The first three chapters of the Book of Hosea contain the personal history of the prophet and his unfaithful wife; while chapters iv-xiv are a prophetic sermon by Hosea on the sinful and idolatrous people of Israel. Hosea foretells the ruin that shall overtake Israel, because of the people's moral and religious degradation, and adds a warning to Judah. Judgment is pronounced on the leaders who have led Israel astray, together with a description of the ruin that shall come upon Ephraim and Judah, which even the Assyrian king will not be able to turn away. Hosea exhorts the Israelites to repent. "Come, and let us return unto the Lord for He hath torn, and He will heal us: He hath smitten, and He will bind us up." Hosea vi, 1. In striking imagery, Hosea makes general and special accusations against Israel for her sins, denouncing them unsparingly. The prophet employs illustrations taken from rural and domestic pursuits, such as the reaping, threshing and other everyday occupations of the Israelites. The Israelites' idolatry, distrust of the Lord, and their unwillingness to repent, are clearly brought out by the prophet's utterances.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS.
1 Mental state.
7 Clunder.
11 Track of a deer.
21 Western state.
22 Cover with stone.
23 Small shark.
24 Alarm mechanism in a clock.
25 Most mature.
26 So be it.
27 Precisely, quite.
28 Tamper.
29 Digit.
30 Frank.
32 Impregnates with air.
34 Mien.
35 Exclamation of regret.
37 Small mounds.
38 Coal product.
40 Units.
41 Ring sharply.
43 Crown wires.
44 Shift.
46 Alienate.
48 Deserved reward.
49 Concise.
51 Rend.
53 Lucid.
55 Algonquian Indian.
56 By way of.
58 Kind of masonry.
62 Coral island.
63 Daggers.
65 Penitence.
67 Creator of Sherlock Holmes.
68 Allot.
69 Oriental country.
70 Rise.
72 Midday.
73 Muleta.
75 Secret procedure.
77 Son of Agamemnon.
79 Suitable.
80 Nothing.
81 Joker.
82 Demonstrably true proposition.
88 Insects, spinning webs.
90 Comic representation of a picture.
93 Back.
98 Young eagle.
99 Allowance of provisions.
100 Persia.
101 Rich tapestry.
103 Loop.
104 Descendant.
105 That which is brought forth by analysis.
106 Publicly exhibited placard.
108 Imitate.
109 Hotel.
110 Fabulous dwarfs.
111 Froiled.
113 Art of engraving.
117 Scheme.
118 More polished.
122 Spring forth.
123 Regulating devices in electric circuit.
127 Man.
128 Scrutinized.
130 Shade tree.
131 Underground bud.
132 Heating compartment.
133 Sphere.
134 Small hounds.
136 Ear's hammer.

DOWN.
1 Short cannon.
2 Black and yellow bird.
3 Reiterate.
4 Epoch.
5 Damage.
6 Authorized.
7 Intervals.
8 Thin metal plates in an armor.
9 Ascent.
10 Pertaining to origin.
11 Solid constituent of fat.
12 Affection.
13 Musical drama.
14 Card combination.
15 Gambler.
16 Beverages.
17 Boy.
18 Invest with authority.
19 Decision of a judge.
20 Come into view.
31 Want.
33 Critical trial.
36 More primitive.
39 Past.
41 Large gamefish.
43 Line the roof of.
44 Nasty talk.
45 Invasion.
46 Deprive, strip.
47 Singing birds.
50 Tight grip.
52 Tibetan priest.
53 Paragraph.
54 Speck.
55 Title of respect.
57 Consumed.
59 Hindu peasant.
60 Bitter medicinal plant.
61 Indites.
63 Genius of sleep.
64 Variety of granite.
65 Visitors.
66 Highest mountain in England.
67 Wreath.
71 Outflow.
74 Conveyance.
76 Help.
78 Self.
82 Snare.
83 Brave and noble person.
84 Organs of hearing.
85 Speech.
86 Slanting surface.
87 A Peruvian silver coin.
88 French dramatist.
89 Coast.
91 Italian masquerade.
92 Acid, starch-bearing herb.
93 Staff of office.
94 Emmets.
97 Tibetan gazelle.
99 Electric particle.
102 Faction.
105 Son of Seth.
107 Repeat for practice.
110 Spherical.
112 Pashas.
114 Smashes.
115 Possessive pronoun.
116 Son of Abraham and Hagar.
117 Mast.
118 Concave molding.
119 Imbeciles.
120 Eye sockets.
121 Start again.
123 Firearm projectile.
124 Calls forth.
125 Venetian.
126 Trapped.
129 Restrain through fear.
131 Consecrate.
134 Narrow shelf in an embankment.
135 Tropical plant.
137 Capable.
138 Alter 'ne compound.
141 Rumanian monetary unit.
143 Greek letter.

Solution of Last Week's Puzzle

ACROSS: 1. Mental state. 7. Clunder. 11. Track of a deer. 21. Western state. 22. Cover with stone. 23. Small shark. 24. Alarm mechanism in a clock. 25. Most mature. 26. So be it. 27. Precisely, quite. 28. Tamper. 29. Digit. 30. Frank. 32. Impregnates with air. 34. Mien. 35. Exclamation of regret. 37. Small mounds. 38. Coal product. 40. Units. 41. Ring sharply. 43. Crown wires. 44. Shift. 46. Alienate. 48. Deserved reward. 49. Concise. 51. Rend. 53. Lucid. 55. Algonquian Indian. 56. By way of. 58. Kind of masonry. 62. Coral island. 63. Daggers. 65. Penitence. 67. Creator of Sherlock Holmes. 68. Allot. 69. Oriental country. 70. Rise. 72. Midday. 73. Muleta. 75. Secret procedure. 77. Son of Agamemnon. 79. Suitable. 80. Nothing. 81. Joker. 82. Demonstrably true proposition. 88. Insects, spinning webs. 90. Comic representation of a picture. 93. Back. 98. Young eagle. 99. Allowance of provisions. 100. Persia. 101. Rich tapestry. 103. Loop. 104. Descendant. 105. That which is brought forth by analysis. 106. Publicly exhibited placard. 108. Imitate. 109. Hotel. 110. Fabulous dwarfs. 111. Froiled. 113. Art of engraving. 117. Scheme. 118. More polished. 122. Spring forth. 123. Regulating devices in electric circuit. 127. Man. 128. Scrutinized. 130. Shade tree. 131. Underground bud. 132. Heating compartment. 133. Sphere. 134. Small hounds. 136. Ear's hammer.

:-: Culbertson on Contract :-:

A SWING HAND FROM THE VANDERBILT.

BY ELY CULBERTSON.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

DURING the recent Vanderbilt Cup tournament held at the Ritz Carlton hotel in New York city a great many large swing hands occurred, on which one team or another picked up anywhere from 1,000 to 2,500 points. On the hand below the team of Edward Hynes Jr., Louis H. Watson, M. D. Maier and Samuel Wry Jr., picked up 1,600 points by obtaining a sizable plus at both tables.

South Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

♠ A 9 7 4
♥ A 10 8 5
♦ 7 4 3
♣ J 6

♠ Q 8 5 3
♥ Q J 7
♦ A 10
♣ 8

♠ K J 6 3
♥ K 6 3
♦ K J 8 5
♣ A

At the table where Messrs.

"Ben-Gay" goes deep to cut binding congestion... stays in... works fast

At first sign of colds and congestion rub "Ben-Gay" on freely, vigorously. This original Baume Analgesique goes through skin, flesh, muscles, directly to the congested area—does it in a flash. Once there, it stays and gives marvelous relief. Be sure you get the box with the red "Ben-Gay." For none of "Ben-Gay's" imitations equals its hyposensitizing (pain-relieving) action.

RUB PAIN AWAY WITH
BAUME "BEN-GAY"
IT PENETRATES

Watson and Hynes sat East and West respectively. South opened the bidding with one diamond. Mr. Hynes overcalled with one heart and North doubled—perhaps unwisely—for penalties. Mr. Watson, of course, with his freak, could not stand one heart doubled, but on the other hand felt too strong with his nine-card suit to simply rescue with two clubs. He finally decided upon four clubs as the best bid. South did not find a rebid at this point, and Mr. Hynes also passed. North, with a partner who had opened the bidding when vulnerable, felt compelled to take some sort of action and could find nothing better to do than double. This double, of course, turned very badly, but I cannot see how North can be particularly blamed for it.

The contract of four clubs doubled was made without much difficulty. On the opening diamond bid by South Mr. Watson, as the declarer, was able to guess the diamond situation and finessed the ten-spot on the first round. As a result he lost but one spade trick, one diamond trick and one club trick, fulfilling his contract for a plus of 660 points—500 for the game and 160 below the line.

At the other table Mr. Fry, sitting South, decided to open the bidding with one spade. He anticipated a possible club or no-trump response and wanted to be able to show both his suits without reversing and thus creating the impression of greater strength than he actually held. Over one spade West did not feel that he was strong enough to overcall when vulnerable at the level of two, and therefore passed. North, Mr. Maier, raised the one-spade bid to two, and East now bid three clubs. South now rebid by calling three diamonds, and West, with a bidding partner, now felt strong enough to call three hearts. North had his choice of either doubling three hearts or jumping to four spades and adopted the latter course, feeling that a double of three hearts would be futile as the opponents would certainly run to four clubs. The four-spade bid was passed by both East and South, and West most unwisely decided to double. He did not know, of course, that his partner's three-club bid was based only on distribution, and he felt that his four spades to the Queen and his ace of diamonds should enable him to set the contract without much difficulty.

East, of course, should not have let the double stand; he should have rescued with five clubs. Though East and West would have gone down one at five clubs doubled, this would have been a very fine sacrifice against a vulnerable game, and particularly against a doubled one.

In the play South managed to make five-odd. West, not knowing his partner was void of hearts, chose to open his singleton club, and Mr. Fry won with the ace. The latter now laid down the king of spades, and when East's ten dropped, continued with a low spade and finessed the seven-spot in dummy. A low diamond was now led and the nine finessed. West winning with the ten-spot. The West player of course now had no good lead, and, hoping against hope that he might find the king in his partner's hand, chose to shift to a heart. He led the heart seven, feeling that a normal fourth-best lead might fool the declarer more than a tricky lead. Mr. Fry, however, had a reasonably good count on the hand at this point, as he knew from West's failure to lead another club that East must hold nine cards in the suit and further that West on his three-heart bid almost certainly had all six hearts. He won the heart lead with the ten-spot in dummy (winning with the eight could not possibly have done him any good) and now led another diamond. East of course now layed low, and South, guessing the situation correctly, played the jack and not the king. West won with the ace and now had no choice but to lead the heart queen. South won in his own hand, picked up the remaining trumps by another finesse against West's queen-eight, and then ran the rest of his diamonds. He thus fulfilled his doubled contract with an overtrick for a plus of 940 points—500 for the game, 240 below the line and 200 for the overtrick. The 940 plus of Messrs. Maier and Fry combined with the 660 plus of Messrs. Hynes and Watson resulted in a swing for the team of 1,600 points.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION.
East, Dealer; East and West not vulnerable. Bid both hands.

♠ J 8 5 3
♥ 9 5
♦ Q 7 3
♣ K 8 4 3

♠ A Q 10 7
♥ 5 4
♦ A Q 8
♣ 8 4 3

Answer:
East
1♠
3♣

West
2♠
Pass

The bidding is quite simple and needs little explanation. East is not strong enough to jump to game over his partner's single raise, but, having considerably more than a minimum, he must bid again in case West had a strong single raise. West, having a minimum two-spade bid, passes East's invitation.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please enclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1934.

Paris
Presents

ANY startling colors used to be frowned upon by style-setters back in the days when black-and-white, brown-and-tan, pink-and-blue were the height of imaginative color and daring. There even was an old saw then—remember?—about red-heads never wearing pink. Everyone admits now that SOME red-heads look marvelous in SOME pinks. Nothing is impossible.

These are the days when black is used with every shade in the world, even brown! While brown-and-pink, tan-and-blue, green-and-rust are among many other unusual combinations. The latest is a direct steal from traditional Christmas colors: red and green. With this combination, as with the others, everything depends upon the right shades of both colors.

Red and green can be used for street wear, for tea-time, for evening. It is most effective in its evening use, for under the glare of artificial light when pale colors seem paler, the richest, warmest colors can be flaunted. Deep velvets, whose very surface adds to the mellowness of the color, cannot be too vivid. Patou's green velvet gown, illustrated on this page, is the perfect example. When the beautiful chestnut-haired model who wore it at the opening stepped under the electric lights, there was a gasp throughout the audience. It took courage for Patou to create this gown, using these extremes of complimentary colors! But what better expresses the Christmas spirit?

Red and green are very good colors, in the style sense, this year. Every woman has a green or a red dress somewhere in her wardrobe, certainly. Very well—let her experiment. Let her take her green dress and put red buttons on it; or carry a red purse and wear red beads; or tie a wisp of a scarlet chiffon triangle under the collar of it. Or, put green velvet bands at the throat of her red dress, or wear a green suede belt with it. Then see if her friends do not comment favorably this Christmas season!

She must be careful to put on the right shades together, that is all. And she must watch her accessories. The proper accessories for green and red are black or gold without exception. With a very dull red, almost maroon, and a hunter's green, brown can be used, but it is safer to stick to black.

Parisian women are slow to try these things in daytime clothes, although there is more color this year than there has been for some time. It is in their evening gowns they burst into bloom—for that is how it looks: holly and evergreen, autumn leaves and mistletoe, swaying about in a ballroom, or clustered around the Christmas tree.

Then the ultra-conservative woman who sticks to solid black is set off to her best advantage, and also accentuates the costumes of her more brilliant friends!

ON THE PLACE VENDOME: Below, a Delightful Little Street Costume of Dark Green Broadcloth with Leopard Vest and Collar. Stiff Green Felt Makes the Hat; the Gloves, Belt and Bag Are in Black Suede. Below, at the Right, a Hair Ornament of Green Velvet with Three Rows of Gold Balls; an Ear Ornament Designed as If to Pierce the Ear, and a Matching Bracelet with Four Sliding Gold Rings.

LEOPARD SKIN IS USED Adroitly to Face the Brim of a Smart Black Suede Hat; Also to Form the Ample Muff-Cuffs on Black Suede Gloves and to Top a Trim Pair of High Laced Black Suede Boots.

GLOVES ARE SEEN IN Many Color Combinations This Season. This Pair Are of Beige and Brown Suede.

CHIC HATS ARE SEEN Everywhere and This Lovely Design in Black Suede Goes Delightfully with Mainbocher's Jacket Costume at the Extreme Right. Below, Red Velvet Mules with Gold Heels Are Lined with Green Satin.

TWO HOLIDAY COSTUMES in Red and Black. Jean Patou's Smart Velvet Tunic at the Left, is Worn with a Black Velvet Skirt and Features Covered Buttons at the Hips and on the Glove-Sleeves. Mainbocher's Little Red Wool Jacket is Bound with Black Braid, the Wool Skirt Displaying Bright Red Braid at the Hem.

Scarlet and Green Velvet for Christmas Eve

MAINBOCHER'S Black Net Evening Gown, Bordered at the Hem with Silver Fox, Seems Held Up to the Shoulders by Magic Because the Straps Are Flesh-Colored Net! The Tailored Belt and Buckle Are Covered with Net; the Slip Is Black Crepe-Satin.

VERDANT VELVET Makes the Charming Costume Sketched at Left: On the Center Figure Jodelle's Sheath-Like Wrap, Buttoning Under the Left Arm and Trimmed with White Fox in Great Loops, Might Be Worn Effectively with Jean Patou's Green Silk Velvet Gown, Which Features Scarlet Crossed Straps and Girdle. The Gown Won Applause When It Was First Shown, the Color Combination Being One of the Most Daring of the Season.

Copyright 1934.

Do you read CAROLINE CHATFIELD'S "Friendly Counsel" on the Woman's Page of The Daily Constitution? If you have problems in life, let Miss Chatfield advise you. She does not beat about the bush, but gives "straight from the shoulder" counsel. It will make your life brighter just to read what she has to say to the many who address her, low in spirit.

"TARZAN" WILL SOON HAVE A NEW MATE—Edgar Rice Burroughs, creator of the famous fictional character of the jungles, and Mrs. Ashton Dearholt Jr., of Los Angeles, will be married in the springtime. Mrs. Dearholt's divorce from her husband becomes final in March. Burroughs recently divorced his wife.

THIS NON-SINKABLE BATHING SUIT was introduced at the National Inventors' Congress. When milady enters the water, air sealed in the suit gives it a life-preserving non-sinkable effect. Miss Laura Sparks, of Los Angeles, was the first to wear the new suit.

THE SPIRIT OF THE YULETIDE is beautifully portrayed in this photograph by Kenneth Rogers. It was especially posed by Miss Florrie Guy, of the La-Fontaine dancers, beside the "ice" covered Christmas tree in Loew's Grand.

LITTLE MILLIONAIRE POETESS—One might expect a very sophisticated 14-year-old girl to be the one who published a book of poems, but Edith Kingdon Cloude, great-granddaughter of Jay Gould, is really as sweetly simple as she is talented.

(Left) THESE BOYS WILL BE "GIRLS"—This chorus of ballet dancers are members of Princeton University's Triangle Club who are rehearsing for their annual show, "Stags at Bay." Due to the lack of co-eds at "Old Nassau," the husky boys become girls.

AN "HONEST-TO-GOODNESS" VEGETARIAN Mrs. Don Queens, of Westaco, Texas, winner of first prize in a citrus and vegetable style show, is shown wearing her costume which includes 35 different varieties of vegetables and fruits.

AN UNEXPECTED HAZARD—A picture taken a moment after the collapse of the bridge that spans the creek on the Miami Biltmore golf course. The bridge cracked up during the annual Biltmore open championship. No one was badly injured.

(Right) MANY DIED AS STEAMER OVERTURNS—Twenty-seven lives were reported lost when the freighter Poppe was driven aground on the coast of Greece. The disaster occurred so suddenly that practically the entire crew was trapped.

OUTSTANDING NEWS EVENTS OF 1934 AS RECORDED BY CAMERA MEN THE WORLD OVER

THREE O'CLOCK the morning of August 8, 1934, will be the day of horror for more than 350 persons who were gaily ending a voyage from Havana to New York. At that time, the luxury liner S. S. Morro Castle, caught fire while off the New Jersey coast and was soon a gutted hulk. One hundred and thirty-four of the passengers and crew were either burned to death or drowned. In this thrilling picture, made about three hours after the fire had started, the flames can be seen amidships, creeping steadily toward the bow as a rescuing lifeboat nears the stricken craft.

LABOR UNREST throughout the nation came to a violent head during 1934 when no fewer than six major strikes were called. The largest strike, paradoxically, was the least violent. This was the textile strike. A number lost their lives or were badly injured in the many fights between strikers and non-strikers and strikers and officers of the law. Here is a typical strike riot scene, showing national guardsmen running, with bared bayonets, through a cloud of tear gas smoke and a hail of rocks, at retreating strikers.

THE SEARCHLIGHT OF THE WORLD'S ATTENTION was turned sharply on the modest town of Corbell, Ont., Canada, on May 28, when five girls were born to Mrs. Ovila Dionne, 34 years old. Only 33 sets of quintuplets have been born since 1894. Of these not one set of quintuplets has survived more than 50 days after birth.

TWO OF THE MOST UNUSUAL KIDNAPINGS in recent years occurred in 1934. One was the "snatching" of six-year-old June Robles, daughter of a pioneer Tucson (Arizona) family. The girl was abducted April 25 by a man who left a note demanding $15,000 ransom for her safe return. On May 14 June was found chained in this grave-like, tin-roofed pit in the lonely desert. How she managed to live during that time, is as yet unexplained. The other kidnapping that attracted world-wide interest, was that of the socially-prominent Mrs. Berry V. Stoll, of Louisville, when the kidnaper invaded her exclusive home and carried her off. This was on October 10. On October 16 bruised and weak, she returned to her home after having been imprisoned in an Indianapolis apartment. Her abductor had received $50,000 ransom. Thomas H. Robinson Jr., of Nashville, was named by the department of justice as the kidnaper. He is still being sought. In the picture we see June Robles and her mother and father. Insert is a portrait of Mrs. Stoll.

SEVENTY-ONE HOURS FROM LONDON, England to Melbourne, Australia! One hour less than three days to cover approximately 11,300 air miles! One airplane, piloted by two men who went without sleep for those three days, completing the long journey over sea, over mountain, over valley! This sequence of fact marked the greatest impetus given aviation since Lindbergh flew the Atlantic ocean in 1927. The men are C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, of England. They won first prize of $50,000.

THE MYSTERY of the kidnapping and subsequent murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. may be solved by an arrest made this year. Just when the general public was ready to "give up" police arrested Bruno Richard Hauptmann, 38, a German carpenter, resident of New York city. Police found $19,000 in Lindbergh ransom notes in Hauptmann's garage. He was then extradited to New Jersey, where his trial for murder starts January 2.

(Left) ASSASSINATION OF A KING—Mar-selle, with its assassination of King Alexander, of Yugoslavia, and French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou, might easily have become the keystone for another European conflict. The assassin, Petrus Kalamen, was a Yugoslav. This picture is most remarkable. It shows guards bringing down their sabres on the head of Kalamen. The man was soon dead.

JOHN DILLINGER was blasted to death July 23 on Chicago's north side. This constitutes the greatest bit of crime news in the past year. Dillinger, 32-year-old midwest bandit, had been America's "Public Enemy Number One" for several months. In February he was lodged in jail at Crown Point, Ind. His apparent assurance of ultimate escape seems personified in the above picture (right), which shows him in an "affectionate" pose with Sheriff Lillian Holley (left), and Prosecutor Robert Estill (second from right). On the morning of March 3 he "overpowered" his jailers, and vanished. At the left Dillinger is shown after he had been shot dead by officers in a Chicago alley.

WONDER IF HE GOT A TICKET FOR PARKING—A traffic cop looking at one of the hundreds of autos stalled in downtown Chicago by the freak blizzard which buried the city under a foot of snow in a few hours. Over 50,000 men were put to work clearing the streets.

HOLLYWOOD HONEYMOONERS—Adolph Menjou, suave of the screen stars, and his new wife, Verree Teasdale, arrive in New York to embark on a Christmas shopping tour.

MRS. DUNCAN ROBERT AUTREY, of Moultrie, who before her recent marriage was Miss Lisa Burnham Tway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Tway, of Atlanta. (Webster)

THE "DIONNE QUINTUPLETS" AT THE WHITE HOUSE—Members of Washington society caused gales of merriment when they impersonated the famous Dionne quintuplets at the masked ball given by Mrs. Roosevelt.

ANN HARDING, THE MOTHER—Ann Harding, film actress, is in Reno to file a petition to gain complete custody of her child, Jane. Her divorced husband, Harry Ben- nister, now has possession of the child for two months each year.

YOU MIGHT BE EMBARRASSED if you let Jackie Merkle, 6, of New York, read your mind. "Shall I marry soon," one reporter asked the boy during a demonstration. "No," said Jackie. "You're married and you have a child." The reporter who is—and has—admitted defeat.

NORMA SHEARER, Mrs. Fredric March, and Fredric March, film notables pictured at the annual Mayfair ball, most brilliant social event of the motion picture world.

SHATTERED and defaced, a broken figure of Christ on the cross bore silent witness to a raid by an unidentified vandal on La Soledad church in Los Angeles. The crucifix had been torn from the altar.

LATEST IN BATHING SUITS—This silk bathing suit was worn by Miss Margaret Mabon in a preview of beach fashions given in New York. The suit is worn with a white jersey beach robe and hat to match.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE
To Select A Beautiful Ring or Watch At

FREEMAN'S

JEWELERS

103 Peachtree St.

White Gold, 3 Dia. $30	White Gold, 48 Dia. $50	White Gold, 5 Dia. $25
Platinum, 3 Dia. $65	Platinum, 20 Dia. $110	White Gold, 3 Dia. $50
Platinum, 17 Dia. $100	Platinum, 38 Dia. $150	Platinum, 14 Dia. $100
Platinum, 29 Dia. $250	Platinum, 40 Dia. $275	Platinum, 12 Dia. $275
Platinum, 27 Dia. $1,550	Platinum, 51 Dia. $375	Platinum, 7 Dia. $600
	Platinum, 51 Dia. $525

Myron E. Freeman & Bro.
JEWELERS—103 PEACHTREE STREET

STARS WHO WILL APPEAR in ATLANTA OPERA SEASON

THE BALLET, which will appear with the San Carlo Opera Company, at the auditorium on January 2-3-4 and 5.

MISS CHARLOTTE SIMONS, soprano, who will sing the lead in "Carmen" at the auditorium during Atlanta's opera season, January 2-3-4-5.

DIMITRI ONOFREI, lyric tenor, who will be heard in "Madam Butterfly," "Carmen" and in "Rigoletto," when the San Carlo Opera opens its season here January 2.

DOUBLE WEDDING—Left, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Green; right, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Enecks, who were the principals in a double wedding performed in Atlanta recently. The young matrons were formerly Misses Geraldine and Willie Frealey. (George Cornett.)

THIS REMARKABLE RESCUE PICTURE shows firemen removing a victim—whose clothes are still ablaze—from the Kerns hotel in Lansing, Mich. It was probably the worst fire in 1934, causing the loss of over a score of lives.

THE SMOKING RUINS of the Kerns hotel, Lansing, Mich., following the disastrous fire which destroyed the hostelry with loss of human life believed to embrace scores of persons.

CAN THIS BE SUNNY FLORIDA? Unusual cold swept into Florida recently when the mercury dropped to 19 degrees at Sea Breeze.

COLLEEN MOORE, former Atlanta girl who is now a noted actress, recently insured her doll house for $420,000. For nine years Miss Moore has been creating this veritable fairy castle to thrill the heart of every child. Early next year it will be taken on a world tour for charity.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR FORMAN DISMUKES of Columbus, whose wedding was solemnized in Moultrie recently. Mrs. Dismukes was the former Miss Florence Barber, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Barber, of Moultrie.

(Right) MR. AND MRS. J. ETHERIDGE LAWRENCE, of Chattanooga, whose marriage was solemnized in Menlo, Ga. Mrs. Lawrence was formerly Miss Hughie Cocker of Menlo.

Cash & Gold
Antique Jewelry
THE GIFT
THE TIME SHOP
GOLD REPAIRS
19 Broad St., N. W. 2d. FLOOR
NEAR PEACHTREE ARCADE

OPTICIAN
J. N. KALISH
335 PEACHTREE STREET
CONVENIENT TO MEDICAL ARTS
BLDG. AND DOCTORS' BLDG.

The Perfect Gift
Parker
Vacumatic
$5-$7.50-$10
PEN AND PENCIL SHOP
"The South's Only Exclusive Pen Shop"
FINE PENS—FACTORY DIRECT
115 Peachtree Arcade—Atlanta

GOLD Sell
Redeeming Company
U. S. Licensed Gold Dealers
Your discarded jewelry and old gold and receive highest cash prices with confidence, courtesy and privacy. W. A. 7708.
115 PEACHTREE ARCADE
Also 287 Peachtree Avenue
Mail Orders Given Prompt Attention.

LET US PROVE to you that Bile-To-Sol will stop Athlete's Foot, Itching Eczema, Ringworm, Itching Scalp and Soft Corns. Mail this Ad with your name and address to Bile-To-Sol Company, Fitzgerald, Ga., and your free sample will go forward. Enclose a 3c stamp for postage.

MRS. KENNETH HAMILTON, of Rosville, Ga., who was formerly Miss Bernelle Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barber, of East Point.

THE LIFE STORY of the "Mighty Barnum," father of the circus in America, has been screened starring Wallace Beery. Some of the remarkable characters that were associated with Barnum are portrayed above.

FANCY MOULDS FOR CHRISTMAS
The jolly old elf, caught and imprisoned in one of the season's favorite ice cream moulds—face of vanilla and coat of red and trimmed in white. Many other attractive moulds.
PROMPT DELIVERIES ON XMAS FANCY MOULDS
For Forty Years Atlanta's Favorite Dessert.
MOORE'S ICE CREAM
At Your Fountain or Dealer
GEO. MOORE ICE CREAM CO.
54 ALABAMA ST., S. W. WA. 4965

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

1st
COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st
COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1934.

Give Them CANDY . . .

WHITMAN'S Sampler—famous all over the world. Pound . . . $1.50

Other Whitman's and Nunnally's chocolates — from $1.00 pound.

TRULY SOUTHERN—delightful assortment of delicious chocolates—in a 2-pound Xmas package for the Family . . . 69c

LANE

• GIFT STORES •

GIFT IDEAS . . . . .

CUTEX manicure kits—7-pc. sets in handsome maplewood case . . . . .	$2.29
COTY'S famous perfumes—Regular $5 extracts at clearance price of . . . . .	$2.98
COLGATE and PALMOLIVE sets for men—in Xmas boxes . . . . .	97c
GILLETTE new one-piece aristocrat razor—gold plated! With 10 Blue Blades . . . . .	$4

Gillette ONE PIECE RAZOR

A TWIST—its open!

A TWIST—its closed!

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1934.

KITTY HIGGINS

In Today's Constitution Magazine, Major Hqward S. Reed, famous world-wide explorer and big-game hunter, reveals his amazing experiences with man-eating crocodiles, and tells how an escaped convict met his end in crocodile-infested waters while making a desperate attempt at escape. You'll thrill to the experiences as recounted by Major Reed.

MEET THE TOUGH JOBS FEELING FIT

Order by the case (24 bottles) from your dealer....Keep it cold and ready to serve in your refrigerator.
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
ATLANTA, GA. JA. 1507

LOVE

Are you a Contract Bridge fan? And "aren't we all?" Ely Culbertson, champion player and world's greatest card analyst, presents in today's Constitution Magazine an article which is helpful to both the beginner and the advanced player. Mr. Culbertson's instructive articles appear regularly in The Daily Constitution as well as its Sunday Magazine.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

DESTER'S TRAP

WHEN TARZAN STOOD
DEFENSELESS IN THE FACE OF DESTER
MOLU'S GUNFIRE....

.... BOHGDU SAW AND VAGUELY
UNDERSTOOD. IN EXCITED FURY HE RIPPED OFF
A BOUGH AND HURLED IT AT HIS MASTER'S ENEMY.

IT FELL FAR SHORT, BUT IT LANDED IN FRONT OF TARZAN
AND SERVED HIM AS A CONCEALING SCREEN

WHEN SIX SHOTS HAD BEEN FIRED, TARZAN KNEW DESTER MUST
RELOAD, SO HE RAN
TOWARD BOHGDU'S TREE
CALLING TO THE APE

BOHGDU GRASPED
THE LOWEST BRANCH
AND EXTENDED AN ARM. TARZAN LEAPED, AND TOGETHER THEY SWUNG AWAY THROUGH THE TREES.

ALL THAT DAY,
WHILE APE AND APE-MAN REMAINED
HIDDEN IN THE FOREST,
DESTER MOLU WAS MYSTERIOUSLY
BUSY.

TOWARD DUSK THE FUGITIVES STARTED
SEPARATELY FOR THE VILLAGE. TARZAN INSTRUCTED BOHGDU TO CAPTURE A BOW AND ARROWS.

SOON BOHGDU SAW A STACK OF BOWS AND ARROWS. NO SUSPICION
ENTERED HIS SIMPLE MIND. SWIFTLY
HE DROPPED EARTHWARD.

BUT HIS IMPACT SET OFF THE TRIGGER OF DESTER'S TRAP!
A BENDED TREE WAS RELEASED.
IT WHIPPED UPRIGHT!

A GREAT NET, WHICH HAD BEEN SPREAD ON THE GROUND AND ATTACHED TO THE TREE, SUDDENLY ENVELOPED
THE APE AND JERKED HIM INTO THE AIR

BOHGDU'S ASTONISHED CRIES RANG THROUGH
THE FOREST. HIS MASTER HEARD AND HURRIED TO HIS AID, WHILE

...DESTER MOLU STATIONED
HIS WARRIORS IN AMBUSH, FOR HE KNEW THAT
TARZAN WOULD COME!

NEXT WEEK: "FUTILE RESCUE"

If you would be well informed with regard to current happenings, read "NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS" — by Paul Mallon — every day on the editorial page of THE CONSTITUTION.

Maw Green

Calendars in all countries are not just like ours. UNCLE RAY, in his own interesting manner, tells of these differences, in his CORNER, during the coming week. Learn about China's Calendar, the Moslem Calendar, and then read UNCLE RAY'S article on "Our Calendar System." Uncle Ray brings a timely and interesting story every day in The Constitution.

"PEACE ON EARTH"—the angels sang in that far-away country two thousand years ago. Bruce Catton presents a story in today's Constitution Magazine entitled "Peace on Earth." Compare that long-ago Christmas with ours of modern times.